All personnel of Mobile Support Units shall be regarded as employes of the State for all the purposes of The Pennsylvania Workmen's Compensation Act as last reenacted and amended by the act, approved the twenty-first day of June, one thousand nine hundred thirty-nine (P. L. 520) and its subsequent amendments, and shall be entitled to receive compensation in case of injuries received while actually engaged as members of a Mobile Support Unit in performing any duty provided for by this act, or while going to or coming from the performance of any such duties. The State, as employer shall in all such cases be deemed to have knowledge of all other employment of all such members, including self-employment, and shall be liable for compensation on account of all wages and earnings resulting therefrom. In all cases where an injury compensable hereunder is received by a member of a Mobile Support Unit, who is in whole or in part a self-employer, and loss of earnings results therefrom, such earnings shall be regarded as wages. The average weekly wage as so regarded shall be that most favorable to the employe, computed by dividing by thirteen the total earnings of the employe in the first, second, third or fourth period of thirteen consecutive calendar weeks in the fifty-two weeks immediately preceding the accident.

Amend Section 5, page 8, line 15, by striking out at the beginning thereof the phrase "pensation paid and"

The SPEAKER. Will the House give unanimous consent to the offering of amendments at this time? Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the amendments?

Mr. SMITH. Mr. Speaker, I would just like to give a little bit of history of this bill and also the description of these amendments.

As probably some of you know, this bill was the result of a study made by the Council of State Governments over a period of probably two years. It was a study made by all of the States of this nation. It has been approved by the Department of Justice in Washington and has been submitted to President Truman by his aid Steward Symington.

We felt at the beginning that it was a model bill, but in view of the opposition that arose to paying five dollars to a volunteer worker, and being put on a basis of patriotism, we felt that it was not fair to go along with a bill on that basis; that it would not be fair to make fish of one and fowl of another. So in view of that fact we have offered with Mr. Readinger certain amendments. What they do is just this. They eliminate all compensations as far as mobile units go as far as a distinct volunteer worker is concerned. As far as the state or local subdivision where they would be sent is concerned, if they intend to pay them that is the prerogative of the state or the prerogative of the subdivision that is helping. We don't make it mandatory.

We give them workmen's compensation for injury or death in line of duty. We also make the entire thing a volunteer and a patriotic gesture similar to the air raid wardens, similar to the auxiliary police and similar to any other groups that are willing to show their patriotism by working for their country in times of stress.

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the amendments?

They were agreed to.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading as amended?

It was agreed to.

Ordered, that the bill as amended lie over for printing.

FORMER MEMBER WELCOMED

The SPEAKER. The Chair is pleased to welcome a former Member of the House, Hon. John C. Walton from Philadelphia.

COMMONWEALTH OF PENNSYLVANIA

Legislative Journal.

Session 1951. 139th of the General Assembly.

Vol. 32. HARRISBURG, PA., TUESDAY, FEBRUARY 20, 1951. No. 12.

SENATE

TUESDAY, February 20, 1951

The Senate met at 3:00 o'clock, p. m., Eastern Standard Time.

The PRESIDENT (Lieutenant-Governor Lloyd H. Wood) in the Chair.

PRAYER

The Chaplain, Rev. ALFRED L. TAXIS, Pastor of the First Presbyterian Church, Port Carbon, Pennsylvania, offered the following prayer:

Oh God, history and experience show unmistakable evidence that Thou dost guide nations and individuals. May we not make it difficult for Thee to do this for us.

Bless these men, our Father, with clear minds, pure hearts, for who knows that what they do here today may determine the destiny of our Nation and our Commonwealth, through Jesus Christ, our Lord, Amen.

JOURNAL APPROVED

The PRESIDENT. A quorum of the Senate being present the Clerk will read the Journal of the preceding session.

The Clerk proceeded to read the Journal of the preceding session, when, on motion of Mr. WALKER and Mr. McCREESH, further reading was dispensed with, and the Journal was approved.

LEAVES OF ABSENCE

Mr. WALKER. Mr. President, I was in error yesterday when I asked for leave of absence for the gentleman from Montgomery, Senator Propert, and the gentleman from Somerset, Senator Hare, because of sickness. I inadverently asked for their leave of absence for that day; I should have asked for leave of absence for Senators Propert and Hare for the week. I want to be certain it is on the record so that there is no misunderstanding.

REPORT OF THE DELAWARE RIVER JOINT COMMISSION OF PENNSYLVANIA AND NEW JERSEY

The CHAIR cleared its table and laid before the Senate the report of the Delaware River Joint Commission of Pennsylvania and New Jersey to the Legislatures of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania and the State of New Jersey for 1950.

The PRESIDENT. The report will be noted in the Journal.

HOUSE MESSAGE

SENATE CONCURS IN HOUSE RESOLUTION

The Clerk of the House of Representatives being introduced, presented an extract from the Journal of the House of Representatives, which was twice read, considered and agreed to:

GENERAL ASSEMBLY EXTENDS SYMPATHY AND PRAYERFUL WISHES FOR A SPEEDY RECOVERY TO MRS. FINE

In the House of Representatives, February 20, 1951.

Illness often strikes insidiously and without warning. It not only prostrates its victim, but brings anguish and inconvenience to the victim's loved ones and friends.

This General Assembly is shocked to learn of the unfortunate physical condition of the First Lady of Pennsylvania, Mrs. John S. Fine, and the immediate necessity for exploratory and corrective operations to ameliorate her distress.

This General Assembly is aware of the increased burden of anxiety that the present illness of Mrs. Fine has imposed upon the Governor during the period of inevitable tension that attends the opening days of a legislative session; therefore be it

Resolved, (if the Senate concur), That the General Assembly is deeply sympathetic with Mrs. Fine in her current illness and extends to her and the Governor its solicitous concern and prayerful wishes for a speedy recovery, and eventful convalescence, and a rapid restoration, to her home and circle of friends and be it further

Resolved, That the Chief Clerk be directed to transmit copies of this resolution to Governor and Mrs. Fine.

Ordered, That the Clerk inform the House of Representatives accordingly.

REPORTS FROM COMMITTEES

Mr. BLASS, from the Committee on Judiciary General, reported as committed, Senate Bill No. 139, entitled:

An Act to amend the title and Section 5 of the act, approved the fifteenth day of May, one thousand nine hundred thirty-nine (P. L. 134), entitled "An act relating to fireworks; defining fireworks; prohibiting the sale, offering or exposing for sale and use of fireworks, except in certain cases; authorizing cities, boroughs, towns and townships to issue permits for fireworks displays, and to regulate the same; imposing duties on the Pennsylvania Motor Police, sheriffs, police officers and constables; and providing penalties," by correcting the name of the Pennsylvania Motor Police to the Pennsylvania State Police.

Mr. McPHERSON, from the Committee on Labor and Industry, reported as committed, Senate Bill No. 77, entitled:

An Act authorizing certain political subdivisions to make appropriations for the payment of expenses of local or district councils of civil defense within said political subdivisions and for the protection or preparation for the protection of the health, welfare and safety of the civilian population of said political subdivision during emergencies resulting from air raids, blackouts or sabotage; regulating the manner of payment of expenses of local and district councils of civil defense; authorizing such political subdivisions to borrow money under certain conditions for such purposes; and providing for the repayment thereof.

Mr. ROSENFELD, from the Committee on State Government, reported as committed, House Bill No. 4, entitled:

An Act authorizing the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania to enter into a compact with any other state for mutual helpfulness in meeting any civil defense emergency or disaster.

He also, from the Committee on Judiciary General, reported as amended, Senate Bill No. 83, entitled:

An Act to amend Section 31 of the act, approved the thirty-first day of March, one thousand eight hundred sixty (P. L. 427), entitled "An act to consolidate, revise and amend the laws of this Commonwealth relating to Penal Proceedings and Pleadings," by permitting the trial of cases of involuntary manslaughter in quarter sessions courts.

RESOLUTIONS REPORTED FROM COMMITTEES

Mr. KESSLER, from the Committee on Labor and Industry, to which was referred resolution offered by Mr. Berger, on January 15, 1951, reported the same without amendment as follows:

JOINT STATE GOVERNMENT COMMISSION TO MAKE A STUDY OF LABOR-MANAGEMENT RELATIONS

In the Senate, January 15, 1951.

Whereas, Labor-management relations have year by year assumed greater influence over the lives of all the citizens of this Commonwealth and the United States; and

Whereas, It is vital to the continuing welfare and progress of this great industrial Commonwealth that legislation keep pace with the expanding importance of labor-management relations to the end that the increasing and difficult problem of labor and management may be solved quickly and intelligently rather than slowly and with force, strikes, and to the detriment of all; and

Whereas, Existing legislation providing such machinery does not take cognizance of the increasing importance of the subject matter nor of all the techniques that have been devised and improvised to aid in the solution of problems arising therefrom; and

Whereas, There is urgent need that corrective legislation on this subject matter be considered and passed during the present session of the General Assembly; now therefore be it

Resolved (if the House of Representatives concur) That the Joint State Government Commission is hereby directed immediately to begin a study of the entire problem of labor-management relations with the emphasis on existing legislation providing machinery for their solution and in particular those statutes relating to labor disputes, mediation, arbitration, injunctions, and collective bargaining; and be it further

Resolved, That the Joint State Government Commission in its study shall consider the feasibility of providing a new, enlarged, or revised administrative agency or department for the more successful handling of such problems in the best interests of labor, management, the general public and the governmental administrators; and be it further

Resolved, That as a part of such study the Joint State Government Commission shall also consider the provision of a practicable system of extension education relating to labor-management practices in negotiating and carrying out collective bargaining activities and agreements; and be it further

Resolved, That the Joint State Government Commission shall submit its report embracing its findings and recommendations to the General Assembly during this regular session of one thousand nine hundred fifty-one in time to ensure the full consideration and passage of such legislation as they deem necessary to effectuate the purposes of this resolution together with drafts of any proposed legislation necessary to carry out the same.

Laid over for one day under the rules.

Mr. LANE, from the Committee on Labor and Industry, to which was referred resolution offered by Mr. Wood, on January 15, 1951, reported the same without amendment as follows:

JOINT STATE GOVERNMENT COMMISSION TO MAKE A STUDY OF ALL DISABILITY BENEFIT LAWS

In the Senate, January 15, 1951.

Whereas, Adequate modern disability benet laws are necessary for the welfare of the huge labor force of this Commonwealth as well as for the well-being of management and the general public; now, therefore be it

Resolved, (if the House of Representatives concur), That the Joint State Government Commission is hereby directed to make a thorough study of all disability benefit laws to the end that adequate legislation on the subject may be provided for this Commonwealth; and be it further

Resolved, That the Joint State Government Commission shall file a report of its finding and recommendations to the General Assembly at its next regular session by the first day of February, 1953, together with drafts of any proposed legislation necessary to carry out the same.

Laid over for one day under the rules.

BILLS INTRODUCED AND REFERRED

Mr. WATSON read in his place and presented to the Chair Senate Bill No. 212, entitled:

A Supplement to the act approved the twenty-fifth day of June, one thousand nine hundred thirty-one (P. L. 1352), entitled "An act providing for joint action by the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania and the State of New Jersey in the administration, operation, and maintenance of bridges over the Delaware River, and for the construction of additional bridge facilities across said river; authorizing the Governor, for these purposes, to enter into an agreement with the State of New Jersey; creating a Delaware River Joint Toll Bridge Commission and specifying the powers and duties thereof, including the power to finance the construction of additional bridges by the issuance of revenue bonds to be redeemed from revenue derived from tolls collected at such bridges; transferring to said commission all powers now exercised by existing commission created to acquire toll bridges over the Delaware River; and making an appropriation," authorizing the Governor to enter into a supplemental compact or agreement on behalf of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, with the State of New Jersey, amending the agreement entitled, "Agreement between the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania and the State of New Jersey; creating the Delaware River Joint Toll Bridge Commission as a body corporate and politic and defining its powers and duties," as hertofore amended; to enlarge the jurisdiction and power of said commission with respect to the acquisition, construction, rehabilitation, improvement, maintenance and operation of bridges across the Delaware River, including approach highways; the financing thereof and the fixing, charging and collecting of tolls for the use of such bridges.

Which was committed to the Committee on State Government.

Mr. WALKER read in his place and presented to the Chair Senate Bill No. 213, entitled:

An Act authorizing the Department of Property and Supplies to sell and convey a tract of land situate in the Township of Reed Dauphin County Pennsylvania with the approval of the Governor.

Which was committed to the Committee on State Government.

Mr. CROWE read in his place and presented to the Chair Senate Bill No. 217, entitled:

An Act assenting to the provisions of the Act of Congress, entitled "An act to provide that the United States shall aid the States in fish restoration and management projects, and for other purposes," approved August ninth, one thousand nine hundred and fifty, and conferring certain powers and duties on the Pennsylvania Fish Commission.

Which was committed to the Committee on Forests and Waters, Game and Fish.

Mr. SCARLETT read in his place and presented to the Chair Senate Bill No. 218, entitled:

An Act making an appropriation to the Paoli Memorial Association for improvements and maintenance and for planting on the Paoli Parade Ground situate in Malvern Borough, Chester County, Pennsylvania.

Which was committed to the Committee on Appropriations.

Messrs. STEVESON, HALUSKA, MAHANY and MALLERY read in place and presented to the Chair Senate Bill No. 219, entitled:

An Act to provide for the coverage of certain officers and employes of the Commonwealth and its political subdivisions under the old-age and survivor insurance provisions of Title II of the Federal Social Security Act, as amended; creating the State-Federal Social Security Board and conferring powers and imposing duties upon the Board; authorizing the Board to enter into agreements with the Federal Security Administrator and with political subdivisions under certain terms and conditions; providing for the Commonwealth's contribution under agreements with the Federal Security Administrator and for the collection and payment of employer and employe contributions; authorizing interstate cooperation in certain cases; creating a Contribution Fund and making an appropriation.

Which was committed to the Committee on State Government.

Mr. ROSENFELD read in his place and presented to the Chair Senate Bill No. 220, entitled:

A Joint Resolution proposing an amendment to section one, article nine of the Constitution of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, eliminating the requirements of uniformity in the case of income taxes.

Which was committed to the Committee on Constitutional Changes and Federal Relations.

He also read in his place and presented to the Chair Senate Bill No. 221, entitled:

A Joint Resolution proposing an amendment to section one, article nine of the Constitution of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania providing graduated inheritance taxes.

Which was committed to the Committee on Constitutional Changes and Federal Relations.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS SENATE

Mr. HOLLAND asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the Senate.

Mr. HOLLAND. Mr. President, on Lincoln's Birthday, and a few days before and a few days after, the airwaves of the United States were filled with great pleas by Republican leaders for economy. They pointed out that we must have economy in government to go on, and that overlapping departments should be cut out of all governments at all levels.

Mr. President, I find in nosing around the Capitol that we have here a Department of Commerce who walks across the hall into the Department of Internal Affairs, picks up their records, and then goes back and makes a great statement of what the Department of Commerce is doing on the record of Pennsylvania. I looked around the Department of Internal Affairs and I found out that they could have a lot more work to do. In fact, I inquired here and there and found out that they could take over the work of the Department of Commerce without any more employees.

With this economy wave created by Lincoln Day speakers, I now present the following bill abolishing the Department of Commerce and transferring all of its work over to the Department of Internal Affairs.

BILLS INTRODUCED AND REFERRED

Mr. HOLLAND read in his place and presented to the Chair Senate Bill No. 222, entitled:

An Act abolishing the Department of Commerce and the office of the Secretary of Commerce; transferring their powers and duties, the Pennsylvania Aeronautics Commission and the State Planning Board to the Department of Internal Affairs, conferring powers and imposing duties upon the Department of Internal Affairs and the Secretary of Internal Affairs and making the Secretary of Internal Affairs a member, ex officio, of the State Planning Board and chairman of the Pennsylvania Aeronautics Commission.

Which was committed to the Committee on State Government.

Mr. STIEFEL read in his place and presented to the Chair Senate Bill No. 223, entitled:

An Act making voidable releases of claims for personal injuries or death given within thirty days; and providing for the avoidance of the same.

Which was committed to the Committee on Judiciary General.

He also read in his place and presented to the Chair Senate Bill No. 224, entitled:

An Act providing that in actions for damages for injuries to persons or property allegedly caused by negligence, the question of contributory negligence of the plaintiff shall in every case be a matter for determination by the jury.

Which was committed to the Committee on Judiciary General.

He also read in his place and presented to the Chair Senate Bill No. 225, entitled:

PRESENTATION OF SISTERS OF ST. JOSEPH AND PUPILS FROM OUR MOTHER OF SORROWS SCHOOL, PHILADELPHIA.

The PRESIDENT. The Chair is pleased to note that we have some distinguished visitors with us here today, among whom are Sister Leo Joseph, Sister Catherine Gertrude, Sister Alice Elizabeth and Sister Thomas Aloysius of the Sisters of St. Joseph, and boys and girls from Our Mother of Sorrows School, 8th and 9th Grades, as the guests of Senator John J. McCreesh. Will they please rise?

We also have with us the Reverend Father James McLaughlin, Chaplain of the Catholic War Veterans, whom I should like to invite to the rostrum to make a few remarks at this time.

FATHER McLAUGHLIN. To the Honorable Gentlemen of the Senate, in the name of the children of Our Mother of Sorrows School in Philadelphia, and to the Honorable Senator McCreesh and Representative Conway, we wish to extend our sincere thanks and appreciation for this wonderful day which we have had with you. We have been your guests, we have toured the various chambers, we dined in your cafeteria, and we are now about to return to Philadelphia to our homes.

Let me say to you gentleman that these children will always remember this day in Harrisburg, and they have asked me to say to this honorable group and friends, that when they return to Philadelphia, they will say one special prayer for the speedy recovery of the Governor's wife, Mrs. Fine. Thank you.

RESOLUTIONS

SENATE CONCURRENT RESOLUTION

TIME OF NEXT MEETING

Mr. BLASS offered the following resolution, which was twice read, considered and agreed to:

In the Senate, February 20, 1951.

Resolved (if the House of Representatives concur) That when the Senate adjourns this week is reconvene on Monday, February 26, 1951, at three o'clock, p. m., E. S. T.; and when the House of Representatives adjourns this week it reconvene on Monday, February 26, 1951, at four-thirty o'clock, p. m., E. S. T.

Ordered, That the Clerk present the same to the House of Representatives for concurrence.

RESOLUTIONS REFERRED TO COMMITTEE

COMMITTEE BE APPOINTED TO DETERMINE ADVISABILITY OF REPEALING LAWS OF COMMONWEALTH PRESCRIBING DEATH PENALTY

Messrs. MEADE and ROSENFELT offered the following resolution which was twice read and referred to the Committee on Judiciary General:

In the Senate, February 20, 1951.

Whereas, The Philadelphia Daily News, during the last several weeks, has conducted a survey on the question of the abolition of the electric chair and the repeal of the death penalty; and

Whereas, The survey was conducted among the various law enforcement groups, prison authorities, legislators, labor leaders, criminologists, religious leaders, educators, lawyers, and judges; and

Whereas, The results of the survey disclose that many of the authorities and experts questioned were of the opinion that the electric chair should be abolished and the death penalty repealer; and

Whereas, There appears to be almost unanimity of opinion on the question, nevertheless, the gravity of the subject is such, public hearings on the question should be held; therefore be it

Resolved, (if the House of Representatives concur), That a committee composed of three members of the Senate to be appointed by the President Pro Tempore and three members of the House of Representatives to be appointed by the Speaker, be created to hold one or more public hearings to determine the advisability of repealing the laws of this Commonwealth which prescribe the death penalty; and be it further

Resolved, That the committee shall, at as early a date as possible, make a report of its findings, and recommendations to the General Assembly.

PENNSYLVANIA LIQUOR CONTROL BOARD TO PREPARE PRINTED COMPILATION OF RULES, REGULATIONS, POLICIES AND PROCEDURE AND BE MADE AVAILABLE AFTER APPROVAL BY THE ATTORNEY GENERAL

Messrs. LANE and BARR offered the following resolution which was twice read and referred to the Committee on Law and Order:

In the Senate, February 20, 1951.

Whereas, The Pennsylvania Liquor Control Board does not have a setup of uniform rules, regulations and policies of procedure, and

Whereas, Because of this lack of uniformity, some of the decisions and rulings of the Board are contradictory, and

Whereas, Because of this confusion, courts very often overrule the Board's decisions and criticize the Board for overstepping its authority in its interpretation of the Liquor Control Acts, and

Whereas, A printed compilation of the Board's rulings, regulations, policies and procedure would be useful, necessary and informative to Legislators, Attorneys, Licensees, Vendors, Officials and others having business with, or interested, in the administration of liquor control in Pennsylvania; Therefore, be it

Resolved, That the Pennsylvania Liquor Control Board, immediately prepare a complete compilation of all rules, regulations, policies and procedure and the booklet be made available after it has been approved by the Attorney General, to conform with the provisions of the Pennsylvania Liquor Control Laws.

SECOND READING CALENDAR

BILL ON SECOND READING

Agreeably to order.

The rule requiring bills to be considered in Committee of the Whole being in this case dispensed with,

The Senate proceeded to the second reading and consideration of House Bill No. 8, entitled:

An Act making a deficiency appropriation to the Joint State Government Commission for the payment of general expenses.

And said bill having been read at length the second time and agreed to.

Ordered, To be transcribed for a third reading.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS SENATE

Mr. DENT asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the Senate.

Mr. DENT. Mr. President and Members of the Senate, I purposely waited until the bill was passed to make a few remarks regarding, not the bill itself, but what the bill indirectly stands for.

Mr. President, this bill covers a deficiency appropriation to the Joint State Government Commission. Over the years, I have on many occasions tried to impress the Senate Majority with the necessity of setting up the Joint State Government Commission on the basis of more equity in the distribution of the memberships to the Commission. I was motivated by the desire to see this particular agency operate as it was originally intended, as an agency of the General Assembly, an information center, a clearing house for the thoughts and for the ideas of the Members of the General Assembly, both during a session and during the interim.

Mr. President, back in 1939, when the majority of the Senate was voting Republican and the majority of the House was voting Democratic, I thought that would be a very good opportunity to make this agency a bipartisan and a nonpartisan, as it were, agency for the benefit of all of the Members of the General Assembly, and with the assistance and the very great help of Senator Charles Mallery, we succeeded in getting through the Senate a bill that gave equal membership upon this Commission to both the Democratic and Republican members of the House and Senate.

At that time the House leadership was in the hands of an individual who did not believe in that type of government. He believed that power was the essence of government, and at that moment the Democrats had control, and he defeated the bill that was put through by the good work of Senator Mallery.

Mr. President, I condemned that action at that time and today in calling attention to this I am hopeful that we have reached that stage of thinking as a group, that the changing complexion of the membership of the Senate, or the House or the General Assembly ought not to detract from this body the important work that can and is being done in many instances by this group composed of Legislators, and I think that it behooves all of us at this time to give serious consideration to this point. Let us set this group up on a more equitable basis in order that we can, without political bickering, accept its recommendations by way of legislation.

It is impossible for any ordinary citizen to come down to Harrisburg and during the short time of a Legislative Session vote intelligently, although honestly, upon the majority of important pieces of legislation that come before us. We are forced many times to take recommendations from men who are self-serving, we are forced many times to pass a piece of legislation by merely reading the title and taking somebody's word for the contents beyond that, but we cannot do otherwise and no other group of citizens in our position could do otherwise. I think that every Member of this Senate wants to vote for legislation on the basis of what he believes to be in it, and all of us have found that many times we have voted for legislation that has been misrepresented by some persons and contrary to the desires of the whole Senate.

Now, Mr. President, if we can get together on this basis and set this agency up on a bipartisan level, I assure you that it will operate to the benefit of the peoples of Pennsylvania. We have shown that this is exactly the procedure of the Legislative Reference Bureau. There is not a man on either side of the house that does not have the fullest confidence in the Legislative Reference Bureau, and when he presents to that Bureau a group of facts and asks that a piece of legislation be drafted for presentation, he knows full well that what he is asking for is exactly what he will get.

Mr. President, that is the manner in which we ought to operate the Joint State Government Commission. It ought to be operated on the basis of a clearing house agency for every Member of the Legislature. New Members that come down here, who are not as experienced as the older fellows who have been here for years, could go over to the commission and say, "I am interested in the subject, for instance, of adoption." The group under the Joint State Government Commission has studied for two years on the adoption laws. I accepted the study of that group, because I am a member of that group, I accepted its recommendations and co-sponsored the bill, and yet in the meeting this morning I am sure that the bills have been laid to rest permanently.

Mr. President, you cannot waste two years of moneys and time on legislation and then have it considered and killed, if you want to use the word, because it has not been a bipartisan study.

Now, Mr. President, we can do either one of two things, and when I say this I say it in the hope that you will agree with me on the second proposition and not upon the first. I have always been the sponsor of legislation and appropriations for the Joint State Government Commission. I was the original sponsor in setting up the Joint State Government Commission, one of the original sponsors. I have believed over the years that we need an agency of information for the Members of the Senate and House, and we have come a long way from the original crude agency that we had set up. We have a suite of offices, we have a set of personnel which I do not think you could find any finer in the whole State. They treat each individual with respect and consideration, regardless of party affiliation, when you go in and ask a question, but when you come to setting up the membership and you have an eighty-five per cent membership on the part of the Majority, and a fifteen per cent membership on the part of the Minority, you are bound to find that ugly word of suspicion or distrust entering into any of the deliberations that stress around the legislation endorsed by that group.

Mr. President, either we must stop all appropriations to the Joint State Government Commission and destroy it, or let us increase if necessary its personnel, increase if necessary its office space, its working ability so that it can give to the Legislators that which they need and must have, and do it on a basis of equality in representation, so that if tomorrow an enlightened people in Pennsylvania vote a majority of Democrats into the Senate, you will not have to be coming to us and asking us for things which we do not want to come to you for. We are all elected on an equal basis so far as individuals are concerned, but to do a job for the people of Pennsylvania as a whole I do not think, when it comes down to the absolute fundamentals, that any of us actually are here to do anything but that, and I feel that this agency that is purely a creature of the Legislature itself ought to be set up on the basis of equality between the two parties insofar as its membership is concerned, and I hope that we can get together on that theory.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS SENATE

Mr. WALKER asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the Senate.

Mr. WALKER. Mr. President, I want to say to the gentleman from Westmoreland that those on the Majority side of the aisle always approach a legislative problem in a strictly nonpartisan, nonpolitical spirit. We try to reflect in our attitude toward the Minority that very fine treatment that we would exect if such a calamity would ever hit this great Commonwealth and the Republican Party would happen to become the Minority Party in this great legislative chamber, and I want to assure the gentleman from Westmoreland that the suggestion which he has made about the Joint State Government Commission has been seriously discussed on this side of the aisle.

It is true, Mr. President, that the General Assembly is very proud of the work that the Local Government Commission and the Joint State Government Commission are doing toward creating better government for Pennsylvania, a better code of laws for Pennsylvania. The Joint State Government Commission has been a fact-finding arm of the General Assembly. The Local Government Commission has done marvelous work in streamlining the various codes that cover the political subdivisions of the Commonwealth. These two branches, Mr. President, are staffed by trained personnel and they are operated exclusively by Members of the General Assembly, and I think that both Commissions are making a great contribution to better government. As to the question of percentage representation, I want to assure the gentleman from Westmoreland that it will receive our very serious consideration.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS SENATE

Mr. KEPHART asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the Senate.

Mr. KEPHART. Mr. President, just to keep the record straight I understood the Minority Leader to intimate that there had been work done on the proposition of adoption, and that it has been wasted, and I would like to interrogate the gentleman, if he will permit himself to be interrogated.

The PRESIDENT. Will the gentleman from Westmoreland, Mr. Dent, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. DENT. With apprehension, Mr. President.

Mr. KEPHART. Mr. President, I would like to ask the Minority Floor Leader whether he was present at the meeting of the Joint State Government Commission this morning, of which he is a Member, when it discussed the bills covering adoption?

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, no, and for the information of the gentleman from Philadelphia, I was attending a meeting of the School Authority in the Governor's Office at the time.

Mr. KEPHART. Then, Mr. President, for the gentleman's information may I inform him that the Joint State Government Commission did not approve any adoption bills and that his statement concerning adoption bills of the Joint State Government Commission was in error.

Mr. DENT. Thank you very kindly, Mr. President. I stand corrected, and I will so inform the man who informed me.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS SENATE

Mr. STIEFEL asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the Senate.

Mr. STIEFEL. Mr. President, in due time I expect to say a few words to evaluate the reports of the Joint State Government Commission. I am a great admirer of the work of the Joint State Government Commission, but there is one phase of it which disturbs me very much, and that is the Trojan Horses that here and there penetrate the reports of the Joint State Government Commission.

Mr. President, in many instances the staff of the Joint State Government Commission is so much encumbered with work that specialists are being invited from the outside to help in preparing the work. Some of these specialists, in my opinion, and I respectfully and humbly submit it to the Senate, are self-seeking persons who put some contraband and thoughts in the reports that are submitted to the General Assembly of Pennsylvania. In due time I will name some of these pieces which have been presented to us and have been th product of the work of specialists who have been invited to do the work.

Mr. President, I would suggest that our research staff be enhanced, even if it requires additional appropriations, so that the work that is being done by the Joint State Government Commission should suffer no adulteration from the outside.

May I also call to the attention of this body the fact that the Institute of State and Local Government of the Universiy of Pennsylvania has a tremendous staff and has accumulated considerable work which is parallel to the work of the Joint State Government Commission, and I do not see why we cannot avail ourselves of the maaterial which has been collected for the last several years. Of course, that may sound as a contradiction to my major premise which I made before, but the work which has been done by that Institute is scientific and not self-seeking.

Now, Mr. President, I have an incident in mind of a certain item of legislation which was prepared by trust lawyers and reflects solely the pursuits of that group, and I feel that if this same legislation were the work of our research staff, the results would have been different.

BILLS ON FIRST READING

Mr. WALKER. Mr. President, I move that the Senate do now proceed to the first reading of all bills reported from committees for the first time at today's session.

Mr. BERGER. Mr. President, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

HOUSE MESSAGES

SENATE CONCURS IN HOUSE RESOLUTION

The Clerk of the House of Representatives being introduced, presented an extract from the Journal of the House of Representatives, which was twice read, considered and agreed to:

REQUESTING THE GOVERNOR TO PROCLAIM MARCH 30TH AS "SHUT-IN'S DAY"

In the House of Representatives, February 20, 1951.

Whereas, the Governor of this Commonwealth has been requested and authorized to proclaim March 30th every year as "SHUT-IN'S DAY" that the people of this State be urged to remember the sick and the disabled through their personal visits, flowers, messages, gifts, and other acts of solicitude; and kindness; therefore be it

Resolved, (If the Senate concur), That the Governor be further requested to proclaim March 30th every year as a fitting occasion for the people of Pennsylvania to display our National colors in conjunction with their personal visits and expressions of sympathetic concern to the sick and disabled throughout the State; and be it further

Resolved, That the Chief Clerk be directed to send a copy of this resolution to Earl Rutter, Turtle Creek, Pennsylvania, the founder of "SHUT-IN'S DAY."

Ordered, That the Clerk inform the House of Representatives accordingly.

HOUSE CONCURS IN SENATE RESOLUTION

He also informed the Senate that the House has concurred in resolution from the Senate as follows:

CHANGING INAUGURAL SITE

In the Senate, January 17, 1951.

Pursuant to the provisions of the Constitution, the term of a newly elected Governor begins on the third Tuesday of January next ensuing his election. The inauguration ceremonies are therefore held on that day.

It has been the custom, in order that the public may view and participate in the ceremony, to hold them outdoors in front of the Main Capitol Building. Outdoor ceremonies in the middle of winter are often accompanied by extremely low temperatures and high winds.

This element of discomfort and threat to health might well be eliminated by holding future inaugural ceremonies in the State Farm Show Building, where there is ample space for all interested persons to attend and view the ceremonies; therefore, be it

Resolved (if the House of Representatives concur), That all future inaugural ceremonies be held in the State Farm Show Building and that the buildings be reserved for this purpose on the third Tuesday of January of each year when a Governor is inaugurated and that no other use of the buildings be permitted on those days.

HOUSE BILLS FOR CONCURRENCE

RESOLUTIONS INTRODUCED AND REFERRED

By Mr. ANDREWS. RESOLUTION No. 6.

In the House of Representatives, February 19, 1951.

Whereas, Many of the facts, figures and documents pertaining to the affairs of the Commonwealth's Department of Forests and Waters have apparently been classified as "top secret" and

Whereas, Both press and public have upon occasion been denied access to facts, figures and documents properly a public record, and

Whereas, As a result of the failure upon the part of the Department of Forests and Waters to establish a helpful public relations policy, rumors and charges detrimental to the Department have been circulated, therefore be it

Resolved That the Committee of Game and Forestry of this House be requested to obtain from the Department of Forests and Waters and report to this body the following information:

(1) A complete list of all purchases of land for various projects, the prices paid for the various parcels together with the assessed valuation of each parcel.

By Mr. KORNICK. (Concurrent) RESOLUTION No. 7.

In the House of Representatives, February 19, 1951.

The spirit of friendly competition and good sportsmanship, developed through participation in any sports activity, are a cornerstone in the temple of good citizenship.

The generosity of the victor, the honest tribute of the vanquished, characteristics of all true sportsmen, are qualities that assure a good citizen and give hope to posterity.

The Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, conscious of her responsibility for the proper training of her young people, has fostered, promoted and encouraged amateur sports activity, at every opportunity; and now makes public recognition of the importance of amateur sports; therefore be it

Resolved (if the Senate concur), That the Governor of this Commonwealth is hereby requested and authorized to proclaim the second Thursday of September, this year, and annually thereafter, as "Amateur Sports Day" and to call upon the people of the State, political subdivisions the public schools and other educational institutions, sports associations and other organizations to observe the day with appropriate exercise and sports activities.

RESOLUTION

CONDOLENCE

Messrs. FLACK, MIKULA, NAJAKA, KOHL, JUMP, GUTENDORF, MUSTO and FILIP asked and obtained unanimous consent to offer a resolution which was read, considered and unanimously adopted as follows:

In the House of Representatives, February 20, 1951.

Illness often strikes insidiously and without warning. It not only prostrates its victim, but brings anguish and inconvenience to the victim's loved ones and friends.

This General Assembly is shocked to learn of the unfortunate physical condition of the First Lady of Pennsylvania, Mrs. John S. Fine, and the immediate necessity for exploratory and corrective operations to ameliorate her distress.

This General Assembly is aware of the increased burden of anxiety that the present illness of Mrs. Fine has imposed upon the Governor during the period of inevitable tension that attends the opening days of a legislative session; therefore be it

Resolved, (if the Senate concur), That the General Assembly is deeply sympathetic with Mrs. Fine in her current illness and extends to her and the Governor its solicitous concern and prayerful wishes for a speedy recovery, an uneventful convalescence, and a rapid restoration to her home and circle of friends; and be it further

Resolved, That the Chief Clerk be directed to transmit copies of this resolution to Governor and Mrs. Fine.

Ordered, that the Clerk present the same to the Senate for concurrence.

MEMORIAL SERVICES

Mr. WOOD offered a resolution and asked and obtained unanimous consent for its immediate consideration.

The resolution was read, considered and unanimously adopted as follows:

In the House of Representatives, February 20, 1951.

Resolved, That Tuesday, the twentieth day of February, at one thirty o'clock p. m., be set apart by this House of Representatives, for addresses and resolutions on the lives, character, and public services of our deceased Members as provided in a resolution previously adopted by this House.

PERMISSION TO ADD ADDITIONAL SPONSORS

Mr. PETROSKY asked and obtained unanimous consent to add additional sponsors to a bill to be introduced by him.

Mr. TOLL asked and obtained unanimous consent to add additional sponsors to a bill to be introduced by him.

Mr. AMARANDO asked and obtained unanimous consent to add additional sponsors to nine bills to be introduced by him.

LEAVE OF ABSENCE

By unanimous consent leave of absence was granted as follows:

Mr. Filo for Mr. SCHUSTER for the remainder of the week.

MEMORIAL SERVICES

The SPEAKER. This being the day and the hour agreed upon to pay tribute to the memory of our deceased Members, all business of the House will now be suspended.

It is with deepest regret that we realize the departure from this world of six men who associated and worked with us during the last session of this General Assembly and in this very hall. As they walked among us they created impressions that were to remain here after they were gone, just as we today and every day we are here add another page to the indelible record by which we will be remembered. In this pause from the business of the day we will remember the personal traits and attributes of those who are no longer in our midst. There will be brought back to mind the part they played in the scheme of things in which we all shared for a period of time in a particular kind of way—the way Representatives of large numbers of people share in the responsibility of shaping the relationship of those people with their State.

It is inevitable that they should have left much by which to be remembered and for which we are impelled to pay our highest respect. Because they were our friends, and because we did share so much together, it is most fitting that we should set aside this time to devote our special attention to the memory of them.

It is wholesome that we should do so, for as we pay our respects to those who are gone, we enhance our appreciation of the fellowship of those who remain with us, and we discover more and more reasons to want to be deserving of the esteem of each other.

The Chair requests the gentleman from Lancaster, Mr. Wood, Chairman of the Select Memorial Committee, to preside during these ceremonies.

MR. WOOD IN THE CHAIR

PRAYER

The CHAIRMAN. Prayer will be offered by the Chaplain of the House, Rev. William Hugh Fryer.

The Chaplain offered the following prayer:

I heard a voice from Heaven saying unto me, Write, from henceforth blessed are the dead who die in the Lord; even so saith the Spirit; for they rest from their labours.

Almighty and Everlasting God, we yield unto Thee most high praise and hearty thanks, for the wonderful grace and virtue declared in Thy saints, who have been the choice vessels of Thy grace and the lights of the world in their several generations; most humbly beseeching Thee to give us grace to follow the example of their steadfastness in thy faith and obedience to Thy commandment.

Father of all we pray to Thee for those we love but see no longer. Grant them Thy peace; let light perpetual shine upon them; and in Thy loving wisdom and almighty power work in them the good purpose of Thy perfect will.

We remember this day before Thee Thy servants John, James, Reuben, Clarence, Thomas, Frank and we pray Thee that, having opened to them the gates of larger life, Thou wilt receive them more and more into Thy joyful service; that they may win with Thee and Thy servants everywhere, the eternal victory.

We entrust to Thy care all those who mourn; comfort them, O Lord with Thy gracious consolations make them to know that all things work together for good to them that love Thee; and grant them evermore sure trust and confidence in Thy fatherly care.

Keep our hearts, we beseech Thee, ever fixed on Thee through life and death, waiting patiently for that glorious day when we shall rejoice in the fulness of Thy love for evermore, through Jesus Christ our Lord. Amen.

Mr. WOOD. The time has arrived that we pause in our deliberations to pay our respects to the memory of our six esteemed members of the House of Representatives who have gone to the great beyond since the session of 1949. It is always a privilge and duty, to stop work in America to pay tribute to men who have been faithful to their trust in our work and form of government. We shall miss them not only as our friends, but we will be deprived of their valuable assistance, their knowledge and their experience in legislative duties.

They will live long in the affections of those who knew them best. The inspiration of their lives and their achievements will not die.

The CHAIRMAN. The Chief Clerk will call the roll of our deceased Members.

The CHIEF CLERK. Honorable John L. Powers, County of Allegheny.

The SECRETARY. Absent.

The CHIEF CLERK. Honorable James J. O'Dare, Sr., County of Philadelphia.

The SECRETARY. Absent.

The CHIEF CLERK. Honorable Reuben A. Nagel, County of Beaver.

The SECRETARY. Absent.

The CHIEF CLERK. Honorable Clarence G. Krise, County of Clearfield.

The SECRETARY. Absent.

The CHIEF CLERK. Honorable Thomas J. Kirley, County of Allegheny.

The SECRETARY. Absent.

The CHIEF CLERK. Honorable Frank J. Pentrack, County of Cambria.

The SECRETARY. Absent.

The CHAIRMAN. On such occasions we feel the inadequency of words, yet when great men lay down their burdens it is most fitting that their friends and colleagues should appraise their worth and express their loss.

Members who are well acquainted with their lives will offer resolutions and pay tribute to their memory.

The Chair recognizes the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Smith.

Mr. SMITH. Mr. Chairman, today we are assembled to pay tribute to the memory of our departed friends, men whom we have loved and respected. As we look around this Hall and see new faces in the places once occupied by them, we realize that this is the ageless story of time—the story that goes on and on. And we know that some day, sooner for some of us than others, there will be Members doing the same as we today, looking back and remembering us.

It makes us think that in our short span in this world, it's not so much the big things that we do that cause our friends to remember us; but we are cherished because of the little details of our life. We don't remember our friends because they made a great speech or because of great things that they did; but we appreciate and remember a kind smile, a friendly pat on the back, or a kind word or deed. And when I look back on those that have passed, I realize it has been a privilege to be associated with men that understood that simple way of life.

The CHAIRMAN. The Chair recognizes the gentleman from Cambria, Mr. Andrews.

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Chairman, to those who pause to contemplate the passing pageant of our years, memory speaks a various language.

Memory tells of fortunes won or lost. It recounts the stories of our victories and our defeats. Its striking rhetoric can stir the pangs of remorse—just as its artistry can recapture for us our joyous hours.

The stories which memory tells us can be the light that guides our feet in the path of wisdom, or that sends us stumbling along the path of dark despair.

Memory is not only a language, it is also a place. It is the eternal campfire around which we gather in our peaceful hours to recall, one to the other, our comrades in arms who have fallen by the way.

It is just and proper altogether that we should, in formal fashion, recall those who have been summoned from among us. But for God's grace that summons would have come to us. We cannot measure the allotment of the years vouchsafed us. We can each one await the inevitable hour.

We meet today to pay tribute to our comrades of yesterday. We do not remember them as partisans. Memory speaks of them only as men—as friends—and as memory speaks past differences become the unrealities. The hearty handshake, the jovial greeting, the passing jest, the comradeship of service become the realities. Their friendship was a portion of our life's treasure—and we are all just a little poorer by reason of their passing were it not for the fact that memory has made them a permanent possession.

Comrades of other years, we salute you! You sit at our campfires. You remain a part of us. May your souls, and the souls of all the faithful departed, in the mercy of God rest in peace.

The CHAIRMAN. The Chair recognizes the gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Fenrich.

Mr. FENRICH. Mr. Chairman, it is a distinct honor that through the graciousness of my colleague Martin C. Mihm, I am permitted to present this resolution.

Any of you Members who were here since 1932 will have vivid memories of the late John L. Powers. His able wit, his humor, his interest and experience will be cherished, remembered by you for years to come.

Mr. Chairman I would like to present the following resolution with the consent of the House.

IN TRIBUTE TO HONORABLE JOHN L. POWERS

Messrs. FENRICH and MIHM offered a resolution which was read, considered and unanimously adopted as follows:

In the House of Representatives, February 20, 1951.

The end of life always brings a finality to the interplay of frailties, triumphs, frustrations and achievements that mark its course of flow. Yet the death of a member of the House of Representatives always gives us pause to reflect that the influence of an individual may often reach beyond his grave.

John Lewis Powers was born in 1880 in Baltimore, Maryland. His early schooling was obtained in our well organized parochial and high school systems. An inexpressible and gregarious instinct impelled him to become an active member of many social, fraternal and political groups, where his qualities of leadership bore the fruit of service and good will.

In his legislative work he became interested in the vital problems of flood control for our rivers and of granting a franchise to absentee voters.

His long tenure of office in the House of Representatives, almost without interruption from 1932, is a compelling and eloquent testimonial to the rare quality of the meritorious service that he rendered to the people of this State.

Although no one is indispensable to the continuity of our institutions, yet occassionally the loss of a man like John Lewis Powers slows perceptably their forward drive to a full realization of their functions; therefore be it

Resolved, By the House of Representatives, That in the departure forever of John Lewis Powers from his community and friends, this House expresses its acute sense of loss, its overwhelming grief, and its sincere sympathy to his many surviving friends throughout the Commonwealth.

The CHAIRMAN. The Chair recognizes the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Costa.

Mr. COSTA. Mr. Speaker, it is with a sincere feeling of grief and sorrow that I join with you in paying tribute to the memory of our deceased members, but nevertheless, it is most fitting that this House, where he rendered such conspicuous service, should pause to pay its tribute to the late Honorable James J. O'Dare, of the Eighth District, Philadelphia.

Eight years ago when I took my place in this Assembly I became his colleague and friend. I, like all who had occasion to meet him, learned to respect him for what he was. He was an outstanding citizen, capable legislator and a sincere friend. He carried out his duties conscientiously but always respected the views of others. He had a great understanding and tolerance and a keen sense of humor and with all this, he was never too busy to be a friend.

I am honored in saying that the Honorable James J. O'Dare was my friend. Therefore, I present the following resolution.

RESOLUTION

IN TRIBUTE TO HONORABLE JAMES J. O'DARE

Mr. COSTA offered a resolution which was read, considered and unanimously adopted as follows:

In the House of Representatives, February 20, 1951.

The parochial and public schools of the great cosmopolitan centers do a splendid service in training and conditioning our youth. Occasionally, the inspiration and the counsel that come from the lessons that are reluctantly accepted during the formation period of a child's life, impart an impetus to his imagination and ambition that carry him afar.

James J. O'Dare was a prototype of this traditional method of instruction. His outlook took on a long range vision, his youthful fancies became dreams of success, and his dormant desires were awakened to acts of doing and realization.

As a general contractor, he devoted many years to a program for the construction of the material things that bring comfort and convenience to others.

In civic affairs, he became early identified with the political activities of the Republican party. He served his party well and long; and recognition of his fidelity and contribution was expressed in his appointment as a Deputy Sheriff and later in his election to the House of Representatives. In the latter capacity, he served continuously from 1938 to 1950. His death on January 6, 1950 was a shock to his many friends and constitutents and a distinct loss to this House; therefore be it

Resolved, That the House of Representatives pause reverently to reflect that the activities of James J. O'Dare, the savor of his wit, the pleasure of conversational exchange with him, have been irretrievably taken away from us; and be it further

Resolved, That the House of Representatives honor the long association of James J. O'Dare with this forum and perpetuate its memory thereof in this expression of sympathy; and be it further

Resolved, That the Chief Clerk be directed to transmit copies of this resolution to his surviving widow, Margaret, his three children, Frank, James, and Anna, and his grandchildren, James, Michael Patrick and Donna Marie.

The CHAIRMAN. The Chair recognizes the gentleman from Beaver, Mr. R. K. Hamilton.

Mr. HAMILTON. Mr. Chairman, this day this House of Representatives mourns the death of one of its highly esteemed and beloved member.

The Honorable Reuben A. Nagel of New Galilee, Beaver County, Pa., who had been a member of the Pennsylvania Legislature through five terms and had been re-elected to serve in the 1951 session died suddenly on November 15, 1951 at his home while in the midst of plans and preparations for his next term.

Honorable Reuben A. Nagel was not only beloved by the constituents he served, but also by hundreds of thousands of people of his native state and by many others from our country at large. Many others will remember him for his urgent appeals to preserve the fullest possible freedom of the people in matters of health.

Born on a farm, Reuben Nagel prepared for the teaching profession. After a period of service in that field, he returned to the life of a farmer and became a diligent student of agriculture and learned to know much about the problems of rural life, and what was needed to make better conditions for that large segment of Americans. He became so deeply interested in the need for better legislation with which to serve the best interests of his fellow men, that at the age of 62 he decided to round out his life by carrying the problems of the farmers to the legislature. He was first elected in 1934. He succeeded in serving his constituents so well that he was re-elected for six terms.

During his service in the legislature he became deeply interested in the problems of all who labor and became a staunch champion of all legislation which would help to give better living conditions and better opportunities for those who had need for more equal rights in our democracy.

The people of Beaver County mourn the passing of this great humanitarian who stood steadfastly for truth, honesty, and complete fairness in his service as a legislator. He had been a true friend to mankind all of his life. As Reuben's close friend, I offer the following resolution.

RESOLUTION

IN TRIBUTE TO HONORABLE REUBEN A. NAGEL

Messrs. ROBERT K. HAMILTON and JOHN C. MILLER offered a resolution which was read, considered and unanimously adopted as follows:

In the House of Representatives, February 20, 1951.

This House has often been privileged to be guided by the wisdom that crystallizes from the experience of its outstanding members. Such a wisdom can be wrested only from many years of direct and intimate contact with life in all of its phases.

But, not infrequently, the mature thought which prominent members impart to discussions in this House is too readily taken for granted. Only, when sudden death intervenes to remove a member from a group of leaders—and forever stills a tongue that was wont to speak the counsel of guidance and encouragement, is this House brought to an acute realization of the finiteness of the temporal order of men and things.

Against a composite experience as a teacher, a merchant, a farmer, and a legislator, Reuben Andrew Nagel soon gave evidence of his statesman-like stature. His versatile talents and his flexible approach to a pending problem became the basis for a legislative technique that served this House well for many years. As one of the first Democrats to be elected from his district (1934), Reuben A. Nagel soon won the respect of all of his colleagues, regardlessly of their partisanship or affiliation. His varied experience, coupled with his cooperative friendliness, made him a reliable source of information and advice to any who were momentarily beset with the difficulties of a perplexing situation.

Throughout a long career he brought to every task a full measure of interest and energy—whether in the capacity of a teacher, a superintendent, a merchant, a farmer, a road supervisor, a school director, a justice of the peace, or a legislator. His long tenure as a Representative from Beaver County attests to the complete confidence expressed by his constituents in his stewardship as a lawmaker.

A fatal heart seizure on November 15, 1950, deprived this House of the presence and the services of one of its most competent and highly regarded members.

An awareness of his civic responsibilities, his satisfactory discharge of every obligation, his application of patience and wisdom to clamoring questions are a challenge and a heritage by Reuben Andrew Nagel to his sorrowing colleagues; therefore be it

Resolved, By this House of Representatives, That in the passing of Reuben Andrew Nagel, his family and host of friends have sustained an inestimable loss and Beaver County has been deprived of the leadership and the legislative skill of one of its ablest citizens; and be it further

Resolved, That this House of Representatives mourns the death of one of its highly esteemed members and as an expression of its deep sympathy, directs the Chief Clerk to send copies of this resolution to Reuben Andrew Nagel's widow, Eve S., his son, Chester Scott Nagel of Harrisburg, Pennsylvania, his three brothers, Howard, George and William of Lawrence County, and his sister, Mrs. Laura Cunningham of Glendale, California.

The CHAIRMAN. The Chair recognizes the gentleman from Clearfield, Mr. DuBois.

Mr. DUBOIS. Mr. Chairman, in memory of Clarence G. Krise, I like to recall the warm smile, ready wit and cooperation with which he greeted those of us who worked with him in his community. It can be truthfully said of him that the men with whom he dealt were bettered by his contact and association with them. After all, that is a good test of the integrity and fair dealing of a man, that those who have dealt with him have been helped by that relationship to him.

Why has he been taken from us in the midst of his years and his active usefulness? We do not know. It is the old question asked three thousand years ago, "How are the mighty fallen in the midst of battle," and never yet answered. But we do know that life is not measured by the flight of years but by achievement. When so measured, Clarence G. Krise lived long and served well his day and generation. He is not only greatly missed by his family, but also by his many friends and acquaintenances in Clearfield County and throughout the State.

RESOLUTION

IN TRIBUTE TO HONORABLE C. G. KRISE

Mr. DUBOIS offered a resolution which was read, considered, and unanimously adopted as follows:

In the House of Representatives February 20, 1951.

C. G. Krise, was born at Fallen Timber, December 8th, 1892, and obtained his early education in the public schools of Cambria. However, an insatiable desire for extended and intensified training led to his acceptance of the larger scope of educational opportunities offered at Ebensburg Preparatory School and the University of Valparaiso. From the latter he received the degree of Bachelor of Accounts. It was inevitable that his diversified educational interests should finally culminate in his election to the presidency of the DuBois Business College.

C. G. Krise, despite an active professional life, expressed unlimited zeal and invaluable service in behalf of a number of prominent social agencies, including the Salvation Army, of which he was a director, the Boy Scouts of America, and the Y. M. C. A. His fraternal affiliation with several Masonic groups and his long participation in the activities of the Republican Party not only enhanced his prestige among the rank and file of our citizenry, but afforded him a channel through which his own articulate opinions and forthright endeavors could be effectively integrated with the prevailing social and cultural pattern.

He was first elected to the General Assembly in 1938. His performance of his legislative duties was so preeminently successful that his constituents in the Second District of Clearfield County reelected him throughout succeeding terms until 1950.

C. G. Krise always lent himself conscientiously to a complete discharge of the responsibilities imposed upon him. His deep sense of obligation, inherent in every undertaking, invariably compelled him to respond without reservation to the many civic, social and fraternal appeals that have become an essential part of modern existence; therefore be it

Resolved, By this House of Representtaives, that the death of C. G. Krise has brought immeasurable grief to his family and friends and irreparable loss to the legislative halls of this Comonwealth; and be it further Resolved, That this House of Representatives regrets the passing of one of its most able and beloved members, and as a manifestation of its heartfelt sympathy directs the Chief Clerk to send copies of this resolution to C. G. Krise's widow and daughter.

The CHAIRMAN. The Chair recognizes the gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Lutty.

Mr. LUTTY. Mr. Chairman, in memory of Thomas J. Kirley, a distinguished Member of the House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, from the Sixth Legislative District, Allegheny County, from 1942 to the day he passed to the great beyond.

"Tom" or "Kingball", the nickname he received while in the Navy, had a great understanding and tolerance which was mixed with a keen sense of humor. I would say that his greatest quality and asset was his ability to make and hold friends.

Tom is not only missed by his family, but missed by his many friends and acquaintances in his Legislative District and throughout Allegheny County.

RESOLUTION

IN TRIBUTE TO HONORABLE THOMAS J. KIRLEY

Messrs. LUTTY, OLSEN and LOUIS LEONARD offered a resolution which was read, considered and unanimously adopted as follows:

In the House of Representatives, February 20, 1951.

When on February 9, 1950, Thomas J. Kirley died prematurely, not only was a burgeoning career ended, but the House of Representatives sustained a break in its ranks that cannot be easily repaired.

Born in Pittsburgh in 1894, Thomas J. Kirley secured his basic education in the public and parochial schools of his birth place. The disciplines and the skills that rewarded his indefatigable attention to his school duties served him well in his future career. He early became identified with civic interests and affairs. His enthusiasm for a cause and his endless labors in its behalf soon won for him a deserved recognition and prominence; and his subsequent designation to this legislative forum from 1942 to 1950, as a law-making representative of the people of the 6th district of Allegheny County, became an obvious transition in the life of one who was so richly endowed with extra-regarding impulses.

Thomas J. Kirley also responded to the call of his country during World War I to serve with distinction in the United States Navy from 1917 to 1919. Not one to restrict his energies to civic and military activities alone, he found an outlet for an ardent interest in many sports with a definite predilection for baseball and football.

His intimate and effective association with the American Legion, the 40 et 8, the Kollar Club, the F. O. P., No. 11 Elks and the Excelsior Club was further evidence of his wide social interests to which he contributed lavishly of his time and talent; therefore be it

Resolved, That the House of Representatives express its tribute to the outstanding service rendered by Thomas J. Kirley, its appreciation of his meritorious qualities, and its sorrow at the untimely cessation of his career of useful endeavor to our State; and be it further

Resolved, That the Chief Clerk be directed to send a copy of this resolution to his widow Catherine Kirley.

The CHAIRMAN. The Chair recognizes the gentleman from Cambria, Mr. McDermit.

Mr. McDERMIT. Mr. Chairman, I wish to express my deep regret on the death of Frank J. Pentrack, from the First District of Cambria County, and wish to present a resolution.

RESOLUTION

IN TRIBUTE TO HONORABLE FRANK J. PENTRACK

Mr. McDERMIT offered a resolution which was read, considered and unanimously adopted as follows:

In the House of Representatives February 20, 1951.

Against the reliable background of a rigorous training received at St. Stephen's Catholic School and the Johnstown High School, Frank J. Pentrack projected his professional education in mortuary science and embalming. After receiving the required instruction at Eckels College and the Cleveland College of Embalming, he became licensed in 1921 to practice undertaking in Pennsylvania.

Although always active in his profession, yet Mr. Pentrack was so richly endowed with energy and alertness that it is not at all surprising that his adult life became a veritable kaleidoscope of many and varied interests.

Politically he was a life long and ardent Democrat. Although a minority member, yet his zeal and competency were such as to win for him the distinction of serving the Johnstown School Board as its president. With his customary enthusiasm and thoroughness—because Mr. Pentrack invariably gave his undivided attention to every undertaking—he became successively president of the Allegheny Skeet League, of the Johnstown Rifle Club, and of the Pennsylvania Skeet Shooting Association.

His love of sport, although wholehearted and long-sustained, was fully paralleled by his many civic interests, as evidenced by his affiliation with the Johnstown Boy Scout Council, the First Catholic Slovak Union Jednota, the Knights of Columbus, the Rotary Club, the Elks, the Cambria County Democratic Association, the West End Democratic Association, the First Catholic Slovak Band Hall, the Municipal Music Pavilion Commission, and many other worthy organizations.

Mr. Pentrack was elected to the General Assembly in 1943 and again in 1947 and 1949. As a Legislator, he was esteemed by his colleagues for his unusual activity and earnestness. He was fatally stricken on July 7, 1950; therefore be it

Resolved, By this House of Representatives, that in the sudden death of Frank J. Pentrack, his family and his many friends have endured an overwhelming loss and Johnstown and Cambria County have had taken away one of their most spirited citizens and faithful public servants; and be it further

Resolved, That the Chief Clerk be directed to send copies of this resolution to his widow, Mary Pentrack, and to his sons, Richard, Francis J. and Raymond, all of the city of Johnstown.

The CHAIRMAN. The Members will please rise and remain standing until the gavel falls.

The Members stood in silent reverence.

RECESS

The SPEAKER. If there is no objection, the Chair will declare a recess for five minutes. The Chair hears none, and a recess is declared.

AFTER RECESS

The time of recess having expired, the House was called to order.

The SPEAKER (Herbert P. Sorg) in the Chair.

PERMISSION GRANTED COMMITTEE TO MEET DURING SESSION

Mr. McMILLEN asked and obtained permission for the Committee on Military Affairs to meet during the session of the House.

PROCEEDINGS OF MEMORIAL SERVICE TO BE PRINTED

Mr. STANK offered a resolution and asked and obtained unanimous consent for its immediate consideration.

The resolution was read, considered and adopted as follows:

In the House of Representatives, February 20, 1951.

Resolved, That the Chief Clerk be and is hereby directed to have printed in booklet form the proceedings of the Ceremonies in memory of our deceased Members held in the Hall of the House of Representatives, Tuesday, February 20, 1951.

RESOLUTION

SHUT-IN'S DAY

Mr. MORAN offered a resolution and asked and obtained unanimous consent for its immediate consideration.

The resolution was read, considered and adopted as follows:

In the House of Representatives, February 20, 1951.

Whereas, The Governor of this Commonwealth has been requested and authorized to proclaim March 30th every year as "SHUT-IN'S DAY" that the people of this State be urged to remember the sick and the disabled through their personal visits, flowers, messages, gifts, and other acts of solicitude; and kindness; therefore be it

Resolved, (if the Senate concur), That the Governor be further requested to proclaim March 30th every year as a fitting occasion for the people of Pennsylvania to display our National colors in conjunction with their personal visits and expressions of sympathetic concern to the sick and the disabled throughout the State; and be it further

Resolved, That the Chief Clerk be directed to send a copy of this resolution to Earl Rutter, Turtle Creek, Pennsylvania, the founder of "SHUT-IN'S DAY".

Ordered, That the Clerk present the same to the Senate for concurrence.

STUDENTS OF HANOVER SENIOR HIGH SCHOOL WELCOMED

The SPEAKER. It is with pleasure that the Chair welcomes to the Hall of the House the History students of the Hanover Senior High School, Hanover, York County, under the supervision of their teacher, Mr. B. Henry Shafer. They are the guests of the gentleman from York, Mr. Bear.

FORMER MEMBER WELCOMED

The SPEAKER. The Chair welcomes a former Member of the House, Hon. Clayton A. Watson of Philadelphia.

PERMISSION TO ADD ADDITIONAL SPONSORS

Mrs. MONROE asked and obtained unanimous consent to add additional sponsors to a bill to be introduced by her.

FORMER MEMBER WELCOMED

The SPEAKER. The Chair takes pleasure in welcoming a former Member of the House, Hon. Henry E. Ragot from Northampton County.

REPORTS FROM COMMITTEES

Mr. BOWER from the Committee on Appropriations, reported as amended, Senate Bill No. 3, entitled:

An Act to further amend the act approved the twenty-first day of January, one thousand nine hundred forty-seven (P. L. 3), entitled "An act relating to officers and employes of the General Assembly fixing the number qualifications compensation mileage and duties of the officers and employes of the Senate and of the House of Representatives providing for their election or appointment term of office or of service removal and manner of filing vacancies and making appropriations to the Senate House of Representatives and Legislative Reference Bureau" by changing the compensation of certain officers and employes and of the Director of the Legislative Reference Bureau and making appropriations.

Mr. HELM from the Committee on Rules, reported as committed, Senate Concurrent Resolution, Serial No. 111.

SENATE MESSAGE

RESOLUTION FOR CONCURRENCE

The Clerk of the Senate being introduced presented an extract from the Journal of the Senate which was read as follows:

In the Senate, January 17, 1951.

Pursuant to the provisions of the Constitution, the term of a newly elected Governor begins on the third Tuesday of January next ensuing his election. The inauguration ceremonies are therefore held on that day.

It has been the custom, in order that the public may view and participate in the ceremony, to hold them outdoors in front of the Main Capitol Building. Outdoor ceremonies in the middle of winter are often accompanied by extremely low temperatures and high winds.

This element of discomfort and threat to health might well be eliminated by holding future inaugural ceremonies in the State Farm Show Building, where there is ample space for all interested persons to attend and view the ceremonies; therefore, be it

Resolved (if the House of Representatives concur), That all future inaugural ceremonies be held in the State Farm Show Building and that the buildings be reserved for this purpose on the third Tuesday of January of each year when a Governor is inaugurated and that no other use of the buildings be permitted on those days.

Ordered, That the Clerk present the same to the House of Representatives for its concurrence.

On the question.

Will the House concur in the resolution.

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, in the past there has been entirely too much fuss, feathers and unnecessary expense in connection with our inaugural ceremonies. Some day a party will have the good sense to have the successful candidate as Governor walk up the front steps of the main entrance of the Capitol, take the oath of office and proceed to his chambers and to his duties. The expenses this year were clearly out of line with the times.

Personally I am opposed to this resolution because it embodies in a declaration of this general assembly a set policy which it will be expected to follow. I believe it is the part of wisdom that the character of the inaugural ceremonies should be left to the sense of proportion and propriety of the party which elects the successful candidate, and of the sense of propriety and proportion of the man who is taking the oath of office, and I repeat that the sooner we can simplify the process of inducting our Governors and our Presidents into office, if you please, the way to start an era of economy is to start the era of economy the day the successful candidate for Governor is sworn in. To start off an economy era by an exhibition which means little or nothing in our time is contrary, I believe, to wise policy. But I do submit that it is an error in judgment to embody in a formal procedure the type of inaugural which must inevitibly be applied. I believe it would be wiser, as I have said, to leave the character of the inaugural to the good sense of the inaugural committee on each occassion and to the good sense of the successful candidate who is to be inaugurated.

Which committee reported this?

The SPEAKER. It is a report from the Committee on Rules.

MOTION TO RECOMMIT

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, I move to recommit this resolution to the Committee on Rules.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Cambria, Mr. Andrews, withdraw his motion to recommit temporarily?

Mr. ANDREWS. I will.

MOTION WITHDRAWN

The SPEAKER. The Chair thanks the gentleman. The Chair recognizes the gentleman from Armstrong, Mr. Helm.

Mr. HELM. Mr. Speaker, certainly it is a strange condition to hear the Minority Leader from the floor of this house asking us to institute some drastic economy in view of osme of the expenditures that we have read about and heard about it in our national capitol on such an occasion.

I agree with the gentleman entirely that perhaps some of the ceremonies are too elaborate, and this is certainly a step in the right direction. It will certainly cut down the cost and a lot of the pomp in connection with inauguration ceremonies. For that reason I would like to see the house to concur in this resolution.

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, I am refreshed with the gentleman's profound concern regarding matters at our national capitol. I hope that he extends his long arm of influence and induces the minority party at Washington in line with the Dixiecrats actually to institute a era of economy at Washington, and I could conceive of no better way of starting the crusade than to start it in the states, at the grass roots.

I have seldom heard the gentleman speak to such little advantage as when he proceeds to defend an indefensible expenditure here in Harrisburg by citing what a party at Washington is doing.

I must reiterate my motion to send this resolution back to the committee from which it came, on the ground not so much because of economy, although that is an item, not so much because there should be a return to greater degree of simplicity in our public pages, but because I do believe it is wrong in principle to establish any place or any particular method which our inaugural ceremonies must follow. I repeat that it is wiser to leave it to the good taste of the people who are on the scene on future occasions when we have inaugurals.

MOTION TO RECOMMIT

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, I renew my motion to recommit this resolution to the Committee on Rules.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the motion?

Mr. SMITH. Mr. Speaker, I feel that probably we all are inclined to agree with the gentleman to a certain extent. I think that the gentleman will probably have to agree with us that if we have an inaugural, having it in the Farm Show Building would definitely do just one of the things that he is talking about; I believe that it would probably save expenses. It would not only save the expenses of building stands and a pavilion, but it might also save some expenses as far as doctor's bills of members of the House are concerned because some of us are not so fully equipped for cold weather in certain parts of our anatomy. I happen to be one of those gentlemen, and I know standing out there in the full force of the weather—and I have had plenty of weather this year blowing on me—he would readily have agreed, I think if we had had the gentleman out there at that time to vote on this motion, he would heartily have agreed to vote to have it in the Farm Show Building. It would do us a lot of good and I know it would accomplish his primary motive of saving him money, and also save the State money.

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, I desire to interrogate the Majority Leader.

Mr. SPEAKER. Will the Majority Leader permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. SMITH. I will, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. ANDREWS. What portion of the Majority Leader's anatomy is most susceptible to cold?

Mr. SMITH. Mr. Speaker, rather than answer that question I think probably the direct evidence is protruding at this moment.

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the motion?

The yeas and nays were required by Mr. ANDREWS and Mr. READINGER.

BILLS ON SECOND READING

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the second reading and consideration of House Bill No. 45, entitled:

An Act to add Section 808.1 to the act approved the third day of June one thousand nine hundred thirty-seven (P. L. 1225) entitled "An act concerning game and other wild birds and wild animals and amending revising consolidating and changing the law relating thereto" by prohibiting certain acts relating to hunting trapping and the discharge of weapons in cemeteries and burial grounds.

And said bill having been read at length the second time and agreed to.

Ordered, To be transcribed for third reading.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the second reading and consideration of House Bill No. 63, entitled:

An Act to further amend the act, approved the twelfth day of June, one thousand nine hundred thirty-one (P. L. 510), entitled "An act providing for the licensure and regulation of certain private nursing homes and private hospitals; conferring certain powers and duties upon the Department of Welfare; and providing penalties," including boarding houses and homes within its provisions, requiring the Department of Welfare to revoke licenses in certain cases, reducing the period in which licensees must comply with department orders and granting the Department of Welfare the power to padlock licensees' premises in certain cases.

The first section was read.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the section?

BILL POSTPONED

Mr. TAHL. Mr. Speaker, I move that this bill be placed on the second reading postponed calendar for the following reasons: A number of people want more time to study the bill and I am willing to give them an opportunity to do so. I will call the bill up next Monday.

The motion was agreed to.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the second reading and consideration of House Bill No. 175, entitled:

An Act authorizing and directing the Joint State Government Commission to make a comprehensive study of the migratory habits of fish, particularly shad, and the stocking and tagging of shad below and above the Safe Harbor Dam, the Holtwood Dam and the Conowingo Dam, and to cooperate with the federal government in connection therewith; prescribing powers and duties and making an appropriation.

And said bill having been read at length the second time and agreed to.

Ordered, To be transcribed for third reading.

BILL RECOMMITTED

Mr. GOODLING. Mr. Speaker, I move that House Bill 175 be recommitted to the Committee on Appropriations.

The motion was agreed to.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the second reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 4 entitled

An Act to reenact in part and to further amend the act approved the third day of June one thousand nine hundred thirty-seven (P. L. 1333) entitled "An act concerning elections including general municipal special and primary elections the nomination of candidates primary and election expenses and election contests creating and defining memberships of county boards of elections imposing duties upon the Secretary of the Commonwealth courts county boards of elections county commissioners imposing penalties for violation of the act and codifying revising and consolidating the laws relating thereto and repealing certain acts and parts of acts relating to elections" by further regulating elections authorizing and providing a procedure for the voting of qualified electors serving in the armed forces or Merchant Marine of the United States or in organizations attached to or serving with such forces or any qualified bedridden or hospitalized veterans imposing additional duties upon the various county boards of elections and election officers chairmen of political parties or committees and officers and employes of certain political subdivisions placing costs upon the Commonwealth authorizing appropriations by cities of the first class and counties further regulating the last days for filing and circulating nomination petitions and nomination papers the withdrawal of nominated candidates the payment of fees by persons nominated at primary elections the filing substitute nomination certificates to fill vacancies caused by the withdrawal of candidates and the date of the primary election.

The first section was read.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the section?

Mr. McMILLEN offered the following amendments:

Amend Sec. 1, page 3, line 12, by inserting after the word "reenacted" the following "and amended"

Amend Sec. 1 (Sec. 102), page 4, line 2, by inserting a bracket before the word "or" where it appears the first time in said line.

Amend Sec. 1 (Sec. 102), page 4, line 6, by inserting a bracket after the word "States"

On the question,

Will the House agree to the Amendments?

Mr. McMILLEN. Mr. Speaker, I would like to be recognized at a later time convenient on the amendments. I would like to speak on the entire group at one time.

The SPEAKER. If there is no objection the Chair will recognize the gentleman at this time before taking action.

Mr. McMILLEN. Mr. Speaker, would you like to have the amendments read for the information of the House?

The SPEAKER. If the gentleman desires to explain the amendments, it would be the desire of the Chair that he do so as a unit. The amendments must be adopted section by section as they are read.

Mr. McMILLEN. Well, Mr. Speaker, as you know Senate Bill 4 is the Soldiers Absentee Ballot Bill. This bill is being encated on a permanent basis. It is entirely different from the Federal Act under which we worked during World War II. Under the Act of 1944 we included various organizations such as are named in the bill, the Red Cross, the Society of Friends, the U.S.O., the Merchant Marine. Those organizations were included in the 1944 Act to conform with the Federal Act, which at that time recognized these units in the voting privilege.

Today we are enacting a bill which will become law and be subject to only the Constitution of Pennsylvania. In order to forestall or to keep the question from arising as the legitimacy of this Act, the constitutionality of the Act, and in the raising of that question, perhaps prohibit the actual military from voting.

It is then advised that we stick entirely and strictly to the construction of the Constitution of Pennsylvania as found in Article VIII, Section 6 of the Constitution. It reads as follows:

> "Whenever any of the qualified electors of this Commonwealth shall be in actual military service, under a requisition from the President of the United States, or by any authority of this Commonwealth, such electors may exercise the right of suffrage in all elections by the citizens, under such regulations as are or shall be prescribed by law, as fully as if they were present at their actual places of election."

We don't need to be constitutional lawyers at all to understand exactly what that says. It says "in actual military service". There is no desire, there is no wish on the part of any Member of this House, Democrat or Republican, whom I have found, to deny any man or any woman the right to the franchise. But the question of our sentiment in the matter as versus the Constitutional question leaves us no other course than to do that which we have done now, and to strike out all personnel except those who cannot refuse to obey an order.

Mr. READINGER. Mr. Speaker, I have examined these amendments which have been submitted by the gentleman fom Indiana, Mr. McMillen, and I wish to state that I agree entirely with what he has just said about these amendments. I ask the Minority Members to vote in favor of them.

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the amendments?

They were agreed to.

The section was agreed to as amended.

The second to eighth sections were separately read and agreed to.

The ninth section was read.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the section?

Mr. McMILLEN offered the following amendment:

Amend Sec. 9 (Sec. 953), page 13, line 17, by striking out the words "THIRTY-SIX (36)" and inserting in lieu thereof "forty-four (44)."

It was agreed to.

The section was agreed to as amended.

The tenth section was read and agreed to.

The eleventh section was read.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the section?

Mr. McMILLEN offered the following amendments:

Amend Sec. 11 (Sec. 1307), page 23, line 9, by striking out the word "country" and inserting in lieu thereof "county".

Amend Sec. 11 (Sec. 1307), page 23, line 15, by striking out the word "military".

Amend Sec. 11 (Sec. 1308), page 24, line 16, by striking out the word "times" and inserting in lieu thereof "time".

They were agreed to.

The section was agreed to as amended.

The twelfth and thirteenth sections were separately read and agreed to.

The fourteenth section was read.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the section?

Mr. McMILLEN offered the following amendment:

Amend Sec. 14, page 33, lines 15, 16 and 17, by striking out the word "or" in line 15, all of line 16, and the words "to or serving with such forces" in line 17, and inserting in lieu thereof "of the United States."

It was agreed to.

The section was agreed to as amended.

The fifteenth section was read and agreed to.

The title was read.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the title?

Mr. McMILLEN offered the following amendments:

Amend Title, page 2, line 6 of Title, by striking out the words "or Merchant Marine."

Amend Title, page 2, lines 6 and 7 of Title, by striking out the words "or in organizations attached to or serving with such forces."

They were agreed to.

The title was agreed to as amended.

And said bill having been read at length the second time and agreed to as amended.

Ordered, To be transcribed for third reading.

Mr. GUARNIERI. Mr. Speaker, I wish to be recorded as not agreeing to the amendments excluding Red Cross Members or members of the U.S.O. organizations and what not. I could not attract the attention of the Speaker at the time, because of the wishes of Mr. Readinger. I believe, personally, that should absentee voting be given to anyone, they, too, should enjoy that privilege. I wish to record it so—opposed to that particular amendment—I don't know which one it is.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS HOUSE

Mr. McMILLEN asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the House.

Mr. Speaker, I think it is evident on the part of this House as expressed on both the Democratic side and the Republican side, that there isn't anyone here who wouldn't like to extend the privilege to vote to those who are doing a service for this country outside their home districts. That, Mr. Speaker, is certainly the wish and the desire of all of us, but the question still confronts us on the constitutional limitations. The gentleman, being an attorney, as I understand he is, ought to more fully understand that question than I do, and the only way we can do that, is to change the Constitution. Our fight is not with giving the vote. Our argument here is based entirely upon the Constitutional question, not our sentiments or our hearts' desire in the matter.

Section 16 Effective Date This act shall become effective immediately upon its final enactment

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. ANDREWS. I don't come at this moment with any monkey wrenches; I come rather bearing olive branches. Yesterday the Majority Leader explained a position. I want briefly to explain a position. One lives and learns, you know.

House Bill 1 was one of those bills that you take for granted. It had been drafted by a Council that was drafting bills for the whole country. It was the sort of bill that you couldn't conceive any controversy about, and when the matter was raised as to co-sponsor the answer was "certainly." And so you co-sponsored sight unseen and you only read the bill casually.

I've been in this House long enough to know that no bill should be read casually. I read the bill so casually that it wasn't until the Caucus Chairman, the gentleman from Berks, Mr. Readinger, called my attention to the fact that volunteers not in the service of municipalities were not covered by our Compensation Act. I rather imagine that all the other Members of the House had just taken that for granted. They had not read this measure. As for the five dollars, when I read the bill there wasn't any five dollars in it,—it was a blank—and the Majority Leader one day in passing said: "Well, how about five dollars?" I said: "I guess that's probably all right." I just wasn't thinking about it. When the question was raised . . . the whole question of compensation.

Now in your caucus and in our caucus, any member of the caucus is privileged to present his views; to present his ideas concerning the amendment of any pending bill. And I had committed myself to this bill prior to calling any caucus. Not only is a member of a caucus permitted and expected to present any ideas concerning any amendments he may have, but so is any organization, whether that organization is manufacture, whether it's labor, whether it's a health organization, if they have amendments in mind that they think we ought to consider, why, we consider them in our caucus and I presume you consider them in your caucus.

So, some amendments, sponsored by various groups who had thought about it,—or probably hadn't thought about it, were presented to our members. So the whole question of compensation arose. Unfortunately because there hadn't been a preliminary meeting of minds, doubtless some people on the other side of the House thought there was some deep, dark conspiracy—some effort to double cross the majority about a bill that we had co-sponsored.

Of course, when things were all ironed out and we had time to think it over, we reached an agreement without controversy. There were no ulterior motives that a great many had thought were entertained on this side.

My error was that I didn't sooner read the bill carefully, which I shall do in future with respect to all measures I am called upon to co-sponsor and when there's any question we'll thrash it out in caucus. The only difference between us, our side and your side was that we were able to define our position in one caucus, and I'll be darned if it didn't take you fellows three caucuses to find out where you were.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Section 819 Prevention of Noise

(a) No person shall operate a motorcycle or other motor vehicle except fire department and fire patrol apparatus on a highway unless such motorcycle or other motor vehicle is equipped with a muffler in good working order and in constant operation to prevent excessive or unusual noise

(b) It shall be unlawful to use a muffler cut-out or a bi-pass in a muffler on any motorcycle or other motor vehicle except fire department and fire patrol apparatus

Penalty any person violating any of the provisions of this section shall upon summary conviction before a magistrate be sentenced to pay a fine of ten ($10) dollars and costs of prosecution and in default of the payment thereof shall undergo imprisonment for not more than five (5) days

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. LOPRESTI. Mr. Speaker, I desire to interrogate the sponsor of the bill.

Mr. SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Berks, Mr. Weidner, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. WEIDNER. I will, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. LOPRESTI. Mr. Speaker, I desire to ask the gentleman from Berks the purpose of the bill.

Mr. WEIDNER. Turn to page 4 of House Bill 34; you will find that there are only three words on three different occasions inserted in the particular bill which represent your present motor vehicles code.

The only purpose for bringing out these particular words is due to the fact that we have too many misinterpretrations by those who are supposed to enforce the law inasmuch as they do not interpret a motorcycle as a motor vehicle.

The only purpose I have in presenting this bill is because of the many requests I have had from my constituents to make sure that these people who are supposed to enforce the law will include the motorcycle as well as other motor vehicles.

Mr. LOPRESTI. In the opinion of the gentleman from Berks, does not the present motor code include violations by motorcycles?

Mr. WEIDNER. Just as I said, Mr. Speaker, it does, and the only purpose is to make it more specific for those who are supposed to enforce the law.

Mr. LOPRESTI. Mr. Speaker, does the gentleman from Berks, Mr. Weidner, know of a single court decision of either an Superior Court or other court of record which has held that the present motor code does not apply to motorcycles?

Mr. WEIDNER. I didn't quite understand that, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. LOPRESTI. Does the gentleman know of a single case where a court has held that the present motor code as it now stands does not apply to motorcycles?

Mr. WEIDNER. I do not, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. LOPRESTI. Then I take it that the only purpose of the act is to highlight violations by motorcycles which are already covered by the motor vehicle code?

Mr. WEIDNER. That is correct. My only purpose, again let me state, is because of the many constituents who have approached me on the matter. I have received many comments not only from my constituents but from many constituents of the present members of this House favorable to the passage of the bill as I have it in Bill 34.

Mr. LOPRESTI. Mr. Speaker, I have no quarrel to pick with the general idea behind this bill. I believe all of us will agree that motorcycle noises constitute a great nuisance and I believe that all of us agree that something should be done to stop it.

However, I do disagree with the establishment of a procedure whereby we reenact legislation merely to point out the fact that it is not being enforced. I believe that we have another remedy that we can use in an instance of this kind. We might for example pass a resolution calling the attention of the Governor, calling the attention of the State Police to the fact that this particular law is not being enforced, and ask that the State Police disperse the information through their various barracks throughout the Commonwealth and thereby bring attention to the fact that we have a law on the statute books which is not being enforced. I believe it is wrong to establish a precedent to reenact legislation, in other words passing the same thing over again and pointing out particular highlights which we want to emphasize. In other words there are perhaps dozens of cases in the motor code where the law is not being enforced, and if we wished we could offer an individual bill in each one of these cases of violations, and bring to the front that particular violation. I object to the bill merely because it introduces a new method, and I would rather revert to some other type of action in order to get enforcement of existing law.

Mr. WEIDNER. Mr. Speaker, I just want to say in response that I agree with the gentleman that in many instances they are not enforced. However I believe that it is necessary to make these same things specific enough so that it will get the attention of the enforcement officers that they will bring it to the point where we want it. I would therefore ask the members to vote in favor of this bill.

MOTION TO RECOMMIT

Mr. LOPRESTI. Mr. Speaker, since that same thing can be done through a resolution I move that this bill be recommitted to the Committee on Motor Vehicles.

The motion was not agreed to.

On the question recurring,

Should the bill pass finally?

Mr. READINGER. Mr. Speaker, normally I would agree with my colleague Mr. Lopresti. I am opposed to the principle of reenacting present law. But as one of the members of this House who is steadily growing older and becoming more susceptible to the nervous shock of these roaring devices we are talking about today, I am going to vote for this bill on the theory that we are simply saying we mean absolutely, positively and no maybes.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution the yeas and nays were taken and were as follows:

Ordered, That the Clerk present the same to the Senate for concurrence.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 59, as follows:

An Act to further amend section 15 of the act approved the sixteenth day of May one thousand nine hundred twenty-three (P. L. 207) entitled "An act providing when how upon what property and to what extent liens shall be allowed for taxes and for municipal improvements for the removal of nuisances and for water rents or rates sewer rates and lighting rates for the procedure upon claims filed therefor the methods for preserving such liens and enforcing payment of such claims the effect of judicial sales of the properties liened the distribution of the proceeds of such sales and the redemption of the property therefrom for the lien and collection of certain taxes heretofore assessed and of claims for municipal improvements made and nuisances removed within six months before the passage of this act and for the procedure on tax and municipal claims filed under other and prior acts of Assembly" changing the procedure in reviving municipal claims and reinstating the lien of certain claims

Section 1 Section 15 of the act approved the sixteenth day of May one thousand nine hundred twenty-three (P. L. 207) entitled "An act providing when how upon what property and to what extent liens shall eb allowed for taxes and for municipal improvements for the removal of nuisances and for water rents or rates sewer rates and lighting rates for the procedure upon claims filed therefor the methods for preserving such liens and enforcing payment of such claims the effect of judicial sales of the properties liened the distribution of the proceeds of such sales and the redemption of the property therefrom for the lien and collection of certain taxes heretofore assessed and of claims for municipal improvements made and nuisances removed within six months before the passage of this act and for the procedure on tax and municipal claims filed under other and prior acts of Assembly" as last amended by the act approved the fourteenth day of April one thousand nine hundred forty-nine (P. L. 470) and the act approved the twentieth day of May one thousand nine hundred forty-nine (P. L. 1494) is hereby further amended to read as follows

Section 15 Such tax municipal or other claim if filed within the period aforesaid shall remain a lien upon said properties until fully paid and satisfied Provided That either a suggestion of nonpayment and an averment of default in the form hereinafter provided be filed [in cases of tax claims] either before or after judgment on the scire facias [and in cases of other than tax claims after judgment on the scire facias] or else a writ of scire facias in the form herein provided be issued to revive the same within each period of five years following (a) the date on which said claim was filed (b) the date on which a writ of scire facias was issued thereon (c) the date on which any judgment was entered thereon (d) the date on which a previous suggestion of nonpayment and default was filed thereon or (e) the date on which a judgment of revival was obtained thereon

The suggestion and averment shall be in the following form under the caption of the claim

And now .....the claimant by .....his solicitor or by the chief of its delinquent tax bureau suggests of record that the above claim is still due and owing to the claimant and avers that the owner is still in default for nonpayment thereof The prothonotary is hereby directed to enter this suggestion and averment on the municipal lien of the proper docket of the claim and also to index it upon the judgment index and on the locality index of the court for the purpose of continuing the lien of the claim

Such suggestion and averment shall be signed by or have stamped thereon a facsimile signature of the solicitor or chief executive officer of the claimant or the chief of its delinquent tax bureau The prothonotary shall docket and index the suggestion and averments directed therein and for such services in all counties of the fifth class and the political subdivisions in such counties shall be entitled to a fee of one dollar and in all other classes of counties and the political subdivisions thereof he shall receive the following fee to be taxed and collected as other costs in the claim

for taxes or municipal claims for one year and is directed to be indexed in one name only .....one dollar ($1)

Each additional year included .....one dollar ($1)
Each additional name included ..twenty-five cents ($.25)
The filing and indexing of such suggestion and averment within five years of filing the claim or the issuing of any writ of scire facias thereon or of any judgment thereon or of the filing of any prior suggestion and averment of default shall have the same force and effect for the purposes of continuing and preserving the lien of the claim as though a writ of scire facias had been issued or a judgment or judgment of revival had been obtained within such period Provided That no writ of levari facias shall be issued upon a claim for the purpose of exposing the property liened to sheriff's sale except after a judgment shall have been duly obtained upon the claim as provided in this section and such judgment must have been obtained within five years of the issuance of the levari facias Whenever the lien of a claim has been revived and continued by the filing and indexing of a suggestion and averment of default the claimant may at any time within five years therefrom issue a writ of scire facias thereon reciting all suggestion and averment of default filed since the filing of the claim and shall proceed thereon in the manner herein provided subject to the right of the owner to raise any defense arising since the last judgment

If a claim be not filed within the time aforesaid or if it be notprosecuted in the manner and at the time aforesaid its lien on real estate shall be wholly lost

Section 2 In any case where any county city borough incorporated town or township has heretofore filed in the office of the prothonotary of the proper county any municipal claim and the county city borough incorporated town or township has not within the period of five (5) years after the date on which any such claim was filed sued out a writ of scire facias to reduce the same to judgment or has not done so in time then such county city borough incorporated town or township may within six (6) months after the effective date of this act file a suggestion of nonpayment and an averment of default or where any county city borough incorporated town or township has heretofore filed a suggestion of nonpayment and an averment of default on a municipal claim when the law required that a writ of scire facias be sued out then in either case such claim so revived shall be a valid claim and be a lien upon the real estate upon which it was a lien at the time the claim was filed Provided That the lien of any such claim shall not reattach against any real estate transferred to any purchaser during the time when the lien of any such municipal claim was lost nor shall the lien of any such claim impair or affect the priority of the lien of any mortgage or other lien which gained priority because of the failure of the county city borough incorporated town or twonship to sue out the writ of scire facias within the five (5) year period or was entered of record during the time the lien of such municipal claim or judgment was lost nor shall any such lien so revived impair or affect the priority of the lien of any mortgage or other lien which gained priority during the time such municipal claim was not revived or was not effective

Section 3 The provisions of this act shall become effective immediately upon final enactment

And said bill having been read at length the third time, considered and agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

(7) "Obligor" means any person owing a duty of support

(8) "Obligee" means any person to whom a duty of support is owed

Section 3 Remedies Additional to Those Now Existing The remedies herein provided are in addition to and not in substitution for any other remedies

Section 4 Extent of Duties of Support The duty of support imposed by the laws of this State or by the laws of the state where the obligee was present when the failure to support commenced as provided in Section 7 and the remedies provided for enforcement thereof including any costs or penalty imposed thereby bind the obligor regardless of the presence or residence of the obligee

Article II

Criminal Enforcement

Section 5 Interstate Rendition The Governor of this State (1) may demand from the Governor of any other state the surrender of any person found in such other state who is charged in this State with the crime of failing to provide for the support of any person in this State and (2) may surrender on demand by the Governor of any other State any person found in this State who is charged in such other state with the crime of failing to provide for the support of a person in such other state The provisions for extradition of criminals not inconsistent herewith shall apply to any such demand although the person whose surrender is demanded was not in the demanding state at the time of the commission of the crime and although he had not fled therefrom Neither the demand the oath nor any proceedings for extradition pursuant to this section need state or show that the person whose surrender is demanded has fled from justice or at the time of the commission of the crime was in the demanding or the other state

Section 6 Relief From the Above Provision Any obligor contemplated by Section 5 who submits to the jurisdiction of the court of such other state and complies with the court's order of support shall be relieved of extradition for desertion or non-support entered in the courts of this State during the period of such compliance.

Article III

Civil Enforcement

Section 7 What Duties are Enforceable Duties of support enforceable under this law are those imposed or imposable under the laws of any state where the alleged obligor was present during the period for which support is sought or where the obligee was present when the failure to support commenced at the election of the obligee

Section 8 Remedies of a State or Political Subdivision Thereof Furnishing Support Whenever the state or a political subdivision thereof has furnished support to an obligee it shall have the same right to invoke the provisions hereof as the obligee to whom the support was furnished for the purpose of securing reimbursement of expenditures so made

Section 9 How Duties of Support are Enforced All duties of support are enforceable by action (complaint) irrespective of relationship between the obligor and obligee Jurisdiction of all proceedings hereunder shall be vested in the courts designated in Section 2 subsection (4)

Section 10 Contents of Complaint for Support The complaint shall be verified and shall state the name and so far as known to the plaintiff the address and circumstances of the defendant and his dependents for whom support is sought and all other pertinent information

Section 11 Duty of Court of This State as Initiating State If the court of this State acting as an initiating state finds that the complaint sets forth facts from which it may be determined that the defendant owes a duty of support and that a court of the responding state may obtain jurisdiction of the defendant or his property he shall so certify and shall cause certified copies of the complaint the certificate and an authenticated copy of this act to be transmitted to the court of the responding state

NOT VOTING—4

Cooper,	Lafore,	Schuster,	Welsh,

The majority required by the Constitution having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, That the Clerk present the same to the Senate for concurrence.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS HOUSE

Mr. SMITH asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the House.

Mr. Speaker, since the Members of this House have been so generous in looking out for the welfare of all of the individuals of the Commonwealth, and I notice that we have even gone to the point of stretching it a little bit by putting in the House new red leather chairs completely around the side walls. They have sponge rubber seats and are very comfortable.

The ones who generally use these seats and have been complaining in the past, I understand, are the "legislative engineers," and now that we have honestly gone out of our way to be kind,—I don't want to say to those individuals or creatures, but we have gone out of our way; I wonder if they would be kind enough, and I say this with a plea in my voice, to spend more time in the House rather than go to the Senate. After all they should have some consideration for the Members here. We like to eat too, and while some of us may be on diets I am sure there are some individuals here who have spare evenings and not much to do. Maybe they in the time of eating could learn some legislation. So I ask them, now that we have given them comfortable and beautiful seats, please stay over with us and don't leave us and go to the Senate.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS HOUSE

Mr. ANDREWS asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the House.

Mr. Speaker, the Majority Leader has drawn an issue, an issue that instead of splitting parties should unite them.

These engineers who see all, know all, and tell mighty few, have some information to impart. I don't know any place of greater befuddlement or bewilderment just now than the other chamber of the General Assembly, the Senate. If the "legislative engineers" or the Majority Leader or anybody else can stir that other chamber to intelligent action I am for it. Instead of inviting these "legislative engineers" to a body that knows where it would like to go, if it just had the chance, if somebody would cut it loose, I suggest that for the next month we banish all of them and sentence them to serve in the Senate. Because I have no doubt as the Majority Leader says, over in the Senate, rather than in the House is where they spread their advice, and, gentlemen, I have always suspected that if they had an change in their pockets it was in the other chamber that they distributed it.

Mr. SMITH. Mr. Speaker, the suggestion has just been made that maybe the solution of this entire problem would be to send the chairs over to the Senate. That might make them comfortable over there.

ADJOURNMENT

Mr. METZ. Mr. Speaker, I move that this House do now adjourn until Wednesday, February 21, 1951 at 10:00 a. m.

The motion was agreed to, and (at 3:45 p. m.) the House adjourned.

COMMONWEALTH OF PENNSYLVANIA

Legislative Journal.

Session 1951. 139th of the General Assembly.

Vol. 32. HARRISBURG, PA., WEDNESDAY, FEBRUARY 21, 1951. No. 13.

SENATE

WEDNESDAY, February 21, 1951.

The Senate met at 10:00 o'clock, a.m., Eastern Standard Time.

The PRESIDENT pro tempore (M. Harvey Taylor) in the Chair.

PRAYER

The Chaplain, Rev. ALFRED L. TAXIS, Pastor of the First Presbyterian Church, Port Carbon, Pennsylvania, offered the following prayer:

Oh God, make us know that Thou art not dead, that Thou are the living and eternal God. Thou knowest all about us, Thou knowest what we are and what we are thinking now; Thou knowest what actuates us in making decisions.

We pray that Thou wouldst blot out our sin, blot out our pride and grant that we may do things on a high spiritual plane to the glory of God, for the good of America and the Commonwealth, through Jesus Christ, our Lord, Amen.

JOURNAL APPROVED

The PRESIDENT pro tempore. A quorum of the Senate being present the Clerk will read the Journal of the preceding session.

The Clerk proceeded to read the Journal of the preceding session, when, on motion of Mr. WALKER and Mr. MALLERY, further reading was dispensed with, and the Journal was approved.

The PRESIDENT pro tempore. At this time the Chair invites the gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. McGinnis, to the rostrum to preside.

The PRESIDING OFFICER (Bernard B. McGinnis) in the Chair

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS SENATE

Mr. WALKER asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the Senate.

Mr. WALKER. Mr. President, under the heading of Communications, for the information of the Senate I would like to read the Weather Report as furnished to us by the Highway Department this morning:

"Rain and low cloud formations are general throughout Pennsylvania with daylight temperatures to be well above freezing.

"The rain is forecast to end before the arrival of slightly below freezing weather in the western part of the State during the early night.

"Tonight's low temperatures in the west about 30 degrees—in the east about 35 degrees.

"Although highways are wet, neither ice nor snow is expected to be encountered." May I say for the edification of us who are fortunate enough to live west of the Susquehanna River, that the Western Extension of the Pennsylvania Turnpike is clear.

Mr. BERGER. Mr. President, I would like to interrogate the Majority Floor Leader, Senator Walker.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. Will the gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Walker, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. WALKER. With pleasure, Mr. President.

Mr. BERGER. Mr. President, I would like to inquire whether the weather report just read includes Potter County.

Mr. WALKER. Mr. President, I understand that the people of Potter County are of such high intellect that they are not the least bit interested in the weather. They thought God would take care of that.

The PRESIDENT pro tempore (M. Harvey Taylor) in the Chair.

BILLS INTRODUCED AND REFERRED

Mr. MALLERY read in his place and presented to the Chair Senate Bill No. 231, entitled

An Act regulating the letting of certain contracts for the erection, construction and alteration of buildings by the Commonwealth or State authority.

Which was committed to the Committee on State Government.

Mr. MAHANY read in his place and presented to the Chair Senate Bill No. 232, entitled

An Act providing procedure for securing the support of dependent wives, children, parents, grandparents and grandchildren from the persons liable for their support when domiciled in different states having substantially similar or reciprocal laws; defining the persons legally liable for the support of such dependents; and prescribing the powers and jurisdiction of certain courts and the powers and duties of certain public officers relating thereto.

Which was committed to the Committee on Judiciary General

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS SENATE

Mr. McGINNIS asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the Senate.

Mr. McGINNIS. Mr. President, I would like permission to make a statement in connection with the presentation of this bill.

Mr. President, I am offering this bill in collaboration with Robert D. Fleming and R. B. Mahany. This bill proposes to create the Western Pennsylvania Water Supply Planning Commission to investigate the development of a plan to bring an unpolluted water supply to Western Pennsylvania.

The water supply in many sections of our country is a very serious matter. We discovered recently, a number of years back, that many sections of this country are having a serious time to secure good pure drinking water.

Twenty years ago, the Pennsylvania Railroad built a pipe line from Pittsburgh to up near Uniontown, a distance of forty or more miles, in order to bring water down to their locomotives in the Pittsburgh district. In other words, Mr. President, the water was so bad that they were using in their boilers that they went to the enormous expense of bringing this water from Fayette County down into Pittsburgh.

Mr. President, up to the north of Pittsburgh we have a number of counties there that have a soil that is probably the best in the United States for rain water to gather and become useful for human beings. These counties are Erie, Crawford, Warren, Forest and Elk Counties and a part of Venango. The Smithsonian Institute has made an investigation of these counties and the Institute declares that these counties produce the best water, the best running water of maybe any counties in the United States.

Now, Mr. President, of course, the initial cost of bringing this water into the industrial sections of Pittsburgh to supply our mills and our homes is very high. It is difficult to get any individual, any body of men to go to the expense of the engineering to ascertain what would be necessary. I have been advised by responsible and able engineers and financial men that if it is feasible to bring this water down, the same as New York City has brought it down from the mountains, that it can be easily financed by the creation of an authority, and this wonderful supply of pure water can be brought into Western Pennsylvania's industrial districts and into homes.

BILL INTRODUCED AND REFERRED

Messrs. McGINNIS, FLEMMING and MAHANY read in place and presented to the Chair Senate Bill No. 233, entitled

An Act creating the Western Pennsylvania Water Supply Planning Commission to investigate the development of a plan to bring an unpolluted water supply to Western Pennsylvania communities; defining its powers and duties; and making an appropriation.

Which was committed to the Committee on State Government.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS SENATE

Mr. YOSKO. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent to make a few remarks before I submit these bills.

Mr. President, these bills propose to amend the Public Utility Law, and I was inspired to have these bills drafted because of an experience I had with the Public Utility Commission and the one-sided procedure under which it functions. When I say one-sided, I mean one-sided in favor of the utilities and against the general public, and I am referring to a case in my district in the Lehigh Valley, which involves the City of Allentown, the City of Bethlehem, the City of Easton and vicinity, or where the Lehigh Valley Transit Company operates its bus and trolley lines.

Mr. President, on August the 17th, 1950, the Lehigh Valley Transit Company filed its tariffs with the Public Utility Commission for an increase in its rates. On behalf of the Boroughs of Northampton, Coplay and Slatington, as well as myself, at the request of people who held a public meeting in opposition to the increased rates, I filed a complaint, a formal complaint, and asked the Public Utility Commission to suspend the effective date of the increased rates.

On September the 13th, the following appeared in a newspaper story:

"The Public Utility Commission today authorized the Lehigh Valley Transit Company, Allentown, to increase its fares by $83,000 a year, effective Sunday, September 17. John B. Conly, Pittsburgh, was the only member of the five-man Commission to vote against the increase," and it goes on with some other data that is not important at this time.

Mr. President, the next day we filed an appeal with the Superior Court; we went to Judge Rhodes' office up in Stroudsburg, and presented the Appeal together with a petition to have the appeal act as a supersedeas, and at the preliminary hearing before Judge Rhodes, although he allowed the appeal, he could not permit the appeal to act as a supersedeas because, he said, that it could be done in any case except in the case of a public utility; that is, where a public utility is involved. So, he issued a rule to show cause why the supersedeas should not be issued, and about five days later we had the hearing on the appeal and on the rule to show cause in Philadelphia.

In the meantime, Mr. President, the Public Utility Commission filed a motion to dismiss the appeal, and this was the ground, at least this was one of the allegations in the Petition:

"Not only has the Public Utility Commission issued no order, but it has taken no action from which an appeal can properly be made."

The point that I want to make here is, here is a Public Utility Commission, paid by the taxpayers of the Commonwealth, that issues rate increases without issuing an order and, frankly, I could not get it through my head, neither could Julius Levy, who represented us and is one of the finest attorneys on public utility matters, we just could not get it through our heads how a public utility, meeting as this Public Utility Commission did, where they took a vote on whether or not the rates should become effective, how they could possibly permit these rates to become effective without issuing some kind of an order. Anyway, we got to Philadelhia and we had the argument on the appeal and on the rule to show cause why a supersedeas should not be issued, and it was not long after the argument began that the court time after time, insisted they could not act on the appeal because the Public Utility Commission issued no order, and since there was no order there was nothing the court could act on.

So, Mr. President, getting back to this matter of an order, we came to the conclusion that there must have been some kind of an order, since the Public Utility Commission held this meeting where a vote was taken. So, I sent a telegram to the Public Utility Commission and I asked them to send me a copy of the minutes of the Executive Session when the action was taken to permit these rate increases to become effective. I received this telegram in reply:

"I assume your telegraphic request of this date refers to the minutes of Commission Executive Session, held September 11, 1950. These minutes have never been regarded as public records and, therefore, have not to this time been made available to any other than Commission Members. Because of unusual nature of your request, I intend to submit it to the entire Commission at the next Executive Session, Monday October 9, 1950."

Mr. President, here it is February 21st and I have not had a reply to this telegram to this very date, but here we have a Public Utility Commission being paid with public funds, who hold meetings on matters of public interest on rate increases, and hold these meetings in secret and say, "What we decide at these meetings is none of the public's business."

Mr. President, this bill proposes to take care, at least in part, of that situation.

Getting back to this order, we decided to file an amended appeal, and not having the minutes of the Executive Session of the Commission we finally found an order that was issued by the Traffic Bureau of the Public Utility Commission authorizing these increases, and we made that a part of our amended appeal, but even that carried no weight before the Superior Court.

Ladies and gentlemen and Members of this Senate, I personally am of the opinion that no rates should become effective without giving the public a chance to be heard. These bills provide, first, that before a rate can become effective either a preliminary or a final hearing must be held. Second, if the Commission decides after a preliminary hearing that the rates should become effective, an appeal should be allowed and the appeal should automatically act as a supersedeas unless the Superior Court decides otherwise. If the Superior Court decides that the appeal should not act as a supersedeas, then the Public Uitlity Commission must order the transportation company to issue script, reimbursable script, so that the public is protected and the deliberations of the Public Utility Commission are to be made available, the records of the deliberations are to be made available to the parties involved in the proceeding.

Mr. President, on behalf of my two colleagues, Senator McGinnis and Senator Rosenfeld, and on behalf of myself, I present the following bill.

BILLS INTRODUCED AND REFERRED

Messrs. YOSKO, McGINNIS and ROSENFELD read in place and presented to the Chair Senate Bill No. 234, entitled

An Act to further amend the act, approved the twenty-eighth day of May, one thousand nine hundred thirty-seven (P. L. 1053), entitled "An act relating to the regulation of public utilities; defining as public utilities certain corporations, companies, associations, and persons; providing for the regulation of public utilities, including, to a limited extent, municipalities engaging in public utility business, by prescribing, defining, and limiting their duties, powers, and liabilities, and regulating the exercise, surrender, or abandonment of their powers, privileges, and franchises; defining and regulating contract carriers by motor vehicle and brokers in order to regulate effectively common carriers by motor vehicle; conferring upon the Pennsylvania Public Utility Commission the power and duty of supervising and regulating persons, associations, companies, and corporations, including, to a limited extent, municipal corporations subject to this act, and administering the provisions of this act; authorizing the commission to fix temporary rates; placing the burden of proof on public utilities to sustain their rates and certain other matters; authorizing a permissive or mandatory sliding scale method of regulating rates; providing for the supervision of financial and contractual relations between public utilities and affiliated interests, and supervision and regulation of accounts and securities or obligations issued, assumed or kept by persons, associations, companies, corporations, or municipal corporations subject to this act; conferring upon the commission power to vary, reform, or revise certain contracts; conferring upon the commission the exclusive power to regulate or order the construction, alteration, relocation, protection, or abolition of crossings of facilities of public utilities, and of such facilities by or over public highways, to appropriate property for the construction or improvement of such crossings, and to award or apportion resultant costs and damages; authorizing owners of such property to sue the Commonwealth for such damages; providing for ejectment proceedings in connection with the appropriation of property for crossings; conferring upon the commission power to control and regulate budgets of public utilities; imposing upon persons, associations, companies and corporations (except municipal corporations) subject to regulation, the cost of administering this act; prescribing and regulating practice and procedure before the commission and procedure for review by the courts of commission action; giving the court of common pleas of Dauphin County exclusive original jurisdiction over certain proceedings; prescribing penalties, fines, and imprisonment for violations of the provisions of this act and regulations and orders of the commission, and the procedure for enforcing such fines and penalties; and repealing legislation supplied and superseded by or inconsistent with this act," by providing for public hearing in all cases of voluntary rate increases, and requiring the commission to make orders thereon; requiring the issuance of refund script in certain cases; making certain deliberations of the commission public records, and making appeals from orders of the commission, operate as a supersedeas.

Which was committed to the Committee on Corporations.

Mr. WALKER (By Request) read in his place and presented to the Chair Senate Bill No. 235, entitled

An Act to further amend Section 814 of the act, approved the first day of May, one thousand nine hundred twenty-nine (P. L. 905), entitled "An act for the protection of the public safety; regulating the use of highways, and the operation of vehicles, tractors, street cars, trackless trolley omnibuses, bicycles, pedestrians, and the riding of animals upon the highways of this Commonwealth; providing for the titling, including liens, encumbrances, and legal claims; registration of certain vehicles and licensing the operators thereof, upon payment of prescribed fees; prescribing and limiting the powers of local authorities to deal with the subject matter of this act; conferring powers and imposing duties upon the Department of Revenue, the Department of Highways, peace officers, mayors, burgesses, magistrates, aldermen, justices of the peace, the courts and clerks thereof, owners of vehicles, and garage keepers; providing that records are admissible as evidence; imposing upon owners, counties, cities, boroughs, incorporated towns, townships, within the Commonwealth, liability for damages caused by the negligent operation of their motor vehicles; imposing penalties; imposing certain costs upon counties; providing for the disposition of fines, forfeitures, fees, and miscellaneous receipts; making an appropriation and providing for refunds," by allowing motor vehicles to be equipped with certain warning apparatus approved by the secretary.

Which was committed to the Committee on Highways.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS SENATE

Mr. MAHANY asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the Senate.

Mr. MAHANY. Mr. President, a year ago today John H. Fertig passed away and on this, the first anniversary of his death, the Senate Members of the Local Government Commission would like to present this resolution of respect for Mr. John H. Fertig, who was Counsel for the Local Government Commission and did a lot of fine work for us.

Mr. President, we appreciated his efforts and his friendship, and out of respect for Mr. Fertig we wish to present this resolution.

CONDOLENCE OF THE SENATE EXTENDED TO WIDOW AND FAMILY OF JOHN H. FERTIG

Mr. MAHANY offered the following resolution which was twice read, considered and agreed to:

In the Senate, February 21, 1951.

John H. Fertig was born in Wayne Township, Schuylkill County, Pennsylvania, on January 19, 1882. He was during his life a teacher and a lawyer.

From 1912 until 1938, John Fertig was with the Legislative Reference Bureau, and was Director of the Bureau from 1930 until 1938. He served this Commonwealth also as a member of the State Employes' Retirement Board. From 1938 until his death, he was actively engaged in specialized legal practice. He was a member of the Dauphin County and the Schuylkill County Bar Associations, the Pennsylvania Bar Association, and the American Bar Association; a charter member of the American Law Institute and a member of the American Judicature Society. In 1938, the Supreme Court of Pennsylvania appointed him a member of the Pennsylvania Procedural Rules Committee. In 1943, Governor Martin appointed him a member of the Board of Commissioners of Uniform State Laws.

This only partial statement of John Fertig's many active and honorable achievements recalls the high qualities of his citizenship and the devotion of his services to the community, the state and the nation. Yet there remains to remember that John Fertig was, for more than a quarter of a century, a legislative draftsman of incomparable scope, experience, and sagacity. Few have been the enactments of the General Assembly since 1912 that were not improved, if not written, out of the great wealth of legislative history that abided with him. The systems of drafting bills for the General Assembly, of printing amendatory laws, the arrangement and tables of Purdon's Pennsylvania Statutes, Annotated, are instances of his great contribution to the forms of legislation; the Statutory Construction Act is only one of his innumerable contributions to the substance and principles of legislation. As counsel for the Local Government Commission of the General Assembly from its creation until his death, he devoted his talents and unsurpassed familiarity with statutory law to the solution of problems of local government in this Commonwealth with brilliant success. Active and successful in private practice, unselfishly devoted to the betterment of his profession and his fellow citizens, he nevertheless found time to complete many projects for the improvement of local government. His invaluable services to the Local Government Commission include the Borough Code, the First Class Township Code and many other laws. Until shortly before his death, he was engaged in the codification of the General County Law and the Third Class City Law.

John Fertig was a man of great services and accomplishments, beyond the scope of recitation here. He was also one who had the genius of friendship. Earnest, gifted, and happy, he was loved and respected by all who knew him. For all that he has achieved, he will be long remembered, and for all that he was, his passing is deeply mourned. Courageously, he made his life happy and distinguished despite the physical handicap which made him go on crutches from childhood.

This man, the teacher and lawyer, died in Harrisburg, Pennsylvania on February 21, 1950, to our great loss; therefore, be it

Resolved, That the members of the Senate express their deep appreciation of John H. Fertig, and extend to his widow and family their personal sympathy; and be it further

Resolved, That a copy of this resolution be sent to his widow, Edith Fertig.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS SENATE

Mr. MAHANY asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the Senate.

Mr. MAHANY. Mr. President, on February 13 a good friend of the Local Government Commission died. He was Edwin L. Kohler, City Solicitor of Allentown, Pennsylvania.

Mr. President, on behalf of the Senate Members of the Local Government Commission, George Stevenson, Charles Mallery, John Haluska and myself, I wish to offer the following resolution.

RESOLUTION

CONDOLENCE OF THE SENATE EXTENDED TO WIDOW AND FAMILY OF EDWIN L. KOHLER

Messrs. MAHANY, STEVENSON, MALLERY AND HALUSKA offered the following resolution which was twice read, considered and agreed to:

In the Senate, February 21, 1951.

Whereas, Edwin L. Kohler, city solicitor of the City of Allentown died at his desk in his own City on Tuesday, February 13th, 1951;

Whereas, Mr. Kohler was born in Allentown on January 4, 1901, and was graduated from Muhlenburg College in 1920 and studied law at the University of Pennsylvania from which he graduated in 1923;

Whereas, He was named assistant city solicitor of Allentown in 1934 and city solicitor on February 1st, 1947, which position he occupied until his death; and

Whereas, Mr. Kohler was closely associated with the Local Government Commission of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in its work looking toward the revision of the Third Class City Law and was regular in his attendance at the meetings of the Commission and the subcommittee. His work was thorough and his advice most welcome and his absence from the work of the Commission will be greatly missed; therefore be it

Resolved, That the members of this Senate fully realizing the loss occasioned to the Commission and to his family and friends and to the community in which he lived, extend their sincere sympathy to his wife and family; and be it further

Resolved, That copies of this resolution be transmitted to Mrs. Edwin L. Kohler, his widow.

CALENDAR

BILL ON THIRD READING AND FINAL PASSAGE

Agreeably to order,

The Senate proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 8, as follows:

An Act making a deficiency appropriation to the Joint State Government Commission for the payment of general expenses

The General Assembly of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania hereby enacts as follows:

Section 1 The sum of fifty thousand dollars ($50,000) or as much thereof as may be necessary is hereby appropriated to the Joint State Government Commission for the payment of wages and other compensations of the employes and for the payment of general expenses necessary for the proper conduct of its work for the balance of the fiscal biennium 1949-1951 Said sum shall be in addition to any sum heretofore appropriated to the Joint State Government Commission for said purposes

Section 2 The provisions of this act shall become effective immediately upon final enactment

And said bill having been read at length the third time, and agreed to,

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. WALKER. Mr. President, before the roll is called on this deficiency appropriation, I think in all fairness to the Members of the General Assembly, who are members of the Joint State Government Commission, an explanatory statement should be made for the information of the gentleman of the Senate.

Mr. President, the appropriation to the Joint State Government Commission which was made during the 1949 Session had been allocated to the various subcommittee studies that had been thrust upon the Joint State Government Commission or referred to them by the General Assembly meeting at that time. During the interim there arose a situation calling for a continued study of the Department of Public Assistance. There were certain matters there that the General Assembly, or that Members of the General Assembly, felt should be brought to the attention of the 1951 Session in a formal manner, and in order to do that we felt it was necessary to make an investigation of certain practices in the Department of Public Assistance. Realizing the fact that it was impossible to make a thorough study, one that would meet with the approval of the 1951 Session, with the funds that were then available, the subcommittee appointed to make the investigation or the study went to the then Chief Executive, the Honorable James Henderson Duff, and explained to him that it would be impossible to make this study in an equitable manner with the funds available, and the suggestion was made to proceed with the study because of the value of the results of the study to the General Assembly, and that the matter of the expenses could be covered in a deficiency appropriation.

Mr. President, the study has been made and the results of the study will be presented to the General Assembly within a very short period of time. The deficiency appropriation was not created because of loose handling of funds by the twenty-four members of the General Assembly who are on the Joint State Government Commission, but it was made because of additional responsibilities taken on by the Commission after the sine die adjournment of the 1949 Session.

I might say, Mr. President, as a result of this very able study that was made by the subcommittee, we feel confident that the new streamlined practices which will be adopted by the General Assembly as a result of the study will save the Commonwealth millions of dollars, so that the deficiency appropriation represented in House Bill No. 8 will return tenfold to the Commonwealth in the savings which we hope to create in the Department of Public Assistance.

And the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

SECOND READING CALENDAR

BILLS OVER IN ORDER

Mr. WALKER. Mr. President, I have been requested to ask that House Bills No. 2, 3, and 4, which represent a part of the civil defense program go over in their order, so at this time, I ask unanimous consent that House Bill No. 2, on second reading, entitled:

An Act to amend the title of, and to further amend the act approved the thirteenth day of April, one thousand nine hundred forty-two (P. L. 37), entitled, as amended, "An Act relating to air raid precautions, including blackouts; conferring certain powers and duties upon the State Council of Defense, local and district Councils of Defense, political subdivisions, members of certain municipal and volunteer agencies and civilians necessary for the safety, defense and protection of civilians and property in the Commonwealth; providing for the mobilization, coordination and use of certain municipal agencies and volunteer agencies, including their personnel and equipment; providing for immunity for liability for injury or death to persons or damages to property under certain circumstances, and providing penalties," by changing the name of the State Council of Defense and the reference to certain laws.

The PRESIDENT pro tempore. Is there objection. The Chair hears none.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS SENATE

Mr. DENT asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the Senate.

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, I am not objecting to the bills going over in order. In fact, I think it is proper that they do go over in order because, I cannot find a copy of House Bill No. 2. I have a copy of House Bills Nos. 3 and 4. I think that all of us better take these bills home with us because there seems to be a general misunderstanding of the purposes of civilian defense, and as a member of the Senate, and I speak at this time without any idea of injecting politics into the matter, but strictly on the basis of trying to do something here that will not have our people in such a dither, as it were, over the setup of civilian defense.

Mr. President, here I pick up the papers and I find that it seems that some people have in mind the creation of a giant boon-doggling enterprise here on Capitol Hill, under the guise of civilian defense, and remember that no matter what happens in civilian defense we, the fifty Members of the Senate, are going to be individually and collectively responsible for it. I am astounded to read in the paper this morning that another position has been created for $12,000 a year for a paper organization to be paid to a man by the name of Wymard, who was Secretary to Governor Duff for a short period and an aid to Mr. Margiotti, and everyone in this room knows that if he devotes all of the time necessary to do that job under the present setup, he could not put in half as much time in a year as what the Senators put in in Harrisburg every two years.

Now, Mr. President, $12,000 a year is a lot of money even today, and I find that there are also two other Assistant Administrators at a total salary of $27,000 a year. We do not have a Cabinet position on Capitol Hill, a full time, long time job, with all the responsibilities that a Cabinet post entails, that has the executive cost that this thing already has before we even pass the legislation.

Mr. President, I find also, according to the papers, that a man who is reputed to be the outstanding expert in civilian defense, not only in the State of Pennsylvania but in the entire United States, considered as such by authorities in the matter, and I find that he is sitting over there without any duties to perform because another man has been named to the position, and no one knows who is the boss. I do not care a hoot who the boss is, and I do not think any Member of the Senate does. I think that we may make a fatal mistake at this moment if we allow this thing to become a creature of political bickering, and, incidentally, I do not see that it is even the fault of anybody I can put my finger on other than the men who are seeking the jobs in the setup. Political hacks, as it were, looking for jobs are going to destroy the one thing that symbolizes the unity of a people in an emergency.

Mr. President, our group fought bitterly against the payment of anybody for civilian defense over in the House. We did not fight because five dollars pay was too much or anything. We fought because we believed that this was the kind of an emergency that tests the fidelity and the strength of a people. Civilian defense is something important. I do not care, I hope that we never are bombed and that we never have any emergency to meet, that we never have any need of any of the setups that we are making here, to try to aid in the relief of distress, but I do say that if we allow this thing to grow into a giant boon-doggling project here on Capitol Hill, Republicans and Democrats alike will and ought to suffer.

We talk about the Federal Budget, and I see where our former Governor Duff is down in Texas talking about the fat in the Federal Budget. This is not only fat, this is plain downright grease and soot and everything else that you can call it. Thirty-nine thousand dollars for three top-flight executives in an organization that has not any more to do at the present moment than could be done by a twenty-five hundred dollar a year clerk.

Mr. President, we are going to have a budget to meet in this Senate, and you gentlemen on the Majority Side have the very sincere responsibility to the people of creating the funds. It is your responsibility and it is our responsibility as the safety valve to see to it that the people are not gouged in Pennsylvania, and we know that you do not want to gouge them because you are the people, too, but if you allow this thing to go on, what is going to happen here—they tell me we have fifty-eight thousand employees on Capitol Hill now. Do you think anybody in charge of a county for civilian defense is going to serve without pay if you start creating thirteen thousand five hundred dollar jobs, twelve thousand dollars a year assistant jobs? Why, they could easily justify a seventy-five hundred dollar job as the head of a county in civilian defense because most of the work will be done on that level. Most of the work will be done on the local level. You cannot afford to do this as the Majority Administrative Party in the State, and we as Members of the Senate together cannot afford to allow it to happen.

Mr. President, I am not pointing a finger at this time at anybody, but I assure you that I am going to read these bills carefully over the weekend and if there is any fat in them, I will guarantee you a good frying party on Monday. We are not going to allow this without a fight, and I do not think you want to, either.

Mr. President, what are the qualifications of a man, what is the background of a man to take a twelve thousand dollar a year job in civilian defense? What is the background that he has—thirteen thousand five hundred dollars as I understand it as the head of a school some place. I can remember the shout of derision when we had the so-called "brain trust" in Washington who were schoolmen, who were supposed to be the confidants and the aids of the late President Roosevelt.

Why, incidentally, my colleague just informed me that we just got rid of a valentine on February 14 who was a schoolman. Schoolmen are all right, but this is a school that requires more than academic training. A man that is supposed to know the job has served with less pay than they are going to pay the third and fourth assistants now.

I tell you, gentlemen, you cannot go increasing taxes in Pennsylvania and get away with this type of stuff. Incidentally, speaking of stuff, yesterday, when I came out of the elevator coming down from my room, there were three or four workmen working there with ladders, I think it was electrical work. One of them said, "What do they do in that big room?" The other fellow answered, "They pass laws and stuff." This must be the stuff.

Mr. President, believe me, I think that each and every Member of this Senate ought to take these bills home with them and study them and see whether or not we are allowing unlimited expenditure of funds for something that must be, if it is to succeed at all, an ageny created out of the will to do that which is right in an emergency. Oh, I tell you I feel so deeply about this flagrant violation of the concepts of unity that I believe we are striving for. Talking about confirmation of the Senate, maybe we better get confirmation of the Senate for everything, for every kind of an administrative position in the State of Pennsylvania. How many of you men would vote for confirmation of this this morning?

Mr. President, there is another article right in the same paper that says that they were waiting to create a position for this particular fellow. I think he is a grand fellow. I thought we were waiting around here to get the budget message so we could go to work. Don't tell me we have been wasting time to create a position for somebody. I know the members of the Senate are no part of this, and the sooner we get down to fundamentals and work on the job that we have before us, the better off we are all going to be, and I mean to tell you that if we allow this to happen, we will be the laughing stock of the whole United States.

Mr. President, how many jobs are there going to be altogether? What is this, a job setup or a defense setup?

Gentlemen, take my word for it, this may be the tool that will dig the grave of the Republican Party unless you look out.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS SENATE

Mr. WALKER asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the Senate.

Mr. WALKER. Mr. President, I do not want to prolong the discussion on what we coyly call skeleton Wednesday, and I am just as much interested in getting the gentlemen back to their various private avocations as they are. I am as deeply interested in getting them back there as the Sun-Telegraph is.

I would like to say one or two things to the gentleman from Westmoreland. I am not quarreling with his statements or his conclusions but I do not want any misunderstanding among the gentlemen of the Senate with regard to the Pennsylvania setup for civilian defense.

Mr. President, when it was set up during the administration of Governor Duff, one of Pennsylvania's most distinguished citizens was placed at the head of it, a gentleman who was serving, very frankly, without pay; who was devoting all of the talent, the experience, the background and the education at his versatile command to creating a streamlined, active, efficient civilian defense corps in Pennsylvania. I think General Mellon did a very marvelous job, and I am certain that when the gentleman from Westmoreland was discussing this civilian defense setup, he was neither directly nor indirectly critizing General Mellon or the setup he promulgated in Pennsylvania during the time he was in charge of civilian defense. I know that was the least of his thoughts, and I do want to make that clear so that there is no misunderstanding.

I would like to say this, Mr. President, that I know that both sides of the aisle share the concern of the gentleman from Westmoreland as to what type of setup the personnel, the activities and the salaries of the members of the civilina defense corps will be, because not only must we provide the money to pay for it but we must be responsible for its operation if ever it is called upon to deliver its maximum point of service, and I share with the gentleman from Westmoreland in his determination to see to it that when the civilian defense setup comes before the Senate for a fiscal discussion, that the question of the number of personnel, their classification, their salaries, their responsibilities, their duties and their ability to perform those duties will be very carefully screened by the Senate, so that when we adjourn sine die we can feel confident that we have given the people of Pennsylvania the paramount protection at the least expense. I know that that is what both sides of the aisle are looking for, and I know that that is the thing that they will get, but I want to repeat, Mr. President, I do not want any misunderstanding, because I know that Senator Dent had no intention and had no desire to critize General Mellon, or the corps or the skeleton formation that he had created over there in the Civilian Defense Department, pending the passage of all this pending legislation and the adjudication of the various matters which will be placed in that particular bureau

Mr. LANE asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the Senate.

Mr. LANE. Mr. President, I realize that all of us want to get out of here and get back home, but in view of the fact that these bills are going to be before us next week, I believe that I am in a position to talk a little bit about civilian defense because it so happens that I am a member of the steering committee in our county.

Mr. President, I read in the paper last night where the new directors had contemplated scrapping what has been built up and starting all over again. Now, Mr. President and Members of the Senate, under the original setup, under Colonel Mellon, the President Judge of each county was the civilian defense co-ordinator, and he in turn, if he could not hold the position would delegate that power to someone else.

It so happens that back in our county the Board of Commissioners have taken that responsibility, and we operate on a strictly nonpartisan basis. There is a tremendous amount of work involved. Our chief deputy coordinator is a retired army officer—incidentally, a Republican, but that certainly is beside the point because we are trying to do a good job there, and I say that if things go on as predicted in the newspapers, you are going to cause plenty of chaos and confusion in the various counties of the Commonwealth.

Mr. President, I know that Greene County is organized under the original setup, I know that Fayette County is organized under the origanal setup, I know that Cambria County is organized under the original setup, I know that Allegheny County is organized under the original setup, and we Members of the Senate cannot sit back and permit any individual or any group of individuals to tear down what we have already built up.

As you understand, civilian defense has been in operation for approximately two months and all we are waiting for is legislation to give us the legal right to act, and so the passage of these bills will do nothing more than confer authority upon the various units that are now in operation in the counties of the Commonwealth. Senator Dent is entirely right when he says that they are trying to make a pork barrel out of this thing, and I believe that all of us have an equal responsibility and it is our job to see that does not happen.

Mr. President, I have read some preliminary provisions in House Bill No. 2 which in my opinion are very obnoxious, and we cannot permit them to be enacted into law, and I suggest that each and every Member of the Senate take these bills home over the weekend and go over them with a miscroscope because we have to do a good job on this.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS SENATE

Mr. MALLERY asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the Senate.

Mr. MALLERY. Mr. President, I do not want to take up the time of the Senate either, but the fact is that our Country is engaged in war, although war has not actually been declared, and I have thought for quite some time that too many people do not realize the precarious condition which our Country is in. Before coming to this Session of the Legislature I had fully made up my mind, and since being here I have not changed one iota in my thought that we should do what is imperative at this session and get back home.

Mr. President, this matter of civilian defense so far as I know back home is going to be done gratuitously, and there seems to me no reason why—I do not know what expense is contemplated in the bills because I have not had the opportunity to read them, but I feel certain that in this great Commonwealth of Pennsylvania there will be many people who will be glad to contribute whatever they can do.

Mr. President, I agree and I hope that all the Members of the Senate are going to make this as economical a Session as is possible.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS SENATE

Mr. BARR asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the Senate.

Mr. BARR. Mr. President, I agree wholeheartedly with what Senator Mallery said, but we are making a terrific start. If we are going to do this at a very reasonable cost, we are establishing a very bad precedent.

As we all know, most of the work that is done has been done gratuitously throughout the state. Colonel Mellon did the job gratuitously here in Harrisburg and he did a splendid job. Now he has stepped out and is heading now the military end of civilian defense. I am fearful that this boon-doggling will creep into the various counties. I think the mistake has been made right in the Governor's office. I am of the definite opinion that someone could handle this job the same as Mellon did without pay, the same as is being done in our county without pay. The steel corporation has loaned us Mr. Ross Loeffler, who handled it through the last World War and is handling it through this time of peril. I am very sure that within the environs of Harrisburg there are many corporations that would be very happy to loan one of their men as the leader of the state office of civilian defense.

Mr. President, here we stand this morning before we have passed these bills and see twenty-seven thousand dollars being spent already through assistants who I do not think are at all necessary.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS SENATE

Mr. WALKER asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the Senate.

Mr. WALKER. Mr. President, I would suggest to the gentlemen of the Senate that we are only putting the bills over in order. When we really get the bills upon the Calendar to pass them, the discussion is going to be very interesting.

SENATE MESSAGE

CONCURRENCE IN HOUSE RESOLUTION

The Clerk of the Senate being introduced, informed that the Senate has concurred in the resolution from the House of Representatives as follows:

In the House of Representatives, February 20, 1951.

Illness often strikes insidiously and without warning. It not only prostrates its victim, but brings anguish and inconvenience to the victim's loved ones and friends.

This General Assembly is shocked to learn of the unfortunate physical condition of the First Lady of Pennsylvania, Mrs. John S. Fine, and the immediate necessity for exploratory and corrective operations to ameliorate her distress.

This General Assembly is aware of the increased burden of anxiety that the present illness of Mrs. Fine has imposed upon the Governor during the period of inevitable tension that attends the opening days of a legislative session; therefore be it

Resolved, (if the Senate concur), That the General Assembly is deeply sympathetic with Mrs. Fine in her current illness and extends to her and the Governor its solicitious concern and prayerful wishes for a speedy recovery, an uneventful convalescence, and a rapid restoration to her home and circle of friends; and be it further

Resolved, That the Chief Clerk be directed to transmit copies of this resolution to Governor and Mrs. Fine.

SENATE MESSAGE

CONCURRENCE IN HOUSE RESOLUTION

The Clerk of the Senate being introduced, informed that the Senate has concurred in the resolution from the House of Representatives as follows:

In the House of Representatives, February 20, 1951.

Whereas, The Governor of this Commonwealth has been requested and authorized to proclaim March 30th every year as "SHUT-IN'S DAY" that the people of this State be urged to remember the sick and the disabled through their personal visits, flowers, messages, gifts, and other acts of solicitude; and kindness; therefore be it

Resolved, (if the Senate concur), That the Governor be further requested to proclaim March 30th every year as a fitting occasion for the people of Pennsylvania to display our National colors in conjunction with their personal visits and expressions of sympathetic concern to the sick and the disabled throughout the State; and be it further

Resolved, That the Chief Clerk be directed to send a copy of this resolution to Earl Rutter, Turtle Creek, Pennsylvania, the founder of "SHUT-IN'S DAY."

RESOLUTIONS INTRODUCED AND REFERRED

By Mr. WILBUR H. HAMILTON and
Mrs. VARALLO. (Concurrent) RESOLUTION No. 8

In the House of Representatives, February 20, 1951.

An important shrine in historic Philadelphia is the at 239 Arch Street where Betsy Ross made the first American flag. Responsive to the request of a committee, including General Washington in its personnel, Betsy Ross fashioned a number of flags of stars and stripes to be carried by the various regiments and the fleet in the Delaware.

On June 14, 1777, ten years before the official birth of the Nation, the flag of stars and stripes was adopted by the Continental Congress. The subsequent story of the flag is a dramatic chapter in history since it has been flown everywhere on the earth to inspire Americans during times of war and peace.

The 200th anniversary of the birth of Betsy Ross, through whose hands our first flag passed to assume its majestic role as a symbol of American liberty and independence, will be celebrated in 1952. Betsy Ross is a name which has become indissolubly linked with the early days of the struggling Republic and has become recognized everywhere as that of the Mother of the Flag; therefore be it

Resolved, (if the Senate concur), That the General Assembly of Pennsylvania hereby memorializes the Congress of the United States to authorize the issuance of a Postage Stamp to commemorate the 200th anniversary of the birth of Betsy Ross, the maker of the first American flag; and be it further

Resolved, That the Chief Clerk of the House of Representatives forward certified copies of this resolution and of its adoption to the President of the United States, the Presiding Officers of both Houses of Congress, and to each Senator and Member in Congress from the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania.

Referred to the Committee on Rules.

By Mrs. MARKLEY. RESOLUTION No. 9.

In the House of Representatives, February 20, 1951.

The potato needs no apologist. Its niche in the American dietary scheme is at once secure and exalted. For, in the countless and enticing ways in which the culinary art has embellished the lowly potato, it has won an equally welcome place at the table of the poor and the banquet board of the wealthy.

It is a trite fallacy to censure the potato as the caloric evil responsible for the expanding girth of those who would eat well but not wisely.

The superfluous rolls of adipose tissue that embarrass the imprudent eater are the inescapable penalty of an over-indulgence in all things edible and should never be unfairly attributed to the potato.

When eaten with restraint and moderation, the potato becomes a stable and economic food whose beneficent influence on millions is to be more highly regarded than the occasional inconvenience incurred by the indiscretions of a few.

Although the price of the potato has been supported nationwide by Federal legislation, yet such a prop is really unnecessary in Pennsylvania where its plentiful production has been actually consumed and not diverted into devious and strange pathways of disposal.

Improved technology and increased acreage have turned the potato crop of Pennsylvania into a vast industry with a yearly turnover of $20,000,000.

To this important pool of nutrition Lehigh County has probably been the heaviest contributor among the potato raising areas in the Commonwealth and bids well to lead procession during the coming year; therefore be it

Resolved, That this House of Representatives expresses its recognition of the potato's utility, its appreciation of it as a real boon to mankind, and give its unqualified endorsement of Pennsylvania Potato Week and its encouragement to the potato's more extensive cultivation and consumption; and be it further

Resolved, That the Chief Clerk be directed to transmit a copy of this resolution to P. D. Frantz, President of Lehigh County Potato Growers Association, R. D. 1, Coplay, Pennsylvania.

Referred to the Committee on Rules.

By Messrs. AMARANDO, WILBUR H. HAMILTON, DAUGHERTY and CONWAY.

RESOLUTION No. 10.

In the House of Representatives, February 20, 1951.

Whereas, The motion picture, The Miracle, is reputed to contain scenes which profanely depict Biblical incidents that are held in reverent esteem by all Christian faiths; and

Whereas, The disrespectful and sacrilegious treatment of sacred events is offensive and abhorrent to all persons, irrespective of their creed or faith; therefore be it

Resolved, That this House of Representatives express its unequivocal disapproval of the motion picture, The Miracle, and urgently request that the Pennsylvania Board of Censors prohibit its showing anywhere in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania.

Referred to the Committee on Rules.

By Mr. VARNER. RESOLUTION No. 11.

In the House of Representatives, February 20, 1951.

A group of eighteen students from Clarion County, all of them members of the classes of Mr. George Keener, brought honor and distinction to themselves, their teacher, their county and their State, during the 1951 Farm Show. These students won twenty-five prizes, two of them the highest awards in the particular class.

It is comforting to us who realize the importance of the Pennsylvania farmer to our way of life, to know that the future is secure. These young people have demonstrated their ability and their willingness not only to carry on the great heritage of their fathers, but also to add new contributions to the science of farming. Because of these young farmers, we are assured that the larders of our nation will know an abundance undreamed of by any other people. Therefore, be it

Resolved, That the members of the House of Representatives congratulate the young farmers of Clarion County on their success at the Farm Show, and extend our sincere hope that at the next Farm Show they will win even more awards, and be it further

Resolved, That we extend our congratulations and thanks to Mr. George Keener for the splendid job he has done in training these young farmers, and be it further

Resolved, That a copy of this resolution be forwarded to Mr. George Keener.

Referred to the Committee on Rules.

PERMISSION TO ADD ADDITIONAL SPONSORS

Mr. WOOD asked and obtanied unanimous consent to add additional sponsors to a resolution to be introduced by him.

CONDOLENCE

Messrs. WOOD, BOORSE, FLACK, SWOPE and WHEELER offered a resolution and asked and obtained unanimous consent for its immediate consideration.

The resolution was read, considered and unanimously adopted as follows:

In the House of Representatives, February 21, 1951.

John H. Fertig was born in Wayne Township, Schuylkill County, Pennsylvania, on January 19, 1882. He was during his life a teacher and a lawyer.

From 1912 until 1938, John Fertig was with the Legislative Reference Bureau, and was Director of the Bureau from 1930 until 1938. He served this Commonwealth also as a member of the State Employes' Retirement Board. From 1938 until his death, he was actively engaged in specialized legal practice. He was a member of the Dauphin County and the Schuylkill County Bar Associations, the Pennsylvania Bar Association, and the American Bar Association; a charter member of the American Law Institute and a member of the American Judicature Society. In 1938, the Supreme Court of Pennsylvania appointed him a member of the Pennsylvania Procedural Rules Committee. In 1943, Governor Martin appointed him a member of the Board of Commissioners of Uniform State Laws.

This only partial statement of John Fertig's many active and honorable achievements recalls the high qualities of his citizenship and the devotion of his services to the community, the state and the nation. Yet there remains to remember that John Fertig was, for more than a quarter of a century, a legislative draftsman of incomparable scope, experience, and sagacity. Few have been the enactments of the General Assembly since 1912 that were not improved, if not written, out of the great wealth of legislative history that abided with him. The systems of drafting bills for the General Assembly, of printing amendatory laws, the arrangement and tables of Purdon's Pennsylvania Statutes, Annotated, are instances of his great contribution to the forms of legislation; the Statutory Construction Act is only one of his innumerable contributions to the substance and principles of legislation. As counsel for the Local Government Commission of the General Assembly from its creation until his death, he devoted his talents and unsurpassed familiarity with statutory law to the solution of problems of local government in this Commonwealth with brilliant success. Active and successful in private practice, unselfishly devoted to the betterment of his profession and his fellow citizens, he nevertheless found time to complete many projects for the improvement of local government. His invaluable services to the Local Government Commission include the Borough Code, the First Class Township Code and many other laws. Until shortly before his death, he was engaged in the codification of the General County Law and the Third Class City Law.

John Fertig was a man of great services and accomplishments, beyond the scope of recitation here. He was also one who had the genius of friendship. Earnest, gifted, and happy, he was loved and respected by all who knew him. For all that he has achieved, he will be long remembered, and for all that he was, his passing is deeply mourned. Courageously, he made his life happy and distinguished despite the physical handicap which made him go on crutches from childhood.

This man, the teacher and lawyer, died in Harrisburg, Pennsylvania, on February 21, 1950, to our great loss; therefore, be it

Resolved, That the members of the House express their deep appreciation of John H. Fertig, and extend to his widow and family their personal sympathy; and be it further

Resolved, That a copy of this resolution be sent to his widow, Edith Fertig.

PERMISSION TO ADD ADDITIONAL SPONSORS

Mr. WOOD asked and obtained unanimous consent to add three additional sponsors to a resolution to be introduced by him.

CONDOLENCE

Messrs. WOOD, FLACK, BOORSE, SWOPE and WHEELER offered a resolution and asked and obtained unanimous consent for its immediate consideration.

The resolution was read, considered and unanimously adopted as follows:

In the House of Representatives, February 21, 1951.

Whereas, Edwin L. Kohler, city solicitor of the City of Allentown died at his desk in his own City on Tuesday, February 13th, 1951;

Whereas, Mr. Kohler was born in Allentown on January 4, 1901, and was graduated from Muhlenburg College in 1920 and studied law at the University of Pennsylvania from which he graduated in 1923;

Whereas, He was named assistant city solicitor of Allentown in 1934 and city solicitor on February 1st, 1947, which position he occupied until his death; and

Whereas, Mr. Kohler was closely associated with the Local Government Commission of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in its work looking toward the revision of the Third Class City Law and was regular in his attendance at the meetings of the Commission and the subcommittee. His work was thorough and his advice most welcome and his absence from the work of the Commission will be greatly missed; therefore be it

Resolved, That the members of this House fully realizing the loss occasioned to the Commission and to his family and friends and to the community in which he lived, extend their sincere sympathy to his wife and family; and be it further

WASHINGTON'S BIRTHDAY

Mr. HAUDENSHIELD offered a resolution and asked and obtained unanimous consent for its immediate consideration.

The resolution was read, considered and unanimously adopted as follows:

In the House of Representatives, February 21, 1951.

The gathering clouds of threat to the vital life of our nation are not necessarily the forerunner to a coming storm of disaster. Periodically, our country has broken through the crests and the troughs of the unending waves of historic change that sweep over our cherished customs and traditions. But, invariably, a leader arises to channel and direct our energies into an acceptable solution. Such a dynamic equilibrium of disrupting forces and corrective factors has always marked the predestined permanence of this Republic. Happily, during the period of fusion of the struggling and groping colonies, Washington's military genius and state craft became our beneficent endowment. His profound influence upon the initial phase of our country's development can never be adequately extolled, nor can it cease to inspire hsi successors in leadership to cope heroically with what may appear to them to be insuperable problems.

True, the atomic era has brought stupendous difficulties that may well try the ingenuity of our scientific and military personnel, but it should never be forgotten that the limited resources of Washington's time were taxed in a proportionately hopeless manner. Yet the retrospect of the years is convincing evidence that the destiny of America as fashioned by Washington shall be fulfilled, if his qualities of courage and sagacity will be emulated; therefore be it

Resolved, That the House of Representatives shall interrupt its proceedings to express its gratitude to the founder of our country on the occasion of the two hundred and nineteenth anniversary of his birth, and its respectful deference to his record of unparalleled achievement that reaches most significantly through the interim of years to our present, world-entangled difficulties.

SENATE MESSAGE

SENATE BILL FOR CONCURRENCE

SENATE BILL No. 67

An Act proposing an amendment to article fourteen of the Constitution of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania by adding thereto a section abolishing county offices in Philadelphia and providing for the performance of county functions by the city of Philadelphia.

Referred to the Committee on Judiciary.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS HOUSE

Mr. ANDREWS asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the House.

Mr. Speaker, if we are to have a succession of light Wednesday calendars and light Houses I would like to discuss with the Majority Leader the feasibility of arranging a Wednesday unanimous consent calendar. Such an arrangement would enable all of the Members except just a few who wanted to go home, to go home. Now a great many of the Members do go home; some faithful souls stay. We do not have a majority vote on the other side, so it is necessary to proceed upon the basis of a unanimous consent calendar and I am wondering whether it would not be in line to face the facts and say that on Wednesdays we will have a unanimous consent calendar and that the Members of the House who desire to attend to their other business be permitted to do so.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS HOUSE

Mr. SMITH asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the House.

Mr. Speaker, I would only be too glad to sit down and at least discuss the matter with the gentleman from Cambria at his convenience.

Mr. ANDREWS. I thank the gentleman, Mr. Speaker.

WEATHER REPORTS

The SPEAKER. For the information of the Members, through the courtesy of the Department of Highways weather reports will be submitted at the end of each legislative week. The Chair will read a report of the weather conditions existing at the present time through the courtesy of the Department of Highways.

Commonwealth of Pennsylvania,
Department of Highways, February 21, 1951.

Rain and low cloud formations are general throughout Pennsylvania with daylight temperatures to be well above freezing.

The rain is forecast to end before the arrival of slightly below freezing weather in the western part of the State during the early night.

Tonight's low temperatures in the west about 30 degrees —in the east about 35 degrees.

QUESTION OF INFORMATION

Mr. SMITH. Mr. Speaker, I raise to a question of information.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman will state it.

Mr. SMITH. Mr. Speaker, I was wondering if the Speaker would like to have a sponsor for the weather reports. We might make a paying proposition for both the Speaker and the Department of Highways, and we could also include an announcement in the House.

The SPEAKER. The Speaker has the greatest admiration for the sponsor of the weather.

PARLIAMENTARY INQUIRY

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, I rise to a parliamentary inquiry.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman will state it.

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, a number of the Members of the House have asked me what will be the program next Wednesday in view of the fact that a considerable number of the Members are going to Philadelphia Tuesday evening. There is some affair as I understand in Philadelphia Tuesday evening and a great many of the Members never having had the priviledge of riding on a special train, will they go? Will there be a session on Wednesday and will we start on that occasion our unanimous consent calendar, and will it be necessary for the Members to go to the party and recover if they can and appear upon the scene here in the hall of the House?

The SPEAKER. The Chair understands that the tickets will be round trip tockets. The Chair is in hope that the previous suggestion of the Minority Leader, accepted by the Majority Leader, that the matter of Wednesday session be discussed, take place before the caucus of both the majority and minority on Monday so that the suggestion might be followed.

ADJOURNMENT

Mr. GLEASON. Mr. Speaker, I move that this House do now adjourn until Monday, February 26, 1951 at 4:30 p. m.

The motion was agreed to, and (at 10:43 a. m.) the House adjourned.

COMMONWEALTH OF PENNSYLVANIA

Legislative Journal.

Session 1951. 139th of the General Assembly.

Vol. 32. HARRISBURG, PA., MONDAY, FEBRUARY 26, 1951. No. 14.

SENATE

MONDAY, February 26, 1951.

The Senate met at 3:00 o'clock, p. m., Eastern Standard Time.

The PRESIDENT pro tempore (M. Harvey Taylor) in the Chair.

PRAYER

The Chaplain, Rev. ALFRED L. TAXIS, Pastor of the First Presbyterian Church, Port Carbon, Pennsylvania, offered the following prayer:

Oh God, our Father, Thou art the Lord of heaven and earth and we acknowledge Thee. Thou knowest the difficulties these men face, Thou knowest the grave decisions they must make. Have mercy upon them for Jesus' sake. Amen.

JOURNAL APPROVED

The PRESIDENT pro tempore. A quorum of the Senate being present the Clerk will read the Journal of the preceding session.

The Clerk proceeded to read the Journal of the preceding session, when, on motion of Mr. WALKER and Mr. SCARLETT, further reading was dispensed with, and the Journal was approved.

LEAVE OF ABSENCE

Mr. Walker asked and obtained leave of absence for Mr. KEPHART, on account of illness.

RECESS

Mr. WALKER. Mr. President, I move that the Senate do now take a recess for five minutes.

Mr. SNOWDEN. Mr. President, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

AFTER RECESS

The PRESIDENT pro tempore. The time of recess having elapsed the Senate will be in order.

BILL SIGNED

The PRESIDENT pro tempore (M. Harvey Taylor) announced that the Chief Clerk having reported that the following bill had passed both houses of the General Assembly and the same being correct, the title was publicly read as follows:

House Bill No. 8, entitled:

An Act making a deficiency appropriation to the Joint State Government Commission for the payment of general expenses.

Whereupon,

The PRESIDENT pro tempore (M. Harvey Taylor) in the presence of the Senate signed the same.

The PRESIDENT pro tempore. The Chair invites the gentleman from Cumberland, Mr. Wade, to the rostrum to preside.

The PRESIDING OFFICER (George N. Wade) in the Chair.

COMMUNICATION FROM THE GOVERNOR

The Secretary to the Governor being introduced, presented communication in writing from His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth, which was read as follows:

NOMINATION OF INSURANCE COMMISSIONER TAKEN FROM TABLE

Mr. WATSON. Mr. President, I call from the table for the purpose of confirmation the name of Artemas C. Leslie for appointment as Insurance Commissioner.

The Clerk read the nomination as follows:

INSURANCE COMMISSIONER

Commonwealth of Pennsylvania,
Governor's Office, Harrisburg, January 16, 1951.

To the Honorable, the Senate of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

In conformity with law, I have the honor to nominate for the advice and consent of the Senate the following:

Artemas C. Leslie, Pittsburgh, Allegheny County, for appointment as Insurance Commissioner to serve until the third Tuesday of January, 1955, and until his successor shall have been appointed and qualified.

JOHN S. FINE.

A motion was made by Mr. WATSON and Mr. BERGER,

That the Senate do advise and consent to the nomination of Artemas C. Leslie, as Insurance Commissioner.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

Mr. BARR. Mr. President, so that the newspaper men will be working under no misapprehensiion, there was some question about Artemas Leslie in the Democratic Caucus this morning. This question had nothing to do with the integrity of the gentleman himself. There are some questions which are not yet clarified with regard to the case dealing with Keystone Mutual Casualty Company, which case is under the jurisdiction of the Insurance Commissioner.

Mr. President, Mr. Leslie is in Pittsburgh today and rightfully so, because he is there attending an insurance dinner celebrating the 25th Anniversary of the Insurance Association of Allegheny County. We reached him on the telephone and discussed this matter as well as we could with him, but he was at a distinct disadvantage, because he did not have with him the pertinent papers dealing with the case. Certain questions he was able to answer and certain ones, as I said, we had him at a disadvantage.

At the conclusion of our conversation with Mr. Leslie, we told him that we did not want to hold up his confirmation today. We discussed with him further the question of the Keystone Mutual Casualty Company because it seems very strange to us why one of the Deputy Attorneys General would, after a hearing held on June 25, 1947, when he was asking that the State go to court to declare this Company insolvent, that now his testimony is the exact opposite.

Mr. President, as I say, at the conclusion of our talk with Mr. Leslie, it was agreed to by us and by him that we would discuss this matter more fully with him when he came to Harrisburg next week, but as I say the subject matter has nothing to do with the person himself.

Mr. LANE. Mr. President, I want to concur with what Senator Barr has stated. We have discussed the so-called Keystone Mutual Casualty Company case in our caucus for quite some time. We on the Minority side were at a loss to comprehend the actions which were taken by the various Deputy Attorneys General of the Commonwealth, but after our conversation with Mr. Leslie today we are satisfied that he will do a good job. He has offered to meet with us at any time which suits our convenience, and will be glad to discuss in detail the rehabilitation of this Insurance Company.

So, for the information of the public and for the information of the Members of the Senate, Mr. Leslie's integrity was never questioned and we on this side are satisfied that he will make a good Insurance Commissioner.

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

The yeas and nays were taken agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution, and were as follows, viz:

YEAS—49

NOMINATION OF SECRETARY OF PUBLIC ASSISTANCE TAKEN FROM TABLE

Mr. WATSON. Mr. President, I call from the table for the purpose of confirmation the name of Mrs. Eleanor G. Evans for appointment as Secretary of Public Assistance.

The Clerk read the nomination as follows:

SECRETARY OF PUBLIC ASSISTANCE

Commonwealth of Pennsylvania,
Governor's Office, Harrisburg, January 16, 1951.

To the Honorable, the Senate of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

In conformity with law, I have the honor to nominate for the advice and consent of the Senate the following:

Mrs. Eleanor G. Evans, Brookline, Delaware County, for appointment as Secretary of Pubilc Assistance, to serve until the third Tuesday of January, 1955, and until her successor shall have been appointed and qualified, vice Frank A. Robbins, Jr.

JOHN S. FINE.

A motion was made by Mr. WATSON and Mr. STEVENSON,

That the Senate do advise and consent to the nomination of Mrs. Eleanor G. Evans, as Secretary of Public Assistance.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

Mr. YOSKO. Mr. President, during the last campaign, Governor Fine made a commitment to the women of Pennsylvania that he would appoint one of their sex to his Cabinet and, frankly, for that I admire him. I think there ought to be more women in government. I do not, however, agree with the position to which he appointed her. It has been a rule since the Public Assistance Law was passed that we keep politics out of Public Assistance, and if my memory serves me correctly every Secretary of Public Assistance was selected outside of the realm of politics. I do not know Mrs. Evans and, frankly, I have nothing against her, but from what I read in the newspapers she does have quite a political background and, therefore, I would say that she was selected from the realm of politics.

Mr. President, I, therefore, repeat that I am not in agreement with the selection of the job for Mrs. Evans, because I do not believe there should be any politics in Public Assistance and I do not believe that a politician should be at the head of Public Assistance. However, I do not want it to be said that I stood in the way of her confirmation. If Governor Fine wants to put a politician at the head of Public Assistance, that is a right, I suppose, that he has, but I wanted to make this brief statement to indicate my sentiments with reference to this appointment for the particular position of Secretary of Public Assistance.

Mr. WALKER. Mr. President, I appreciate the courteous comments of Senator Yosko. I would just like to remind him that when we invite people to enter into public life and public careers, immediately they are classified as politicians until they are defeated in office and then they become statesmen.

I would like to suggest to the gentleman, if he is inviting women to participate in public responsibilities, that he not immediately condemn them because once coming in they are classified as politicians. It is impossible to select anybody for public office who has never held public office without putting the label of politician on them, and so I would like to inquire very carefully, is the gentleman suggesting that there is something wrong with politicians holding public office?

Mr. YOSKO. Mr. President, I just said a moment ago that I did not think there was anything wrong with politicians holding public office. As a matter of fact, I am in agreement with it, but what I said was that I thought Governor Fine made a mistake by appointing a politician to administer public assistance, which is a two hundred million dollar project here in Pennsylvania.

Mr. WALKER. Mr. President, the point that I am making to the gentleman is that it is impossible to obtain people who are qualified to hold public office, who have had experience and demonstrated their ability to hold public office, without selecting a politcian and I would like to inquire again from the gentleman, is there anything wrong with a politician holding public office?

Mr. YOSKO. Mr. President, my answer is no, but I still think that it is in violation of the spirit of the Public Assistance Law to appoint a politician as Secretary of that Department, and I might add that while I am not too familiar as of today with the Hatch Act, it might be well for the other side to look into the Hatch Act to determine whether or not Mrs. Evans would be violating it, because if she is you will find the Civil Service Commission walking in here and citing her under the Act.

Mr. WATKINS. Mr. President, I myself cannot understand why the distinguished gentleman from Northampton would classify Mrs. Evans as a politician. She is interested in politics, she has a right to vote and she has a right to work for people she thinks are worthy of an office.

I recall back home that we had a very distinguished old preacher who used to preach in the pulpit every Sunday; he used to preach the word of God and he was a politician, and I certainly see nothing that my good friend, Senator Yosko, could take exception to so far as Mrs. Eleanor G. Evans is concerned. I do not deny that she has been in politics. She has worked for the Republican Party for a long while, and I imagine that Senator Yosko would have loved to have her in his county working for his party, and I am sure he would not be here today condemning her as a politician.

I think that all of us today could be called politicians. To live the American way of life, you have to have something to do with politics; you have to play some part in politics, you must show some interest in politics, and I think that every good American citizens today should, regardless of what party they might desire to support, interest themselves in politics and perhaps be called politicians, and I want to say this from Delaware County, that I am very proud of Mrs. Eleanor Evans, if you wish to call her a politician.

Mr. President, as far as the Hatch Act is concerned, I do not think Senator Yosko needs to worry about that. We have some very good country lawyers down in Delaware County who would advise her whether the Hatch Act applies to her job in Public Assistance, and if she has to get out of politics, it is our loss and Pennsylvania's gain, and we are certainly willing to give this great woman to the State of Pennsylvania so that she can serve the people of this great State and discontinue serving our County of Delaware as a politician, as he calls it.

Mr. President, I wrote a few things down in January that become very hard for me to read in February, but if you will bear with me I would like to just read a few things that I jotted down about Mrs. Evans, and this is the speech that I prepared in January—I should say that I never make a speech. I wasn't even elected on speeches.

I remember when I was a candidate for the Senate, the gentleman ahead of me made some wonderful speeches, he was a great orator and I said, "My lands, he is my opponent." I said, "My lands, I will never beat that fellow." So, I used to tell the people at the meetings that I would be a good Senator, I would try to serve the people right and fairly and I wound up with fifteen thousand majority or some number like that, and the other fellow, the real good orator, was way down below. So, here I am.

"Mr. President, it gives me great pleasure at this time to speak on behalf of Mrs. Eleanor G. Evans from my County of Delaware and present resident of Brookline, who has been nominated by our good Governor, John S. Fine, to the high office of Secretary of Public Assistance in his cabinet.

"I know of no woman more worthy and deserving of this honor. Mrs. Evans is thoroughly capable and qualified for this high position. Let me briefly review some of the highlights of her career.

"Mrs. Evans, a graduate of Arnold College, Connecticut, was married to Arlington Evans in 1917, and has three children, Eleanor, Emma and Warren. She was a teacher in Philadelphia and Supervisor of the Happy Hollow Playground in Germantown in her earlier years.

"She became active in civic and political affairs quite early. In 1934 she was a Committeewoman; in 1936 she was Vice-Chairman of the Republican Executive Committee on which she is still serving (I think she has resigned now). She was appointed by our former Governor James in July, 1939, to Recorder of Deeds and elected Recorder of Deeds in 1940 and 1944, serving eight years, and is our present Deputy Recorder (you see, I told you I wrote this speech in January).

"She has been affiliated with many women's political clubs, having served as President of the Council of Republican Women in her township of Haverford for seven years, and three years for the Women's Republican Club of Delaware County. Also quite active in the Pennsylvania Council of Republican Women, she has served as Chairman on many committees and as Director of Activities of the Affiliated Women's Group of Delaware County, coordinating their program with the State Council. She is a member of the Legislative Committee of Business and Professional Women of Upper Darby and a member of Brookline Women's Club.

"Mrs. Evans was a member of the Duff-Fine State Executive Committee in charge of women's activities for the Southeastern District, including eight counties, and was also appointed by our Honorable M. Harvey Taylor, State Chairman, to the State Republican Executive Committee. She is a present member of the Political Supervisors of Delaware County.

"Not only has she been active in civic affairs but she has also been quite active in the social field, notwithstanding her care for her husband and children. Mrs. Evans was a Salvation Army Captain for Haverford Township for two years and a Street Captain and member of the Red Cross. She is Past President of the American Legion Auxiliary, Nunan Slook Unit No. 318, and of Chester, Lancaster and Delaware County Council of American Legion Auxiliary. She has also been active in many women's clubs with her World War II activities, including Chairman of Personnel for County Control Center. bond drives and civilian defense, serving as Chairman on many of these committees.

"Personally, I have known Mrs. Evans for twenty years and I know no person who has contributed to the affairs of her County and State and to the interest of good government more than she. She is a great American woman who stands for our American principles which are so dear to us today. I have certainly been given a great privilege to present this great Delaware-Countian to my colleagues for confirmation."

May I say, gentlemen, to all of you, I do not deny that she is a politician, and may God make more politicians like her.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. The Chair wishes to observe that the Senator should certainly have special consideration from the Department of Public Assistance.

Mr. YOSKO. Mr. President, after hearing my good friend Senator Watkins, I believe Mrs. Evans is capable of doing a good job, and I hope that the Republican organization in Pennsylvania will help her to do a good job by not putting too much pressure on her to hire visitors and other employee in the Department of Public Assistance, and I hope she will do a better job than some of the others in the past to help take some of the many chiselers off the rolls in Delaware County.

Mr. WATKINS. Mr. President, I am just a freshman Senator here, this being my second term, but I would like to remind my learned colleague from the other side that all of the jobs that come over through Mrs. Evan's Department come through Civil Service, and I imagine that will pretty well take care of that.

Mr. LANE. Mr. President, we of the Minority Side are quite opposite this afternoon and we have listened with more than our usual interest to the wonderful oratory that was delivered here this afternoon, especially on the subject of statesmanship and politicians. I think it would be a splendid idea if leaders on the Majority Side would transmit their wonderful speeches to the leaders in our National Congress, and they possibly would get along quite a lot better in Washington, D. C., if the Republicans in the United States Senate would adopt the same philosophy the Majority Party adopts here in Pennsylvania.

Mr. President, my philosophy in politics is this: I feel that to the victor belongs the spoils. They have the responsibility of operating this Government and if this distinguished lady plays politics with relief, it will be the Majority Party that will have to answer to the people of this Commonwealth.

So I say to you, Mr. President, we have demonstrated today that the only question in the minds of the Minority Members was the question of the compliance with the Constitution of this great Commonwealth, and I hope the people will take cognizance of the fact that we are cooperating one thousand per cent with the Majority Party when the Majority Party complies with the Constitution.

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

NOMINATION OF SECRETARY OF COMMERCE TAKEN FROM TABLE

Mr. WATSON. Mr. President, I call from the table for the purpose of confirmation the name of Andrew J. Sordoni for appointment as Secretary of Commerce.

The Clerk read the nomination as follows:

SECRETARY OF COMMERCE

Commonwealth of Pennsylvania,
Governor's Office, Harrisburg, January 16, 1951.

To the Honorable, the Senate of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

In conformity with law, I have the honor to nominate for the advice and consent of the Senate the following:

Andrew J. Sordoni, Wilkes-Barre, Luzerne County, for appointment as Secretary of Commerce, to serve until the third Tuesday of January, 1955, and until his successor shall have been appointed and qualified, vice Theodore Roosevelt III.

JOHN S. FINE.

A motion was made by Mr. WATSON and Mr. WAGNER,

That the Senate do advise and consent to the nomination of Andrew J. Sordoni, as Secretary of Commerce.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

Mr. HOLLAND. Mr. President, although I am going to vote for Senator Sordoni, I think we are confirming the appointment of the head of a department that is all unnecessary. We have a duplication of the work of the Department of Internal Affairs and the Department of Commerce. From the information I can get from the Department of Commerce, I find that all they were used for was to write political speeches for the candidates running in the last election and that the records they have, they run across the aisle and get from the Department of Internal Affairs.

I think it is unnecessary and a waste of money, although I shall vote for his confirmation because I do not want Senator Sordoni to feel that I have any ill feelings toward him. I am going to vote for him, but still I am going to do what I can, and I hope I will get some help from those who talk about efficiency and savings in government, to do away with a department that is absolutely unnecessary. A lot of advertising men get hundreds of thousand dollar fees. Further, which I am ashamed to say, it seems strange that those who get the fees for this cannot do the publicity also for the Republican Party.

Mr. DiSILVESTRO. Mr. President, I hope that what Senator Holland has said has no connection with what Senator Sordoni will do in running his Department. Everything Senator Holland has said can be attributed to the former Secretary of Commerce. Maybe Senator Sordoni will have a different program.

Mr. McMENAMIN. Mr. President, as the Senator from Lackawanna County, the neighboring County to former Senator Sordoni's home County of Luzerne, I would like to say we are very pleased with this appointment by the Governor.

Senator Sordoni enjoys an excellent reputation in northeastern Pennsylvania. He is a man who has made the most of the opportunities in America, and has risen to a place of prominence in public life and in business life in northeastern Pennsylvania.

Mr. President, I do not know the other appointees, but I only hope they are all of the same caliber as former Senator Sordoni.

To the Honorable, the Senate of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

In conformity with law, I have the honor to nominate for the advice and consent of the Senate the following:

William C. Brown, New London, Chester County, for appointment as Secretary of Welfare, to serve until the third Tuesday of January, 1955, and until his successor shall have been appointed and qualified.

JOHN S. FINE.

A motion was made by Mr. WATSON and Mr. PEELOR,

That the Senate do advise and consent to the nomination of William C. Brown as Secretary of Welfare.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

Mr. YOSKO. Mr. President, at our caucus this afternoon and at previous caucuses, I have raised some objections to Mr. Brown. It was suggested to me today that we call him over here and interrogate him on some things that I, at least, had on my mind. Mr. Brown came over here and we met with him in one of the offices here; we had quite a chat with him and I asked him about these things that I talked about during the last campaign.

I am going to read some of the things I said which Mr. Brown admitted were true. I said, "Our state institutions have brought shame upon Pennsylvania. We have had scandals at Byberry, Pennhurst, Morganza, White Hill. Life Magazine told the story of the terrible conditions at Byberry.

"At Pennhurst, investigators at the insistence of the Democrats found a shortage of over $36,000 in the patients' personal cash fund; they found state property had been sold without authorization; 80 tubercular inmates were not segregated and thus endangered the health of others; employes operated private businesses on school property.

"Time and vacation records of emloyes were falsified. Free meals were served relatives and friends of Reublican administration political hacks.

"A month after the Pennhurst superintendent resigned, a patient died mysteriously. When his body was examined, physicians found he had been violently beaten. Nothing has ever been made public on the investigation that followed the fatal beating. The Philadelphia Inquirer ran a series of stories on Pennhurst. I personally requested a Grand Jury investigation and it was refused. The State Police report of its investigation has never been made public.

"An investigation of Morganza resulted in the firing of the superintendent. Morganza, it was learned, was being used as a patronage mill for Republican leaders. One Morganza supervisor, who had resigned in disgust, testified that vice and perversion were common among guards and inmates. Guards were incompetent and lazy. There were drunkards, a dope addict and a convicted rapist on the staff.

"In Morganza's fiscal report for 1949, under a Republican administration, it was proved that the school's accounts were $31,000 in arrears. Out of 60,000 pounds of fresh meat charged to the kitchen, only 2500 pounds were actually consumed at the school.

"At White Hill, the superintendent quit under fire after an investigation into a ring of degenerates operating within the school. The superintendent was then rewarded. He has been given a responsible job with the Welfare Department at a salary of $5,195 a year.

"Despite theft, graft and brutality—not a single employe of any of the institutions where these scandals flourished was arrested or prosecuted under the criminal laws of the State."

Mr. President, I asked Mr. Brown about these things and, of course, he said that some of them happened before he became Secretary, and he said, too, that conditions in the State institutions were being improved from time to time and some of these conditions eliminated.

Frankly, I was a little bit shocked to hear him say that the Secretary of Welfare really is not the Secretary of Welfare, that he does not have too much power over these institutions and their administration and their conduct. There seems to be a clash between the Secretary of Welfare and the Boards of Trustees, and I was convinced more than ever after hearing Mr. Brown, that we ought to have, perhaps, more public hearings on conditions in the various departments of State government, especially in our State institutions that have been under fire from time to time.

Mr. President, although Mr. Brown convinced me that he is trying to do a good job, I still think, and I so told Senator Dent and Senator Haluska, who sat in on the conference with me, that Mr. Brown ought to be called into a public hearing and asked to disclose some of the things he told us that I do not want to go into, and I think it would do us all some good, regardless of party, because we are here to see that we have an efficient State government.

I am not going to stand in Mr. Brown's way, I am going to vote for him, but I am at some later date going to ask that we have a public hearing on conditions in the State institutions, and the squabbling, if any, between the Boards of Trustees and the Department of Welfare, with the hope that some legislation can be passed at this Session to iron out whatever difficulties there might be and thus develop a more cooperative spirit and a more cooperative administrative policy between the Trustees of the various institutions and the Secretary of the Department of Welfare.

Mr. HALUSKA. Mr. President, I happen to be one of the three Members who had the opportunity to interrogate Secretary Brown this afternoon, and I am satisfied that the answers he gave to the questions given by Senator Yosko were good. The man is trying to do a good job.

I am very much interested in the Department of Welfare, and I have followed carefully the work of that Department for a number of years, and I frankly admit that I believe sincerely down in my heart Secretary Brown did an outstanding job. He has done a good job. It is true there have been discrepancies before his time and probably during his time in office, but the case at Morganza, if you check into it, they fired the superintendent and other employees. The man has been under a handicap because of the problem of the Boards of Trustees.

As I pointed out, if all public officials do as well as Secretary Brown, I think Governor Fine will have a fine Cabinet.

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

The yeas and nays were taken agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution, and were as follows, viz:

EXECUTIVE SESSION RISES

Mr. WATSON. Mr. President, I move that the Executive Session do now rise.

Mr. BARR. Mr. President, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, I rise at this time to a question of personal privilege.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. The gentleman from Westmoreland, Mr. Dent, will state his question of personal privilege.

Mr. DENT. Mr. President and Members of the Senate, puppets and otherwise, I may find it difficult to say all the things I want to say because, first, time will not allow and, second, if distance may have something to do with it since I understand that Mr. Lawrence is in Washington, D. C. I had prepared a kind of a talk that a man ought to write, tear up and forget that he wrote it, and I have about come to the conclusion that that would be the better thing to do here this afternoon.

Mr. President, in keeping with the teachings that I have had to rely on all my life, having had most of my schooling from the lips of my father, I have never been taught to be bitter, venomous and to carry into my private heart the public indignation that I might feel about something that has been said or written.

Throughout the debates in the Senate of Pennsylvania relative to the position of certain Cabinet Officers, acting as the spokesman for the Democratic group I tried at all times to adhere strictly to the fundamentals at issue. I said then and I say now that as we understand the Constitution, up until this moment when we have confirmed an Attorney General in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, in our opinion there has been no Attorney General.

I repeat, too, that we took the position that some eight Cabinet Officers were not serving according to the Administrative Code of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania. These things we held to be the truth as we saw it. However, it appears that without a formal answer that could easily have been obtained from a tribunal of government that has within its powers and privileges the right to ascertain the difference between right and wrong in constitutional and administrative government.

I am wondering, for the benefit of all the people of Pennsylvania and for the benefit of the Majority Side of the Senate, if anybody can show me how in the future you can keep any Chief Executive from naming an individual to a Cabinet or any other position requiring a two-thirds vote, sending it over to the Senate and if for any reason that person is not acceptable to two-thirds of the Senate, how you are going to keep that Governor from appointing this individual if the opinions written recently by the contender to the Attorney General's office are held to be valid.

We said that when the Governor submitted the name of an Attorney General, regardless of who it was, we would consider fully the nominations for the various offices. We have done exactly that, and contrary to this malicious letter that appeared in the daily newspapers of Pennsylvania, we were not motivated by any other reason.

Mr. President, I understand that we were called puppets, and that we were motivated by some unknown fear that is clutching at the heart of a valiant leader of the Democratic Party, namely, David L. Lawrence. I cannot say that I have always agreed with Dave Lawrence. I think that I have taken the opposite side in campaigns more times than I have ever stood with him shoulder to shoulder but in all those campaigns I found him to be a clean fighter. Like the gentleman from Delaware County, I cannot see how you can be in politics without being a politician, and I guess the grievous sin that David Lawrence has committed is that he has been a successful politician. You see, he has been elected to office when he has run, which is not the truth when it comes to other individuals that I know.

Mr. President, you know it seems that some people without reference to any individual when they have been denied something they want so badly, become like a frustrated woman, spurned in her early youth, who goes through life decrying against marriage and motherhood; persons who because they have been defeated themselves cannot stand to see persons who are elected to office.

Mr. President, we the Members of the Democratic Caucus do not have an exhilarated feeling of victory. There has been no victory for anybody. We have just stated a position and we have lived up to that statement, nothing more and nothing less. There has been no personal vindictiveness on the part of any Member of my Caucus toward any individual.

I questioned, because of some of the information that was passed on to me, some of the deeds, and some of the acts and some of the things of a personal nature that Mr. Ray Smock, the Secretary of Highways, had been reported to be interested in so we asked Mr. Smock to come before the group. I learned that Mr. Smock was sick in bed and contrary to the actions of some people I know who hit a man when he is sick—I was not brought up that way—I called Mr. Smock, and in the presence of other individuals I asked him pointedly the very questions that had been propounded to me, and he gave me his answers and I believed him.

I do not believe—you know, maybe my creed is not fit for this modern age and this modern type of political leader—but I do not believe in the indictment of individuals by association, nor do I believe in the indictment of individuals on unfounded statements. The Democratic Caucus could easily have embarrassed these individuals. Senator Yosko only brought up a few of the things, a few of the questions that were asked concerning Mr. Brown's fitness to hold the office that he has been appointed to, but being a man of character he appeared and said his piece but he did not publicly indict anybody or attempt to. I do not destroy character; I have a hard time building my own.

Senator Barr and Senator Lane had some serious questions to ask Mr. Leslie, but like men of stature they asked those questions and stood before the hall of this Senate and told you the results of those questions.

Someone said, "Why, in Washington they are harassing the Democratic administration on every hand." My Dad did not tell me I was supposed to emulate what some darn fools do in Washington. He told me, "Be a man in your own right, stand upon your own two legs, do the things your heart dictates to you, and keep your mind clear and open." That is what he told me and that is what I am doing, and that is what I am going to do while I am in the Senate of Pennsylvania, and I do not intend to be any man's tool.

That is the part that I resent in the statement made by the pretender to the Attorney General's Office. I never have been any man's tool and I am too old to start now. I do not intend to be called that and accepted as such by the public. I have a conceited idea that the people in my county think that I am a pretty good fellow. I have a conceited idea that they think I am a fair representative. I have been elected to the Senate four times, and to the House of Representatives once, and the City Council once, and I am only forty-two years old. I have spent a great deal of time in these legislative halls and I was not elected to those offices being the tool or mouthpiece of any individual or any group of individuals other than when I am elected to the authority of being a mouthpiece.

I am the mouthpiece of this group on certain bills, legislative actions of this group and I am proud to be their mouthpiece. I consider it a great honor that I have been elected to speak for them and I know that Senator Walker feels the same on his side. I think he feels that it is an honor to be the mouthpiece, if you want to call it that, of his group but I have not been the mouthpiece for elements that are not welcome in public society.

Mr. President, I had written a very bad speech. I am glad I am not going to read it. I am glad I am not saying the things I wanted to say. I am glad I did not have a chance Saturday afternoon to make this speech, because all of us have in our nature a mean streak, and if somebody just tickles it hard enough it comes out and you say things you are a little bit sorry for, and I guess I am too old for that.

You know, I am a grandpa twice, and I do not want those two grandchildren of mine ever to read the record of Pennsylvania and see that I have said something, and they have to go around the corner to find an explanation for it.

The cold print is the only thing we leave behind us. Those of us in this room tonight may agree in your hearts that I have justification to say some mean and ugly things here, but you will die and I will die and after we are gone the written word is still here and somebody may read it someday and then they might call me what I would want to call him. Somebody might say I am a stinker.

Mr. President, I think as the Session rolls around that we will all agree on one thing. I think that this delay may have done some good in a way.

I agree with Senator Yosko's premise. I think it would be a good idea to have some public appearances of these cabinet officers from time to time. If there are questions that are bothering us in the administration of these offices let us ask them questions and any honorable man will answer them.

Someone said to me, "Why is it that Secretary Draemel's name has not come up?" I will tell you, very frankly, I have some very very serious questions, questions that have appeared in public print, things that may amount to absolutely nothing, but they also may violate some of the concepts of what we think are in the public interest in the administration of the laws.

Now, Mr. President, the conclusion in everybody's mind is that when you stand up before the Senate and you take a position, you immediately become personal. You do not do that. Any decent Senator, any decent legislator cannot afford to do that because as Dad always said, "If you lay down with dogs, you will get up with fleas." So, you do not get personal on things. You take them entirely in the manner in which they are intended.

Mr. President, this is a question of Constitutional law as we see it, and I will be the very first man upon my feet if the authority that has the right stands up and says that it is not necessary to have a two-thirds vote, that the opinions written by the pretender to the Attorney General's Office are correct, I will be the first to apologize to the Senate of Pennsylvania for having delayed them so long upon these confirmations.

Incidentally, speaking of delay brings me to another point in my story. I see here where the Democratic group—this gentleman says that we by our dictated opposition to him have delayed the action of the Senate, have embarrassed and harassed the Governor. Well, in the first place, I want to take a little out of his ego. He should not have so much conceit. Frankly, we never mentioned his name. We never bothered with him at all. I never even suggested that we hold anything up on account of him, and incidentally I defy—well, let us use another word. I ask any Member of the Republican Senate to stand here and publicly tell where we have harassed the Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in any single instance since he has become Governor of this Commonwealth. Where, in any instance, have we delayed legislation? That is our job as I understand it, that and confirmations, and if these opinions are allowed to stand we will only have one job from now on. We have not delayed any action in committee meetings. No one can force Senators to put bills in. If the bills are not in, you cannot act on them. Maybe it would be a good thing if there were not any bills put in, and we just sat here a little while for this Session and went home. Maybe the people would feel a little better. There has been a terrific drive for years to have us come down here and repeal bills instead of enacting new ones.

Mr. President, I might say just one word in defense of a gentleman who I am sure needs no defense with men of understanding. It is said here that we have taken dictation and orders from Dave Lawrence relative to the fight on confirming or non-confirming Cabinet Officers. That was contained in this letter to the Governor. I do not know how any person could be so far from the truth. As God is my witness, Dave Lawrence never asked me or told me in any way by direct conversation, by messenger, by written word or by any other method of communication to vote one way or another on the confirmations before the Senate of Pennsylvania. I say that to you men and I say that I believe that to be true of every Member of the Senate Minority.

Oh, I imagine Senator Barr has had occasion to talk to Mayor Lawrence, and think that is quite proper. Senator Barr is an official of the Democratic Party and Mayor Lawrence is the titular head of that Party. I do not think that Senator Harvey Taylor would hesitate to talk to the Secretary of his Party about any particular business that they might have to discuss, and I say that anybody that made that statement made it out of the whole cloth. There is not an ounce of truth in it. There is absolutely not one word of truth in the whole fabricated lie. I say that because again I want my people back home to know that I have not changed in the twenty-one years that they have been electing me to public office. I have not changed a bit.

Mr. President, here is Senator Haluska sitting here. He has been elected the same number of times I have in the Senate of Pennsylvania. We started in the House together. I am pretty sure I can say that you have not received any orders, have you, in this situation?

Mr. HALUSKA. No.

Mr. DENT. In fact, Mr. President, I want to say here publicly, so that it can get across to those who care, that I think this statement by Mr. Margiotti lost him more friends than it gained him. In all the years I have known Mr. Margiotti, I have never uttered one word derogatory about him. I have never taken sides against him, but if he insists upon calling me a stooge and upon trying to destroy the character that I have built in forty-two years to satisfy a whim of his, then he must stand to lose the only thing that I have to give him, my friendship. God made my enemies, but by the same token he gave me the right to select my friends. My friends do not use me, they help me. My friends are not my friends because they need what I have, my friends are my friends because they think they have something I need. That is the way I am a friend to a man, and that is the way I want my friends to be and there is not any gift within the giving of the political arena, the political field, that will make me change that stand. I am too old to change now.

Mr. President, I may never be the Governor of Pennsylvania, I may never be anything but what I am today, but I am eternally grateful to this system of government that has given me the opportunity to stand here in the Senate of Pennsylvania, one of fifty men, representing millions of citizens in this Commonwealth, elected by my people at a free election, the son of an immigrant and four times their choice. There cannot come any greater honor to anybody.

Mr. WALKER. Mr. President, I want to say to the gentleman from Westmoreland that we appreciate the sincerity of the remarks that he made, and the many things that were in his mind and heart that were left unsaid. It has been a privilege and a pleasure to have served this long with the gentleman from Westmoreland. I hope that I never have the disaster of being in this Senate without him.

Mr. President, I do not want to discuss his personal qualifications because I do not want to embarrass him. I do not want to raise the question of puppets. I have never found that he has been putty in our hands. I want to say this to the gentlemen of the Senate, in all seriousness, that during the 1949 Session we had a spirit of cooperation, a spirit of genuine sincere endeavor to do the things that the people of Pennsylvania wanted done.

We have had some serious days here in the beginning of the 1951 Session. There were honest differences of opinion as to the causes, the motivations and the results. The people of Pennsylvania will have to decide that. Those of us sitting here have only our personal opinions and our hopes that they will not judge either side too harshly when they add up the results and the causes and the determinations.

May I say this in all sincerity to the Minority side, as well as to the Majority, what the people of Pennsylvania would like us to do is to have us enact the necessary portions of a legislative program and go home.

In sincerely hope that now that we have the Cabinet confirmed that the question of political advantage will be layed to one side just as it was in 1949, and that we will proceed to do the things that the folks back home want done. We will do them to the best of our ability for the general good of the most people of this great Commonwealth and go home. That is the thing they want and that is the thing I am hoping we will be able to do.

Let us drop this just where it is, and let ten million people decide just which one of us are right and let us do the things they elected us to come down here to do.

BILL ON CONCURRENCE IN HOUSE AMENDMENTS

Agreeably to order,

The Senate resumed the consideration of Senate Bill No. 4, as follows:

Section 32. The courts of quarter sessions of the peace shall have jurisdiction and power within the respective counties—

I. To inquire, by the paths or affirmations of good and lawful men of the county, of all crimes, misdemeanors and offences whatsoever, against the laws of this commonwealth, which shall be triable in the respective county.

II. To inquire of, hear, determine and punish, in due form of law, all such crimes and misdemeanors including involuntary manslaughter when such crime is the only homicide with which a person is charged, and offences, whereof exclusive jurisdiction is not given, as aforesaid, to the courts of oyer and terminer of such county.

III. To take, in the name of the commonwealth, all manner of recognizances and obligations heretofore taken and allowed to be taken by any justice of the peace; and they shall certify such as shall be taken, in relation to any crime not triable therein, to the next court of oyer and terminer having power to take cognizance thereof.

IV. To continue, or discharge the recognizance and obligations of persons bound to keep the peace, or to be of good behavious, taken as aforesaid, or certified into such court by any justice of the peace of such county, and to inquire of, hear and determine, in the manner hitherto practiced and allowed, all complaints which shall be found thereon.

V. The courts of quarter sessions shall also have jurisdiction in cases of fines, penalties, or punishments, imposed by any act of assembly, for offences, misdemeanors or delinquencies, except where it shall be otherwise expressly provided and enacted.

VI. The said courts shall also have and exercise such other jurisdiction and powers, not herein enumerated, as may have been heretofore given to them by law.

Whenever any indictment shall be found in any court of quarter sessions, for any crime or offence not triable therein, it shall be the duty of said court to certify the same into the court of oyer and terminer next to be holden in such county, there to be heard and determined in due course of law.

The judges of the county courts of oyer and terminer and quarter sessions, and every of them, shall have power to direct their writs or precepts to all or any of the sheriffs or other officers of any of the counties, cities, boroughs or towns corporate of this commonwealth, to arrest and bring before them persons indicted for felonies and other offences, and amendable to the respective court; each of said courts shall have power to award process to levy and recover such fines, forfeitures and amercements, as shall be imposed, taxed or adjudged by them respectively; each of the said courts shall have full power and authority to establish such rules for regulating the practice thereof respectively, and for expediting the determination of suits, causes and proceedings therein, as in their discretion they shall judge necessary or proper: Provided, That such rules shall not be inconsistent with the constitution and laws of this commonwealth; each of the said courts is empowered to issue writs of subpoena, under their official seal, into any county of this commonwealth, to summon and bring before the respective court any person to give testimony in any cause or matter depending before them, under the penalties hitherto appointed and allowed, in any such case, by the laws of this commonwealth.

They were agreed to.

The section was agreed to as amended.

The title was read.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the title?

Mr. MALLERY offered the following amendment:

Amend Title, page 1, line 1, by striking out the word and figure "Section 31" and inserting in lieu thereof "Sections 31 and 32."

It was agreed to

The title was agreed to as amended.

HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

MONDAY, February 26, 1951.

The House met at 4:30 p. m.

The SPEAKER (Herbert P. Sorg) in the Chair.

PRAYER

The Chaplain, Reverend William Hugh Fryer, offered the following prayer:

O God, holy and just, who exalteth a nation that follows the way of righteousness, we pray for our land and people that we may become worthy of Thy gracious favor. Deliver us from greed of gain, from race and class prejudice and ill-will, from all causes of discontent and strife; and inspire in us, we beseech Thee, such love of our neighbor and concern for one another's welfare that we shall work together with one heart and will to secure equality of opportunity and due reward for all. Through Jesus Christ our Lord. Amen.

JOURNAL APPROVED

The SPEAKER. Are there any corrections to the Journal of Wednesday, February 21, 1951? If not, and without objection, the Journal is approved.

COMMUNICATION

DEPARTMENT OF STATE—SOUTH DAKOTA

The SPEAKER laid before the House Concurrent Resolution No. 4 introduced in the Legislature of South Dakota relating to military service of all qualified citizens without regard for race, creed or color.

Referred to the Committee on Rules.

REPORT OF DELAWARE RIVER JOINT COMMISSION

The SPEAKER laid before the House the report of the Delaware River Joint Commission for 1950.

LEAVES OF ABSENCE

By unanimous consent leave of absence was granted as follows:

Mr. Bolton for Messrs. LAFORE and KRATZ for the remainder of the week because of illness.

Mr. Wood for Mr. ROYER for the remainder of the week because of illness.

Mr. Scanlon for Mr. GUARNIERI for the remainder of the week because of illness.

Mr. Rose for Mr. ROSEN for the remainder of the week because of illness.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS HOUSE

Mr. SMITH asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the House.

Mr. Speaker, I have always been instructed by our very good Parliamentarian to address the Chair and say "Mr. Speaker." But I feel on this occasion that I am going to bypass the Chair and address the Members of the House.

I believe the Chair probably has more of the details and knows more about the details of what I am going to say than anyone in this House. So in that respect I am going to break protocol.

Most of the Members I am sure received a cigar today in their mail box. Now I don't know who would be giving cigars out around here except someone who might have become a father, and for the information of the Members of the House our Speaker recently again came into that category. That is the reason I say that I am sure he knows more about the details of this resolution than anybody here.

I don't know what he has put in the mail boxes of the lady Members, and I don't know what he has put in the mail box of the Minority Leader, but this becoming a father with Mr. Sorg has happened in the past and when it has we have had complaints from the other side of the House, particularly from the Minority Leader, who claimed that he did not smoke cigars and he has always said tobacco is what he uses in his pipe. Now I don't know, and I mean this, whether the Speaker has had the foresight to take care of that situation, so I went out myself in order that the Minority Leader could not complain and I have two packages of tobacco for Mr. Sorg to present to the Minority Leader. For this reason I would like to offer a resolution and two packages of tobacco.

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, . . .

The SPEAKER. For what purpose does the gentleman from Cambria, Mr. Andrews, rise?

Mr. ANDREWS. To bypass the Speaker, . . .

The SPEAKER. The Speaker dodges.

Mr. ANDREWS. . . . and to express a great sense of disillusionment.

I find upon my desk one package of tobacco. Then I find two packages of tobacco and I says "My God it's twins."

Now then the Majority Leader comes across with two more packages, . . . "it's quadruplets." So I congratulate the Speaker and I want the facts. Is it one, or is it two, or is it four.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman from Cambria, Mr. Andrews, has another pack of tobacco coming. It's No. 5.

CONGRATULATIONS

Mr. SMITH offered a resolution and asked and obtained unanimous consent for its immediate consideration.

The resolution was read as follows:

In the House of Representatives, February 26, 1951.

On Saturday, February 24th, 1951, that busy bearer of good tidings brought into the family of our esteemed Speaker, a new daughter.

The petite new Sorg is extremely fortunate, not only in having chosen a happy household, but also in having selected one where her mother and three sisters and brother have already solved that sometimes difficult problem of handling papa and brother; therefore be it

Resolved, That the Members of the House of Representatives hereby congratulate the Speaker and Mrs. Sorg on the birth of their daughter and the new-born child on her good judgment in her choice of parents. We extend to her good wishes and good fortune throughout her life; and be it further Resolved, That a copy of this resolution, certified by the Chief Clerk, be transmitted to the Honorable and Mrs. Herbert P. Sorg.

The CHIEF CLERK presiding.

On the question recurring,
Will the House adopt the resolution?
It was unanimously adopted.

The SPEAKER (Herbert P. Sorg) in the Chair.

The SPEAKER. On behalf of the new-born, her mother and the Chair, the Chair extends its heartiest thanks for the good wishes of the Members of the House.

SENATE MESSAGE

HOUSE BILL CONCURRED IN BY SENATE

The Clerk of the Senate being introduced, returned bill from the House of Representatives numbered and entitled as follows:

HOUSE BILL No. 8.

An Act making a deficiency appropriation to the Joint State Government Commission for the payment of general expenses.

With information that the Senate has passed the same without amendment.

BILL SIGNED BY SPEAKER

Bill numbered and entitled as follows having been prepared for presentation to the Governor, and the same being correct, the title was publicly read as follows:

HOUSE BILL No. 8.

An Act making a deficiency appropriation to the Joint State Government Commission for the payment of general expenses.

Whereupon,

The SPEAKER, in the presence of the House, signed the same.

PERMISSION TO ADD ADDITIONAL SPONSORS

Mr. SARRAF asked and obtained unanimous consent to add additional sponsors to a bill to be introduced by him.

COMMITTEE MEETINGS

Appropriations, Mr. Wood, Chairman, Room No. 245, during the recess.

Fisheries, Mr. Gibson, Chairman, Room No. 331, during the recess.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS HOUSE

Mr. ANDREWS asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the House.

Mr. Speaker, first of all I would like to remind the Chairman of the Rules Committee that we have three meritorious resolutions pending in that Committee that deserve action.

First, I want to refer to the "sponsoritis" resolution. In that connection I would like to read a real letter from a real payroller. The letter reads:

> "Your article in the local paper concerning what you term "sponsoritis" was interesting enough to me to draw a little fire. It is not denied by the writer that "sponsoritis" is existing in our state government, but generally speaking, and as it is in this case, the barrel of apples will spoil faster by not picking out the worst ones than by waiting until they all rot. And you generally start picking out the bad ones from the top of the barrel.
> "Apparently you are not familiar what the State Government has for Bureau Directors—this is where your padded payrolls are manifested. Salaries of $5,000 per annum and up are being paid to Bureau heads and section heads, who are absolutely incompetent of holding such positions. They either have newspaper jobs (reading newspapers practically all day) or they're not even at their offices, or when they are on the job they do not have the intellect or know-how of directing. In other words, they have not acquired their positions by being apt individuals, but have acquired their position through politics, or "sponsoritis."
> I suggest your proposed efficiency check be accentuated by especially directing it to bureau heads; for that is where the root of the trouble is buried. Eventually or even promptly a civil service system should be installed, * * *"

I can state to the House, as the Chairman of the Rules Committee probably knows, there are bureau heads and deputies in Departments who have not during the past year rendered one single act of servie, and one Department that should be immune to that sort of thing is the Department that deals with public health. I suggest, in view of the fact that there are deputies on the payroll who are purely political, who are not even required to report for service, something should be done about it.

Now that we are entering an era of economy, and we are—the prospect of increased taxes—we can do something constructive in the way of acquiring a larger degree of service from those we put upon the payroll.

Second, I think this House should know that one resolution asks how much money in terms of federal money, available for the state of Pennsylvania since 1939, has not, for one reason or another, been used by the Commonwealth. I think I stated at the time the resolution was introduced that probably the Commonwealth since 1939 had not availed itself of a sum totalling at leas twenty-five million dollars. There may have been very good reasons why the state did not avail itself of some of that money, but in view of the financial situation that confronts the Commonwealth, I think this House is entitled to know the facts in order that it may take intelligent action.

The third Resolution had to do with requiring certain information from the head of the Department of Forest and Waters. I am not surprised that the Committee has not been able to act in that connection, beause if a Committee was able to obtain any information from the Head of the Department of Forest and Waters, it would be the only part of our State Government that had been able to obtain any such information. There are various expenditures made by the Department of Forests and Waters that could properly be given the scrutiny of this body. The question of whether the expenditures were or were not advisable or whether they were legal or illegal—if the Committee is not able to obtain from the Department of Forests and Waters the information desired, the Committee, I believe, should so report.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS HOUSE

Mr. SMITH asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the House.

Mr. Speaker, as the gentleman from Cambria well knows, under the rules of the House we cannot divulge on the floor of this House anything that happens in committees. But as Chairman of the Rules Committee, let me assure him of one thing—that these three Resolutions which the gentleman is now speaking about—will be and are being given every consideration, and I can assure him that will be done.

INTERROGATION

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, I ask permission to interrogate the Majority Leader.

The SPEAKER. Will the Majority Leader permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. SMITH. I will, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, could I ask him one question—when?

The Majority Leader said that the Resolution would be given due consideration. Is that a continuing process or will there be a terminal date for the consideration, and if so, when?

Mr. SMITH. Well, Mr. Speaker, I can answer that by saying that the gentlemen well knows the workings of Committees. So, I would say that it will not be continuing. We will still give it due consideration in its process when it comes up to us.

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, I think the situation is perfectly plain. I don't expect any report from the Committee, but I do insist that the problems discussed in the Resolutions are problems that this House cannot ignore, irrespective of Committee action.

RECESS

The SPEAKER. If there is no objection, the Chair will declare a recess for twenty minutes. The Chair hears none, and a recess is declared.

AFTER RECESS

The time of recess having expired, the House was called to order.

The SPEAKER (Herbert P. Sorg) in the Chair.

REPORTS FROM COMMITTEES

Mr. WHEELER, from the Committee on Fisheries, reported as committed, House Bill No. 238, entitled:

COMMONWEALTH OF PENNSYLVANIA

Legislative Journal.

Session 1951. 139th of the General Assembly.

Vol. 32. HARRISBURG, PA., TUESDAY, FEBRUARY 27, 1951. No. 15.

SENATE

TUESDAY, February 27, 1951.

The Senate met at 10:00 o'clock, a. m., Eastern Standard Time.

The PRESIDENT pro tempore (M. Harvey Taylor) in the Chair.

PRAYER

The Chaplain, Rev. ALFRED L. TAXIS, Pastor of the First Presbyterian Church, Port Carbon, Pennsylvania, offered the following prayer:

Oh God, at last we have come to understand what is wrong with the world. It is the sum total of what is wrong with us individually. We know what to do but we don't want to do it. Thy help is our only hope. Make us want to do what is right and give us the courage to do it. Amen.

JOURNAL APPROVED

The PRESIDENT pro tempore. A quorum of the Senate being present the Clerk will read the Journal of the preceding session.

The Clerk proceeded to read the Journal of the preceding session, when, on motion of Mr. WALKER and Mr. MALLERY, further reading was dispensed with, and the Journal was approved.

LEAVE OF ABSENCE

Which was committed to the Committee on Judiciary General.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS SENATE

Mr. RUTH asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the Senate.

Mr. RUTH. Mr. President, in recent years events have taken place, one of which I am convinced in the future will rate as the outstanding event of our time, and that is the establishment of the State of Israel.

This week the Embassador Extraordinary of Israel will be visiting Harrisburg and on behalf of Senator Chapman and myself, I present the following resolution and move its immediate adoption.

RESOLUTION

WELCOMING AMBASSADOR ABBA EBAN TO THE CITY OF HARRISBURG

Messrs. RUTH and CHAPMAN, offered the following resolution which was twice read, considered and agreed to:

In the Senate, Tuesday, February 27, 1951.

Whereas, the emergence of the State of Israel is the harbinger of a new-era in the heretofore desolated lands of the Fertile Crescent on the fringe of the Arabian Desert and along the Mediterranean Sea, and

Whereas, the establishment of the State of Israel represents the realization of millenial dreams of the Jewish People for the in-gathering in a state of their own of exiles scattered in the lands of the Diasporah, and

Whereas, the pioneering Spirit of the inhabitants of the State of Israel in vanquishing the desert and restoring to this ancient land its pristine fertility and bloom offers a definite affinity to the pioneering era in the history of our nation, and

Whereas, as a Bastion of Democracy on the fringe of chaos the State of Israel is of great service to the United States and to the United Nations as a bridgehead of order and civilization, and

Whereas, the help and succor extended by the American People to this fledgeling state in its formative days and trying pangs of birth forged everlasting links of solidarity and mutual understanding, and

Whereas, the American People follow with great admiration the rapid and unprecedented political, cultural and economic progress of the New State and the absorption therein of hundreds of thousands of refugees saved from annihilation in the Vales of Death of Eastern Europe and the degrading casbas of Arab Lands, and

Whereas, Abba Eban Ambassador Extraordinary of Israel to the United States and its delegate at the United Nations is recognized as one of the creative factors at Lake Success who contributes of his efforts and erudition in the councils of the United Nations, and

Whereas, His Excellency, Ambassador Abba Eban will visit Harrisburg on Sunday, March 4, 1951 in connection with a reception given in his honor

Now Therefore, be it resolved that the Senate of the General Assembly of Pennsylvania extend in behalf of the citizenry of our Commonwealth, its welcome and greetings to the great guest

And Be It Further Resolved, that the Secretary of the Senate be directed to forward a copy of this resolution upon its passage to His Excellency, Ambassador Abba Eban.

SENATE CONCURRENT RESOLUTION

MEMORIALIZING CONGRESS OF THE UNITED STATES TO DESIGNATE A GRAVE OF ONE OF THE UNKNOWN SOLDIERS OF THE CONTINENTAL ARMY BURIED AT WASHINGTON CROSSING PARK IN BUCKS COUNTY AS TOMB OF THE UNKNOWN SOLDIER OF THE WAR FOR INDEPENDENCE

Mr. WATSON offered the following resolution which was twice read, considered and agreed to:

In the Senate, February 27, 1951.

Whereas, A number of unknown soldiers of Washington's Continental Army are buried at Washington Crossing Park in Bucks County;

Whereas, Washington Crossing is associated with the famous Trenton-Princeton campaign, of which the historian Trevelyan wrote, "It may be doubted whether so small a number of men ever employed so short a space of time with greater and more lasting results upon the history of the world"; and

Whereas, These soldiers may have been participants in these first victories after independence was declared; therefore be it

Resolved, (if the House of Representatives concur) That the General Assembly of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania hereby requests the Congress of the United States to arrange for the designation of the grave of one of these unknown soldiers of the Continental Army, buried at Washington Crossing Park in Bucks County, Pennsylvania, as the Tomb of the Unknown Soldier of the War for Independence; and be it further

Resolved, That the Department of Forests and Waters of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania is hereby directed to beautify and improve whatever grave may be so designated in a suitable and appropriate manner.

Ordered, That the Clerk present same to the House of Representatives for concurrence.

RESOLUTIONS REFERRED TO COMMITTEES

PENNSYLVANIA MOTOR POLICE BE URGED TO INCREASE THE ENFORCEMENT OF THE PROVISIONS OF THE MOTOR VEHICLE CODE

Mr. WOOD on behalf of the great multitude of private motorists in Pennsylvania offered the following resolution which was twice read and referred to the Committee on Highways:

In the Senate, February 27, 1951.

Whereas, The Motor Vehicle Code makes it illegal for the operator of any motor bus, commercial motor vehicle, truck tractor, or tractor, except those being part of a military convoy in the military service of the United States or this Commonwealth, to follow within five hundred feet of another such vehicle, except when overtaking and passing another vehicle, when traveling upon a highway outside of a business or residence district.

Whereas, The operators of motor buses and heavy trucks are wilfully, deliberately and recklessly violating this provision and the speed limitations of the Motor Vehicle Code with great danger and inconvenience to the private motorists of the highways of this Commonwealth and with a total disregard for their rights, comfort, safety and welfare,

Whereas, The vigorous enforcement of these provisions would improve highway safety, it is

Resolved, That the Pennsylvania Motor Police be urged to increase and intensify the enforcement of these provisions of the Motor Vehicle Code and to make every effort to see that offenders are prosecuted and punished as the law provides.

URGING THAT THE DEPARTMENT OF HIGHWAYS CONSULT AND COOPERATE WITH THE ARMED FORCES OF THE UNITED STATES TO STABILIZE AND SOLIDIFY UNIMPROVED ROADS IN PENNSYLVANIA

Mr. LEADER offered the following resolution which was twice read and referred to the Committee on Highways:

In the Senate, February 27, 1951.

Whereas, This Commonwealth has 141,033 miles of improved and unimproved highways; and

Whereas, There are in this Commonwealth 33,619 miles of unimproved or dirt highways and roads; and

Whereas, The maintenance of good transportation routes is essential to the welfare of the State and the the necessity for excellent highways becomes even more apparent during a period of national emergency; and

Whereas, Unimproved roads and highways, with their uncertain surface during inclement weather tend to reduce appreciably their usefulness to the highway system. Hence, methods for hardening the surface of dirt roads are worthy of favorable consideration; and

Whereas, The United States Government, through research conducted by the Armed Forces, has made great technological strides in developing methods and proccesses for solidifying and stabilizing unimproved roads; therefore be it

Resolved (if the House of Representatives concur), That the Department of Highways undertake investigation and research work with a view to stabilize and solidify the dirt roads of Pennsylvania; and be it further

Resolved, That the Department of Highways consult and cooperate with the Armed Forces of the United States, if not inconsistent with national security, for the purpose of stabilizing and solidifying unimproved roads in Pennsylvania.

And said bill having been read at length the second time,

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the bill on second reading?

MOTION TO RECOMMIT FOR PUBLIC HEARING

Mr. HOLLAND. Mr. President, I move that House Bills No. 2, 3 and 4 be recommitted to the Committee on State Government for public hearing.

Mr. WALKER. Mr. President, in discussing House Bills Nos. 2, 3 and 4, I would like to advise the gentleman from Allegheny, Senator Holland, that it is our intention to put those bills over in order so that House Bill No. 1, which was reported from the Senate Committee on State Government today, can catch up on Monday's calendar, at which time the entire civil defense program can be discussed.

Mr. HOLLAND. Mr. President, thank you, and I would like to request at this time that the Majority Leader give consideration in his Caucus to having a public hearing on House Bill Nos. 1, 2, 3 and 4 at the earliest possible date.

Mr. WALKER. Mr. President, I assure the gentleman from Allegheny, Senator Holland, that I will be glad to discuss that matter in the Republican Caucus. If there has been information come to the gentleman from Allegheny in the form of a request for a public hearing, it evidently was not channeled through the Chairman of the Committee, who up to this point has had no request at all for any hearings on the bill. These are House Bills and are sponsored by the Republican Floor Leader in the House and the Democratic Floor Leader in the House, and the whole time they were in the House there was no request for a public hearing, but I will be glad to discuss the matter with the Republican Caucus, and if the gentleman has requests for hearings, I would suggest that he turn them over to the Chairman of the Committee so that they can be properly channeled.

In the meantime, Mr. President, the bills will remain on the Second Reading Calendar so that we can have the complete defense program before us and feel well defended.

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, I have talked to Senator Holland about this. It is not exactly a request as such by the public or by any individual, but the fact that we have received communications in the last weekend or the last day or so and there seems to be a great deal of misunderstanding and confusion about this legislation.

I think that of all the bills that we will pass in this whole Session of the Legislature, the most extraordinary bill and the most extraordinary act of the Legislature will be that dealing with civilian defense because most legislation deals with a determinate factor. This is an indeterminate factor with unlimited possibilities. The extent to which this legislation may reach cannot even be imagined by any person on this floor, and I seriously suggest, without waiting for any caucus of any kind, that we ought to agree here and now to issue a call for a public hearing. Rather than have the people ask us for a public hearing, let us ask the people to come here to a public hearing so that we may not be condemned more than we are going to be condemned for this action because no matter what kind of a bill we pass, I am sure there is going to be some condemnation. I do not mind that at all but I do think, Senator Walker, that we ought to do something about getting some publicity on this matter since the real gains of this legislation and the real aims of it are for a state of mind of the people and we cannot legislate that. We have got to create it.

Mr. WALKER. Mr. President, I appreciate the remarks of the gentleman from Westmoreland, Senator Dent, and the gentleman from Allegheny, Senator Holland, and may I say in explanation to the gentlemen of the Senate that after the session last Wednesday when House Bills No. 2, No. 3 and No. 4 came on our calendar, I urged the gentlemen of the Senate to familiarize themselves with the bills during the weekend recess so that we could intelligently discuss them.

Mr. President, House Bill No. 1, which is the bill creating the Civil Defense Council, was still in the House and did not come over to the Senate until the first of this week. It is now on our calendar and will be on Monday's Second Reading Calendar, together with the rest of these civilian defense bills.

Again, Mr. President, I would like to urge the gentlemen of the Senate to study this entire civilian defense program, which will be House Bills No. 1, No. 2, No. 3 and No. 4, so that we can thoroughly understand them and see whether or not we are doing the things that should be done in order to give Pennsylvania a civil defense program after the General Assembly adjourns sine die.

Now, Mr. President, I say to the gentlemen of the Senate, let us consider the material in the bills themselves. The question of the operation of a civil defense unit, after it has been created, is a responsibility of those who will be members of the Civil Defense Council under House Bill No. 1. Without attempting to predetermine any crystallization or conclusions which might arise in the minds of the gentlemen of the Senate, may I say that the employment of a Director of Civil Defense and the setup of the personnel of the Civil Defense Council will be entirely in the hands of the Civil Defense Council itself, which will be created by House Bill No. 1, and which will have the benefit of having as members of that Council the distinguished gentleman from Westmoreland, Senator Dent, and the distinguished gentleman from Cambria, Mr. Hiram Andrews, the Minority Leader of the House, and in the hands of two such capable public representatives I know we will be guided correctly.

Mr. HOLLAND. Mr. President, that was a very nice talk, but there are ten members on this committee and he speaks about two. Now, there is a lot of confusion about this defense. There are people who know something about it and politicians are having a fight. That is exactly what is taking place in the creation of these bills.

Mr. President, I believe that the public should be enlightened by men who know something about civilian defense, and that the politicians after all should be taken here and see what they know about civilian defense.

Mr. President, I am not satisfied with the statement by the Majority Leader, because after it starts in action and we should have a great calamity, which God forbid that we have, then is not the time to say that the Senate of Pennsylvania made a mistake, and that is exactly what is occurring and there is no denial of it. There has been a fight between politicians and men who know something about civilian defense, men who have spent years in studying civilian defense, and by other people outside who have given a lot of time, men who have had experience in war and civilian defense, and I think it is about time that we have a public hearing and at least have the people have confidence that this civilian defense plan of ours is a plan that is going to give them help when help is needed, instead of giving jobs when jobs are needed.

Mr. WALKER. Mr. President, I join with the gentleman from Allegheny in his determination to see that we have the best possible civilian defense setup that we, as Members of the General Assembly, can write into the statute books, and I want to say further to the gentleman from Allegheny, Senator Holland, that it is not the desire or the intention, direct or implied, of either the Minority or Majority Side of this Chamber to make this a haven of refuge for any politicians. The best personnel that it is possible to obtain I am confident will be obtained by the members of the Council, as set up in House Bill No. 1.

Now, Mr. President, I do not want to discuss the merits of the bills inasmuch as we have put them over in order. I do not want to discuss the bills when they are on second reading, but I submit again, Mr. President, the entire defense program will be on our Second Reading Calendar as of Monday, and I again earnestly and respectfully suggest to the gentlemen of the Senate that they study these bills and discuss them with the people back home from the standpoint of the merit of the agenda in the bills, rather than from the standpoint of any notoriety that the bills might have acquired by reason of certain appointments that were made under the civil defense proclamation of the former Chief Executive of the Commonwealth, the Honorable James Henderson Duff.

Mr. President, may I say in passing that there is no State Council of Defense at this time. It is operating under the Act of 1942, and as the very learned gentleman on both sides of the aisle who are licensed to practice law would explain to the lay brothers, the Governor by proclamation cannot recreate this present Council which is now in vogue at this time.

Mr. President, what is being done in House Bills No.s 1, 2, 3 and 4 is an entirely new setup which will be in the hands of duly elected people, part of whom are Members of the House and of the Senate, and may I say in passing, and I know that the gentleman from Westmoreland, Senator Dent, as well as his distinguished colleague, Mr. Hiram Andrews, will appreciate the fact that they will have the benefit of the advice of the distinguished gentleman from Dauphin, Senator Taylor.

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate agree to the bill on second reading?

BILLS OVER IN ORDER

Mr. WALKER. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent that House Bill No. 2, on second reading, entitled:

The House met at 11:00 a. m.

The SPEAKER (Herbert P. Sorg) in the Chair.

PRAYER

The Chaplain, Reverend William Hugh Fryer, offered the following prayer:

We yield Thee our hearty thanks, O Lord our God, for Thy great goodness to us. Mercifully assist us in every duty each one of us has to do, and vouchsafe to be our Companion every day; that we may love Thy presence and walk in it vigilantly, and being delivered from all errors and adversities, may joyfully serve Thee in all godly quietness; and grant us Thy peace all the days of our life. We commend to Thy almighty care and protection Thy sick servants for whom our prayer is offered. Grant that they may be restored to that perfect health which is Thine alone to give, through Jesus Christ our Lord. Amen.

RESOLUTION INTRODUCED AND REFERRED

By Mr. TOMPKINS. RESOLUTION No. 12.

In the House of Representatives, February 26, 1951.

Whereas, Many rumors, complaints and accusations have and are being made of gambling, racketeering and vice operating in many parts of our Commonwealth either unhampered or without opposition from law enforcement agencies; and

Whereas, Many petitions have been addressed to State authorities seeking assistance in the solution of this problem; and

Whereas, The underworld are constantly endeavoring in devious ways to hamper or defeat legislation designed to bring them under control; and to thwart law enforcement agencies in the performance of their duties; and

Whereas, This element in our society has and is constantly seeking to intervene in legitimate business and extend its control over our economy; and

Whereas, The activities of this element has placed a stain upon our Commonwealth by unfavorable national publicity, all against the peace and dignity of the Commonwealth, therefore be it

Resolved, That a special Committee of this House be appointed and an appropriation made to it to investigate and report to this body.

(1) The extent of unhampered gambling, racketeering and vice within the Commonwealth,

(2) The truth of charges made by the Press and radio of the State and Nation on this subject,

(3) The advisibility of State action in those cases where local authority will not or cannot act,

(4) The extent of their influence in or attempt to influence legitimate business,

(5) The extent of their tie-in with public officials and law enforcement agencies,

(6) The extent of their lobbying activities in and about the Pennsylvania General Assembly.

Referred to the Committee on Rules.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. TOMPKINS. Mr. Speaker, in connection with House Bill 5, I would like to make a few brief statements in connection with the amendments which have been inserted in the bill.

This bill as it originally was reported from the House was a bill on sabotage that prodived for death penalties without any further consideration. The matter was re-referred to the Judiciary Committee who inserted a number of amendments and altered substantially the original nature of the bill.

The amendments which were inserted were briefly as follows: In time of a declaration of war or the United States is engaged in hostilities, the bill automatically becomes effective. In case of national emergency the bill becomes effective only upon the occurence of two events. Those two events are that both the President of the United States and the Governor of the State of Pennsylvania shall declare a state of emergency. Only on the occurrence of both declaring such a state of emergency will the bill become operative in the state of Pennsylvania. Once it becomes operative the provisions of the bill then will apply; it will not apply at any other time excepting under those two conditions.

We have broken down the provisions of the bill as follows: Sabotage to war materials, war property, war utilities, and so forth will carry with it a penalty of ten thousand dollars and ten years; sabotage by way of production of defective articles will carry with it a penalty of ten thousand dollars and thirty years in prison.

The distinction between war materials, and so forth and national defense materials is as defined by the Federal statute relating to this same subject, is that war materials are those which are made and produced during a period of hostilities or after a declaration of war has been made by Congress. National defense materials are those which are used and prepared, and so forth during the time of a national emergency which must be declared by both the President and the Governor of the state of Pennsylvania. In all cases, whether it be from the destruction of property or whether it be in the manufacture of defective articles, where death occurs as a result of that sabotage, this constitutes first degree murder. That means that it will take the course of regular first degree murder proceedings as in other cases in Pennsylvania, which finally means that the jury has the final say as to what kind of penalty shall be imposed. For under our law, the jury determines whether or not the defendant if found guilty shall be sentenced to death or receive life imprisonment.

Beyond that we have taken out the limitation of prosecution in connection with any act of sabotage. In other words, the party who perpetrates the sabotage may be prosecuted for that sabotage any time during his life when he is apprehended. There are other minor provisions added to the bill in connection with trespassing upon certain property, as defense areas, and expanding the jurisdiction of certain of our law enforcement officers which will give a wider field of supervision in connection with sabotage. Those are essentially the amendments which have been placed in House Bill 5.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution the yeas and nays were taken and were as follows:

The General Assembly of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania hereby enacts as follows

Section 1 Section 506 of the act approved the twenty-fourth day of June one thousand nine hundred thirty-nine (P. L. 872) entitled "An act to consolidate amend and revise the penal laws of the Commonwealth" as amended by the act approved the twenty-first day of ay one thousand nine hundred forty-three (P. L. 306) is hereby further amended to read as follows

Section 506 Fornication and Bastardy Whoever commits fornication is guilty of a misdemeanor and upon conviction thereof shall be sentenced to pay a fine not exceeding one hundred dollars ($100) for the use of the institution district where the offense was committed

It shall be sufficient to convict an unmarried woman to show that a child was born of her body

Any man charged by an unmarried woman with being the father of her bastard child shall be the reputed father and if she persists in the charge in the time of her extremity of labor or afterwards in open court the same shall be given in evidence in order to convict such person of fornication Such man being thereof convicted shall be sentenced in addition to the fine aforesaid to pay the expenses incurred at the birth of such child and if such child is born dead or shall die during the continuance of the order for the maintenance of said child to also pay the reasonable funeral expenses thereof and to give security by one or more sureties and in such sum as the court shall direct to the institution district where such child was born to perform such order for the maintenance of the said child as the court shall direct

On petition of any interested party such order for the maintenance of such child may be modified from time to time by said court before or after the expiration of the term at which such man was sentenced

If a bastard child is begotten out of the State and born within the State or begotten within one of the counties of this State and born in another in the latter case the prosecution of the reputed father may be in the county where a bastard child was born or begotten and like sentence shall be passed as if the child had been born and begotten in that county and in the former case like sentence shall be passed except the fine for fornication

And said bill having been read at length the third time, considered and agreed to.

Section 4 The provisions of this act shall become effective immediately upon final enactment

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, in order to serve well it is necessary to be well served. This bill is a step in the process of serving the Members in this House to a better purpose.

There never has been a time in the last forty years, to my knowledge—and I have known the proceedings of this House over a period of forty years—when the membership of this House has been better served at the desk than at the present time. No Member of the House, majority or minority, has at the present time any reason to question the service we are receiving at the desk. It is a long step since the days when a part of the purpose—one of the purposes of the desk—was to keep the minority in ignorance of what was going on. You have become so accustomed to the fact that the minority is furnished with copies of amendments to bills that only the older Members know there was a time when minority Members could not obtain copies of amendments to bills, and the only knowledge that we had of what was going on was such knowledge as we could gain by the ear, when the reading clerk would mumble the text of an amendment.

There never has been a time in the last forty years when there has been the same degree of understanding and cooperation between the majority and minority leaders that there is at the present time. (I don't know whether that humming was the conversation at the control desk or a deliberate defiance of the sabotage act which we have just passed).

There never has been a time in the last forty years when the Speaker of this House has been as zealous and as jealous of the rights of the minority and as considerate of the privileges and the rights of the majority as at the present time. And so far in this session the employes of this House have reached a new level and a new standard of service. There are at this time fewer employes in the House who consider it their obligation simply now and then to appear upon the scene and obtain their pay checks. My observation leads me to believe that up to the present time, from the folding room to the floor of the House, the employees of the House are present to render service.

Unfortunately there still remains a defect in our set-up, chargeable solely to the membership of the House. There are here and there Members of this House, and here and there County leaders who still adhere to the belief that one of the places to hand a political favorite, who isn't supposed to do any work, is on the House payroll. There has been a splendid effort made to eliminate that sort of employee. Here and there because of the insistence of the Membership themselves it happens that there are still Members of this House who believe that they are rendering a political service at home by tieing some one upon the House payroll that shouldn't be tied upon the House payroll because they don't serve, and I hope that the majority and the minority will eventually convince those Members, that if they must needs take persons who can not render service, for God's sake tie them on to some Department and continue to raise the standard of service here in this House.

In 1945 we passed a resolution providing certain reforms in our committee set up. Some of those reforms have been realized, but in 1945 we voiced the pious hope that the time would come when our major committees would have appropriations sufficient to enable them to employ technical assistance, technical experts, so that when the committees came face to face with the experts speaking for the Departments, the committee would be in position to cope with them. At the present time as most members of the House committees know, Department heads come in flanked by their experts with their masses of figures, asking for this and asking for that, and the committees are not in a position because they do not have the proper expert assistance to ask the Department experts the proper questions and obtain the proper answers.

Now we still have some work to do in the line of giving the members of the House committees a greater measure of technical assistance. Finally, over the period of the last forty years, we have considered ourselves in this House as a sort of under-privileged poor relation who was not supposed to ask anything for itself but was supposed to do everything possible for everybody else. Now we have recently begun to narrow the margin of service that has separated this Chamber from the other Chamber of this Assembly. That margin is narrow, we are not as well served as yet as the other Chamber and there is no reason why we should not be. We have over the years suffered from an inferiority complex. We have been unwilling to pay ourselves a decent wage. We have been unwilling to recognize our position in our governmental setup.

I had hoped that before my period of service in this House was terminated that we would have reached the point where our Constitution would have been amended to provide for annual sessions of this House, and at least an annual salary of five thousand dollars a year. I'm afraid that we won't reach that goal during my period of service, but I do think that in matters of pension, in matters of pay, in matters of service, first of all we are one-half of the General Assembly of this Commonwealth, and there is no reason why we should consider that one branch of our General Assembly is a sort of overlord and that we are supposed to that body. We are their equals, and finally I say that in matters of compensation, the time has come to throw away the inferiority complex and to ignore any possible tide of criticism that might come by reason of any action we may take properly to compensate the Members of this House for the services that they are expected to render. If we have men in this House who are not worth a salary of five thousand dollars a year, that's not the fault of the House; that's the fault of the people back home that sent that kind of men here to the Legislature.

So I am glad to be able to support this bill. It doesn't provide all that I think there should be in such a bill. It is a step in the progress that this House has been making to establish itself as one-half of a responsible General Assembly which formulates the policies and the statutes under which the people of this Commonwealth live.

Mr. SMITH. Mr. Speaker, we on this side of the House heartily agree with the gentleman from Cambria and we thank him for the bouquet he has thrown to us. But I would also like to remind the gentleman that we on this side of the House have acted in the way that we have because of the fact that the gentleman himself and his own party have been very considerate. Their main and primary idea in cooperating with us in the past and our cooperation with them has been on the basis that we are here for the welfare of the people of Pennsylvania. That has been one of the reasons, and I would say the main reason, that we on this side have been generous, because of the decency of Mr. Andrews and the minority Members.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution the yeas and nays were taken and were as follows:

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS HOUSE

Mr. SMITH asked and obtained unanmious consent to address the House.

Mr. Speaker, I have a resolution here that I would like to offer, and I would like to make a brief statement.

One of the Members of the House tomorrow, who is one of my very, very best friends, is having a birthday, and that's the reason for this resolution.

Not only has he been in the past a great Legislator, although I see he isn't sitting in his seat right now—I don't even see him in the hall of the House; but not only has he been a good legislator but he has also been very considerate, I'm sure of all the Members of this House. I have sat here in this chair for a good many years—not as much as the gentleman on the other side—forty—but just a few and I have been looking at a lot of Members. And well, I don't know whether they've been feeling just a little low; but their faces just haven't reflected good humor, and then going back to this gentleman whom I am talking about, they leaned over and whispered in his ear, and he reached in his pocket and pulled out a key. So I don't know if that was a key to a locker or a key to his medicine closet or just what. But I see them come back to these aisles about five minutes later and they are smiling and happy and all their stomach ailments are gone. Now I don't know if he has Alka Seltzer back there, or Tums, or Carter's Little Liver Pills that do the work of calomel without the danger of calomel but whatever it is, he does have a sure cure.

Mr. Speaker I would like to offer this resolution in honor of the absent Mr. Frank Costa.

CONGRATULATIONS

Mr. SMITH offered a resolution which was read, considered and unanimously adopted as follows:

In the House of Representatives, February 27, 1951.

On February 28th of a recent year, though we'll not mention it here, the stork brought a bouncing baby boy to the home of John and Julia Costa. The happy parents were proud and John said "He shall be a leader of his State."

Young Frank attended the public schools of Philadelphia and graduated from the Philadelphia Trades School. He became a general contractor and his career has been marked by constant success.

To prove his profound wisdom, he married Julia C. Palmer, and, together they've brought seven young republicans into the world.

In 1942 the people of Philadelphia vindicated his father's faith, and Frank was sent to the House of Representatives. He has been returned four times.

He became a leader in the House of Representatives. He led his colleagues in progressive legislation, in championing good government, in protecting the rights of the people; and he led them to his well stocked locker in the rear of the house.

He is a generous man. He has been generous with his time and his labor, with his good humor and true friendship, and he has been generous with the key to that locker; therefore be it

Resolved, That the members of the House of Representatives congratulate Frank A. Costa, on this, his day, and express our sincere hope that he will consent to remain with us for 50 years or so; and be it further

Resolved, That the members assemble during recess, at his locker and extend individual congratulations; and be it further

Resolved, That a copy of this resolution be forwarded to Frank A. Costa.

The SPEAKER. The Chair recognizes the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Costa.

Mr. COSTA. Mr. Speaker, I thank my colleague from Philadelphia for that wonderful resolution.

Like all great men, such as that well known fellow, Tommy Dorsey, Abe Lincoln, George Washington, I too, was born in February.

I said something three weeks ago about a report here with reference to the First Aid Station which was organized in 1948. My first session here was in '43 and I started the first First Aid Station at my locker, and it has been gaining ever since.

RESOLUTIONS

Mr. DOUGHERTY offered a resolution which was filed with the Clerk.

Mr. KOLANKIEWICZ offered a resolution which was filed with the Clerk.

PERMISSION TO ADD ADDITIONAL SPONSORS

Mr. McNALLY asked and obtained unanimous consent to add additional sponsors to a bill to be introduced by him.

By Mr. DUNN. RESOLUTION No. 13.

In the House of Representatives, February 27, 1951.

From the inception of the Republic, the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania has always held a commanding leadership among its sister states.

Therefore, the symbolism of a Keystone—to describe this early strategic importance of Pennsylvania—is not merely a rhetorical flourish.

During the critical years that followed the Revolution, when our country was suffering the birth-pangs of a viable existence, the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania truly served as a Keystone to impart strength and stability to the democratic arch of incongruous and loosely joined members that became the United States.

Moreover, this tradition of a Keystone role has evolved throughout the intervening years into a still greater reality. For, today, Pennsylvania with her wealth and productivity, with her industrial and agricultural potential, with her transportation facilities and cultural achievements is not only a Keystone in the architectural pattern of the foremost Nation, but has assumed her rightful preeminence among its many states.

This theme of Pennsylvania's Keystone role should not be slighted, nor suppressed. As a Keystone, Pennsylvania is, indeed, an essential part of the broad span of American ideals and culture that arches the flood of present world unrest; therefore be it

Resolved, That the Keystone as a symbol of Pennsylvania's prestige and prominence reaffirmed; and be it further

Resolved, That this House recommend that the Secretary of Revenue authorize the incorporation of the Keystone in the design of the motor vehicle registration plates to the end that the emblem of the Keystone be widely accepted as symbolic of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania.

Referred to the Committee on Rules.

By Messrs. KOLANKIEWICZ and BYRNE.
RESOLUTION No. 14.

In the House of Representatives, February 27, 1951.

Whereas, The area embracing the twenty-fifth and forty-fifth wards in the city of Philadelphia is both an industrial and residential neighborhood; and

Whereas, The dual nature of such area makes it imperative that industrial establishments take extra precautions to dispose of their waste and rubbins; and

Whereas, Grain elevators in such area in many instances are lax in their housekeeping when they permit the air, streets, and buildings thereof to be contaminated and littered with waste products resulting from their operation; and

Whereas, Such grain dust and grain shells pollutes the air and litters the streets, sidewalks and buildings of the area, causing and aggravating hay fever and similar allergies, and injuring property and its value; and

Whereas, The grain elevators and the Departments of Public Health and Public Safety of the city of Philadelphia do not take any action to curb this nuisance in spite of numerous complaints; now therefore be it

Resolved, (by the House of Representatives), That the State Department of Health is hereby directed to investigate the unsanitary and unsightly nuisance in the twenty-fifth and forty-fifth wards of Philadelphia caused by the careless housekeeping of grain elecators and the lax enforcement of laws by local officials for the purpose of requiring the offenders to take the necessary steps to stop the same to the ends of protecting the health of the persons living and working in such area and eliminating the injury to property and its value therein; and be it further

Resolved, That copies of this resolution be sent to the Secretary of Health of this Commonwealth, and to the Mayor and Directors of the Departments of Health and Public Safety in the city of Philadelphia.

By Mr. DOUGHERTY. RESOLUTION No. 15.

In the House of Representatives, February 27, 1951.

Whereas, The incidence of influenza in Philadelphia is steadily increasing and is assuming epidemiological proportions; and

Whereas, The disease is debilitating and causative of a greatly reduced productive effort and inimical, therefore, to the rearmament program; therefore be it

Resolved, That this House of Representatives shall approve the free distribution of influenza vaccine to all the people of the Philadelphia area; and be it further

Resolved, That this House of Representatives authorize the means whereby the program of said distribution shall be implemented.

Referred to the Committee on Rules.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS HOUSE

Mr. ANDREWS asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the House as follows:

Mr. Speaker, it had been expected that the FEPC bill which the minority will sponsor would be introduced today, and some newspaper releases have gone out to that effect. However, the bill will be introduced on Monday rather than today.

SENATE MESSAGE

UNKNOWN SOLDIER CONTINENTAL ARMY

The Clerk of the Senate being introduced presented an extract from the Journal of the Senate, which was read as follows:

In the Senate, February 27, 1951.

Whereas, A number of unknown soldiers of Washington's Continental Army are buried at Washington Crossing Park in Bucks County;

Whereas, Washington Crossing is associated with the famous Trenton-Princeton campaign, of which the historian Trevelyan wrote, "It may be doubted whether so small a number of men ever employed so short a space of time with greater and more lasting results upon the history of the world;" and

Whereas, These soldiers may have been participants in these first victories after independence was declared; therefore be it

Resolved, (if the House of Representatives concur) That the General Assembly of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania hereby requests the Congress of the United States to arrange for the designation of the grave of one of these unknown soldiers of the Continental Army, buried at Washington Crossing Park in Bucks County, Pennsylvania, as the Tomb of the Unknown Soldier of the War for Independence; and be it further

Resolved, That the Department of Forests and Waters of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania is hereby directed to beautify and improve whatever grave may be so designated in a suitable and appropriate manner.

Ordered, That the Clerk present the same to the House of Representatives for its concurrence.

Referred to the Committee on Rules.

Vol. 32. HARRISBURG, PA., WEDNESDAY, FEBRUARY 28, 1951. No. 16.

HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

WEDNESDAY, February 28, 1951.

The House met at 10:00 a. m.
The SPEAKER (Herbert P. Sorg) in the Chair.

PRAYER

Rev. CHARLES F. TRUNK, Jr., Pastor of Bethlehem Lutheran Church, Harrisburg, offered the following prayer:

Help us, O God, to see in Thee the balance for our smallness and the light for our ignorance. Keep us ever mindful that nothing is done fully and right until it is pleasing to Thee. Therefore, may Thy will be made clear to us, so that we can please Thee rather than men. Give us convictions that are sound and just first; and then give us the courage to live by them, with the help of Him who alone pleased Thee. Amen.

JOURNAL APPROVED

The SPEAKER. Are there any corrections to the Journal of Tuesday, February 27, 1951? If not, and without objection, the Journal is approved.

COMMONWEALTH OF PENNSYLVANIA

Legislative Journal.

Session 1951. 139th of the General Assembly.

Vol. 32. HARRISBURG, PA., MONDAY, MARCH 5, 1951. No. 17.

SENATE

MONDAY, March 5, 1951

The Senate met at 3:00 o'clock, p. m., Eastern Standard Time.

The PRESIDENT (Lieutenant-Governor Lloyd H. Wood) in the Chair.

PRAYER

The Chaplain, Rev. LOUIS LYTLE, Pastor of the First Presbyterian Church, Houtzdale, Pennsylvania, offered the following prayer:

Our Father and our God, we bow humbly and reverently before Thee as we undertake the tasks of this day, that we may have guidance and wisdom in disposing the tasks imposed upon us. May we be faithful to the high trust that is ours.

Wilt Thou strengthen and safeguard our Nation? Let Thy blessing and rich grace be upon us all, and upon our Commonwealth. We pray in the Name of our Lord and Savior, Amen.

JOURNAL APPROVED

The PRESIDENT. A quorum of the Senate being present the Clerk will read the Journal of the preceding session.

The Clerk proceeded to read the Journal of the preceding session, when, on motion of Mr. WALKER and Mr. STIEFEL, further reading was dispensed with, and the Journal was approved.

SENATE CONCURRENT RESOLUTION

BRIDGE OVER SUSQUEHANNA RIVER CONNECTING STATE HIGHWAY SYSTEM IN CUMBERLAND AND DAUPHIN COUNTIES BE DESIGNATED AS THE M. HARVEY TAYLOR BRIDGE

Messrs. HARE and WALKER offered the following resolution which was twice read as follows:

In the Senate, March 5, 1951.

It is fitting that the long and distinguished career of the Honorable M. Harvey Taylor in business life, civic affairs, and legislative activities be duly recognized.

His faithful and constructive services have had a most beneficient influence on the welfare and the prosperity of the Commonwealth; therefore be it

Resolved (if the House of Representatives concur), That the bridge over the Susquehanna River connecting the State highway system in Cumberland County with the system of State highways in Dauphin County, at Foster Street in the City of Harrisburg, be designated as the M. Harvey Taylor Bridge; and be it further

Resolved, That the Department of Highways shall erect along said bridge suitable tablets or markers to perpetuate this resolution.

RULE 39 SUSPENDED

Mr. WALKER. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent that Rule 39, which requires resolutions be referred to an appropriate committee, be suspended and the Senate do now proceed to the consideration of the resolution just read.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection?

The Chair hears none.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the resolution?

Mr. TAYLOR. Mr. President, I desire to be recorded as voting "present" on the resolution.

The PRESIDENT. The gentleman from Dauphin will be so recorded.

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate agree to the resolution?

The resolution was agreed to.

Ordered, That the Clerk present the same to the House of Representatives for concurrence.

SENATE CONCURRENT RESOLUTION

TIME OF NEXT MEETING

Mr. FREED, offered the following resolution, which was twice read, considered and agreed to:

In the Senate, March 5, 1951.

Resolved (if the House of Representatives concur) That when the Senate adjourns this week it reconvene on Monday, March 12, 1951, at three o'clock, p. m., E. S. T.,; and when the House of Representatives adjourns this week it reconvene on Monday, March 12, 1951, at four-thirty o'clock, p m., E. S. T.

Ordered, That the Clerk present the same to the House of Representatives for concurrence.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS SENATE

Mr. DENT asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the Senate.

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, I desire to submit a resolution at this time and I have not had an opportunity to discuss it with the Majority Leader because we were all held up in our caucuses, but the purpose of this resolution is for the enlightenment of the Members of the Senate in order that we may get the truth regarding certain newspaper items that have been published at various times over the State relating to certain contracts and purchases by the Commonwelath through various departments. The purpose of this resolution is to give to us the knowledge that will be absolutely necessary if we are to act intelligently upon the question of departmental confirmation.

Mr. President, if the stories in the newspapers are factual then the Senate ought to know, and the best way and the best information we can get is from the departments who handle the disbursements.

Under the rules of the Senate, it is not allowable for any Member of the Senate to question the integrity or the ability of any man or any person who is up for confirmation publicly and, therefore, in fairness to the individuals or individual who is up for confirmation, or might come up for confirmation, the fair thing to do would be to get the information firsthand and, therefore, I want it clearly understood that this is for the information of the Senate and not a fishing expedition under any set of circumstances.

RESOLUTION REFERRED TO COMMITTEE

REQUESTING THAT THE AUDITOR GENERAL AND STATE TREASURER EXAMINE FILES AND INFORM THE SENATE WHETHER REQUISITIONS FOR THE EXPENDITURE OF FUNDS BY CERTAIN DEPARTMENTS FAILED TO COMPLY WITH LAWS GOVERNING EXPENDITURES OF STATE FUNDS

Mr. DENT offered the following resolution which was twice read as follows:

March 5, 1951.

Whereas, all funds of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania must be expended in the manner provided by law, and

Whereas, department heads are charged with complying with the Constitution in carrying out all laws of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, and

Whereas, the Auditor General and State Treasurer of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania are charged with the duty of examining, auditing and approving requisitions of the various departments for the expenditure of State funds, with certain limited exceptions, and

Whereas, in discharging faithfully its constitutional obligations, it is incumbent upon this Senate to ascertain that the laws of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania are being faithfully followed,

Be It Resolved, That the Auditor General and the State Treasurer of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania be requested, and they are hereby requested, to examine their records and files and inform this Senate whether at any time since January 15, 1947, either of their offices upon receipt of a requisition from the Department of Military Affairs, Department of Forests and Waters, Department of Highways, Department of Revenue, Department of Insurance, has in the first instance failed to approve the requisition for the expenditure of funds by any of such departments, or by a departmental administrative board in any of such departments, due to the opinion of the Department of the Auditor General or Treasury Department that such department or board had failed to comply with the laws governing the expenditure of the State funds being requisitioned.

Be It Further Resolved, That if the Auditor General or State Treasurer has so questioned the legality of any expenditure and has failed initially to approve a requisition of any of the aforementioned departments, or their departmental administrative boards, that the Auditor General or State Treasurer so inform this Senate, stating the Department or Board which sought to make the expenditure, the number of requisition questioned, the date thereof, the Fiscal Officer's reason for questioning the requisition, and the Fiscal Officers' ultimate action upon the requisition.

Be It Further Resolved, In the interest of an expenditious report from the Fiscal Officers, that such report should not contain information referring solely to expense accounts of Commonwealth employees.

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent that Rule 39, which requires resolutions to be referred to an appropriate committee, be dispensed with and the Senate proceed to the consideration of the foregoing resolution.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objections?

Mr. WALKER. Mr. President, I have no desire to impede the work of the Senate in obtaining information, and I wonder if the distinguished gentleman from Westmoreland would bear with me if I would suggest that the resolution which has just been introduced be presented to the Senate Rules Committee so that we can discuss it.

The PRESIDENT. The resolution is referred to the Committee on Rules.

PRESENTATION OF THE HONORABLE JOSEPH R. ZIESENHEIM

The PRESIDENT. The Chair is pleased to note the presence of another very distinguished visitor in our midst today, a former Member of the Senate, the Honorable Joseph R. Ziesenheim, of Erie County. Will you please take a bow?

BILL INTRODUCED AND REFERRED

Mr. WOOD. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent to introduce a bill at this time.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

Mr. WOOD read in place and presented to the Chair Senate Bill No. 289, entitled:

A Joint Resolution proposing an amendment to article two, section four of the Constitution of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania by providing for annual sessions of the General Assembly.

Which was committed to the Committee on Constitutional Changes and Federal Relations.

RECESS

Mr. WALKER. Mr. President, I move that the Senate do now take a recess for five minutes, for a meeting of the Committee on Public Health and Welfare.

Mr. LETZLER. Mr. President, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

AFTER RECESS

The PRESIDENT. The time of recess having elapsed the Senate will be in order.

RESOLUTIONS REFERRED TO COMMITTEE

JOINT STATE GOVERNMENT COMMISSION BE DIRECTED TO STUDY NEED FOR A CONSTITUTIONAL CONVENTION

Mr. McPHERSON offered the following resolution which was twice read and referred to the Committee on Constitutional Changes and Federal Relations:

In the Senate, March 5, 1951.

Whereas, the progress and advances realized since 1874 in every field of endeavor, and affecting every human activity have created problems and difficulties unknown to the constitutional convention of 1874, and

Whereas, The Constitution of Pennsylvania is a statement of the sanction of the people and the authority for our government, and

Whereas, We must know if our new problems have changed that sanction, and a new statement be needed, therefore be it

Resolved (if the House of Representatives concur) That the Joint State Government Commission is hereby directed to study the need for a constitutional convention, with particular regard to whether the preparation of a new constitution, or a revision of the existing constitution would better serve the need of the people and report its findings and conclusions to the next General Assembly together with its recommendations of specific changes to be considered by the General Assembly and by the people.

JOINT STATE GOVERNMENT COMMISSION BE DIRECTED TO STUDY NEED FOR A CONSTITUTIONAL CONVENTION AND THE GOVERNOR APPOINT AN ADVISORY COMMITTEE

Mr. McPHERSON offered the following resolution which was twice read and referred to the Committee on Constitutional Changes and Federal Relations:

SECOND READING CALENDAR

BILLS ON SECOND READING

Agreeably to order.

The rule requiring bills to be considered in committee of the whole being in this case dispensed with,

The Senate proceeded to the second reading and consideration of House Bill No. 1, entitled:

An Act relating to the civil defense of this State and its coordination with national defense, providing for the establishment of a State Council of Civil Defense, local and district councils of civil defense, Mobile Support Units, prescribing the powers, duties and immunities thereof and of their personnel, authorizing mutual aid compacts, and providing penalties.

And said bill having been read at length the second time,

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the bill on second reading?

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, I would like to interrogate the Majority Floor Leader.

The PRESIDENT. Will the gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Walker, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. WALKER. Mr. President, it is always a pleasure.

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, this is the first of a group of bills that deal with the so-called civilian defense legislation, and we have some admendments prepared and we have others that we want to prepare, and we also have some pertinent arguments that we would like to make relating to some of the features of these bills that we are not entirely clear on. However, if the Majority Leader will not raise the objection on third reading for the submission of the amendments, and will permit debate on third reading on the features of the bills themselves, I have no objection to the bills passing second reading at this time.

Mr. WALKER. Mr. President, may I say to the gentlemen, we will be very happy to permit the presentation of any amendments that they might have to this program and, of course, I think both sides understand that the determination as to the fate of the amendments will rest with the decision of the majority of the gentlemen present, but at least we will have a chance to discuss them thoroughly.

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate agree to the bill on second reading?

It was agreed to.

Ordered, To be transcribed for a third reading.

Agreeably to order.

The rule requiring bills to be considered in committee of the whole being in this case dispensed with,

The Senate proceeded to the second reading and consideration of House Bill No. 2, entitled:

And said bill having been read at length the second time and agreed to.

Ordered, To be transcribed for a third reading.

Agreeably to order.

The rule requiring bills to be considered in committee of the whole being in this case dispensed with,

The Senate proceeded to the second reading and consideration of House Bill No. 3, entitled:

An Act authorizing certain political subdivisions to make appropriations for the payment of expenses of local or district councils of civil defense within said political subdivisions and for the protection or preparation for the protection of the health, welfare and safety of the civilian population of said political subdivision during emergencies resulting from air raids, blackouts or sabotage; regulating the manner of payment of expenses of local and district councils of civil defense; authorizing such political subdivisions to borrow money under certain conditions for such purposes; and providing for the repayment thereof.

And said bill having been read at length the second time and agreed to.

Ordered, To be transcribed for a third reading.

Agreeably to order.

The rule requiring bills to be considered in committee of the whole being in this case dispensed with,

The Senate proceeded to the second reading and consideration of House Bill No. 4, entitled:

An Act authorizing the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania to enter into a compact with any other state for mutual helpfulness in meeting any civil defense emergency or disaster.

And said bill having been read at length the second time and agreed to.

Ordered, To be transcribed for a third reading.

Agreeably to order,

The rule requiring bills to be considered in committee of the whole being in this case dispensed with,

The Senate proceeded to the second reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 12, entitled:

An Act relating to alcoholic liquors alcohol and malt and brewed beverages amending revising consolidating and changing the laws relating thereto regulating and restricting the manufacture purchase sale possession consumption importation transportation furnishing holding in bond holding in storage traffic in and use of alcoholic liquors alcohol and malt and brewed beverages and the persons engaged or employed therein defining the powers and duties of the Pennsylvania Liquor Control Board providing for the establishment and operation of State liquor stores for the payment of certain license fees to the respective municipalities and townships for the abatement of certain nuisances and in certain cases for search and seizure without warrant prescribing penalties and forfeitures and repealing existing laws.

And said bill having been read at length the second time and agreed to,

Ordered, To be transcribed for a third reading.

HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

MONDAY, March 5, 1951.

The House met at 4:30 p. m.
The SPEAKER (Herbert P. Sorg) in the Chair.

PRAYER

The Reverend Basil Smochko, Pastor of St. Mary's Greek Catholic Church, Nanticoke, guest of the gentleman from Luzerne, Mr. Najaka, offered the following prayer:

"In the name of the Father and of the Son and of The Holy Spirit. Amen.

"The prosperity of man is in the hand of God, and upon the wise and learned in law, He shall lay His honor." (Ecc. 5-12)

Almighty God, who with Thine ineffable wisdom in unchangeable laws expresses the beauty of the universe; Thou hast made man to Thy own image, with an immortal soul endowed with intelligence and will; the intelligence to comprehend the truth, and the will, that he may attain to his own personal good and that of his fellowmen in the freedom of every endeavor.

This day, we Thy humble servants, elected to promulgate wise and prudent laws, are assembled to so legislate, that the citizens of this great commonwealth of Pennsylvania may know the means to their personal and social progress.

Send them, O Lord, of Thy wisdom. Illuminate their minds with The Holy Spirit, That they may establish fruitful laws for the benefit of the citizens of this state.

Grant unto them strength to achieve perfection in the process of government, that they may serve as an example to all states of the world. Give them light, that they may easily distinguish truth from falsehood, good from evil. Teach them the ways of sacrifice, that they may not to succumb to the imaginary promises of atheistic communism, whose aim is the blackest slavery.

O gracious Lord, grant good health and strength to these Thy sons, our Governor and the Representatives to fulfil their burdensome duties, that they may be pleasing to Thy Holy will and to their fellow citizens of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania and in so doing merit the blessings of their own salvation.

For Thine is the kingdom and the power and the glory of the Father and of the Son and of the Holy Spirit, now and ever, and forever and ever. Amen.

JOURNAL APPROVED

The SPEAKER. Are there any corrections to the Journal of Wednesday, February 28, 1951? If not, and without objection, the Journal is approved.

BILL ON SECOND READING POSTPONED

Agreeably to order,

The bill having been called up from the postponed calendar, by Mr. TAHL

The House resumed the consideration on second reading of House Bill No. 63, entitled:

An Act to further amend the act approved the twelfth day of June one thousand nine hundred thirty-one (P. L. 510) entitled "An act providing for the licensure and regulation of certain private nursing homes and private hospitals conferring certain powers and duties upon the Department of Welfare and providing penalties" including boarding houses and homes within its provisions requiring the Department of Welfare to revoke licenses in certain cases reducing the period in which licenses must comply with department orders and granting the Department of Welfare the power to padlock licensees' premises in certain cases

The first section was read.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the section?

BILL RECOMMITTED

Mr. BOWERS. Mr. Speaker, I move that this bill be recommitted to the Committee on Welfare for the purpose of further study.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the motion?

Mr. TAHL. Mr. Speaker, I desire to interrogate the gentleman from Northumberland, Mr. Bower.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Northumberland permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. BOWER. I shall.

Mr. TAHL. Mr. Speaker, will the gentleman explain his reason for his motion?

Mr. BOWER. Mr. Speaker, the purpose of the motion to recommit is that I have amendments to offer in the Committee that I think will improve the bill.

Mr. TAHL. I have no objections, Mr. Speaker.

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the motion?

It was agreed to.

PERMISSION TO ADD ADDITIONAL SPONSORS

Mr. SWOPE asked and obtained unanimous consent to add additional sponsors to a bill to be introduced by him.

Mr. HOGGARD asked and obtained unanimous consent to add additional sponsors to a bill to be introduced by him.

Mr. SARRAF asked and obtained unanimous consent to add additional sponsors to a bill to be introduced by him.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS HOUSE

Mr. ANDREWS asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the House.

Mr. Speaker, the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Hoggard, has just introduced an FEPC bill, sponsored by himself and others; also approved by the Democratic House Caucus.

We would like very briefly to explain the difference between the bill that has just been introduced and the bill that is now pending in Committee, and for that purpose I beg to yield to the gentleman from Pittsburgh, Mr. Jones.

The SPEAKER. The Chair hears no objection. The Chair recognizes the gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Jones.

Mr. PAUL F. JONES. Mr. Speaker, I wish to thank the Minority leader, and with the kind permission of the gentlemen of the House, would like briefly to state that the FEPC bill that has just been introduced from this side of the House contains in the most part the features of the Brown Bill that was before the House in 1945. It follows along the lines of the recommendations made by the State Council on Fair Employment Practices. It is the result of the combined thinking of all of the groups in this Commonwealth who have been interested in the passage of this type of legislation and who have worked for years to have it written into law upon the statute books of this state.

One of the main features of the bill is that one of the controversial portions of previous bills, the so called penalty clause has received the careful consideration of those of us who are responsible for this bill. You will note when printed copies are distributed to you that the first and second offenses are made summary convictions; only the third offense becomes a misdemeanor. I believe that after you have studied it, you will become convinced that the bill has real and just merit, and we are going to call upon you to give it your careful consideration, and later on when it becomes a subject before this House for final passage, which it is to be hoped that it will, we are going to ask you, in line with the platform pledges of both parties—the turning aside of partisan politics—that this bill will not become the subject of a political maneuver, but that we will keep our pledge to the people of Pennsylvania and write into law a Fair Employment Practices Act in this state.

BILLS ON SECOND READING

The SPEAKER. If there are no objections the Chair will return to bills on Second Reading on page 3 of today's calendar.

The Chair hears none.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the second reading and consideration of House Bill No. 337, entitled:

An Act to amend Section 5 of the act, approved the twenty-fourth day of May, one thousand nine hundred forty-five (Pamphlet Laws 991), entitled "An act to promote elimination of blighted areas and supply sanitary housing in areas throughout the Commonwealth; by declaring acquisition and redevelopment of such areas to be for the promotion of health, safety, convenience and welfare; creating public bodies corporate and politic to be known as Redevelopment Authorities; authorizing them to engage in the elimination of blighted areas and to plan and contract with private, corporate or governmental redevelopers for their redevolopment; providing for the organization of such authorities; defining and providing for the exercise of their powers and duties, including the acquisition of property by purchase, gift or eminent domain; the leasing and selling property, including borrowing money, issuing bonds and other obligations, and giving security therefor; restricting the interest of members and employes of authorities; providing for notice and hearing, supplying certain mandatory provisions to be inserted in contracts with redevelopers; prescribing the remedies of obligees of redevelopment authorities; conferring certain duties upon local planning commissions, the governing bodies of cities and counties, and on certain State officers, boards and departments," by increasing the number of Urban Redevelopment Authorities in cities of the first class and vesting the power of appointment of such members in the Governor.

The first section was read.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the section?

Mr. SCANLON. Mr. Speaker, I desire to interrogate the chairman of the Committee on Cities and Counties—First Class the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Tahl.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Tahl, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. TAHL. I shall, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. SCANLON. Mr. Speaker, I would like to ask the gentleman from Philadelphia if he received requests from the Philadelphia Housing Association, the Greater Philadelphia Movement, The Committee of Seventy, and the C. I. O. for public hearings on House Bill 337, and House Bill 340?

Mr. TAHL. In reply to the gentleman, I would say that when I arrived in Harrisburg today I found all those telegrams, but prior to today I had no knowledge of those telegrams, except the paper did mention there were some telegrams sent out, but I did not know the contents of the telegrams.

Mr. SCANLON. Mr. Speaker, I would like to ask the gentleman if he would object to both of these bills going over?

Mr. TAHL. Mr. Speaker I am not the sponsor of the bills. The sponsor of the bill is Mr. Hamilton, and under the Rules of the House, the sponsor of the bill is in control of the bills.

Mr. SCANLON. Mr. Speaker, I would like to interrogate the sponsor of the bill, Mr. Hamilton of Philadelphia.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Hamilton, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. WILBUR H. HAMILTON. I shall, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. SCANLON. Mr. Speaker, I would like to ask the gentleman from Philadelphia if he would object to these bills being passed over in order for a public hearing to be granted to these organizations in Philadelphia?

Mr. WILBUR H. HAMILTON. Mr. Speaker, I would like to say to the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Scanlon, that during the past ten days—at least the week-end before last—that there has been ample publicity given to these bills in various newspapers in Philadelphia and particularly in some of the local papers. Having received only one telephone call from an average, reputable citizen in the city of Philadelphia, it appears that the majority of the average citizens of Philadelphia are in favor of the fact that they would like to see His Excellency, the Governor, have the right to make the appointments under this bill and also enlarge the Board from five to seven. Therefore, I don't think it is necessary for any public hearings because of what has been expressed in the public press up to this time.

Mr. SCANLON. Mr. Speaker, I would like to ask the gentleman from Philadelphia if he is for home rule.

Mr. WILBUR H. HAMILTON. I would like to reply to the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Scanlon, that I am strongly in favor of home rule in Philadelphia.

Mr. SCANLON. Mr. Speaker, in view of the fact that so many organizations have requested public hearings from the Chairman of the Committee on Cities of the First Class, although he states he just received those telegrams today, and in view of the fact that I think we are going to be in here until June or July, so there is no big hurry and, since these groups who represent the majority of the citizens of Philadelphia, have asked for it it would not be asking too much that a public hearing be granted to them.

I offer the following motion,

MOTION TO RECOMMIT

Mr. SCANLON. Mr. Speaker, I move that this bill be recommitted to the Committee on City and County—First Class, for the purpose of holding a public hearing.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the motion?

Mr. ROSE. Mr. Speaker, I desire to interrogate the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Hamilton.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Hamilton, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. WILBUR H. HAMILTON. I shall, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. ROSE. Mr. Speaker, the gentleman states that he read a series of newspaper articles and editorials with respect to these measures. Did he read them during the last week?

Mr. WILBUR H. HAMILTON. I did, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. ROSE. Mr. Speaker, what was the nature of those articles? Is it not true that most of them were opposed to these measures and that they called for a public hearing so that interested civic organizations and parties could appear to voice their objection to the measures.

Mr. WILBUR H. HAMILTON. Some were along those lines but not too vigorous. As far as that is concerned there was divided opinion, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. ROSE. Was there any editorial comment in any of the Philadelphia newspapers favoring your measure?

Mr. WILBUR H. HAMILTON. There were no editorial comments favoring the measure, however the editorial comments and newspaper articles that appeared were put in regularly during the past ten days, and I would like to reiterate to the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Rose, that I have received but one single telephone call from an average citizen of Philadelphia, despite the editorials and also the various articles that appeared in our daily papers and in some local papers.

Mr. ROSE. May I ask the gentleman from Philadelphia whether he has a copy of the communication that was sent?

Mr. WILBUR H. HAMILTON. Mr. Speaker, my distinguished colleague, the Honorable Herman J. Tahl, handed me a copy of the telegram from City Controller Joseph S. Clark, Jr., but I did not receive any telegram from Controller Clark.

Mr. ROSE. Did you receive any communication from William Fulton Kurtz, Co-Chairman of the Greater Philadelphia Movement?

Mr. WILBUR H. HAMILTON. The communication that I received from Mr. William Fulton Kurtz, from Philadelphia, was a copy of a letter which he sent to the Chairman of the Committee on City and County—First Class, my distinguished colleague the Honorable Herman J. Tahl. That was a copy of that letter sent about a week ago.

Mr. ROSE. Was that communication not received by the gentleman prior to the meeting of the Committee of City and County—First Class when these measures were considered by said Committee?

Mr. WILBUR H. HAMILTON. The copy of the letter from Mr. Kurtz that I received was mailed to my home but I understand a copy, the original copy, that he sent to Mr. Tahl, was sent here to the House of Representatives in Harrisburg and Mr. Kurtz released that letter to the public press before Mr. Tahl had an opportunity to receive or read it.

Mr. ROSE. Did the gentleman not see the story in the Evening Bulletin of Monday, February 26, 1951 wherein the context of the letter sent by William Fulton Kurtz, was printed at length?

Mr. WILBUR H. HAMILTON. Will the gentleman give me the date of that newspaper again?

Mr. ROSE. Monday, February 26th. That is last Monday's.

Mr. WILBUR H. HAMILTON. I did, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. ROSE. So the gentleman had notice of the views of Mr. Kurtz prior to the time this measure was considered in Committees.

Mr. WILBUR H. HAMILTON. Yes, we did.

Mr. ROSE. May I ask the gentleman—I believe I understood him to say in reply to the interrogation by Mr. Scanlon that he is in favor of home rule.

Mr. WILBUR H. HAMILTON. I am very strongly in favor of home rule.

Mr. ROSE. I ask the gentleman too whether he ran as a candidate on the Republican ticket and backed the Republican platform.

Mr. WILBUR H. HAMILTON. I did, and thank the good Lord I was elected.

Mr. ROSE. May I ask the gentleman whether he is familiar with the plank in the Republican platform with respect to local Government?

Mr. WILBUR H. HAMILTON. Yes I am, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. ROSE. May I direct your attention to the Republican platform plank in which they say

"Proper distribution of governmental powers is the only safeguard of liberty. We therefore uphold the right of political subdivisions to self government."

Did the gentleman adhere to that plank of the platform when he ran for public office?

Mr. WILBUR H. HAMILTON. I would like to say this in reply to the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Rose. In House Bills 337 and 340 the specific provision is made that the Governor shall appoint as members of the Authority seven citizens who shall be residents of the City of Philadelphia or the city in which the Authority operates. Those seven citizens to be appointed by His Excellency, The Governor, I assure you will uphold home rule as it should be upheld and not by any false pretense.

Mr. ROSE. Is it the gentleman's understanding that home rule or the principle of self government which the Republican platform, as well as the Democratic platform, espouses, provides for appointment of officials that reside within the county, or that home rule really means that government shall be actually conducted and the power of appointment be in local officials?

The SPEAKER. Does the Chair understand that the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Rose, desires to discuss the merits of the bill? The Chair desires to give latitude to the members in their debate, but would request that the gentleman confine himself to the motion to recommit until such time as the merits of the Bill are properly debatable.

Mr. ROSE. May I withdraw that question please, Mr. Speaker?

The SPEAKER. The gentleman may, and the Chair thanks the gentleman.

Mr. ROSE. Mr. Speaker, I just want to ask one more question.

Did the gentleman see a copy of the telegram that was sent to Herman J. Tahl, Chairman of the Committee on City and County—First Class, by the Honorable Joseph S. Clark, City Controller, Philadelphia?

Mr. WILBUR H. HAMILTON. I did, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. ROSE. May I ask the gentleman if the Mayor of Philadelphia desired to have an opportunity to appear here to discuss this measure would you be willing to have him so appear?

Mr. WILBUR H. HAMILTON. I really do not think it is necessary because I don't know really what is in your mind but that is not necessary inasmuch as since the date of the newspaper that you mentioned, February 26th, the citizens of Philadelphia have had an ample opportunity to study the provisions of these bills, and I am quite certain that the average citizen of Philadelphia is in favor of House Bills 337 and 340.

Mr. ROSE. I thank the gentleman.

Mr. Speaker, preliminarily on the gentleman's motion to recommit this bill, I would like to place into the record a telegram sent to the Honorable Herman J. Tahl, copies of which have been received by me and I suppose other Members. The City Comptroller has said:

> "Have just telegraphed Herman J. Tahl as follows: 'Urge postponement House action ripper bill transferring appointing power to Governor for Philadelphia Housing Authority and Philadelphia Redevelopment Authority. Mayor Bernard Samuel and I should have opportunity to testify in support of home rule principle and against Harrisburg control. Would also like chance to explain constructive program of Philadelphia Housing Authority since Republican organization patronage dispenser, Tito Macchia, was fired and non-political program of Bureau of Municipal Research adopted by Board.' Believe I could satisfy any sincere and objective group that the present size of boards of both Authorities should remain unchanged and that the appointing power should remain in elected representatives of people of Philadelphia."

The gentleman from Philadelphia has stated that a considerable number of articles appeared in the local newspapers pertaining to this measure. I think anyone who has read the articles will agree that most of the articles, certainly the editorial comment, were so phrased as to show that the people of Philadelphia are opposed to any attempt to abrogate the principle of self government under which we have been laboring.

Now this is an extremely important step taken not only in the state of Pennsylvania where all Authorities are locally appointed, but throughout the nation we will find that Authorities are appointed locally, and consequently we feel that the interested civic organizations in Philadelphia who wish to present to the Members of this House their views on the measures that we are considering today should have an opportunity to appear.

I think it is something that is rather reprehensible to have measures so important in nature rushed through this House when there is so little legislation that we can consider at the present time. I think we should afford an opportunity to all the groups that are interested in this type of legislation to appear here and express their views. Consequently, I call upon the Members of the House who are righteous thinking to vote for the motion of the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Scanlon.

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, it appears that once again we have become parties to differences of opinion that occasionally arise among the Philadelphia brethren. It is unfortunate that I, as a rural Member, would have to go to bat on an important measure upon the basis of the knowledge that the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Hamilton, has as to what the people of Philadelphia think, or on the basis of the information the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Rose, has as to what the people of Philadelphia think.

I don't know from the testimony adduced so far what the people of Philadelphia think, but I'd like to have as a Member of this House, and as a rural member, a chance to find out. You know there is a disposition on the part of majorities to say "Let's roll it; let's roll it through." Sometime back we were debating a civil defense measure and at one time in the proceedings there were those who thought the Speaker of the House should roll it through. Now he didn't, and I think we got a better measure.

I would say in all kindness to the gentleman from Philadelphia that if there were less rolling through without regard to what the people think, he wouldn't find himself in his present extremity, and be forced to take refuge from the wrath of the people of Philadelphia, potential wrath and come to this House for protection.

I think we are starting this session on a sour note if we announced by reason of our action, "It doesn't make any difference what the people think; we don't propose to hear them." It has always been my theory that if any representative group, however humble, asked to be heard before a Committee of this House, that they have a right to be heard whether they come from the smallest county within the confines of the Commonwealth or whether they come from the imperial city, the State, even of Philadelphia. If we're going to proceed on the theory that the public be damned, that the only people we want to hear from are the people who have been with us in close political association, we are running into a lot of trouble.

I have here a letter from the C. I. O., signed by its President. Now, some Members may say that in the last election the C. I. O. didn't support us—so the heck with them; but I'll say that's a peculiar theory upon which to base legislation. It isn't fair—it isn't fair to the rural Members that we shouldn't have a right as a Committee of this House to hear what His Honor, the Mayor of Philadelphia, has to say, if anything; what the Chairman of the Board of Directors or Trustees or the members of powerful groups in Philadelphia have to say, if anything, pro or con. Personally, I'd like to see and hear what the advocates of this measure have to say in its favor—why they want it; why they want it—not why the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Hamilton, wants it; but why the people in Philadelphia want it, if they do. And I'd like to hear from the opposition as to why they don't want it. And unless we consult public sentiment to some degree in our law making, we might as well hand the power of action over to two or three people.

We're either a legislature or we're not, and if we're a legislature, the people have a right to be heard, and our enemies have as much right to be heard as our friends.

I'd like to read into the record a letter from the Pennsylvania C. I. O.

> "The Pennsylvania C. I. O. Council respectfully requests that you recall from the floor House Bills Numbers 337 and 340 and that you arrange a public hearing on these highly controversial bills."

There's nothing wrong about that—even from mine enemy.

> "Local Housing Authorities to be effective and successful need local acceptance and necessary autonomy to assure public confidence. This includes the mechanics of locally appointing members of such authority. The Pennsylvania C. I. O. Council is unalterably opposed to the elimination of such necessary local autonomy. These bills provide for political interference from outside the local area. The sole purpose of a local Housing Authority is to provide housing and shelter facilities for people in the area under its jurisdiction. Time is of the essence. Will you please favor us with an early reply."

Now I say to you that whether the C. I. O. was in your corner or in my corner or in the other fellow's corner, it has a right to be heard. And so, it would be judicious action—and I say this in all sincerity to the gentlemen from Philadelphia who comprise the majority party delegation, it would be judicious action, if instead of rolling it, rolling it simply because you have the votes, that you pause, find out what people have to say and then act.

I say to the rural Members that it's simply nonsense, nonsense to become involved on party lines on a subject dealing solely with the principle of good government without having had the opportunity to weigh the merits of the case. Now I don't know whether, after having heard arguments pro and con, I could say definitely that I would support the theory for which Mr. Rose stands. I think I would, but I want to hear the evidence and I hope that any other Member of the House that wants to hear the evidence, that wants to have the case tried, that wants to have the case brought in proper fashion before this tribunal, will vote to send this bill back to Committee, not to be killed; but in order that we may have at our disposal data upon which we can act intelligently.

Mr. WILBUR H. HAMILTON. Mr. Speaker, and Members of the House I would like to reply to the distinguished Minority Leader by saying there will be ample opportunity to express some very interesting views, so I would appreciate it very much if the Members of the House will vote down this motion to recommit the measure.

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the motion?

The yeas and nays were required by Mr. SCANLON and Mr. READINGER.

So the question was determined in the negative and the motion was not agreed to.

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the section?

Mr. ROSE offered the following amendment:

Amend Sec. 1 (Sec. 5), page 4, lines 8, 9 and 10 by striking out the words "except that in cities of the first class the" in line 8 and all of lines 9 and 10.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the amendment?

Mr. WILBUR H. HAMILTON. Mr. Speaker, I will appreciate it very much if the Members will vote down the amendments which were just proposed.

Mr. ROSE. Mr. Speaker, preliminarily I may say that this amendment merely restores to the Mayor the appointive power that he has under the present system. The bill that has been offered by the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Hamilton, has taken away from the Mayor the power to appoint the members of the Redevelopment Authority and has placed that power of appointment in the Governor. It has also increased the membership in the Authority from five as it is presently constituted, to seven members.

May I at this time interrogate the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Hamilton.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Hamilton, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. WILBUR H. HAMILTON. I shall, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. ROSE. Mr. Speaker, may I ask the gentleman whether he feels that by the introduction of this measure he is reflecting upon competency or ability of the present members of the Redevelopment authority of Philadelphia.

Mr. WILBUR H. HAMILTON. No, emphatically no.

Mr. ROSE. Doesn't the gentleman think that the Authority as it has been administered by the five members appointed by the Mayor has been done in good fashion?

Mr. WILBUR H. HAMILTON. I would like to say to the gentleman from Philadelphia, that our distinguished Mayor has been in office since August 1939 and this year that will represent approximately twelve years of service, and I can't understand why the gentleman from Philadelphia seems so kindly disposed toward the Mayor of Philadelphia, whereas for the past ten or twelve years and longer than that they have hammered the Mayor as being a political Mayor.

Mr. ROSE. Does the gentleman himself think the Mayor is a political Mayor?

Mr. WILBUR H. HAMILTON. I think Mayor Samuel has done a most outstanding job for all the citizens of Philadelphia irrespective of their political affiliations.

Mr. ROSE. May I ask the gentleman to tell me how long the Redevelopment Authority has been operating in the City of Philadelphia?

Mr. WILBUR H. HAMILTON. The Redevelopment Authority for approximately five years.

Mr. ROSE. Does the gentleman know when the Federal funds were first turned over to the Redevelopment Authority for use in the redevelopment program?

Mr. WILBUR H. HAMILTON. I am not too sure of the exact date, but it was within that period of time, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. ROSE. Is the gentleman familiar with the work that the Redevelopment Authority is now doing in Philadelphia?

Mr. WILBUR H. HAMILTON. Yes.

Mr. ROSE. Is the gentleman aware of the program that has been setup under the present members of the authority?

Mr. WILBUR H. HAMILTON. You still are referring to the Redevelopment Authority?

Mr. ROSE. That is right.

Mr. WILBUR H. HAMILTON. Yes, I am, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. ROSE. Does the gentleman feel that by the passage of this bill the program would be better administered?

Mr. WILBUR H. HAMILTON. I believe that it would be greatly improved, because in Philadelphia the Redevelopment Authority is going to enter upon a great program and those who are serving as members of the Authority are filling honorary positions. I firmly believe that if the Authority is increased, seven members will be able to share the responsibility and do a far better job for the average citizen of Philadelphia.

Mr. ROSE. The authority has been operating successfully since 1948 with five members. Where would there be an improvement with seven members?

Mr. WILBUR H. HAMILTON. For this reason Mr. Speaker, as the gentleman knows because he is apparently very familiar with the that the authority is just getting ready to go ahead with their first re-development housing project, which means their responsibilities will increase on a manifold basis, and in order to accomplish better management in the interest of the average citizen of Philadelphia it would be far better to share those responsibilities with a larger number of honorary members on the Redevelopment Authority.

Mr. ROSE. May I ask the gentleman what magic is there in the number seven.

Mr. WILBUR H. HAMILTON. It's only a lucky number, as far as I know.

Mr. ROSE. If we were to follow the reasoning of the gentleman perhaps if the membership of the authority would be increased to thirty it would be still more efficient than it would under the number proposed by the gentleman.

Mr. WILBUR H. HAMILTON. I think seven at the present time with the program that is contemplated will be sufficient. If that is enlarged over the years I presume it will require a larger number of men to handle the added responsibilities.

Mr. ROSE. I thank the gentleman.

Mr. Speaker, first I want to point out to the membership of this House that the Redevelopment Authority as it is presently constituted in Philadelphia has as its Chairman Kevy K. Kaiserman, appointed by the Mayor, John P. Crisconi, as Treasurer, Joseph A. McDonough is a member, Dr. Irvin Underhill is a member and Ralph Pitman, formerly City Treasurer, is the final member.

The Redevelopment Authority of course was created by an act of 1945 passed by the Members of this House. In 1948 the first city funds were made available to the Authority. Of course, they were so small in amount that the Authority program could not get under way until October of 1950. I might also point out that the Executive Director of the Authority was Mr. David Walker, who was considered so competent that the Governor appointed him to his Cabinet as Secretary of Labor and Industry.

Since the date of October 1950 when the federal funds were made available to the Authority for which it was set forth they had started work on the poplar program in Philadelphia. This is an area in Philadelphia which is a slum area; they are now actually tearing down slum projects and erecting habitable homes for low income individuals.

Following this they have a program wherein they have made application to the Federal government for approval of three programs, three different projects in the City of Philadelphia. I might point out that the federal authorities, completely satisfied with the work that is being done by the Redevelopment Authority in Philadelphia, have approved the entire three projects that have been submitted to them. It is interesting to note that there are seven projects in all that have been approved by the Federal authorities throughout the nation, and we of Philadelphia have had three redevelopment projects approved.

Now, of course, the main thing to be considered here is this vicious attempt to take away from local officials the power to appoint those that administer the programs that deal with local problems. I was very interested in hearing the gentleman from Philadelphia state that he subscribed to the Republican platform, and one of the planks in that platform, the planks upon which the majority Members of this House were elected, as well as the Governor and the rest of the ticket, called for home rule. It's a shock to the decent people of Philadelphia to see one of the first measures introduced in this House an attempt to take away from our local officials their right to self government. We have felt all along that the Redevelopment Authority had been proceeding at a cautious but a rather good pace since the Federal funds were made available. And we, the minority side from Philadelphia, realizing that the Mayor, who of course is a member of the majority party and who has made all the appointments in Philadelphia, has in this instance done something constructive for the people of Philadelphia.

I was very happy to hear our Minority Leader present to you the argument why we should have a public hearing. The same sentiments that he expressed then could well apply to the principle of home rule. I think particularly you men from the rural districts who throughout the years that I have been serving in this House have been clamoring and fighting for measures of home rule are taking an extreme step backwards, and it is interesting to see that the forces that are opposed to this measure are the forces that have been professing their belief in the principles of home rule.

At this time Mr. Speaker, I wish to read into the record a statement reported in the Philadelphia Inquirer by William T. Morrow, who is Chairman of the Republican party of Philadelphia with respect to the charter which will be submitted to the electorate very shortly.

The Sunday Inquirer of March 4th, discussing the backing of a charter by Mr. Morrow, quotes Mr. Morrow as saying the following: "That the charter itself can be made an instrument for good home rule government." It also says that he added that he was in favor of the charter because it represented home rule, and home rule is a sound basis for good Government. Philadelphia should have it.

In that particular article too the Republican Chairman of Philadelphia County has criticized one of the provisions in the said charter for the following reason, and I quote

> "However the new charter provides in part for government by bureaucracy. Under the proposed charter persons without any responsibility whatsoever to the electorate of Philadelphia are given important duties and functions. The responsibility for our City government must and should be placed only in the hands of those persons who are elected by the people."

Now, Mr. Speaker, the attempt of the majority members from Philadelphia to procure the passage of this legislation certainly is a contradiction of the sentiments expressed by the Chairman of the Republican party of Philadelphia. Its rather anomalous to find that the membership on the other side of the House when they are candidates for public office go around espousing the principles of home rule and telling the electorate how they love home rule, and yet so early in the session, the first measure of any consequence pertaining to Philadelphia is a measure which is designed to take away from the elected local officials of Philadelphia those principles which they have been loudly proclaiming to the roof tops they believe in.

We are perfectly content on this side with the membership of the Redevelopment Authority. The members are competent, decent individuals. Since the federal funds have been made available to them, they have gone at full speed in the program that they set forth, and we expect to see in the not too distant future full evidence of the work that they have been able to do. However if the appointive power is removed from our local officials and placed in the hands of the Governor we will not be able to have the element of local control which we seek and possibly the program may bog down.

We charge the Majority Members from Philadelphia as engaging by the introduction of this measure and voting for this measure, in a bare faced attempt to take away from the people of Philadelphia the rights that they should have to select their own public officials. This is certainly a step in the wrong direction. It is completely contradictory to the practice followed not only throughout Pennsylvania but throughout the nation and I have been reliably informed that there is not a Redevelopment Authority that has been set up throughout the country wherein the members of the Authority are not appointed locally. It is something that we really deplore and I can assure the gentlemen on the other side that the people of Philadelphia are aroused. Every decent civic organization has expressed its opposition. The Bureau of Municipal Research, the Greater Philadelphia Movement, the labor organizations, as well as the newspapers are anxious to retain the present control as set forth in the bill and the law as presently in existence. This is a bare-faced political attempt to steal away from and to deprive the local officials of Philadelphia of the right of control that they have. It is certainly an indication on the part of the majority Members from Philadelphia and from throughout the State that they have no confidence in local officials in Philadelphia; that they have no confidence or faith in the capabilities and the competency of Philadelphians.

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, we will want a roll call on these amendments and I suggest that we use the roll call that we just had. I suggest that, because I really, from the standpoint of politics don't want any of the Members of the majority party to wiggle off of this hook. Those who have elected to stand with this body of death represented by the forces back of this bill should be compelled to continue standing where they have elected to stand now. As a matter of good government, I would like to see this bill defeated; as a matter of pure partisan politics, I would like to see it go over.

Now, we've had the unusual experience of being enrolled in an appreciation club, an appreciation club in order that we may show our appreciation of the gentleman from Philadelphia and his abilities in the organization that he represents. As a matter of appreciation, we're to support this bill, and please, gentlemen, I would appreciate it, Members of the House, if you would support this measure.

Well, I appreciate the gentleman from Philadelphia, I appreciate the hole he's in, I appreciate the orders under which he's operating and I appreciate the situation in which the rural Members of this House find themselves—they're hooked by a caucus majority. I have noticed that on the lineup for this measure some of the distinguished Members on the other side have been conspicuous by their absence from the firing line. We've had one voice in defense of it—we've had many votes. Gentlemen, you are hooked; go through with it. The people of Philadelphia will decide the issue. So, if it pleases the House, we'll use the previous roll call on these amendments.

Mr. WILBUR H. HAMILTON. Mr. Speaker, I would like to say to the distinguished, capable Minority Leader that I hope that I always play the role of a gentleman and express my appreciation for things that benefit the average citizen of Philadelphia and also the average citizen of Pennsylvania. If I made a mistake in parliamentary procedure by saying I will appreciate it, I want to apologize to the Minority Leader because being a freshman legislator I will probably make a number of mistakes as far as the book is concerned; but from my heart I hope I don't make any mistakes.

In answer to Mr. Rose, I would like to say this: I didn't know he was going to bring up the City Charter. I didn't know that he would quote our very able leader, Mr. William K. Morrow in his recent article concerning the City Charter Commission. There are some very reputable newspaper men here from Philadelphia and I read the comment after the very fine gentleman, Mr. James A. Finnegan, the leader of their party, issued a statement on the City Charter, saying that the organizations are only giving it lip service. They're not sincere when it comes to a question of home rule. To avoid any question about home rule, certain citizens of Philadelphia will be appointed by the Governor, and the idea of these two bills is to place the appointive powers in the hands of the Governor. The amendment that is offered would destroy this bill.

Now if I am supposed to use stronger terms, Mr. Minority Leader, I would like to ask the Members of this House to vote down this amendment.

Mr. ROSE. Mr. Speaker, in reply to the gentleman's comments upon the stand of both city leaders in Philadelphia on the charter, I hope that the gentleman feels that Mr. Morrow was sincere. The reason I quoted from his comments was that I felt he was sincere in uttering such statements, and the reason Mr. Morrow said that he was in favor of the charter was because he believed in home rule. Of course, the action of the Members on the other side in voting on this amendment will show whether they believe in home rule and whether Mr. Morrow was sincere.

Insofar as the stand taken by Mr. Finnegan is concerned, I think most people will agree that he has been in the forefront of the fight for a city charter, in spite of the fact that there might be some provisions in the charter that he personally is not interested in. I think his public declarations would indicate that he is strongly in favor of the charter, and the charter, of course, is the main step now being taken to bring to the people of Philadelphia greater elements of home rule.

This particular measure that's been introduced by the gentleman from Philadelphia is a step to remove from the citizens of Philadelphia the power of home rule, and it is for that very reason we are opposed to the measure. We are not opposed to the measure for any other reason. We may even grant that there might be some justification in increasing the membership of the Authority, but when you remove from the locally elected officials the power of appointment, you certainly are not following the principles of home rule that you are espousing. For that reason, Mr. Speaker, I'm asking all those who believe in home rule to vote for the amendment.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the second reading and consideration of House Bill No. 340, entitled:

An Act to amend Section 5 of the act, approved the twenty-eighth day of May, one thouand nine hundred thirty-seven (P. L. 955), entitled, as amended, "An act to promote public health, safety, morals, and welfare by declaring the necessity of creating public bodies, corporate and politic, to be known as housing authorities to engage in slum clearance, and to undertake projects, to provide dwelling a commodations for persons of low income; providing for the organization of such housing authorities; defining their powers and duties; providing for the exercise of such powers, including the acquisition of property by purchase, gift or eminent domain, the renting and selling of property, and including borrowing money, issuing bonds, and other obligations, and giving security therefor; prescribing the remedies of obligees of housing authorities; authorizing housing authorities to enter into agreements, including agreements with the United States, the Commonwealth, and political subdivisions and municipalities thereof; defining the application of zoning, sanitary, and building laws and regulations to projects built or maintainer by such housing authorities; exempting the property and securities of such housing authorities from taxation; and imposing duties and conferring powers upon the State Planning Board, and certain other State officers and departments," by increasing the number of members of housing authorities in cities of the first class and vesting the power of appointment of such members in the Governor.

The first section was read.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the section?

Mr. SCANLON. Mr. Speaker, on the previous discussion on House Bill 337 the gentleman on the other side of the House wanted to give us the impression that very few people requested a public hearing on this bill. I would like to reiterate, the Philadelphia Housing Authority, the Greater Philadelphia Movement, the Committee of Seventy, the CIO, and the AFL organizations in Philadelphia, representing about 500,000 people, requested a public hearing on House bill 340.

MOTION TO RECOMMIT

Mr. SCANLON. Mr. Speaker, I move that this bill be recommitted to the Committee on City and County—First Class for the purpose of holding a public hearing.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the motion?

So the question was determined in the negative and the motion was not agreed to.

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the section?

Mr. ROSE offered the following amendments:

Amend Sec. 1 (Sec. 5), page 5, line 1, by striking out the bracket before the word "mayor"

Amend Sec. 1 (Sec. 5), page 5, line 3, by striking out "] Governor shall appoint seven members to"

Mr. WILBUR H. HAMILTON: I have been in conversation with some of my colleagues. What is this the amendment you just presented?

Mr. ROSE. In reply to the gentleman may I state that this amendment proposes to take the power away from the Governor as set forth in the gentleman's bill, and of course, cuts down the number from seven to five, placing the power of appointment of two of the members with the Mayor of Philadelphia and the power of appointment of two other members in the City Controller of Philadelphia County, and of course the four members so appointed shall appoint the additional member.

Mr. WILBUR H. HAMILTON. Mr. Rose is very kindly disposed to his Honor the Mayor of Philadelphia which kindly disposition has not been displayed or demonstrated in the last ten or twelve years in our great city. This idea would defeat the appointive power of the Governor and destroy the bill, and I ask the Members of the House to vote down the amendment.

Mr. ROSE. Mr. Speaker, I desire to interrogate the gentleman from Philadelphia.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Hamilton, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. WILBUR H. HAMILTON. I shall, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. ROSE. Will the gentleman tell up who are the members of the present Housing Authority?

Mr. WILBUR H. HAMILTON. There are two members appointed by the Mayor of Philadelphia, Mr. Phillip Sterling, Mr. John Dean; there are two members appointed by the Democratic City Controller of Philadelphia, Mr. Walter Phillips, the Honorable James J. McDevitt and the fifth member is selected by the four members of the Housing Authority who is Mr. P. Blair Lee.

Mr. ROSE. Is the gentleman familiar with the members of housing units which have been setup since the authority has been in operation in Philadelphia?

Mr. WILBUR H. HAMILTON. There are quite a large number of housing units to accommodate many of our splendid citizens of Philadelphia, yes.

Mr. ROSE. Is the gentleman familiar with the six year program which has been promulgated by the Authority?

Mr. WILBUR H. HAMILTON. I am, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. ROSE. Does the gentleman know that under the six year program the Authority contemplates the erection of 20,000 additional housing units.

Mr. WILBUR H. HAMILTON. That is exactly why, and the principal reason for having the membership of the Authority enlarged from five to seven, is to enable the members of the Housing Authority to share their responsibility so that they will be able to do a far better job than they have been doing for the benefit of the veterans of Philadelphia who deserve living quarters and also for the low income families of our city.

Mr. ROSE. With respect to the program does the gentleman know that there were a series of hearings held in Philadelphia at which interested parties could appear for and against any of the proposed projects considered by the authority?

Mr. WILBUR H. HAMILTON. I heard about a few of them, yes, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. ROSE. Did the gentleman himself attend any of those meetings?

Mr. WILBUR H. HAMILTON. I would like to say to the gentleman from Philadelphia and to the Members of this House I have joined with more than 750 citizens from my own home district who are strongly in favor of home rule and honest home rule in connection with those hearings of the Philadelphia Housing Authority.

Mr. ROSE. Did not the gentleman oppose the Green Valley Country Club project that was being considered by the authority?

Mr. WILBUR H. HAMILTON. I responded to the call of our people in the 21st Ward in the 14th Legislative District and especially to the owner of the Green Valley Country Club that the Housing Authority wanted to select. The attorney, one of the most reputable attorneys of Philadelphia, representing the owner of the Green Valley Country Club, told the members of the Housing Authority and the citizens of the 21st Ward in the 14th Legislative District that they were interfering with private enterprise. On that particular site at the present time the owners of the Green Valley Country Club already have in progress 600 to 700 new homes that the average person in our city will be able to purchase with due financing arrangements. Mr. Mason, the attorney for the estate reiterrated over and over again that if the Housing Authority would try to confiscate that ground they would have to go through condemnation proceedings and it would require several years. On that particular site the veterans of Philadelphia, the low income groups of Philadelphia, the people who are entitled to housing would not even see a housing project for perhaps four or five years, and certainly under this 200 million contemplated program of the Housing Authority the veterans want to see some action before a period of five years has elapsed on account of legal technicalities. I am quoting for the record and Mr. Rose, I know will say to this House that Mr. Mason did tell the members of the Housing Authority exactly what I am saying to the membership of this House.

Mr. ROSE. As a result of the opposition of the gentleman and the people in whose behalf you appeared, the Housing Authority did not approve that project, is that not so?

Mr. WILBUR H. HAMILTON. If they didn't, as far as I know, there has been no official notification to the citizens of our committee by the members of the Housing Authority or anyone else acting in an official capacity.

Mr. ROSE. Were you dissatisfied with the hearing given to you by the members of the Authority as presently constituted?

Mr. WILBUR H. HAMILTON. The hearings were entirely satisfactory and I would like to say to the gentleman from Philadelphia that the members of the Housing Authority who were present at the hearing,—there were four as I remember, were very complimentary to the citizens of our community for the manner in which they presented vital facts, why they did not see that a housing project should be located in the Green Valley Country Club when there are throughout the City of Philadelphia many, many blighted areas where the Housing Authority could do a tremendous job for the benefit of those people.

Mr. ROSE. So that the authority, selected by local officials, functions properly and has been functioning properly in the City of Philadelphia at the present time?

Mr. WILBUR H. HAMILTON. Do you mean that they grant a public hearing?

Mr. ROSE. No, I mean, doesn't the Housing Authority selected by the Mayor, the Controller, and of course the other member selected by the members so appointed, operate efficiently and competently at the present time in Philadelphia?

Mr. WILBUR H. HAMILTON. Mr. Rose, since the dual appointive power was enacted, allowing the Mayor to appoint two members, allowing the Controller to appoint two members, and the fifth member to be chosen by the four appointed members, there has been constant bickering, turmoil, dissention and contention, that has interfered with the progress of the Housing Authority in Philadelphia, and veterans and low income groups have not seen able to get satisfactory living quarters because of the changes brought about by appointments.

The gentleman from Philadelphia knows that just within recent months the former Controller of Philadelphia dismissed certain members. The new Controller of Philadelphia then dismissed those members and reappointed new ones. So consequently it has been the veterans of Philadelphia, the low income groups of Philadelphia who deserve a better place to live, who have been the victims of the dual appointive power in Philadelphia, and the only way that can be corrected is to have a harmonious spirit in the Authority, and that can be brought about only by one appointive power, His Excellency The Governor.

Mr. ROSE. Do I understand the gentleman's chief objections to the present setup are that he is opposed to dual appointive authority?

Mr. WILBUR H. HAMILTON. I am opposed to dual appointive authority for the reasons that I have just explained to the Members of this House, because it has brought about nothing but dissention and bickering and it has interfered with veterans and low income groups. I would like to say this, many of them, Mr. Rose, and you have had it as well as I have had it—fathers, heroes of World War II have been in your home and mine with their wives, with their children, and they have pleaded and cried for a place in which to live. Under this $200 million program we had better have a more harmonious spirit in our Philadelphia Housing Authority for the heroes of World War II, or the low income families will be reminded that even the Son of God was told by the innkeeper "there is no room for you in the inn." They don't ask anything palatial; they just want comfortable living quarters to accommodate their very splendid families. If this $200 million program is going to succeed for those people who need living quarters so much, we had better have harmony in the membership of the Housing Authority, which can only be brought about by one appointive power, His Excellency the Governor.

Mr. ROSE. I am to assume then that if the appointive power were vested in one individual the gentleman would be satisfied.

Mr. WILBUR H. HAMILTON. Satisfied because it would create a more harmonious spirit in the membership of the Philadelphia Housing Authority.

Mr. ROSE. Well now actually, Mr. Hamilton, since P. Blair Lee has been elected chairman of the Housing Authority there has not been any evidence of any bickering, has there?

Mr. WILBUR H. HAMILTON. We have not seen much action so far, Mr. Rose, as far as homes are concerned so that our veterans and low income families can move in. We haven't seen much action.

The SPEAKER. The gentlemen are requested to address their remarks to the Chair. The Chair recognized the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Rose.

Mr. ROSE. Mr. Speaker, I was a little bit amused to see the gentleman make some comments upon our being satisfied with individuals who are administering programs in Philadelphia who have been selected by majority party representatives,—in this case, of course the Mayor.

It may be true that in some instances in Philadelphia we are dissatisfied by the type of men that have been appointed. Some of us may feel too that we could have selected more competent individuals in our own ranks to represent the Democratic party in various bodies of the city, but we are perfectly frank and candid in saying that the people of Philadelphia, both Republicans and Democrats and particularly the leaders of the Democratic party are satisfied with the Authority including the members selected by the Mayor of Philadelphia, who is not a member of our party.

Now who do we have on the Board in Philadelphia?

Philip Sterling, who is one of the ablest members that ever trod these legislatives halls. He has been interested in the civic projects for many years, and I say to you frankly that we of the Democratic party in Philadelphia are satisfied with the type of work he is doing on the Housing Authority.

John Dean, who is also an appointee of the Mayor, is satisfactory to the members of the Democratic party as a member of the Housing Authority.

Walter Phillips, who was head of the Philadelphia Housing Authority has earned a nation-wide reputation for the fine work he has been doing in behalf of low income group housing projects.

James McDevitt, an able labor leader who has been constantly fighting for the underprivileged who are most affected, of course, by the Housing Authority program, is one who has earned the commendation of all who know the type of work he has been doing on the Authority.

P. Blair Lee, who has been selected by the four members I have just enumerated, is the President of The Western Savings Fund Society in Philadelphia, a competent, able banker, who since his election to the chairmanship has eliminated the bickering about which the gentleman complains, and has restored harmony.

I think the gentleman, if he were at all aware of the situation as it existed in the Authority will agree that since the removal of Tito Macchia, who was a bone of contention, the Authority has been going ahead full blast with an excellent program.

Now I am very happy to see that there are people interested in the plight of persons in Philadelphia who cannot afford high rentals. The Housing Authority program is designed to make available for low income groups, including the veterans of whom the gentleman spoke, adequate, decent housing accommodations. It was for this reason that the Housing Authority was established, and it was for this reason that they received large amounts of federal funds.

We on this side are certainly concerned with the plight of the veterans and of the other people who cannot afford high rentals. It is for this reason that we are opposing this measure because we do not wish to see this program bog down. We do not wish to remove from the hands of the local appointive authorities the power to select men who are certainly going to be far more capable of understanding the needs of the people of Philadelphia than are men who have been selected from some source not subjct to the will of electorate in Philadelphia.

I want to say one thing in closing. Politically, as the Minority Leader has stated, we should keep quiet. I think the passage of this bill will cause such indignation among the decent thinking people of Philadelphia that they will show their resentment this coming November and get rid of the City Hall gang that is behind this measure. Anybody at all familiar with the history of this thing knows full well that the City Hall gang has had this measure introduced in this House, that they have been the ones in spite of the fact that they profess their love for home rule who have been smashing away at the attempt to insure adequate home rule in Philadelphia; that they are merely supporting this legislation for the purpose of depriving the citizenry of Philadelphia of the control which they need over such an important administrative agency within the city. It's a sad commentary when the majority party in Pennsylvania, when the lawmakers of that party convene here in Harrisburg, and attempt to take away from a city established as was Philadelphia, its right of self government and home rule. It is astounding to us to see this barefaced attempt to deprive Philadelphians of the power to conduct their own affairs.

We of the minority party are interested in good government in Philadelphia. I think our record throughout the years has shown where we stand on these issues, and we have consistently supported those measures which are designed to bring to the people of Philadelphia a decent government. We have also consistently followed our party platform and I point out to you Members on the other side, this is the first evidence that you are breaking a pledge in your own platform. I am hoping that we will not see any further evidence of it as the session goes on, but if this is to be taken as a precedent, you might as well tell the people of Pennsylvania now that you have not lived to your party platform, that you don't intend to live up to the party platform, and that the voters of Pennsylvania have been suckers. I can tell you that the people of Philadelphia will not be suckers. The civic organizations in Philadelphia do not want to have taken away from the elected officials of Philadelphia the authority to appoint men who administer important programs. The fact that it is taken away and given to any other local official, and I do recognize the fact that the Governor possibly would appoint competent men to the office—that's not what we're complaining about. I assume that the Governor would be sincere in his appointments and would appoint competent men; he might appoint the very same men who are administering the program today, but if he were not to do so, there would be removed from the local officials the power that is vested in them. Here in Philadelphia William Penn first laid out a city; Franklin and our other great patriots met and drew up the first principles of home rule which have been the banner and the cornerstone of our form of government. You are now trying to take away in this measure the first of what I consider to be a series of measures which will deprive Philadelphians of the right of self government.

I tell you now, that the people of Philadelphia will this coming November show their resentment of this step. You may rue the day that this measure was ever introduced here, and for the life of me, from a political viewpoint, I can't see why it was; because this is placing into the coffin of the Republican Party the first nail. If you wish to see home rule continued in Philadelphia, you will vote against this measure. If you want to play the same brand of partisan politics that have aroused the people of Philadelphia in the last two elections, continue to vote for this type of legislation and you will continue to see the resentment expressed at the polls.

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the amendments?

So the question was determined in the negative and the amendments were not agreed to.

On the questions recurring,

Will the House agree to the section?

Mr. ROSE offered the following amendments:

Amend Sec. 1 (Sec. 5), page 5, line 1, by striking out the bracket before the word "mayor"

Amend Sec. 1 (Sec. 5), page 5, line 1, by inserting a bracket before the word "two" where it appears the first time in said line

Amend Sec. 1 (Sec. 5), page 5, line 3, by striking out "Governor shall appoint seven members to" and inserting in lieu thereof: "all of the members of."

On the question,

Will the House agree to the amendments?

Mr. ROSE. Mr. Speaker, I offer this following amendment and it provides that the power of appointment of the members of the Housing Authority of Philadelphia shall be vested in the Mayor alone.

There were some comments made upon the fact that there was a great deal of bickering and confusion as a result of the splitting of the authority of appointment. We are quite satisfied in having the Mayor of Philadelphia, who was not a member of our Party, make the appointments. It was merely an attempt to show that we are interested in home rule, that we are confident of the abilities of the people of Philadelphia and their duly elected officials to work out their own destiny, and we don't care whether the authority is split or whether such authority lies in the hands of one particular individual. I think it will answer the objections voiced by the gentleman on the other side as to the splitting of authority, and we're asking now that the power of appointment be taken away from the Governor as proposed in the measure offered by the gentleman, and placed solely in the hands of the Mayor of Philadelphia.

Mr. WILBUR H. HAMILTON. Mr. Speaker, again I want to say to Mr. Rose that he certainly is very friendly toward His Honor, the Mayor of Philadelphia; but such an amendment would destroy the idea of the appointive power in the hands of the Governor and so far as this amendment is concerned it would destroy the bill. So, I ask the Members of the House to vote down the amendment.

Mr. ROSE. Mr. Speaker, I hold no brief for the Mayor of Philadelphia, but as I indicated before, I think the Mayor has made some excellent appointments insofar as the Housing Authority is concerned at the present time. But the point that you should bear in mind in voting on this measure is, that you are voting against home rule and the power of self government if you vote against these amendments, and that you are voting to continue and to preserve home rule if you vote in favor of said amendments.

COMMONWEALTH OF PENNSYLVANIA

Legislative Journal.

Session 1951. 139th of the General Assembly.

Vol. 32. HARRISBURG, PA., TUESDAY, MARCH 6, 1951. No. 18.

SENATE

TUESDAY, March 6, 1951

The Senate met at 3:00 o'clock, p. m., Eastern Standard Time.

The PRESIDENT (Lieutenant-Governor Lloyd H. Wood) in the Chair.

PRAYER

The Chaplain, Rev. LOUIS LYTLE, Pastor of the First Presbyterian Church, Houtzdale, Pennsylvania, offered the following prayer:

We stand humbly before Thee, O God, in reverent and earnest supplication, invoking Thy divine presence and blessing as we again assemble. We remember that Thou art our God and keeper, that Thou hast allotted us our days and made us stewards of our time and opportunities. May we use and not abuse them.

Conscious of our weaknesses, needs and errors, we pray for strength, help and pardon. Conscious that we must answer to Thee and to our constituents, we pray for the courage to do that which is honorable and right always. May Thy spirit control our thoughts, our words and our deeds. May we be bigger than our differences. May we seek the will of God and do it.

Safeguard and keep those who govern and are governed. Wilt Thou lead us to speedy victory in the strifes of today? In the name of Christ Jesus, our Lord, we pray, Amen.

JOURNAL APPROVED

The PRESIDENT. A quorum of the Senate being present the Clerk will read the Journal of the preceding session.

The Clerk proceeded to read the Journal of the preceding session, when, on motion of Mr. WALKER and Mr. STEVENSON, further reading was dispensed with, and the Journal was approved.

lieving the parents, guardians, and trustees of such minors from any liability therefor, unless joining therein," authorizing minor spouses of certain service men to join in the execution of certain contracts, and prohibiting the disaffirmance of such contracts on the grounds of minority.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS SENATE

Mr. WADE asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the Senate.

Mr. WADE. Mr. President, I am reporting from the Committee on Insurance Senate Bill No. 140 as amended, and for the benefit of the Members of the Senate, and particularly the Members of the Insurance Committee, this bill was reported out without Committee action, the reason being that the bill was prepared by the Insurance Department. We now find that so many amendments are necessary that the only sensible way to read it is to reprint it, and I assure the Members that a motion will be made to re-refer it to the Insurance Committee.

REPORTS FROM COMMITTEES

Mr. WADE, from the Committee on Insurance, reported as amended, Senate Bill No. 140, entitled:

An Act to further amend the act approved the seventeenth day of May, one thousand nine hundred twenty-one (P. L. 682), entitled "An act relating to insurance; amending, revising, and consolidating the law providing for the incorporation of insurance companies, and the regulation, supervision, and protection of home and foreign insurance companies, Lloyds associations, reciprocal and interinsurance exchanges, and fire insurance rating bureaus; and the regulation and supervision of insurance carried by such companies, associations, and exchanges, including insurance carried by the State Workmen's Insurance Fund; providing penalties; and repealing existing laws," by further regulating investments of insurance companies.

Mr. ROSENFELD, from the Committee on State Government, reported as amended, Senate Bill No. 204, entitled:

An Act to amend Section 4 of the act approved the second day of May, one thousand nine hundred twenty-nine (P. L. 1513), entitled "An act regulating the construction, equipment, maintenance, operation, and inspection of boilers; granting certain authority to and imposing certain duties upon the Department of Labor and Industry; providing penalties for violations of this act; and repealing all acts or parts of acts inconsistent with this act," by providing for initial inspection of boilers not inspected during construction.

He also, from the Committee on Judiciary General, reported as amended, Senate Bill No. 209, entitled:

An Act to further amend Section 1 of the act, approved the eleventh day of June, one thousand eight hundred seventy-nine (P. L. 147), entitled "An act fixing the compensation of persons called to service as coroner's jurors in this Commonwealth," by increasing the compensation of coroner's jurors and authorizing the payment of mileage.

RESOLUTION

CONDOLENCE OF SENATE EXTENDED TO RELATIVES OF REV. THOMAS F. COAKLEY

Messrs. WALKER and BARR offered the following resolution which was twice read, considered and agreed to:

In the Senate of Pennsylvania,, March 6, 1951.

Once again, death has ended the earthly career of one of the most illustrious sons of the Catholic Church in America. The Rev. Thomas F. Coakley succumbed to a lingering heart ailment on March 5th, 1951, His activities throughout a span of seventy-one years are a veritable catalog of the rise of a struggling boy from the rags of an impoverished youth to the adult fame and influence of a noted theologian, an outstanding educator, and a memorable builder.

His early education at Brigid's parochial school and the Holy Ghost College was acquired while working in other capacities to sustain a meagre economic existence.

His subsequent training at the American College and the University of Propaganda in Rome culminated in his ordination as a priest in 1907. Upon his return to the United States, he became successively secretary to Bishop Canivan, head of the De Paul Institute, and founder of the Catholic Truth Society.

With the outbreak of World War I, Dr. Coakley served sixteen months as an army chaplain with the One Hundred Forty-eighth Machine Gun Battalion during their combat assignment.

Father Coakley was a diligent student of church architecture during his European years. The experience and knowledge thus obtained came to magnificent fruition in his design of the Sacred Heart Church in Pittsburgh in which are embodied all of those inspiring Gothic features that have made it a prototype of ecclesiastical dignity and beauty everywhere.

The later additions of the impressive elementary school, the charming convent, and the unfinished girls' high school to the Sacred Heart group are enduring monuments to his architectural interests and his creative abilities.

Although Father Coakley was always lavish in bestowing exquisite embellishment upon his church, yet his personal life was abstemious and frugal in every respect.

His only wealth was the gathered wisdom of the years and became the prolific source of his fearless and uncompromising attitude toward every controversial question, ranging from his beloved Catholic principles through tense labor relations to international policy.

His versatility of experience, his dedication to the grandeur of his church, his personal simplicity, his undaunted convictions about a variety of subjects, and his commanding theological position became the finest tribute to his full and fruitful life and an inestimable heritage to his many friends and parishioners; therefore be it

Resolved, that this Senate express its profound sorrow at the passing of a truly great man, whose deeds in behalf of others will long outrun the memory of those now living; and be it further

Resolved, That the Chief Clerk of the Senate be directed to transmit copies of this resolution to the surviving relatives of Father Coakley—his sister-in-law, Mrs. John A. Coakley of Cleveland, and to his nine nieces and nephews.

THIRD READING CALENDAR

BILL ON THIRD READING AMENDED

Agreeably to order,

The Senate proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 1, entitled:

An Act relating to the civil defense of this State and its coordination with national defense providing for the establishment of a State Council of Civil Defense local and district councils of civil defense Mobile Support Units prescribing the powers duties and immunities thereof and of their personnel authorizing mutual aid compacts and providing penalties

And said bill having been read at length the third time,

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the bill on third reading?

Mr. WALKER. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent, at this time, to offer amendments to House Bill No. 1, Printer's No. 20, and move their immediate adoption, and may I say for the information of the gentlemen of the Senate that if these amendments are adopted by a majority of the Senate, I shall request that the bill remain on the third reading calendar, so it will appear on tomorrow's calendar, as amended, for the consideration of the Senate.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

The Clerk read the amenments as follows:

Amend Section 7, page 13, line 5, by inserting after the word "authorized" and before the word "to" the following: "in the event of an extreme emergency as proclaimed by the Governor for the entire State or one or more political subdivisions;" amend Section 7, page 13, line 13, by inserting at the beginning of the line after the word "funds" the following: "The proclamation or proclamations herein referred to shall be in addition to the proclamation mentioned in section two of this act."

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the amendments?

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, I would like to interrogate the gentleman from Allegheny, Senator Walker.

The PRESIDENT. Will the gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Walker, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. WALKER. It is always a pleasure, Mr. President.

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, I would like to inquire of the gentleman from Allegheny, Senator Walker, is it your purpose with these amendments to try to clarify the meaning and definition of "emergency"?

Mr. WALKER. Mr. President, that would have to be answered, of course, in the affirmative, so that there is no misunderstanding of when an emergency exists.

Mr. President it was the thought of the proponents of the amendment to make certain that the emergency referred to would be one of such national scope as is contemplated by a national proclamation as well as a proclamation by the Chief Executive of the Commonwealth, and so that the political subdivisions, for example, any borough council or township supervisor would have the opportunity of knowing exactly when the additional responsibility entrusted to them by this Act could be exercised within a degree of safety.

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, the purpose of the amendment, I am sure, is agreed to by the Members on this side of the Senate. We have from the very beginning stated that the word "emergency" has never been defined, and I do believe that an attempt is being made here to clarify that situation and we are in accord with that.

Mr. President, I would like to further interrogate the gentleman from Allegheny, Senator Walker.

The PRESIDENT. Will the gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Walker, permit himself to be further interrogated?

Mr. WALKER. I refuse to be discouraged, Mr. President. It is always a pleasure.

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, I would like to inquire of the gentleman from Allegheny, Senator Walker, do you have in mind any other amendments to that particular section at this time?

Mr. WALKER. Not at the moment, Mr. President.

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, I call the attention of the Senate to the fact that this is the section of the defense bills dealing with local expenditures and dealing with the right of local municipalities to create funds by any legal means to meet a present or anticipated emergency.

Now, Mr. President, the clarification of what an emergency is by the proclamation of the Governor in conjunction with the Federal proclamation of the same is very good. However, the real problem to be resolved here in the Senate today, in my opinion, would call for another amendment putting a limitation upon the funds to be expended without some restraint placed upon the expenditures of funds over a maximum amount, either by the Governor as the Commander-in-Chief, or the Defense Council as it is so constituted by the passage of this Act. I do believe that the amendment is incomplete unless we do put into it an amendment along that line, and I would ask the indulgence of the Majority to make a note, as we go through the bills, that we are trying to present to the Senate our position in this matter, based upon a study of the legislation and with the desire to put upon the books a good piece of defense legislation, strictly on a bi-partisan basis if we can.

We are not interested in getting credit or taking credit from anybody, and that is why we are not in any way attempting to present the amendments. We would rather they come from the Majority side which then would give the people of Pennsylvania more assurance of the passage of the amendments rather than have the antagonism that is naturally attached to an amendment that is presented by the Minority side.

Mr. President, we would suggest for the good of the people of Pennsylvania, and for the good of the over-all picture that the Majority Leader take into consideration such an amendment, which will not in any way hinder the setting up of the defense setup. It will not in any way hinder the local communities in its establishment of the local defense setup, but which will give some guarantee that some local defense setup will not go overboard and present to the elected officials a bill entirely out of proportion to the need or the demand at the moment.

Mr. WALKER. Mr. President, I am trying to understand exactly what the suggested amendment is. I would appreciate it very much, if the gentleman has a copy of his suggestion, if we could have the benefit of it.

Mr. President, as near as I could gather from the explanatory discussion, the paragraph that we are discussing at the moment is shown on Page 13 of House Bill No. 1, Printer's No. 20. It places upon the political subdivisions a certain additional obligation and responsibility in case there is a disaster that would call for the proclamation as suggested in this amendment. Now, if such a disaster becomes a visitation upon a local political subdivision, whether it be a county or a municipality, the particular taxing body of that political subdivision would be called upon to do extraordinary things.

Mr. President, as I understand it, the gentleman from Westmoreland is suggesting a ceiling on the amount that could be expended by that political subdivision in case of such a national disaster.

Mr. DENT. That is right, Mr. President.

Mr. WALKER. Mr. President, inasmuch as both sides of the aisle have always been ardent disciples of the philosophy of home rule, I have the highest confidence in the integrity and the ability, for example, of the Commissioners of Allegheny County or the City Council of the City of Pittsburgh to do what must be done without running "hog-wild", as the expression is, in attempting to assume the responsibilities thrust upon them by this national disaster.

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, if the gentleman would have followed me, he would have found that we are dealing with Section 7, and in Section 7 you will find that each local subdivision has the responsibility of creating the funds necessary for carrying out the very things that are called for in the particular clause that is being amended at this time. That is the basis of my contention.

Mr. President, the basic setup for defense ought to be paid for and established by your State-wide Council of Defense, and then any embellishments locally to be taken care of by the local government through its own setup of local defense, and until we get to where we understand just who will have both the responsibility of paying for and the responsibility of creating the organization and under what type of state-wide administration this defense setup will be administered, the amendments, although they are clarifying, do not really make a drastic change in the whole legislative picture of defense.

You must, Mr. President, I believe agree with me, that we must establish that if a disaster hits a community, the full responsibility for the payment of the damages caused by a catastrophe of that nature must not be visited upon the community residents in a local community. You can say the emergency is here and so proclaim and the communities can run out and spend whatever necessary funds are needed, but what about reimbursements for funds expended over and beyond the local responsibility.

If the City of Pittsburgh is visited by an enemy, and an air bomb, or any other type of bomb attack is launched upon that City, it certainly is not the full responsibility, or, rather, the sole responsibility of the residents of the City of Pittsburgh to pay for the damages created by that visitation from a foreign power, although it may be the proper thing for that City to immediately raise money to take care of the immediate situation. Certainly somewhere along the line those of us who are the beneficiaries of the fact that we were not hit ought to assume part of the responsibility of paying for the damage and in the first part of the section you will read, starting right on the top of Page 12, that the local community is assuming the whole responsibility.

Mr. President, I do not think that is the intention of the Members of the Legislature, at least it is not my intention, to place the full responsibility for paying the entire cost of damages created from a source that they having nothing to do with nor are responsible for.

Mr. WALKER. Mr. President, if we might be permitted to continue this discussion, which I am sure is informative, I am just trying to find the portion of House Bill No. 1, Mr. President, where the local political subdivision is saddled, I believe is the expression, with the cost of all this. If the gentleman from Westmoreland will point it out, it will be of assistance to me in discussing it.

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, it starts on Page 11, the whole first section.

Mr. WALKER. Mr. President, may I say, I still do not understand that there is any intention in any of these five bills that make up the civil defense program to attempt to hold directly or indirectly these political subdivision responsible for any damages created by an enemy attack, whether the attack be on the ground or in the air.

The gentleman from Westmoreland must remember and, of course, my memory doesn't go back any further than the Civil War, that this is the first time that the National Government, the Federal Government, has entrusted to the forty-eight component portions of this great Republic the responsibility of establishing civilian defense, and we are groping our way, trying to do the best we can with this without having it cost too much money for extraneous matters.

Now, Mr. President, there is no intention in any of these bills to hold the political subdivisions liable for any damages caused by enemy invasion. The question of cost of restoring normal service, the question of the cost of establishing protection or giving relief to those who might be wounded, or putting out fires that might be started, is going to be and must be worked out by the Civil Defense Council which is set up in the bill.

I for one—and I say this reluctantly—envy the opportunity of the distinguished gentleman from Westmoreland to participate in this history making event, in being in a position to assist in establishing this Council which will so ably defend Pennsylvania in case we are invaded.

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, I wish to thank the gentleman from Allegheny, Senator Walker, very kindly for his compliment, but I just want to say if you were going to sit on this board in the same position I am going to, with the ten votes against me, I do not know whether you would be so proud of it.

Mr. WALKER. Mr. President, I think the odds are just about even where you are concerned, Senator.

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, to get back to the matter at hand, the very thing I am calling attention to is recognized by the framers of this act, because on page 10 they do set up the responsibility for the payment of damages that might occur in an actual demonstration of the use of the mobile units for personal injury to any person who is attached to a mobile unit. Now, if on page 10 we state that the State shall reimburse political subdivisions for certain expenses, certain items of expenditures, then why can't we also say that the State will reimburse political subdivisions for moneys expended to take care of the disaster when such a disaster is the result of an outside attack? I mean, let's clear the field now while we have it within our power to do so. We cannot leave the job half done. We cannot say that we are willing to reimburse a political subdivision for actual traveling expenses, loss or damages to supplies and equipment to such political subdivisions for one particular phase of national defense, and yet the major phase of it we leave in the hands of an appointive body.

I am afraid we are not acting in the capacity that we should. Let us say what we mean to the people to give them the necessary confidence, because each and every one of us agree that the matter of civil defense is more a question of mental attitude than it is of bombshells at this stage.

Mr. WALKER. Mr. President, may I interrogate the gentleman from Westmoreland?

The PRESIDENT. Will the gentleman from Westmoreland, Mr. Dent, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. DENT. I will, Mr. President.

Mr. WALKER. Mr. President, I would like to inquire if the gentleman would explain and give me some examples of this expense, this damage for which he is seeking reparations so far as the political subdivision is concerned. What expenses or damages does the gentleman have in mind? I am trying to visualize an example.

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, well the type of expenses that are classified on page 10. The only way that there would be any damages to the mobile unit, the only way there would be any damages for injury or death would be if there were a bomb attack. Now, with a bomb attack they would not just drop a bomb and hit a mobile unit. They would not just drop a bomb and hit a fellow that had a badge on his arm. They might disrupt the water works of the community, they might destroy the subway in a municipality, they might destroy the transportation lines, they might cripple that town to the point where if it spent the necessary funds to get back into operation, the residents of that community might be taxed on into eternity before they could ever pay it back. If we recognize the responsibility for the payment of damages incurred by a mobile unit that is doing its duty in a bomb raid, then we must at the same time accept the responsibility for damages to the physical properties in the community.

Mr. WALKER. Mr. President, in the portion of the section on page 10 that the gentleman is referring to, there is reimbursement for damages to the mobile unit, not damages caused by the mobile unit.

Mr. DENT. Now, Mr. President, I must interrupt. I do not believe there would be any damages by the mobile unit. They are going out to save people and save this situation, not to destroy. I did not say, and I do not hope that I left the gentleman from Allegheny under the impression that I meant damages by a mobile unit. I mean the damages to a mobile unit by an air raid or other causes.

Mr. WALKER. Mr. President, if the bomb would fall upon one of our cities in Pennsylvania, as I understand the gentleman's suggestion, and that bomb for example would blow up the railroad yards in the city of Pittsburgh, damage the streets, damage the equipment of the Duquesne Light Company and damage the equipment of the city of Pittsburgh, is the gentleman suggesting that the City should be responsible for all of those damages and, therefore, the State should assume some of that fiscal responsibility for reimbursement?

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, I am talking about a municipality, the properties that are owned by a municipality; other properties that are damaged will naturally come under war reparations. We went over into the Philippines and spent five hundred million dollars paying back private land owners for damages incurred during the air raids upon the Islands.

That, of course, is an over-all picture, but in this legislation we are giving the local municipality the right to tax the people of that community beyond any restriction whatsoever other than constitutional, and if we do it in that sense, then why have even the constitutional restriction.

I mean, let us face this thing on the basis of what is right for the people as a whole. It is not fair to say to a city that is in the main line of attack, because of the nature of its industry or the nature of its importance, that you have to pay the damages when you are stricken, but a community that is nestled out in the hills, enjoying the comparative safety of location, will have no responsibility in the matter. If we agree that it is our responsibility, and we do agree, that damage to equipment, damage to personnel in the mobile unit, which is only a phase of civilian defense, that the cost of reparations in that particular instance is a state responsibility, why can't we extend that to assume that it is a State responsibility for all direct damages?

Mr. WALKER. Mr. President, as I understand the program, take a mobile unit—for example, if a bomb would fall on the City of Pittsburgh and a mobile unit were sent from Erie to Pittsburgh to be of assistance, or from Columbus, Ohio, the State of Pennsylvania would assume the responsibility for the cost incurred or any damages occurring to that mobile unit. I think we all agree on that.

Mr. DENT. Now, Mr. President, I just want to say, do you mean just the mobile units that come from out of town or do you mean the mobile units that belong to the town?

Mr. WALKER. Mr. President, all the mobile units that are activated by proclamation or by the Council.

Now, Mr. President, I also recall, but not as clearly as the gentleman from Westmoreland, that the Federal Government did make restoration appropriations for certain damages that were incurred by reason of troop movements in the Second World War. I do not agree with the gentleman from Westmoreland that if there is damage, for example, to the City-County Building in the City of Pittsburgh by a bomb attack, that the State of Pennsylvania should reimburse the City of Pittsburgh or the County of Allegheny for the repairs to that building.

Whether or not it is a factor that could be contributed to by an act of the Legislature, yes, but to say in a bill setting up civilian defense that whatever damage is done to public or quasi-public property by enemy attack would be reimbursed by the Commonwealth, I do not think would be good legislation. I am not prepared to say whether or not I would be happy about it as a Federal responsibility, but I certainly do not think that the State government should assume the fiscal responsibility of reimbursing public and/or private property owners for damages done to properties by alien attack. Are we clear on the issue?

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, we are clear, we are absolutely clear on it. I understand your position and I hope you understand mine.

Mr. WALKER. Mr. President, I am glad the gentleman understands mine, sir, because then later on you can explain it to me.

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, I have difficulty keeping myself straight, and I do not want to assume the responsibility of keeping the gentleman from Allegheny straight. However, that is exactly the meat of the whole situation. We are giving local communities the right to make unlimited expenditures. Somewhere along the line we have got to put on some restraint.

Are we clear on that principle.

Mr. WALKER. Yes, Mr. President.

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, then how can we do it unless we put into the act?

Mr. WALKER. Mr. President, I do not want to read into this bill, which two very distinguished House Members labored hard to prepare, things that are not in there. I think that the only things that the political subdivisions are given the power to do are certain responsibilities which are entrusted to them in case there is this disaster. That must be first hearalded by the Governor's proclamation, and unless it is heralded by a proclamation by the Chief Executive as set up in this Council of Defense, then these political subdivisions do not have the right to do these things that are set forth here. The things that they are permitted to do in the main, if I may refer back to page 13, which is the latter portion of section 7 of the act, are things that will cut the red tape of time consuming procedures and formalities which were written into the law as safeguards over the last ten or twenty years, and those are the things that I think are causing the most concern.

Now, Mr. President, on the question of permitting them to levy taxes to raise the money, the gentlemen of the Senate are well aware of the fact that if the problem were presented to one of our small boroughs or townships, the taxing body must present their budget at a certain period early in the year, and that that budget must contain the expenditures. If that budget were presented in January, and there would be a disaster in November and they were desirous of immediately raising funds for certain specific purposes as set forth in this act—that there are, for example, certain advertising restrictions once a week for three consecutive weeks and ten handbills posted in prominent places in the community, for example, those particular time consuming procedures as quoted in this model bill have been waived providing the Governor has issued a proclamation which says that this disaster exists there, and, therefore, they are entitled to assume the responsibilities and the opportunities given to them under this Act.

Mr. President, I have confidence enough in the taxing authorities of these various political subdivisions to assume that they are not going to be confiscatory even though they are suffering a disaster, and I think also, Mr. President, if we would be so unfortunate as to have a bombing anywhere in Pennsylvania, nobody wants to raise the question and nobody would raise the question as to how this thing is going to be handled as far as reimbursements in the future for damages caused.

I think that the sponsors of the bill have endeavored to design a pattern for civil defense without restricting it so that it will hamper the people who will be charged with the responsibility. I think they are attempting to give us an elastic measure that will be safe from the civilian standpoint in time of peace as well as complete and competent for the citizenry in time of war.

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, do I understand the gentleman to say that there is a limitation on the expenditures of a community?

Mr. WALKER. Mr. President, what I had reference to is a constitutional limitation, as I understand it. Now, of course, some of the lawyers will have to correct me on this because the Readers' Digest is not very complete on the subject.

There is a limitation in the Constitution, as I understand it, on the right of a political subdivision to acquire debt, there is a limitation on them spending what is not in their budget, there is a limitation, as a matter of fact, on spending money in the budget for things that are not specifically set forth in the budget, and there are limitations on spending money without advertising, and there is not a gentleman serving in this Senate who has served on a taxing authority in one of our political subdivisions, whether school board or borough council or township supervisor, or township commissioners, who has not suffered with the woes of the red tape in attempting to buy the type of fire engine they would like to have, and still comply with the provisions of the law. Those are the restrictions I have in mind, Mr. President.

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, that further points out the major weakness in the language of this situation. Let's take a hypothetical case. You admit and I think we read the bill right, that the only restriction is constitutional on the amounts that can be raised by local communities, and, incidentally, this amount of money can be raised for preparation for defense and not after the bomb has fallen. If you read the Section, it clearly states that the money can be raised to prepare a defensive maneuver. Now, if the constitutional limitation is sound, then the limitation that I propose is even sounder for the simple reason that here is community "A", that because of its nature has spent its moneys up to the point of constitutional limitations. We have communities like that in Pennsylvania. We have communities that now are on the distressed school list where they have to receive money under distressed school appropriations. They have no borrowing power, they have no means by which they can raise money. They have no legitimate source of income because the constitutional provision limits them even under this Act, but another community can go out and borrow money to take care of its disaster because they still have some constitutional provision or some constitutional allowance. What are we going to do for the community that has borrowed all it can borrow constitutionally under this Act? The disaster is just as great. That is why I say, let us sit down and write into this law a provision where under the Governor's Emergency Fund, he will be fully responsible as Commander-in-Chief of the units in Pennsylvania for the expenditures under his directorship, and I am sure that no Governor would dissipate the money because of political considerations, and I know that he will not allow elaborate preparation in communities where they will have fur-lined seats up in the air raid wardens' towers to take care of the comfort of the individuals because they happen to have money in this community. Believe me when I say to you that we must change that provision if we are to have sound legislation, and I do not want to be put into the position of being accused of holding back defense legislation because I think it is silly even to use that as an argument.

Mr. WALKER. Mr. President, up to this point I certainly have not used it as an argument, and I do not propose to. I am merely saying to the gentleman that the question to a great extent as to how far the political subdivisions are going to go will be left in the hands of the duly elected officials of the particularly indicated political subdivisions. I know that in Pennsylvania today, operating under executive proclamation, under the bills that we passed in 1941, amended in 1942, amended in 1943, there are certain things that are being done by political subdivisions. Some of our cities, some of our counties are setting up their own defense setups. Certain cities have already appointed or elected an executive director or a director for defense, and are proceeding with their program.

Now, Mr. President, the council of that particular city, for example, are thoroughly aware of what they think the city will need and how much they think they can spend at this time. The phraseology of the bill says that they shall have the power to enter into contract and incur obligations necessary to combat such disaster.

Now, Mr. President, I agree with the gentleman from Westmoreland, that the question of combat may come a year ahead of the bombing and not five minutes after the bombing. There are a lot of things that the Council for Defense as set up in House Bill No. 1, may recommend to the various intregal units of the civilian defense setup in these political subdivisions, and when those recommendations are made, if the political subdivisions' set ups can afford it and feel that it is efficient and that it should be done, they will of course follow through with the suggested plan. Now, Mr. President, I for one certainly would never subscribe to setting up a fund of "X" millions of dollars to be officiated over by this Council of Defense or by the Chief Executive of the Commonwealth to be parceled out to certain political subdivisions who for the moment are financially embarrassed, and would like to do certain things for defense measures but do not feel they can afford them. I think if we come to that point that the question of defense, if it is that acute, is a question where those charged with defense through the armed forces should be consulted. I think that in this series of bills that we are discussing, you have to consider just like the four legs of a chair, all four have to be considered. In this instance, it is really five bills and the whole package must be kept in mind when we are discussing one of its component parts.

Mr. President, I think we are trying to do for civilian defense as much as the Commonwealth and its political subdivisions can contribute to it, and I think that the theory of entrusting the details of this civilian defense to the duly elected public officials of a political subdivision is sound. It is a representative form of government from the ground up and that is the sort of thing we believe in.

Now, Mr. President, I do not want to be a party, and the gentleman from Westmoreland does not want to be a party to a bill that would hamper in the least the activities or the desires of the duly elected officials of a political subdivision in seeing to it that the folks in their particular districts are protected. I have the utmost confidence that the county commissioners, for example, will do all that they can within the fiscal ability of the county and within the needs of the county, to see to it that the skeleton framework is set up so that if disaster comes they can contribute whatever is necessary to alleviate the disaster. This, Mr. President, after all is not a home guard we are setting up here to furnish bayonets and keep the tire and steel off our shores. This is an attempt, if you can project planning into the future, to pattern the experiences of what happened, for example, in the City of London. That is one of the places where they have had the experience of night after night of bombing. Now, the experiences they had there were probably the things that the Federal Government had in mind when they called the State Representatives together and offered this package of model bills which had been worked over very carefully by Mr. Caldwell, former Governor of Florida, and by Mr. Symington, one of the high ranking officials in the Armed Forces in the national defense setup, and what we are doing here is taking the best advice of the best minds available in doing for the civilians or a civilian defense those things which these gentlemen in high public places feel will be a contributing factor in collaboration or cooperation with the Armed Forces.

Now, Mr. President, I agree with the gentleman from Westmoreland that six months after we adjourn, experiences, which God forbid we will ever have, might dictate a change in the verbiage of these five bills, but this is an honest, sincere attempt which is strictly nonpartisan and non-political, and I think both sides of the aisle agree to the fact that nobody wants to gain, directly or indirectly, even the sponsors of the bills have no desire to gain, directly or indirectly, any personal or political aggrandizement from them. We are trying to do the best we can in seeing to it that this collaboration movement is given the impetus of this great Commonwealth, and for that reason we have attempted by the amendments which have been read by the Clerk to clarify the word "emergency" so that there is no attempt or no possibility of any political subdivision hysterically reading into this paragraph the word "emergency" or "disaster," and in that way the defense council, into whose hands we entrust our defense, shall have all of the opportunity in the world of saying to the Chief Executive, who will probably be the titular head of the council, there is an emergency in Allegheny County because of an unfortunate bombing, and then wheels of this council will be thrown into high gear.

Mr. President, I think it is a worthwhile project and I appreciate very much the spendid cooperation of all the gentleman in the Senate in writing this legislation into the statute books so that the Governor can set up and collaborate with the political subdivisions, and the people of Pennsylvania will feel that the General Assembly is making a genuine, sincere attempt to do all that it can at the least possible cost to the taxpayer.

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, that was a rather long answer. I will not be able to repeat it at the moment. However, we all agree on the confidence that we have in the local officials. We are very fond of them. That is why we pass so many pieces of legislation guiding them every two years. We are very sure that they will do the right thing, but the thing that the gentleman has not grasped is the fact that your appointed civilian defense local director is the boss of the amounts to be expended and the council will do the paying. You may not have grasped that in your reading of the bill, but your local council, your county commissioner or whatever elected official you have, will pay the bill, no question about it. They have the right to set aside the provision of your legal restraint that you have now on raising money in a community, but your local director of civilian defense and the civilian defense council, locally, will be the one who will expend the money.

Mr. President, number two, the gentleman from Allegheny made the statement that the Governor would be the titular head of the council. However, that is only by selection and election of this group, and I think that is radically wrong. I think the bill ought to specifically say the Governor is the chairman of civilian defense in the Commonwealth. I do not think there ought to be any chance of a split-up whatsoever. I think that the Governor should assume his full responsibility as Commander-in Chief of the forces of the Commonwealth, and then the council can act and the director, incidentally, should be beneath the Governor and not above the Governor or above the council of defense. He ought to be beneath them and not above them. That was the setup in 1941, and incidentally we paid less money in 1941 for the whole staff that we are paying now for the three directors we have for this staff. Those are questions that are important to the people.

Mr. WALKER. Mr. President, may I suggest this to the gentleman. When these model bills were presented, if the gentleman will recall, in the national defense setup they have a national council of civilian defense and the Commander-in Chief of the Armed Forces, the distinguished gentleman from Missouri, who is the President of these United States, is not the chairman of or a member of the national defense council or the civilian defense council.

Secondly, Mr. President, the director of civilian defense for the political subdivision is appointed by the Governor, but I would like to direct the gentleman's attention to this. Each local organization for civil defense shall have a director who shall be appointed by the Governor upon the recommendation of the executive officer or governing body of the political subdivision. The director shall be responsible for the organization, administration and operation of such local organization for civilian defense subject to the direction and control of such executive officer or governing body.

Now, Mr. President, no director appointed, for example, by the three distinguished gentlemen who are the County Commissioners of Allegheny County is going to go so far astray that they cannot reach out and tap him everytime he turns to the left instead of the right.

In regard to the cost of this particular project, the cost will be controlled entirely by the General Assembly when they make the appropriation in the appropriation act.

Mr. President, for the information of the gentlemen of the Senate, may I say that during the 1941 or 1942 to 1946 era, when we had this prior state council of defense setup, the appropriation for the administrative costs was in the neighborhood of four hundred fifty thousand dollars for the biennium. Now, I submit to the gentlemen of the Senate that the question of the cost or the question of the appropriation for this council which is being set up in this package of five bills certainly can be controlled to a great extent by the General Assembly and by the distinguished gentleman that we have placed in charge of this council.

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, I can understand why if we cannot get down to a basis of common understanding of the situation how difficult it is for the people out in the State to understand exactly what we have been trying to do. I think we are both aiming at the same end, but we are not agreed upon just how we are going to get there. He thinks and he says that he believes that the local director will not spend or cannot spend any money without, as he puts it, being tapped if he goes to the left or right by the men who appointed him, but that is not the actual workings of this thing. This man is in an emergency so proclaimed. He is director, he is directly responsible for the execution of the pre-conceived plan. He is also responsible for immediate alleviation of any of the distress that may be attendant to a disaster of any kind. He is not going to run and ask eighteen councilmen in a borough whether he ought to do it or not. He is not going to try to gather men together and say they ought to spend so much money for this or that.

Mr. President, I think that the whole question of expenditures ought to be limited and unlimited—unlimited to the extent that whatever is needed must be spent, but do not say that you can only spend what the constitutional limitations allow you to spend because in some communities they have nothing to spend, and yet you say, spend the necessary moneys under the direction of the State Council of Defense, and that is not a difficult job. Anybody in this room that thinks that we are going to be bombed all over the state at one moment, and everything is going to be knocked out at one time, and that they are going to be able to hit us without a twenty-four hour notice at least, I think is working in the dreams of Jules Verne. We have reached a high state of mechanization and of mystery in our war effort, but I don not think any bombs are going to be dropped upon the State of Pennsylvania that is going to wipe out the whole State, and yet this whole legislation is predicated upon that basis.

Mr. President, let us keep our present Council of Defense, let us keep the existing organization. When we pass this legislation, everyone of the existing organizations has no standing whatsoever. Why don't we keep those existing organizations? We have kept ours up in our community since the last war, since the beginning of it. We have a county-wide organization, we have city-wide organizations but we are not paying any directors, we are not paying anybody, and yet I assure the members of this Senate that if the present trend is allowed to progress any further—now I understand from Allentown, Pennsylvania, a third class city, that they already have made tentative offers to an individual to head their civilian defense setup at a salary of eight to ten thousand dollars a year. Now, with the rest of the office force and technical staff that a good expert would bring, and remember I tell you when an expert starts working, he needs expert assistants, you are going to find that the cost of this thing is going to get out of hand. I do not believe that we ought to have, or establish a situation of an indeterminate nature. This state of conditions might last for a whole generation. That I believe is closer to the truth than the danger of immediate bombing. This cold, hot or cold war, depending on your viewpoint, can last for a generation because the minds of men do not change over night, and a new generation may have a new idea of the relationship between nations and peoples, but the present generation is going to go through, and I believe is going to go through the next decade or maybe a whole generation before their thinking changes.

Mr. President, we cannot stand this kind of legislation on the books as it is now written for an indeterminate time. Once a man is placed in a high class job . . . just take this. For instance, I understand the Governor has named an individual—let us not name names because immediately that person takes it that you are making a personal attack upon him. I do not care who the persons are, but the Governor has named a director prior to the passage of the Act at fifteen thousand dollars a year. If this situation remains status quo for the next fifteen or twenty years, is he going to get fifteen thousand dollars a year for the next fifteen or twenty years? He has an assistant that was just named recently at twelve thousand dollars a year. I might state here that that assistant is drawing nine hundred dollars a year more than the base pay of General Douglass MacArthur, who is charged with the whole responsibility of the Korean War. That man is going to sit in there and if I know him he will sit there for the next generation at twelve thousand dollars a year.

Mr. President, those are the things that you have got to correct in this legislation. We do not need anything in Pennsylvania but a director under the guidance of a defense council, working without salary, and the director paid and the necessary skeleton staff to do the work, and that is all you need and when I say skeleton, I am not talking about the assistant he named either.

Mr. President, you cannot afford this. You can do it because you have thirty votes and we may vote with you because we are not going to put one stick in your road to go ahead and pass this legislation if you say that experts have worked on it, but we have a right to call attention to the dangers in it. We have a right to call attention to what we think is wrong in it and we have a right to say to you that we are willing to sit down and cooperate and trade views with you in a meeting of minds, and try to work this out so it can unanimously—it probably will pass unanimously, but it will not be agreed to unanimously. You cannot tell me that I am doing the right thing by allowing any community to pass an unlimited tax liability upon its people in real estate and in the other constitutional taxes, and then turn around and say here under Act 481—look, this is a list of the taxes passed in Pennsylvania under Act 481. Why, you wouldn't have enough paper to print the amount and number of taxes if some hair-brained fool starts to perpetuate himself and his organization in power, and that is what happens in government. You name this thing and they never drop a bomb and you still have got an organization for many years to come because the longer they are in power, the stronger they get, the more fixers they get into local politics by appointments, the more pressure is put on elected officials to keep them in office.

Mr. President, we have agreed many times that the Department of Commerce is nothing but a duplication of the Department of Internal Affairs, but how many of us have the courage to wipe out the Department of Commerce? There are too many political plums, too many political appointments. Not only one of us feel that way, but all of us feel that way, and you have got to stop a thing from becoming a cancer before it starts. Let us cure it now while it is only an ulcer. Let's not let it become a cancer.

Mr. President, remember these are under Act 481, and there is no constitutional limitation on them. Look at this, for instance. Here is a beautiful tax that you could go ahead and duplicate any time you want to, a tax on ashes, cinders, garbage and refuse. I just take that as a first one. I do not know where we got it, but it is in twenty-three localities. Then, the car dealer and car salesman, there is no constitutional limitation. Well, now this one might not be so bad, golf club and golf course tax. That might not be so bad. That is in Beaver County. Then, you have an employers tax, employes tax, a concrete and asphalt tax in Beaver County.

Mr. WALKER. Mr. President, there is no end to what those Democrats will pass.

Mr. DENT. Well, Mr. President, we cannot help that Beaver County is Republican. We have tried to do something about that. Then we have mechanical devices, mercantile taxes, occupational taxes, per capita, private parking, pumps, gasoline, kerosene, scrap metal signs and billboards, taxi cabs, tailor tax, weight scales—what is the use? The book is too thick.

Mr. President, that is what we are opening up with this legislation. Lets make some reasonable limitation in this act. We can set up an emergency disaster fund. We have one now under the Governor's jurisdiction. We do not have to put millions of dollars in it because, gentlemen, within twenty-four hours the General Assembly can reconvene and within a six day period it can pass any type of a tax that it needs; within twenty-four hours it can meet and within the same twenty-four hours it can establish and set up a procedure for the borrowing of unlimited funds under an authority in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, set up a defense authority with the power to create the necessary funds if we need them, and put it in the hands of an authority named by the Governor and the General Assembly, so that when the emergency hits, they have the machinery set up and can get all the money they need and will have all the power they need. Give the defense council the right to raise money subject to the Legislature, the same as you are giving the director back home the right to spend money subject to the local community. We can pass decent legislation, but I am telling you right now, I am fearful of what may happen if in all of Pennsylvania there might be one local official that does not think the way we do. just one, not all of them, just one little group.

You know, Mr. President, history has been that a township supervisor may have a brother-in-law that cannot get a job and he would be made a director up in some place where you cannot see a plane let alone a bomb.

Those are the things—they are in the bill and to say they will not do them, gentlemen, is not to face realities, because it has happened and it will happen. Wherever you give a right, surely along the road somewhere somebody is going to violate the confidence that you place in him. Two or three pages, two or three little amendments in this Act and we are ready with it. We can sit down, work it out with the Majority Leader, put the bills on the calendar and pass them without any hesitation, and we will give the people some confidence in our judgment and I know it will give me a lot easier time when I go home because my local director says if you are going to pay a certain fellow in Harrisburg twelve thousand dollars, I am warning you that I have to spend three times as much time and effort as he will ever expend, and I want pay, too. I have done the job now for eight years for nothing, but if you are going to pay that kind of salary in Harrisburg we want to be paid, too. That is the danger and they will get paid, too, mark my words.

Mr. WALKER. Mr. President, I am sure these few preliminary remarks speak well for the interesting discussion on the bill that is before us for passage. I would like to, if the gentlemen of the Senate will permit, revert to the amendment to House Bill No. 1, and I would like to move that they be adopted so that we can proceed with the calendar. Tomorrow when the bill is up for final passage, I am sure that the remarks of the gentleman in the preliminary discussion will be extended so that we will have the benefit of his suggestions.

Mr. ROSENFELD. Mr. President, I have one question on the amendments. Will the Majority Leader permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. PRESIDENT. Will the gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Walker, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. WALKER. It is always a pleasure.

Mr. ROSENFELD. I have one question on the amendment. Is it the intention of the amendment to permit the following: If the Governor proclaims an extreme emergency in "A" Township in Montgomery County, does that mean that "B" Township in Warren County may then proceed to do the things that this Section permits it to do?

Mr. WALKER. No, Mr. President, if the gentleman will permit, and I am very reluctant to make a legal suggestion to him because I stand in awe of his legal knowledge and ability, if the gentleman will permit, the Governor under this could make a proclamation that will cover the sixty-seven counties in Pennsylvania or cover any portion of the State in wherever area he deemed it would be feasible, in order to expedite the operation of the Act.

Mr. ROSENFELD. Mr. President, if I copied down the wording of the amendment properly, it read as follows:

Mr. WALKER. Mr. President, would the gentleman from Philadelphia, Senator Rosenfeld, yield and I will send him a copy.

Mr. ROSENFELD. Mr. President, I think I did have it correct.

Mr. WALKER. Mr. President, I am certain the gentleman did

Mr. ROSENFELD. Mr. President, in the event of an extreme emergency as proclaimed by the Governor for the entire State—now that is proposition number one—or one or more poltical subdivisions. Now, the way that is worded that will permit each political subdivision as is presently set forth in the bill to go ahead and do the things that the Section permits them to do, if the Governor should proclaim an extreme emergency in one political subdivision. That is the way the amendment reads.

Mr. WALKER. I wish to thank the gentleman from Philadelphia, Senator Rosenfeld. May we proceed now, Mr. President, with the consideration of the amendment?

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate agree to the amendments?

AMENDMENTS ADOPTED

Mr. WALKER. Mr. President, I move that the amendments to House Bill No. 1 be adopted.

Mr. CROWE. Mr. President, I second the motion.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

The motion was agreed to.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the bill on third reading, as amended?

BILL OVER IN ORDER

Mr. WALKER. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent that House Bill No. 1, on third reading, go over in its order, as amended.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection. The Chair hears none.

INTERROGATION

Mr. HOLLAND. Mr. President, I desire to interrogate the gentleman from Allegheny, Senator Walker.

The PRESIDENT. Will the gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Walker, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. WALKER. I will, Mr. President.

Mr. HOLLAND. Mr. President, is it the intent of the Majority Leader to consider the balance of the bills on the calendar at this time?

Mr. WALKER. Mr. President, may I say to the gentleman from Allegheny, Senator Holland, it is our intention at this time to proceed with the consideration of the calendar.

Mr. HOLLAND. Mr. President, so that I will not have to make a separate motion on each bill. I would like to have permission to move that these bills be recommitted to the committee for a public hearing, and I would like to have the permission of the Majority Leader to make the motion on all four bills at one time.

Mr. WALKER. Mr. President, I have no objection to the gentleman making the motion at this time. I understand that it will cover all four bills; that is, House Bill No. 1, No. 2, No. 3 and No. 4.

Mr. HOLLAND. Mr. President, I would like to have the consent of the Senate to give my reason for asking for a public hearing and that these bills be recommitted.

The PRESIDENT. The gentleman from Allegheny asks unanimous consent to make a statement. If there is no objection, the gentleman from Allegheny may proceed.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS SENATE

Mr. HOLLAND asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the Senate.

Mr. HOLLAND. Mr. President, in the last war we had a Civilian Defense in Pennsylvania based strictly on a voluntary basis.

I am positive no one in the Senate could find fault with it in any way. Volunteers were easy to get, because the average man or woman who had a son, brother or husband in the war liked to feel that they, too, were doing something in the war effort.

It was handled strictly in the American way of life.

Americans are proud of their patriotism and regardless of what crisis has arisen they have met the crisis head-on.

Today we find a tearing down of patriotism and in these civil defense bills a new low is being set, insulting the intelligence and the goodness of Americans.

I do not want to discuss these bills, but I want to bring out the highlight of what is in them, because my whole intent in asking for a public hearing is to appeal to the good people of Pennsylvania, and God knows there are millions of them, to build up a civilian defense on a patriotic, voluntary basis.

Remember, gentlemen, that civilian defense is, in addition to something that will be used in case of a bombing, a great morale builder.

People, too, must have confidence in their leaders of civilian defense, and you cannot get confidence with the dollar mark. Let us quit being politicians catering to the weakness of the people.

Let us build up the strength and morale in America and quit putting the dollar mark on being patriotic.

God knows the Army that General Washington commanded didn't get much pay for fighting.

I am confident that if you will only permit these bills to be sent back to committee for a public hearing and that you bring down to the hearing the different heads of civilian defense, that we had in the recent war, you will find that in every county you will have sufficient volunteers who will gladly head up civilian defense and do not want one cent of pay

Mr. President, bring down these men to this hearing. I believe that the dispute and the controversy between the Minority and Majority Leaders has proved one thing, that there is no clearness about these bills as yet. The Majority Leader is not clear how they are going to act and I think it is time for us to use men who have done some work in civilian defense, and I think it is no more than right that we call down General Mellon and his group that prepared a very fine outline of civilian defense for Pennsylvania, that we call in Colonel Miller who has been gagged, who was not permitted to talk to the Senators of the Democratic Party due to the fact that he voiced a little bit of criticism on how civilian defense was being handled. Let us bring in Mr. Hutchinson, a man who served civilian defense in the last World War without one penny, and I know that after hearing these men, hearing other men like Ross Loeffler of Allegheny County, and in your counties men who have served in the last World War in civilian defense, we can properly write a bill that is a bill.

Mr. President, you do not have to pay a man to defend his home and protect his wife and children.

Let us get back to being real Americans because I really feel it is a disgrace to say that we have to pay people to join together in community activity; it is an insult to those boys who are now in the hospitals from World War II. Yes, they have given their all to America. We certainly can do our share in our home community without putting the dollar mark on our share.

MOTION THAT HOUSE BILLS Nos. 1, 2, 3 and 4 BE RECOMMITTED TO COMMITTEE

Mr. HOLLAND. Mr. President, I move that House Bills Nos. 1, 2, 3 and 4 be recommitted to the Committee on State Government for the purpose of a public hearing and further study.

Mr. HALUSKA. Mr. President, I second the motion.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, this motion for a public hearing has a great deal more merit than appears on the surface, and I do not think it ought to be voted upon without some discussion as to the causes for the request and the reasons for turning it down.

Mr. President, I am not sold on the idea myself. I do believe it might be a good thing if it would serve the purposes enumerated by the gentleman who made the motion. If it would give the people of Pennsylvania a clear picture on what the contents of these bills are, it would serve a far greater need today than any other maneuver that we might employ. I said before and I still contend that civilian defense is in a great measure, in fact in a greater measure a question of mental attitude. If we can have a full-dress public hearing with persons who want to appear to question the contents of this legislation, we may gain from the public hearing a more acceptable piece of legislation that would give the people a greater degree of confidence which, in my opinion, is what we are trying to do ultimately with this legislation. We must have the confidence of the people and let us not try to put this measure through without at least giving consideration to the gentleman's request for a public hearing.

Mr. President, I know that there will be quite a few people from my County who will see me and ask questions, and have seen me and asked questions, and I want to say to them, "Come on down to the public hearing, ask the questions there or at least listen to the debate upon the measure by disinterested or rather very interested persons who haven't the right to vote."

Mr. President, it will not delay the measure or it will not delay civilian defense because we do have a director and we do have two assistants. We do have local setups, I would say, in every community in the Commonwealth that feels the need and practically all all the communities that will have a setup after this legislation passed have already set up a defense system. They tell me the civilian defense setup of the City of Philadelphia is considered the finest in the whole Country—they say that the civilian defense program of the City of Philadelphia is the finest in the entire United States, and that was accomplished, mind you, under the old legislation, and I think that for another week that it would give each and every one of us a greater confidence when we face our people.

Mr. President, I have been asked to speak now at at least a dozen affairs at home on the question of civilian defense and to explain these bills. I like to stand up before a group and say I voted for this legislation, and I think that it is a fine piece of legislation, it is the best that we could have by a meeting of the minds of the Senate, plus the advice of the public at a public hearing. If then there are mistakes that crop up, as the gentleman from Allegheny says will in six or seven months, why then we can't be entirely blamed. We have tried to take the advice of the people of the Commonwealth, and I assure you that the question of whether it passes today or tomorrow is of no moment. We can pass this legislation just as well Monday, Tuesday or Wednesday of next week. They are proceeding with civilian defense. They have many circulars going out and in fact our local community setup is not even waiting for circulars. They are trying to get what they can from Federal information, from magazine articles and are setting up a wonderful setup of the civillian defense.

Mr. President, let us give serious consideration and I would suggest that you vote "yes" on this particular motion. Let it go back to committee. Let us set the meeting up for Monday or Tuesday of next week. Let them come in here notified through the able newspaper correspondents that we have here that the Senate of Pennsylvania wants to hear the people's viewpoints.

Mr. President, I have had many officials, local officials, talk to me and tell me that it is dangerous to give this unlimited power. I have had many industries tell me that under the present setup they have, they get no consideration whatsoever for their plant protection systems; that the present thinking over in that department—incidentally, it would be a good idea to have a public hearing and have the present setup of civilian defense come over and tell their story.

Mr. President, I have before me, and I intend to bring it out on final debate, the recommendations of Richard Mellon which are diametrically opposed to those contained in this legislation. The recommendations which were read publicly and given to each Member of the Senate on January 2 by Governor Jim Duff, we have that here, and every Member of the Senate ought to have a copy of it. These bills do not embody his recommendations whatsoever. For instance, he called for a director to be named by the Governor and passed upon by the Senate by a two-thirds vote. He thought it was that important that a man ought to pass the careful scrutiny of the Members of the Senate. Believe me when I say to you that you ought not to pass up this request for a public hearing lightly.

Mr. WALKER. Mr. President, I want to assure the gentleman from Westmoreland that we are not passing up the request lightly and may I suggest to the gentleman from Westmoreland, he is very familiar with the history of this defense package. It was worked out by the National Council Civilian Defense in Washington. Mr. Symington and former Governor Caldwell held long hearings and a great many hearings both of a public and private nature in order to promulgate these model bills.

Mr. President, these bills were introduced in the House on Febraury 5. They received very careful scrutiny and discussion by the Members of the House. They were sponsored by the Republican Floor Leader in the House and the co-sponsor was the Democratic Floor Leader in the House. After careful consideration the bills were voted on and they passed the House unanimously. They came over into the Senate and went into committee. The committee considered them and brought them out on the Floor of the Senate.

Mr. President, these bills have been on the calendar since February 20, and as a matter of fact they were in the State Government Committee on February 13 and there has not been a request made to me, to the President pro tempore, to the Secretary of the Senate, or to the Chairman of the Committee on State Government who handled the bills, for a public hearing. The only request that I have heard and I have heard it several times so I have had the opportunity of carefully considering it since, came from the distinguished gentleman from Allegheny, Senator Holland.

Mr. President, there has been no request for a public hearing on these bills and no further hearings are necessary. There was no request for hearings in the House, and the high opinion in which the House held these bills is indicated by the fact that they passed unanimously.

Therefore, Mr. President, I must ask in all seriousness that the gentlemen of the Senate vote down the motion made by my good friend and colleague, Senator Holland.

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, I do not want to delay the discussion in the matter since I know that the position over there is adamant and that there will be no change in the temperature. However, we cannot excuse ourselves on the ground that the bills passed the House unanimously. We cannot excuse ourselves on the ground that they were sponsored by the Minority and Majority Leaders because I honestly believe that the gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Walker, is reading into these bills the interpretation that he finds in the act. The interpretations that I find there are my honest opinions, too, and they are the result of my study since the bills were first introduced in the House.

Mr. President, I do not mind telling you that I collaborated with the House leadership in putting into the bills certain amendments taking out the pay day features, but it was impossible to get all the public opinion correlated into one thought or two thoughts, and, therefore, we are now faced with the final passage of these acts. We are not playing with a situation such as the House had. The House knew that over in the Senate there were fifty able men, at least they felt that way and properly so. They felt if there were any misunderstandings in the legislation, we would correct them.

Mr. President, I said that I do not believe that the Governor ought to advocate and leave the powers that were naturally his in the hands of a director. I still mean that and I think the argument of the gentleman from Allegheny, Senator Walker, that the President of the United States does not appear in the National setup is not quite the same situation because the President of the United States is automatically, under the war powers given him, Commander-in-Chief of all production and everything else in the United States the minute an emergency hits, but we are preparing emergency legislation now and we leave the question of whether the Governor ought to serve as Chairman in the hands of appointed officials. You cannot do that.

Mr. President, back in 1917 they passed an Emergency Act of some kind, an agency setup. It was called the Safety Committee. Thank you, Senator Barr. My memory does not go back to the Civil War. I am having an awful time getting back to the First World War, and the Safety Committee was set up and placed a blot upon the character of the State of Pennsylvania. They expended untold numbers of dollars without ever making an accounting and the fight there, mind you, was not between Democrats and Republicans. It was between two factions of Republicans fighting for the pork barrel. That is history; that is not heresay. That is history in Pennsylvania and history has a way of repeating itself.

Mr. President, if you name a man from one faction tomorrow, you have to name one from the other faction to keep both factions going down the line politically. That is the history and that is what we are doing with this legislation.

Mr. President, I mean it seriously. I again ask the Members of the Senate to set aside the caucus consideration and to vote instead in the position that they were elected to give the people of Pennsylvania an opportunity to be heard. If they do not come here, the onus and the blame is upon them. If they do come, we will be justified in our position.

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

The yeas and nays were required by Mr. HOLLAND and Mr. HALUSKA and were as follows, viz:

YEAS 20

Bane,	DiSilvestro,	McCreesh,	Ruth,
Barr,	Haluska,	McGinnis,	Silvert,

And said bill having been read at length the third time,

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the bill on third reading?

Mr. LANE. Mr. President, on behalf of Senator Barr and myself, I ask unanimous consent to offer amendments.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection?

Mr. LANE. Mr. President, I do not want to rehash what has been said about House Bill No. 1, but House Bill No. 1 and House Bill No. 2 are related, and we of the Minority side have examined them very closely and we take the position that local members in civilian defense units are not protected under the provisions of the Workmen's Compensation Act. For that reason on behalf of Senator Barr and myself, I have asked for unanimous consent to submit amendments at this time.

Mr. WALKER. Mr. President, I desire to interrogate the gentleman from Washington, Senator Lane.

The PRESIDENT. Will the gentleman from Washington, Mr. Lane, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. LANE. I will, Mr. President.

Mr. WALKER. Mr. President, I would like to inquire from the gentleman, is it not true that the workmen's compensation protection is in one of the other bills that is in this category?

Mr. LANE. Mr. President, it is in House Bill No. 2.

Mr. WALKER. Mr. President, may I inquire of the gentleman from Washington, Senator Lane, what does his amendment do?

Mr. LANE. Mr. President, the amendment provides that all personnel of the volunteer agencies, organized for and in charge of the duties and responsibilities in connection with civilian defense protection in any political subdivision, shall be regarded as employees of that poltical subdivision for all purposes of the Workmen's Compensation Act.

In other words what it does, Senator Walker, is put our auxiliary police, auxiliary firemen, our nurses and our doctors under the protection of the Workmen's Compensation Act.

Mr. WALKER. Of the political subdivision where they are operating?

Mr. LANE. That is right, Mr. President.

Mr. WALKER. May I inquire further, Mr. President of the gentleman from Washington, if they were called out in the City of Pittsburgh and there would be five thousand workers in there to handle a disaster, that they would all automatically go on the City's workmen's compensation pay roll?

Mr. LANE. Mr. President, in reply to the gentleman I would say that all those workers who would be in there would be under the provisions of the act at the present time because it would be normally labor that we would be protecting. The idea back of it is to take care of those in the defense setup on the firing line, specifically the volunteer members, because you have made provisions under House Bill No. 1 for the protection of the members of the mobile unit, under the command of the Governor, but it does not apply to the local membership.

Mr. WALKER. Mr. President, I would like to inquire from the gentleman, for example, in the City of Pittsburgh if that was the situs of the disaster, if there were in the neighborhood of five thousand volunteer workers, his amendment would put them all on the City's workmen's compensation responsibility pay roll?

Mr. LANE. Mr. President, they would be deemed employees.

Mr. WALKER. Of the city, Mr. President?

Mr. LANE. Mr. President, of the city. That is what they would be.

Mr. WALKER. Mr. President, may I further interrogate the gentleman from Washington, Senator Lane?

Mr. LANE. Mr. President, I yield to the gentleman from Westmoreland, Mr. Dent.

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, I think there is a little confusion.

Mr. WALKER. Mr. President, I object to the word "little."

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, the purpose of the amendments were clearly stated by the gentleman from Washington County, but under this Act No. 2 we set up a system of compensation, of workmen's compensation benefits for the members of police and fire departments and so forth, but we do not set up any protection for the auxiliary members of police and fire departments and volunteer members.

Now, Mr. President, the question that he is trying to solve by this amendment is to cover under the same provisions of law that you are putting into Act No. 2 for the paid regular members of a fire and volunteer department, the same provisions for the auxiliaries and the volunteers. That is all it is and they come under the State. The State pays, the State pays under Act No. 2. They will pay for this, too.

Mr. WALKER. Mr. President, I have no objection to the gentleman from Washington offering the amendments, but I would like to suggest to the gentlemen of the Senate that they vote the amendments down as not being feasible or making a contribution to the expeditious operation of the defense plan.

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, I recognize the power of the caucus and I bow before it, but you cannot just dismiss an amendment by saying that it does not add anything to it. What is the difference between the broken body of a policeman or of an auxiliary policeman in the time of an air raid?

Mr. WALKER. Mr. President, I desire to interrogate the gentleman from Washington, Mr. Lane.

The PRESIDENT. Will the gentleman from Washington, Mr. Lane, permit himself to be interrogated

Mr. LANE. I will, Mr. President.

Mr. WALKER. Mr. President, may I inquire from the gentleman who presented the amendments if he would care to have them all voted on at once or if he would like to have them taken up one at a time?

Mr. LANE. Mr. President, if it will expedite matters, we will vote on them all at one time.

The Clerk read the amendments as follows:

Amend Bill, page 10, by inserting between lines 15 and 16 the following:

Section 3. Said act is hereby amended by adding thereto immediately after section 8, a new section to read as follows:

Section 8.1. All personnel of the volunteer agencies organized for and charged with duties and responsibilities in connection with civilian protection in any political subdivision, shall be regarded as employes of that political subdivision for all the purposes of the Pennsylvania Workmen's Compensation Act as reenacted and amended, and shall be entitled to receive compensation in case of injuries received while actually engaged as members of such agencies in performing any duty provided for by this act or while going to or coming from the performance of any such duties. The political subdivision as employer shall in all such cases be deemed to have knowledge of all other employment of all such members, including self-employment and shall be liable for compensation on account of all wages and earnings resulting therefrom in all cases where an injury compensable hereunder is received by a member of any volunteer agency, who is in whole or in part a self-employer and loss of earnings results therefrom, such earnings shall be regarded as wages. The average weekly wage as so regarded shall be that most favorable to the employe computed by dividing by thirteen the total earnings of the employe in the first, second, third or fourth period of thirteen consecutive calendar weeks in the fifty-two weeks immediately preceding the accident.

word "shall' the following "be guilty of a misdemeanor and"; Amend Sec. 3 (Sec. 9), page 11, line 7, by inserting a bracket before the word "in"; Amend Sec. 3 (Sec. 9), page 11, line 8, by inserting after the word "proceeding" the following "] shall"; Amend Sec. 3 (Sec. 9), page 11, line 8, by inserting a bracket before the word "two"; Amend Sec. 3 (Sec. 9), page 11, line 8, by inserting after the word "two" the following: "] five"; Amend Sec. 3 (Sec. 9), page 11, line 9, by inserting a bracket before the figure "($200)"; Amend Sec. 3 (Sec. 9), page 11, line 9, by inserting after the figure "($200)" the following: "] ($500)."

(During the reading of the amendments the following occurred:)

MOTION THAT AMENDMENTS BE ADOPTED

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, I move that the amendments to Section 3 be adopted.

Mr. HALUSKA. Mr. President, I second the motion.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

The yeas and nays were required by Mr. WALKER and Mr. TAYLOR, and were as follows, viz:

YEAS—20

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate agree to the bill on third reading?

REQUEST THAT HOUSE BILLS Nos. 1, 2, 3, and 4 GO OVER IN ORDER

Mr. HALUSKA. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent that House Bill No. 1, House Bill No. 2, House Bill No. 3 and House Bill No. 4, on third reading, go over in their order.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection?

Mr. WALKER. Mr. President, I object.

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate agree to the bill on third reading?

Mr. HALUSKA. Mr. President, it appears very much that the filibuster kids must have a conference pretty soon, and if the gentlemen object to public hearings and bills going over in order, it appears very much like we will have to put into effect our old-fashioned filibuster tactics tomorrow or the next day and probably bring the boys into line a little bit.

Mr. President, we have tried to be honest by asking for a public hearing. We thought it very essential, but now they are going to run rough shod over us and now we ask that House Bill No. 1 be held over, and that House Bill No. 2, House Bill No. 3 and House Bill No. 4 be held over. It is not that important that it must be passed today but again they object, so if we invoke our prerogatives, do not feel too much surprised.

Mr. WALKER. Mr. President, the gentleman may invoke his prerogatives at any time he sees fit. May we proceed with the consideration of the calendar?

Mr. BARR. Mr. President, I think the gentleman is being just a little bit adamant. House Bills Nos. 2, 3 and 4 are useless without House Bill No. 1. It is part of the package. If House Bill No. 1 does not operate, House Bill No. 2, House Bill No. 3 and House Bill No. 4 are worthless. Now, if he wants to be as adamant as that, there is nothing we can do about it.

Mr. WALKER. That is right, Mr. President. May we proceed with the consideration of the calendar?

Mr. BARR. Mr. President, I have one more remark. I presume now that the civilian defense setup is going to be just as nonpartisan as his attitude.

Mr. WALKER. The gentleman from Allegheny, Senator Barr, is incorrect. May we proceed with the consideration of the calendar?

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, it would be better for all of us if we had the bills all up at one time because if we vote "yes" on this legislation at the moment, we must vote "yes" on House Bill No. 1 tomorrow or we are not being honest with ourselves or the people.

Mr. President, this legislation is no good without the first bill, House Bill No. 1. Therefore, we are placed in a dilemma. So, in order for me personally to solve this dilemma, I have made up my mind what I am going to do. I am not asking anybody else to follow me. It is a personal privilege I am going to assume.

If my objections to House Bill No. 1 are as serious as I believe them to be, and if House Bill No. 1 has to pass in order that House Bill No. 2, House Bill No. 3 and House Bill No. 4 become operative, there is no recourse for me other than to vote "present" on this vote.

Mr. LANE. Mr. President, the other day the Majority Floor Leader asked the Minority to agree that all the bills go over in order so that we could debate all of them at one time, and now we ask that these bills go over in order and our request has been refused.

Mr. President, we listened to a long debate here this evening and I subscribe to most everything that has been said here as far as the Minority Leader is concerned. I do not see that these bills are in the proper form. I believe that quite a few on the Majority side take the same position. Then again, they are being arbitrary and shooting these bills through. If that is the way they want it, that is the way they are going to get it in turn, because the Session is just commencing, and we have been very good boys so far and we want to cooperate. We probably will not be after while.

And the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

BILL ON THIRD READING AND FINAL PASSAGE

Agreeably to order,

The Senate proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 3, as follows:

An Act authorizing certain political subdivisions to make appropriations for the payment of expenses of local or district councils of civil defense within said political subdivisions and for the protection or preparation for the protection of the health welfare and safety of the civilian population of said political subdivision during emergencies resulting from air raids blackouts or sabotage regulating the manner of payment of expenses of local and district councils of civil defense authorizing such political subdivisions to borrow money under certain conditions for such purposes and providing for the repayment thereof

Section 1 Definitions The following words and phrases used in this act shall have the meanings ascribed to them in this section

"Political subdivisions" shall mean any county city borough incorporated town and township

"Local and district councils of civil defense" shall mean those established pursuant to the act approved the —— day of —— one thousand nine hundred fifty-one (P. L. ——) entitled "An act relating to the civil defense of this State and its coordination with national defense providing for the establishment of a State Council of Civil Defense local and district councils of civil defense Mobile Support Units prescribing the powers duties and immunities thereof and of their personnel authorizing mutual aid compacts and providing penalties"

Section 2 Every political subdivision shall have the power to make appropriations for the ordinary expenses of such political subdivisions for the payment of expenses of local and district councils of civil defense and for protection and preparation for the protection of the health welfare and safety of the civilian population of the said political subdivision during emergencies resulting from air raids blackouts or sabotage A political subdivision in making such appropriations shall specify the amounts and purposes for which the moneys so appropriated may be used by such councils of civil defense or other agency to or for which such appropriation may be made

Section 3 (a) Where the jurisdiction of the local or district council of civil defense is coterminous with the political subdivision making an appropiation for the payment of the expenses of the local or district council of civil defense such local or district council of civil defense shall be an agency board or commission of the political subdivision subject to all of the laws governing the makign of contracts or purchases the employment of persons or otherwise incurring financial obligations which apply to the political subdivision All bills or claims to be paid from any appropriation made pursuant to this act after first being approved by the local or district or civil defense or an appropriate officer thereof designated for the purpose shall be paid from the treasury of the political subdivision only upon the warrant or order of the officer or officers of such political subdivision designated by law to approve or countersign warrants or orders for the payment of the ordinary expenses of such political subdivision and shall be subject to audit in the same manner as other financial transactions of such political subdivision In each case the said officer or officers shall have the same power to approve or disapprove the same as they have in case of warrants for ordinary expenses of the political subdivision and no warrant or order for the payment thereof shall be issued without such approval Any gift or grant of money made to the local or distdict Council of Civil Defense or to the political subdivision for the payment of expenses incurred or to be incurred by or for the local or district council of civil defense shall be deposited in the treasury of the political subdivision and shall be appropriated by the political subdivision for the purpose for which such gift or grant was made and any bills or claims to be paid from such gift or grant shall be paid in the manner herein provided for the payment of other bills and claims against such political subdivision

(b) Where a local or district council of civil defense has jurisdiction in an area including all or parts of more than one political subdivision which does not include the whole area of any county the political subdivisions all or part of which lie within the jurisdiction of such local or district council of civil defense shall before paying any expenses of such local or district council of civil defense enter into an agreement designating one of said political subdivisions as the agent of each of them for the purpose of paying the expenses of the local or district council of civil defense The agreement shall also set forth the proportionate share of the expenses of the local or district council of civil defense to be paid by each political subdivision party to said agreement and an estimate of the amount required to be appropriated by each of them for the purpose of paying such expenses The agreement shall be effective when approved by the corporate authorities of each of said political subdivisions by a majority vote and each of said subdivisions shall thereupon make an appropriation pursuant to section two of this act sufficient to pay its share of the expenses of the local or district council of civil defense All bills and claims for expenses incurred by or for the local or district council of civil defense shall thereafter be paid in the first instance by the political subdivision named as agent in the aforesaid agreement in the manner provided in paragraph (a) of this section as though the local or district council of civil defense were coterminous with such political subdivision and the local or district council of civil defense shall be subject to all of the laws governing the making of contracts or purchases the employment of persons or otherwise incurring financial obligations which apply to such political subdivisions The political subdivision designated as agent shall not later than the fifteenth day of each month submit an itemized account of the expenses of the local or district council of civil defense paid by it during the preceding calendar month t oeach of the other political subdivisions party to the said agreement together with a request for reimbursement of the proportionate share of such expenses agreed to be paid by each of such other political subdivisions Each political subdivision so requested to make reimbursement shall do so within thirty days after such request from the appropriation made for the payment of the expenses of the local or district council of civil defense and in the event of failure to do so mandamus shall lie to compel the officers of such political subdivisions to pay the agreed upon proportionate share of the proper expenses of the local or district council of civil defense out of the first moneys thereafter in the treasury of such political subdivision and not previously pledged to any other purpose Provided That no political subdivision shall be compelled to pay for any one year an amount greater than the amount estimated in the agreement as its proportionate share The books and records of the political subdivision designated as agent in the agreement shall at all reasonable times be open to inspection by an authorized agent of each other political subdivision party to the agreement and by any taxpayer who by law is entitled to inspect the books or accounts of any political subdivision party to the agreement Nothing in this paragraph shall be deemed to limit the power of any political subdivision to appropriate and pay out for the expenses of the local or district council of civil defense an amount greater than that set forth in the agreement herein required Provided That all such payments shall be made through the treasury of the political subdivision designated as agent in such agreement in the manner herein required Any payment made by any political subdivision to the political subdivision named as agent in the agreement for reimbursement for the payment of the expenses of the local or district council of civil defense shall be credited by such agent political subdivision to the appropriation made by it for the payment of the expenses of the local and district council of civil defense and shall be available for the payment of future expenses of the local or district council of civil defense without further appropriation or action by such agent political subdivision Any gift or grant of money made to or for the local or district council of civil defense shall if made to a political subdivision be deposited in its treasury and be appropriated by it for the purpose for which such gift or grant was made and such political subdivision shall notify the political subdivision named as agent in the agreement of such appropriation and the purpose for which is it available If such gift or grant of money is made to the local or district council of civil defense it shall be deposited in the reasury of the political subdivision named as agent in the agreement and shall be appropriated by such political subdivision for the purpose for which such gift or grant was made Provided however That any expenditure made by such agent political subdivision from any gift or grant deposited in its treasury or reimbursed from any gift or grant deposited in the treasury of any other political subdivision shall not be included in computing the reimbursement requested from any other political subdivision under the agreement

(c) Where the local or district council of civil defense has jurisdiction in an area including the whole area of one or more counties which is not coterminous with any one county before paying any expenses of the local or district council of civil defense the counties all or part of which lie within the jurisdiction of the local or district council of civil defense shall enter into an agreement in the manner and form provided in paragraph (b) of this section and with like effect and no other political subdivision lying within the jurisdiction of the local or district council of civil defense shall be a party to such agreement For the purposes of this paragraph the city and county of Philadelphia shall be a county and the city of Philadelphia shall act for such city and county

(d) Nothing in this or any other section of this act shall be deemed to limit the power of any political subdivision to appropriate money for the purpose of paying thethe expenses of a local or district council of civil defense having jurisdiction both within and without the political subdivision even though an appropriation has been or is to be made to another local or district council of civil defense coterminous with or having jurisdiction within such political subdivision Provided That any payments on account of such appropriation shall be made pursuant to an agreement as provided in paragraphs (b) and (c) hereof or in the form of a gift or grant to the political subdivision responsible in the first instance for the payment of bills and claims against the local or district council of civil defense for the payment of the expenses of which such appropriation was made

(e) No purchase or purchases shall be made no contract entered into and no expenses incurred by any civil defense council which involves the payment of more than twenty-five dollars ($25.00) out of the treasury of any second class township unless the proposed expenditure has been approved in writing by the township supervisors If any purchase or contract is made or other expenses incurred contrary to the provisions of this subsection the township shall not be responsible for the payment thereof but the person acting for the civil defense council in such transaction shall be personally liable for such payment

Section 4 Any political subdivision during the fiscal year one thousand nine hundred fifty-one may borrow a sum or sums of money necessary for the purposes authorized by this act by the issuance and sale of bonds or notes in the manner provided in the Municipal Borrowing Law approved the twenty-fifth day of June one thousand nine hundred forty-one (P. L. 159) Such bonds or notes shall mature within one year from the date of issue

Section 5 Repealer The act approved the seventeenth day of April one thousand nine hundred forty-two (P. L. 42) entitled "An act authorizing certain political subdivisions to made appropriations for the payment of expenses of local or district councils of defense within said political subdivisions and for the protection or preparation for the protection of the health welfare and safety of the civilian population of said political subdivision during emergencies resulting from air raids blackouts or sabotage regulating the manner of payment of expenses of local and district councils of defense authorizing such political subdivisions to borrow money under certain conditions for such purposes providing for the repayment thereof and ratifying confirming and validating appropriations heretofore made for said purposes" is hereby repealed

All other acts and parts of acts are hereby repealed in so far as they are inconsistent with the provisions of this act

Section 6 Effective Date This act shall become effective immediately upon its final enactment and shall remain in effect until a period of six (6) months after the State Council of Civil Defense is dissolved or suspended

And said bill having been read at length the third time, and agreed to,

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, for the same reason I intend to vote "present" and I do not ask anybody to follow me, but that is the way I feel about it.

BILL ON THIRD READING AND FINAL PASSAGE

Agreeably to order,

The Senate proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 4, as follows:

An Act authorizing the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania to enter into a compact with any other state for mutual helpfulness in meeting any civil defense emergency or disaster

The General Assembly of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania hereby enacts as follows

Section 1 Whereas the Congress of the United States of America has granted its consent to civil defense compacts by an act entitled "Federal Civil Defense Act of one thousand nine hundred fifty" (Public Law 920 Eighty-First Congress Second Session approved January twelfth one thousand nine hundred fifty-one) the Legislature of this State hereby ratifies a compact on behalf of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania with any other State legally joining therein in the form substantially as follows

Interstate Civil Defense and Disaster Compact

The contracting States solemnly agree

Article 1 The purpose of this compact is to provide mutual aid among the States in meeting any emergency or disaster from enemy attack or other cause (natural or otherwise) including sabotage and subversive acts and direct attacks by bombs shellfire and atomic radiological chemical bacteriological means and other weapons The prompt full and effective utilization of the resources of the respective States including such resources as may be available from the United States Government or any other source are essential to the safety care and welfare of the people thereof in the event of enemy action or other emergency and any other resources including personnel equipment or supplies shall be incorporated into a plan or plans of mutual aid to be developed among the Civil Defense agencies or similar bodies of the States that are parties hereto The Directors of Civil Defense of all party States shall constitute a committee to formulate plans and to take all necessary steps for the implementation of this compact

Article 2 It shall be the duty of each party State to formulate civil defense plans and programs for application within such State There shall be frequent consultation between the representatives of the States and with the United States Government and the free exchange of information and plans including invntories of any materials and equipment available for civil defense In carrying out such civil defense plans and programs the party States shall so far as possible provide and follow uniform standards practices and rules and regulations including

(a) Insignia arm bands and any other distinctive articles to designate and distinguish the different civil defense services

(b) Blackouts and practice blackouts aid raid drills mobilization of civil defense forces and other tests and exercises

(c) Warnings and signals for drills or attacks and the mechanical devices to be used in connection therewith

(d) The effective screening or extinguishing of all lights and lighting devices and appliances

(e) Shutting off water mains gas mains electric power connections and suspension of all other utility services

(f) All materials or equipment used or to be used for civil defense purposes in order to assure that such materials and equipment will be easily and freely interchangeable when used in or by any other party State

(g) The conduct of civilians and the movement and cessation of movement of pedestrians and vehicular traffic prior during and subsequent to drills or attacks

(h) The safety of public meetings or gathers and

(i) Mobile support units

Article 3 Any party State requested to render mutual aid shall take such action as is necessary to provide and make available the resources covered by this compact in accordance with the terms hereof Provided That it is understood that the State rendering aid may withhold resources to the extent necessary to provide reasonable protection for such State Each party State shall extend to the civil defense forces of any other party State while operating within its State limits under the terms and conditions of this compact the same powers (except that of arrest unless specifically authorized by the receiving State) duties rights privileges and immunities as if they were performing their duties in the State in which normally employed or rendering services Civil defense forces will continue under the command and control of their regular leaders but the organizational units will come under the operational control of the civil defense authorities of the State receiving assistance

Article 4 Whenever any person holds a license certificate or other permit issued by any State evidencing the meeting of qualifications for professional mechanical or other skills such person may render aid involving such skill in any party State to meet an emergency or disaster and such State shall give due recognition to such license certificate or other permit as if issued in the State in which aid is rendered

Article 5 No party State or its officers or employes rendering aid in another State pursuant to this compact shall be liable on account of any act or omission in good faith on the part of such forces while so engaged or on account of the maintenance or use of any equipment or supplies in connection therewith

Article 6 Inasmuch as it is probable that the pattern and detail of the machinery for mutual aid among two or more States may differ from that appropriate among other States party hereto this instrument contains elements of a broad base common to all States and nothing herein contained shall preclude any State from entering into supplementary agreements with another State or States Such supplementary agreements may comprehend but shall not be limited to provisions for evacuation and reception of injured and other persons and the exchange of medical fire police public utility reconnaissance welfare transportation and communications personnel equipment and supplies

Article 7 Each party State shall provide for the payment of compensation and death benefits to injured members of the civil defense forces of that State and the representatives of deceased members of such forces in case such members sustain injuries or are killed while rendering aid pursuant to this compact in the same manner and on the same terms as if the injury or death were sustained within such State

Article 8 Any party State rendering aid in another State pursuant to this compact shall be reimbursed by the party State receiving such aid for any loss or damage to or expense incurred in the operation of any equipment answering a request for aid and for the cost incurred in connection with such requests Provided That any aiding party State may assume in whole or in part such loss damage expense or other cost or may loan such equipment or donate such services to the receiving party State without charge or cost and Provided further That any two or more party States may enter into supplementary agreements establishing a different allocation of costs as among those States The United States Government may relieve the party State receiving aid from any liability and reimburse the party State supplying civil defense for the compensation paid to and the transportation subsistence and maintenance expenses of such forces during the time of the rendition of such aid or assistance outside the State and may also pay fair and reasonable compensation for the use or utilization of the supplies materials equipment or facilities or utilized or consumed

Article 9 Plans for the orderly evacuation and reception of the civilian population as the result of an emergency or disaster shall be worked out from time to time between representatives of the party States and the various local civil defense areas thereof Such plans shall include the manner of transporting such evacuees the number of evacuees to be received in different areas the manner in which food clothing housing and medical care will be provided the registration of the evacuees the providing of facilities for the notification of relatives or friends and the forwarding of such evacuees to other areas or the bringing in of additional materials supplies and all other relevant factors Such plans shall provide that the party State receiving evacuees shall be reimbursed generally for the out-of-pocket expenses incurred in receiving and caring for such evacuees for expenditures for transportation food clothing medicines and medical care and like items Such expenditures shall be reimbursed by the party State of which the evacuees are residents or by the United States Government under plans approved by it After the termination of the emergency or disaster the party State of which the evacuees are resident shall assume the responsibility for the ultimate support or repatriation of such evacuees

Article 10 This compact shall be available to any State territory or possession of the United States and the District of Columbia The term "State" may also include any neighboring foreign country or province or state thereof

Article 11 The committee established pursuant to Article 1 of this compact may request the Civil Defense Agency of the United States Government to act as an informational and coordinating body under this compact and representatives of such agency of the United States Government may attend meetings of such committee

Article 12 This compact shall become operative immediately upon its ratification by any State as between it and any other State or States so ratifying and shall be subject to approval by Congress unless prior Congressional approval has been given Duly authenticated copies of this compact and of such supplementary agreements as may be entered into shall at the time of their approval be deposited with each of the party States and with the Civil Defense Agency and other appropriate agencies of the United States Government

Article 13 This compact shall continue in force and remain binding on each party State until the Legislature or the Governor of such party State takes action to withdraw therefrom Such action shall not be effective until 30 days after notice thereof has been sent by the Governor of the party State desiring to withdraw to the Governors of all other party States

Article 14 This compact shall be construed to effectuate the purposes stated in Article 1 hereof If any provision of this compact is declared unconstitutional or the applicability thereof to any person or circumstance is held invalid the constitutionality of the remainder of this compact and the applicability thereof to other persons and circumstances shall not be affected thereby

Section 2 Duly authenticated copies of this act shall upon its approval be transmitted to the Governor of each State to the President of the Senate of the United States to the Speaker of the United States House of Representatives to the Federal Civil Defense Administration to the Secretary of State of the United States and to the Council of State Governments

Section 3 This act shall become effective immediately upon final enactment

And said bill having been read at length the third time, and agreed to,

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, House Bill No. 4 deals with a compact between States, and there is absolutely no objection whatsoever to this Act and it ought to have been passed long ago. I would have rather had it amend the Act of 1941 in order that it would be operative immediately. However, this bill must be passed sooner or later, and I personally am going to vote "aye" and not ask anybody to follow me.

And the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Section 902 General Repeal Clause All acts and parts of acts inconsistent with the provisions of this act are hereby repealed

And said bill having been read at length the third time,

And the amendments made thereto having been printed as required by the Constitution,

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the bill on third reading?

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, I desire to interrogate the gentleman from Allegheny, Senator Walker.

The PRESIDENT. Will the gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Walker, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. WALKER. It is always a pleasure, Mr. President.

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, I would like to inquire of the gentleman from Allegheny, is it the consensus of the caucus that there will be no amendments accepted for this bill also?

Mr. WALKER. Mr. President, I do not want to avoid the question. We discussed this matter with the Chairman of the Law and Order Committee so that we would be properly guided in the interpretation of this somewhat voluminous statute, and I am advised by Senator Letzler that this bill is just a compilation or codification of the existing law without any new matter whatsoever.

Therefore, Mr. President, we would rather not have this code amended at this point. I think that is a correct interpretation of the situation, Mr. President.

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, the amendment I intended to offer is composed of only one line and the purpose of the amendment is to do by law that which was done by custom until Governor Arthur James became Governor. The custom was followed by both the Republican and Democratic Governors in that it provided for minority representation upon the Liquor Control Board. However, because of the political setup under Governor James, the Minority was deprived of its representation, and may I say to you Members of the Senate that although we are the minority numerically here in the Senate of Pennsylvania, there are twenty Democratic Senators here, but they represent over fifty-two per cent of the people in Pennsylvania, and although we may be the voting minority in the Senate, in reality we represent more people in Pennsylvania than the thirty Republican Senators because of the past performances of the committees that have gerrymandered the Legislative and Senatorial Districts. We find ourselves with the majority vote in the State but a minority vote in the Senate. I feel, with the majority vote in the State, that it is imperative to good government to have minority representation on a board such as the Liquor Control Board. However, the only way that I can present this amendment is by unanimous consent. I see nothing wrong with it and I do not think that any decent citizen sees anything wrong with a principle that was set up under Governor Pinchot and followed by Governor Earle.

Mr. President, I think that it is a good principle of government and I would like to present this amendment, and ask unanimous consent to present the amendment at this time.

Mr. WALKER. Mr. President, I have absolutely no objection to the presentation of the amendment by the gentleman from Westmoreland for consideration. I appreciate the fact that it is only one line, but I want to warn the gentleman from Westmoreland that even the change of one little word from "no" to "yes" can cause an awful lot of trouble.

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, I agree and if they would change that word on the other side more often, we would get better legislation.

Mr. President, I would like to further interrogate the gentleman from Allegheny, Senator Walker.

The PRESIDENT. Will the gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Walker, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. WALKER. I will, Mr. President.

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, am I to understand then that there will be thirty votes against the amendment?

Mr. WALKER. Mr. President, I cannot answer that. I have no objection to it being considered. I am assuming that the gentlemen of the Senate will exercise their own intelligent conclusions on that.

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, that is what I am waiting for.

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent to offer an amendment at this time.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection?

The Clerk read the amendment as follows:

Amend Senate Bill 12, Printer's No. 8, page 25, Section 201 by inserting in line 15 after the word "Senate" and before the word "of" in said line the following: "not more than two of whom shall be members of the same political party."

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the amendment?

Mr. WALKER. Mr. President, I might say that due to certain convictions I propose to vote "no" on this amendment. I am not asking anybody to follow me on it.

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate agree to the amendments?

MOTION THAT AMENDMENT BE ADOPTED

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, I move that the amendment to Senate Bill No. 12 be adopted.

Mr. HALUSKA. Mr. President, I second the motion.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

(A voice vote having been taken the question was determined in the negative.)

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

The yeas and nays were taken agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution, and were as follows, viz:

By Mr. ANDREWS. RESOLUTION No. 16.

In the House of Representatives, March 5, 1951.

Whereas, Pennsylvania, as an employer should set an example to all employers, by dealing justly with its employes, and

Whereas, wages and salaries in all brackets should be from time to time adjusted in keeping with the times, and

Whereas, in seeking wage adjustments there are always groups in the employ of the Commonwealth who are less vocal than other groups, and

Whereas, it frequently happens that wage and salary readjustments are launched for the benefit of those in the higher salary and wage brackets, while those in the lower wage and salary brackets are forgotten, therefore be it

Resolved, that the Appropriations Committee be requested to make a study of the Commonwealth's wage and salary structure for the purpose of determining whether employes in the lower wage and salary brackets are, or are not being adequately compensated, paying particular attention to the wage status of those who are employed to keep the Capitol buildings clean, to run their elevators, and perform similar services, and report its finding to this House.

Referred to the Committee on Rules.

By Mr. CLAPPER. (Concurrent) RESOLUTION No. 17.

In the House of Representatives, March 5, 1951.

Resolved, (if the Senate concur) That the Pennsylvania Game Commission be directed to establish and maintain a turkey farm at Ravens Gap, Bedford County, Pennsylvania.

Referred to the Committee on Rules.

SENATE MESSAGE

RESOLUTION FOR CONCURRENCE

The Clerk of the Senate being introduced presented an extract from the Journal of the Senate, which was read as follows:

In the Senate, March 5, 1951.

It is fitting that the long and distinguished career of the Honorable M. Harvey Taylor in business life, civic affairs, and legislative activities be duly recognized.

His faithful and constructive services have had a most beneficient influence on the welfare and the prosperity of the Commonwealth; therefore be it

Resolved (if the House of Representatives concur), That the bridge over the Susquehanna River connecting the State highway system in Cumberland County with the system of State highways in Dauphin County, at Forest Street in the City of Harrisburg, be designated as the M. Harvey Taylor Bridge; and be it further

Resolved, That the Department of Highways shall erect along said bridge suitable tablets or markers to perpetuate this resolution.

Ordered, That the Clerk present the same to the House of Representatives for its concurrence.

Referred to the Committee on Rules.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, in order to perhaps shorten the period of agony we will crave permission to discuss House Bills 337 and 340 at one and the same time. I do not propose to go into any details in what I shall say. I shall leave the discussion of the technical details of this bill to the Members from Philadelphia.

I arise principally to express admiration for a technique unusually effective, but one which I myself have never been able to perfect. I find on the other side of the House twelve Members from Philadelphia, and I gaze into the interesting and intelligent and lively countenances of some one hundred and eight Members that do not come from Philadelphia.

My admiration arises from this source. Any group of twelve Members, either on this side of the House or the other side of the House, that can induce one hundred and eight Members to pull their political chestnuts out of the fire have something. I confess that I would like to know the details of the method that enables these twelve fine Members from Philadelphia to hold the supposedly intelligent and progressive delegation from the rural communities in such complete subjection. It is a marvelous demonstration of power and I'd like to know the secret, because over here we have rural Members and I've never been able to cow them, our Philadelphia delegation cannot cow them, but over there you have a method that's perfect, and sometime during the session or after the session, I'd like to have the Majority Leader or some other leader from Philadelphia tell me how they perform the trick.

I want to read into the record a little contribution made to current political thought by that great reactionary and sometimes progressive newspaper, the Republican bible, the Philadelphia Inquirer. It may or may not have pertinence for our discussion although I think it's something that those twelve Members with a valuable technique should bear in mind. This little contribution to current political thought runs as follows:

"Republican ward leader reaction to the defeat suffered by their Organization in Philadelphia on November 7th, second and successive years, makes an interesting contribution to the study of political science. It can be summarized as follows: 'It couldn't be helped, so why do anything about it?'

Having been buried by two landslides, one of them by more than one hundred thousand votes, the other of nearly eighty thousand, the organization, one would think, might well be pondering the problems of digging themselves out."

And incidentally and parenthetically, instead of pondering how to dig itself out, the organization seems to be pondering ways of digging itself deeper in; but there is a hope.

"A radical revision in its leadership and policies, for instance,, might be considered.

But that would entail self-criticism. And ward politicians, of whatever party, rarely find fault with their own political sagacity. One leader who lost his ward by 4900 votes consoled himself with the thought that it might have been 7,000. Another who was defeated by 500 votes this year preened himself because last year the margin had been 3800. He thought he should be congratulated for picking up 3300 votes.

"Conditions," the Nation-wide "trend," the labor vote these, were blamed for the Republican losses in Philadelphia. The ward leader consensus appear to be that it could have been worse, and would have been under different leadership.

A Committeeman in the Northeast takes the defeatist view that no Republican ward leader will "do good up here" because there is "so much labor." Another explained the set back in his ward with the comment that it is "terrific labor" territory.

Are they handing the labor vote in a package to the Democratic party?"

That parenthetically the Inquirer didn't say—that was a jest derived from my own fount of wisdom.

"Plenty of union members have voted for Republican candidates elsewhere in Pennsylvania, and in other States, too, as Senator Taft's huge plurality in Ohio attests."

You know the Democrats don't have a mortgage that they can foreclose on the labor vote in Pennsylvania or any other part of the United States. Where there has been an effective Republican leadership, there has been some Union support, Labor support for the Democrat party.

"The attitude taken by these ward leaders is enough in itself to call for their removal.

The organization ward chiefs have only one solution to the difficulties in which their party finds itself here: give the committeemen more jobs. Don't reorganize the City Committee, don't inject new blood in the leadership, don't take measures to gain public confidence—just secure more and better political jobs for themselves. As a prescription for curing what ails the Republican Organization in Philadelphia, that sounds like a fatal dose. The Democrats could wish nothing better."

And that is exactly true when you fathom the purposes of the two pending bills now before the House. There is nothing more behind it than an anchor to windward. They want to be in a position to control the particular type of patronage "as, if and when." As if and when, when the Democrats win in Philadelphia .

Mr. SCANLON. Mr. Speaker, it is important that we all understand what the Philadelphia Housing Authority is. The Authority is a public corporation managed by five non-paid citizens, who in the name of the Authority borrow money, employ an executive directorate staff and contract for the building of houses. The staff manages these houses when completed.

Since it is a public corporation it is not run for profit. The main purpose is to keep rents low, and to insure this, the United States Government agrees to contribute funds annually. The Authority is organized under state law but is created by an ordinance of city council. Its five citizen members are appointed: two by the Mayor, two by the City Controller and the fifth one selected by the other four.

You can readily see that there are great possibilities for political favoritism in the running of such a tremendous enterprise as building 10,000 houses and spending a hundred million dollars. Already there are 450 employes of the Authority just to manage its 10,000 existing housing units. There will be even more jobs to come. If the affairs are not openly conducted, there could be temptations to buy from friends some of the 40 new tracts of land which will be needed; to engage architects by favoritism; to place the insurance on these houses with brokers who can some how return the favor and to give other work and opportunities to political cohorts.

You can see what I mean when I say that politics in public housing cannot be tolerated. To play politics with public housing is to trifle with our most fundamental needs.

This, gentlemen, is the story behind this vicious piece of ripper legislation. It is an effort by the Philadelphia Republic organization to control the members of this Authority so that they and their friends will be favored in the purchase of land, the hiring of architects and in the placing of insurance on those houses. It is an affront to this legislative body that its time should be wasted by the Philadelphia Republican city organization solely for the reason that it desires to inject politics into the housing program where today no politics exists. The people of Philadelphia will long remember the betrayal of their interests by the Republican members of this Assembly if this bill becomes law. The resentment will be shown in a very definite way in the next election. I ask you to vote against this bill.

Mr. HAMILTON. Mr. Speaker, I would like to say that the Republican Members of this Legislature throughout the State of Pennsylvania are extremely and fervently interested in the veterans, the heroes of World War II and also the low income families who are deserving of comfortable living quarters for their very fine families, and that is the reason the Members on the Republican side of this House have seen the wisdom in supporting these worthwhile bills which are not for any political purposes as far as pulling the chestnuts out of the fire for the Republican party in Philadelphia is concerned.

When I was much younger, in the year 1936, we lost the election to a Presidential candidate in Philadelphia by a majority of 210,000, if I remember the figure correctly. Beginning the following year we started a gradual comeback, a successful comeback, because the people of Philadelphia saw the wisdom of the Republican party's policies in our great city. I'm not a prophet or the son of a prophet but to the Members of this House on both sides I would like to say that it isn't impossible for the Republican party to win the entire city election this coming November. As a matter of fact it is very probable.

I, too, would like to say to the Minority Leader that I hope we can be brief today, and as he so aptly phrased it, cut down the agony.

The Housing Authority Act of 1937 provided various methods of appointing members of the Authority. The Governor with the Mayor jointly, the county commissioners and other systems were used according to that act. As a matter of fact in the great County of Delaware the Governor appoints all members of the Housing Authority. There is a very strong possibility the Governor, having seven members to appoint under House Bill 337 and 340, will take into consideration the need of minority representation if that is a vital question; but the biggest and most important fact in these bills is that veterans, the men who fought for you and me, and the low income families, they have no room for them in the Inn, because there has been quite a lot of dissention in the Housing Authority in recent months and the dual appointive authority has brought that about.

I would like to give some facts concerning the present Housing Authority to the Members of this House. Recently a tract of ground was approved for purchase by the Housing Authority. I understand twenty-six and a half acres were purchased by the Housing Authority at a cost of $50,000 per acre, which means the land for this particular project when it is erected, and just for the land, will cost over $1,300,000. With $200,000,000 to be spent under the contemplated program of the Philadelphia Housing Authority, it is my considered judgment that if we have one appointive power there will be a harmonious spirit existing, and the veterans, the heroes of World War II, and other low income families will get the break which they are entitled to, because at the present time, with such a large waiting list, there is no room for them in the Inn.

Yesterday the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Rose, referred to a letter written to my distinguished colleague, the Honorable Herman J. Tahl, by the co-chairman of the Greater Philadelphia Movement, Mr. William Fulton Kurtz. I hold in my hand the copy of that letter and on the letter head there are the names of twenty-five directors. The only statement written in this letter is the question of Home Rule. Mr. Kurtz did not say "in the interest of veterans, in the interest of low income families, who deserve low rent housing;" he didn't plead their cause. He pleaded Home Rule, and the gentleman from Philadelphia elaborated upon Home Rule with great emphasis. There are twenty-five directors in the Greater Philadelphia Movement on this letter head. There are fifteen of those gentlemen who do not reside in the City of Philadelphia. In other words, 60 per cent for various and sundry reasons have a burning desire to control the affairs of the City of Philadelphia but they just won't live with us. They want to control our people in Philadelphia but they won't rub shoulders with the rank and file of Philadelphia. They would rather live beyond the confines of our great city. If any one would care to check those addresses you may get the names and addresses from this letterhead.

In addition to that, Mr. Rose referred to a telegram that he received, or a communication that he received from Mr. William W. James, President of the Philadelphia Housing Association. Mr. James is a non-resident of the City of Philadelphia. Mr. James has an ulterior motive for the communication that he sent to the distinguished gentleman from Philadelphia.

Mr. James is interested in securing the eight thousand dollar a year position with the Philadelphia Housing Authority, but he doesn't want to live in our city. I am sure that if there are eight thousand dollar positions to be handed out for the Housing Authority in the city of Philadelphia, there are members in the distinguished Philadelphia Democratic delegation who are just as capable of holding this kind of a position at eight thousand dollars a year as a man who says, "I won't live with you, but I want to work with you for a profit." Here is the letter and the application which he sent to the Housing Authority of Philadelphia.

As to home rule, they want to control the affairs of our city, but they just won't live with us and walk down the streets of Philadelphia shoulder to shoulder. I would like to convey to this House another example of home rule. Recently the members of the Philadelphia Housing Authority decided it was necessary to secure an assistant to the Executive Director. They approved the appointment of a man named Drayton S. Bryant, of Los Angeles, California. The Philadelphia Housing Authority in order to secure an eight thousand dollar assistant to the Executive Director of the Philadelphia Housing Authority went out to sunny California; whereas I know and the members from Philadelphia know that in the distinguished Democratic delegation there are many citizens of Philadelphia who would be equally as competent in filling such a job as someone from sunny California. I wondered why the members of the Housing Authority did not select and approve the appointment of a man or woman from sunny South Philadelphia or Northwest Philadelphia or Northeast Philadelphia or some other corner of Philadelphia. No, we had to go to the extreme end of the United States and bring a man here from three thousand miles away to work at a salary of eight thousand dollars a year. I wouldn't call that home rule when a man comes here, and it would take him several years to become acquainted with our fair city.

On this letterhead of the Greater Philadelphia Movement there are two members of the present Philadelphia Housing Authority. They advocate home rule in that letter, but they do not bring out any question whether the veterans and the low income families can live in comfortable quarters.

The gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Scanlon, referred to the selection of architects. Toward the latter part of 1950 the members of the Philadelphia Housing Authority selected a man named Mr. Robert B. Mitchell and gave him a special assignment to select architects for the contemplated housing program in Philadelphia. One member of that Board said the members of the Board can select the architects, why go on the outside for assistance. He was overruled. The report was brought in by Mr. Robert B. Mitchell recommending certain architects. One of those architects is a very close relative (I believe he is a brother-in-law) of the present chairman of the Philadelphia Housing Authority. I also understand that the personal architect of one of the members, whose name is on the letterhead of the Greater Philadelphia Movement, is also being considered, or has been chosen as one of the architects of the Philadelphia Housing Authority.

Mr. Speaker, it is very plain that these gentlemen who shout home rule to the stars until the cows some home have an ulterior motive why they do not want the Governor to name two additional members, and that just might be the case of just naming two additional members to the Housing Authority and have one appointment rather than a dual appointment.

Home rule was the chief topic of discussion yesterday, but it is obvious the leaders of this Greater Philadelphia Movement preach home rule but they do not practice it by living with us in Philadelphia and walking the streets with us in Philadelphia, except for a profit. And when it comes time to handing out very important appointments with substantial salaries, the majority of them, so far, get consideration because they live outside of Philadelphia, and they bring a man all the way from the State of California. For these and various other reasons, Mr. Speaker, I would ask for the passage of House Bills 337 and 340.

Mr. ROSE. Mr. Speaker, I am somewhat amazed to see the gentleman from the majority party from Philadelphia express such a great and deep interest in the plight of the veterans and the underprivileged individuals in Philadelphia that need low rent housing.

When we look at the history of the majority party in Philadelphia, we certainly don't see any evidence of their interest in such groups. Some years ago, because of the great interest that they have in the underprivileged, the majority party turned down a grant of nineteen million dollars that was offered by the Federal government for the purpose of erecting low cost rental projects in the city of Philadelphia. At that time they didn't care too much about the fact that people that needed low cost rental units were not getting them because of their action.

In the few years that the Housing Authority has attempted to bring to the citizens of Philadelphia worthwhile projects, I didn't see any interest on the part of the Republican members of the City Council in the plight of the veterans or the underprivileged. As a matter of fact, and I think this can be proven very easily, the programs that were set forth by the Housing Authority, particularly the Authority as it is presently constituted, with W. Blair Lee as the Chairman, as a result of study had by the Bureaeu of Municipal Research, has brought forth a considerable number of projects that would certainly meet the needs of the veterans and those underprivileged persons that need low cost rental projects.

But we know just what has happened in Philadelphia. Anyone who is at all familiar with the workings of the City Hall gang in Philadelphia knows who has stopped developments for veterans and for other people who want low cost housing projects. The gentleman well knows the Republican Ward Leaders in Philadelphia at this very moment are circulating petitions opposing projects that have been offered to the citizenry of Philadelphia by the Housing Authority. They are circulating petitions and telling their people in their respective wards "you're going to have a low type individual move into your area—you're going to have members of minority groups—you're going to have other undesirables." Now, the gentleman also knows that Republican ward leaders have appeared at meetings of the Housing Authorities and have condemned projects that are designed to alleviate the requirements of veterans and of people that want low cost rental projects. It is absolutely the most inane remark I have ever heard on the floor of this House to say that the Republican party by the introduction of this bill is attempting to aid veterans or other peoples who need low cost rental projects.

The gentleman was speaking about ulterior motives. I, too, am interested in the ulterior motive displayed by the Republicans in Philadelphia by the introduction of this bill. I think it has been generally conceded that this bill was introduced with the blessing of Bill Morrow, the Republican City Chairman, and after consultation probably with Austin Meehan, Billy Meade and the gentleman's own brother, who is an able leader of the Republican party in Philadelphia. They are the ones that had this bill brought forth in this House and they've done so with an ulterior motive in mind.

He was discssing the fact that the Authority determined to select someone who is competent and efficient, and they found someone who was living in California. Why the very Home Rule Charter that we're going to vote for in Philadelphia next month, and which has incidentally been approved, on the surface at least, by the Republican City Chairman and by other so-called Republican leaders in Philadelphia, gives the authorities in Philadelphia the opportunity to employ competent men that live outside of Philadelphia. I know just what has happened in the Housing Authority. They probably recommended someone that wasn't competent.

The reason this bill has been introduced, and I charge this here today, is that the Authority as it is presently constituted has not been playing politics with the boys. The Republican ward leaders have been recommending for posts, not only men in executive capacities, but the more menial tasks, men who are supposed to be plumbers and carpenters and bricklayers for work to be done on the projects—individuals who are politically sponsored that are not equipped to do the job. And the mere fact that the Authority has set up the merit system as a result of the study made by the groups that are interested in improving the work of the Authority and have turned down these political recommendations, is what turned the City Hall gang that is behind this bill against it.

Let me tell you this, there's profit in this thing. The gentleman mentioned profit; he said that the members of the Authority are interested in profit. I don't see any reflection cast upon the five members that are now members of that Housing Authority. As I said here yesterday, the majority of those members are not members of our party, and we are the first to concede that they are competent individuals who are public spirited and have a sincere desire to render service to the citizens of Philadelphia. I haven't seen anyone accuse them of engaging in their activities for the Authority, not for the public good, as they are, but for some profitable deal they have in mind.

The gentleman is a little bit disturbed about the possibility of other individuals being employed by the authority who don't live in Philadelphia and he said that even members of the Greater Philadelphia Movement are not residents of Philadelphia. We are happy to see an organization such as the Greater Philadelphia Movement arise in the Philadelphia area. I hope we never reach the stage where we are going to deny the advice given to us by people who live in the greater Philadelphia area, who are interested in improving the plight of Philadelphia and interested in building up Philadelphia.

Philadelphia in the next twenty-five years will face a tremendous period of growth. Some of the large steel mills are moving into the Philadelphia area. Other large industries have come to Philadelphia, and I think these public spirited citizens who have joined these organizations with the view to improving the lot of Philadelphia and of the government of Philadelphia certainly are to be commended. I don't want to deny to those residing in the suburban areas of Philadelphia the right to join us in contributing to the growth of Philadelphia. We welcome them, we will heed their advice, we will recognize them, and particularly when they have a contribution to offer to the welfare of the city I think that we of the Democratic Party as well as all decent, righteous thinking people and the Republican party want their aid and assistance.

The gentleman might also point out that the majority of the members of the Greater Philadelphia Movement are members of the majority party. We don't hold that against them. There is room for reasonable differences of opinion but I think that so far as the welfare of the city is concerned we want to be joined by those on the opposite side that are interested aiding the growth of Philadelphia.

The Governor of Pennsylvania, incidently, does not reside in Philadelphia. We understand that he has been visiting there quite often and we welcome his visits. I think if he visited there more often than he has he would be able to see behind the racket and the smoke screen that is being directed by the ward leader clique that the Minority Leader discussed so ably a little while ago. Perhaps he will take the initiative and go ahead and try to rectify some of the shortcomings that have been created by this group that are absolutely possessed of feeling wherein they show that they have no confidence or faith in the ability of Philadelphians to conduct their own affairs. If he were really so interested in aiding Philadelphia and if he felt that the principles of home rule should be followed he certainly would feel that Philadelphians are able to carry out their own affairs rather well. We feel that we ought to have the opportunity to rule our own destiny, whether we are controlled by a government which is controlled by one party or another, but we feel that Philadelphians themselves are certainly capable of conducting their own affairs and actually this bill is, as has been mentioned before, a politically devised measure to go ahead and possibly protect them.

As the Inquirer pointed out in the editorial that Mr. Andrews read, the mere piling on to the public payroll of a group of incompetents and misfits is not going to strengthen the confidence of the people of Philadelphia in the Republican party. If they continue this sort of activity not only here in the Legislature but down in City council, wherein they are disregarding the wishes and the voices of the civic organizations and of the people of Philadelphia, they are going to have another rude awakening and possibly they will be coming up here and begging the other members of the majority party to assist them. As Mr. Andrews pointed out, it is rather an anomalous situation to find the tail wagging the dog, but it amazes me to find that the other members of the majority party here have succumbed to the blandishments of the political leaders of Philadelphia and have yielded to their wishes in a matter which is not only not beneficial to the citizenry of Philadelphia, but is actually harmful and inimical to the interests of the party itself.

However, I am not going to try to aid the Republican party here. If they are willing to go ahead and deprive themselves of the support of the majority of the citizens of Philadelphia by actions such as go on here it is their own grave and we will not try to pull their chestnuts out of the fire. When you look at the arguments that have been advanced in support of this bill I think anyone of you who is really thinking about the welfare of the people not only in Philadelphia but throughout the state will realize that there is absolutely no merit to this measure. There has been no intellectual honesty displayed here today in the arguments in favor of this bill. I wish they had come out and said point blank that they expect the Democratic party to win the election next fall and that they are trying to save a little bit of patronage. Its rather complimentary to the Democratic leaders in Philadelphia that the Republicans now concede defeat because certainly if they did not they would never have introduced such a measure that will not be of any assistance to any one other than the politicians and those who benefit by dealing with the politicians in Philadelphia.

I say in conclusion, that we of the Democratic party in Philadelphia have had one thing in mind in the last few years. We don't want to see, and we know that the people of Philadelphia don't want to see the substitution of one gang for another. The people of Philadelphia have shown in the last two elections that they are fed up with the type of government they are getting. They have shown that they are interested in men and women who when elected to public office will consider their needs, their aspirations and their hopes. I am convinced that the passage of this legislation will impel the people even further to realize that the City Hall gang is as selfish as they have ever been, and that they don't have any interest in the citizenry of Philadelphia, that they are going to deprive the citizens of Philadelphia of the rights to govern themselves if the citizens can be dragged in and bludgeoned into supporting their party.

I call upon the Members of this House who are really interested in establishing good government for a large segment of the population of Pennsylvania that lives within the confines of our city limits, to vote down this measure and to send the bill back again where it rightfully belongs.

Mr. GUARNIERI. Mr. Speaker, I would like to interrogate the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Hamilton.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Hamilton, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. WILBUR H. HAMILTON. I shall, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. GUARNIERI. Mr. Hamilton do you believe that there is virtue and principle in the two bills that you proposed?

Mr. WILBUR H. HAMILTON. I do.

Mr. GUARNIERI. Do you believe there is political wisdom therein?

Mr. WILBUR H. HAMILTON. They are non-political.

Mr. GUARNIERI. Do you believe there is governmental wisdom in such legislation?

Mr. WILBUR H. HAMILTON. They are non-political because the Governor of Pennsylvania may appoint the two additional members to these respective boards regardless of their political faith and he also can appoint the present membership of the board and they will be seven citizens of the City of Philadelphia.

Mr. GUARNIERI. Do you believe, in other words, Mr. Hamilton that it is good governmental policy, let's put it that way?

Mr. WILBUR H. HAMILTON. I firmly believe and it is my conviction that it will be splendid governmental policy for the veterans and the low income families of Philadelphia who are seeking living quarters for their families.

Mr. GUARNIERI. Mr. Hamilton, I understood your previous statement as your position, and I wanted a reiteration at this time to preface some other questions that I may ask.

I have taken into consideration that you are sincere in this matter of opposing these amendments as a matter of good governmental policy; at least every man is presumed to be honest and sincere in opposing legislation on the floor of this House, as we are all under oath bound to do.

Assuming the virtue of your governmental proposition, we won't call it political, we'll call it governmental proposition, would not such virtue also attach and extend to other municipal subdivisions, localities and counties throughout the breadth and width of the state of Pennsylvania.

Mr. HAMILTON. I can't speak for the other counties. I can only say that for the people of all stations in life in Philadelphia if these two bills are enacted they are going to be greatly benefited.

Mr. GUARNIERI. But, Mr. Hamilton, we have conceded the virtue, the wisdom of your principle of government here. If it be a wise principle, then why should it not be extended to all municipal subdivisions, of the state of Pennsylvania? Why should we single out just Philadelphia?

Mr. HAMILTON. Mr. Speaker, involved in the financial program of these measures and since their enactment, funds belonging to people all over the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania are being invested in the respective housing authorities and it is being invested for the benefit of those people who need, desire and would like to have a place in which to reside for their families. That is the purpose of these bills, and as far as Philadelphia is concerned, the Governor will appoint seven citizens from our city guaranteeing virtue and home rule.

Mr. GUARNIERI. That, I appreciate, but again if there be virtue or any particular merit in such appointments does the gentleman believe that appointment should be made by the Governor and that where appointments are made by the Governor thereby is assured a more efficient and a better administration for the housing authority, with greater benefit to the low income groups and veterans, is it not equally so true as appertaining to other areas throughout the state?

Mr. WILBUR H. HAMILTON. I would like to say to the gentleman from Philadelphia that Pennsylvania is a very large state. I am not familiar with other areas and I am recommending the passage of these bills for the benefit of the people of Philadelphia who are entitled to what the bills offer.

Mr. GUARNIERI. But then the gentleman has not taken time out, I take it, to find out whether the people in the rest of the state should be so benefited as the people of Philadelphia shall be so beneficially blessed as a result of this type of legislation.

Mr. WILBUR H. HAMILTON. The people of Philadelphia, the people of the state of Pennsylvania and the people of the United States of America should be benefited by these bills and any other similar bills that will help the veterans and low income families.

Mr. GUARNIERI. It would seem to me then that such virtuous legislation should in all fairness to the great people of the Commonwealth be made applicable statewide. That's the conclusion I must arrive at as a matter of logic, and I will ask you whether you would not seem impelled as a matter of reason, assuming and accepting the virtue and wisdom of your initial principle, to make it statewide. Is that not a rational conclusion?

Mr. WILBUR H. HAMILTON. I sincerely hope and pray that every person in Pennsylvania will be aided by this legislation.

Mr. GUARNIERI. Mr. Speaker, I've heard considerable concerning the benefits which shall be placed upon the veterans or the low income groups as a result of this type of legislation which we are about to pass upon at the present time. Speaking of the veterans' group I would asked the gentleman to make known what evidence you have, written or otherwise in your possession from various veterans' groups in Philadelphia and in the state of Pennsylvania demanding and requesting that this legislation be passed.

Mr. WILBUR H. HAMILTON. Very recently in my home I had several veterans come with their wives and families, and I am quite sure that every Member of this House has had a similar experience. They have been on the waiting list of the Housing Authority for a long, long time and there is no room for them in the Inn, and if we can have harmony and if we get the right spirit, we can go forward with this $200 million program and take care of our veterans and take care of the low income families who are certainly entitled to every consideration that we can give them as Members of this Legislature.

Mr. GUARNIERI. Does the gentleman have any specific requests; was any specific request made to him by the American Legion or any American Legion Post in Philadelphia, naming such if any for the American Legion of Pennsylvania? Does the gentleman have any specific requests for this legislation in his files?

Mr. WILBUR H. HAMILTON. I am a member of the American Legion Post in Roxborough, Philadelphia. I receive and read various pamphlets, magazines and papers, and the Legion are certainly striving to secure proper housing facilities for their members and some of the Veterans of Foreign Wars and other veterans' groups.

In any way that I can possibly help the veterans' groups as groups or individuals I want to do it. I am quite sure that if we have harmony and the right spirit in the Housing Authority, we will get action and it will be accomplished.

Mr. GUARNIERI. I appreciate the gentleman's solicitude for the veterans, but I asked him a question that he has not answered. Does the gentleman have any specific resolutions, memorials, requests, in writing from organized veterans' or from local groups which have come to him and said "We want the Governor of Pennsylvania to appoint the members of the Philadelphia Housing Authority." Because thereby we believe that only in that manner shall we obtain housing. Does the gentleman have that evidence with him?

Mr. WILBUR H. HAMILTON. I would like to say to the gentleman from Philadelphia that I hope I do not receive any memorials from the veterans' groups in this respect. They would be rather sad as far as the survivors of their families are concerned, but I wish to assure him from the bottom of my heart I have had many veterans ask me to help them with housing and he knows there is not a veterans magazine that goes forward either from national headquarters, state headquarters, or county headquarters, that does not express the need for housing for veterans and low income groups. I believe, under this $200 million program, my suggestions in this bill will accomplish action and achieve what those people desire and need.

Mr. GUARNIERI. The gentleman has expressed his personal conviction. I must insist Mr. Hamilton that you have not presented this House or me with any answer to the question that I have asked as to any specific requests made in writing whereby groups ask for this particular type of legislation to better veterans. I appreciate the fact that all veterans' groups want more housing. I want more and better housing for veterans and low income groups and so does the gentleman. We all do and I sincerely believe every man in this House wants that but the gentleman has not answered my question. Where is this great wave of demand that Governor Fine must appoint these men to insure this program? Where is the evidence? The gentleman has not shown me and I will not repeat the question because I shall only receive an evasive answer.

Is the gentleman acquainted with Mr. Walter Allasandroni, the Executive Secretary of the Philadelphia Housing Authority?

Mr. WILBUR H. HAMILTON. I know the gentleman, yes.

Mr. GUARNIERI. Mr. Allasandroni, you realize is a Past Commander of the American Legion of Pennsylvania. Is that correct, sir?

Mr. WILBUR H. HAMILTON. That is correct.

Mr. GUARNIERI. And Mr. Allasandroni is at present one of the National Vice Commanders of the American Legion. Is that correct?

Mr. WILBUR H. HAMILTON. That is correct.

Mr. GUARNIERI. Mr. Allasandroni has played a prominent part in the activities of the Philadelphia Housing Authority. Is that correct?

Mr. WILBUR H. HAMILTON. He is the Executive Director of the Philadelphia Housing Authority and I understand his salary is approximately twelve thousand dollars annually.

Mr. GUARNIERI. In other words, he is associated with the Authority.

Mr. WILBUR H. HAMILTON. He is the paid Executive Director of the Philadelphia Housing Authority.

Mr. GUARNIERI. Has Mr. Allasandroni indicated to the gentleman, either personally or in his official capacity, as American Legion Vice Commander or as a former Commander of the Pennsylvania American Legion, that the Philadelphia Housing Authority should be constituted of members appointed exclusively by the Governor of Pennsylvania?

Mr. WILBUR H. HAMILTON. Every Member of this House has been approached by veterans and their families for housing. Mr. Walter Allasandroni or anyone else does not have to acquaint us with that situation; but I do wish that the members of the Housing Authority and their paid staff of assistants would really get down to business for the veterans in the low income groups in Philadelphia.

Mr. GUARNIERI. Again the gentleman's answer was not responsive. I asked a specific question and asked for a specific answer.

Mr. Allasandroni is the Executive Director of the Housing Authority, as the gentleman admits, and yet it would seem to me, being very active in Legion affairs, he would certainly have an interest, either personally or at least officially, in this type of legislation. Yet the gentleman has not told me whether Mr. Allasandroni himself, who occupies such a high position in Legion matters, has told him or requested him personally to propose this type of legislation. The gentleman need not answer the question, because again I shall receive some evasive answer.

Mr. WILBUR H. HAMILTON. Mr. Allasandroni has made speeches and written articles which I have read as a member of the American Legion and I know that Mr. Allasandroni is acquainted with a large waiting list of veterans who are seeking homes and so are the other low income families in Philadelphia on that waiting list.

Mr. GUARNIERI. May I further interrogate the gentleman, Mr. Speaker?

The SPEAKER. Does the gentleman desire to further interrogate or does he desire to debate the bill?

Mr. GUARNIERI. I desire to interrogate the gentleman.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Hamilton, permit himself to be further interrogated?

Mr. WILBUR H. HAMILTON. I shall, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. GUARNIERI. Does the gentleman not believe that in line with his proposal, accepting the basic theory that it is wiser to have the Governor appoint all members of this Authority, would it not be wiser to make an addition thereto that all members of the Authority in Philadelphia shall be veterans or otherwise they are not qualified to be members of the Housing Authority? Would that not thereby insure such better results for veterans by the Housing Authority being constituted totally of veterans, for the benefit of the veterans. Would the gentleman not go that step further then?

Mr. WILBUR H. HAMILTON. We have many able veterans who could do this job in a very competent manner, but the veterans are broad minded and if they can get assistance from other conscientious individuals who might be equally as qualified to serve on this board, I know that the veterans would welcome all the support and aid and assistance that could be given to them, and there are many, many able veterans, in fact, there are quite a number in the Philadelphia Democratic delegation in this House.

Mr. GUARNIERI. This Housing Authority was passed in 1937. Is that correct?

Mr. WILBUR H. HAMILTON. Yes sir.

Mr. GUARNIERI. Since only after 1939 or thereabouts is it not true that the majority control in this House of Representatives and, as a matter of fact, the Senate has been in the hands of the Republican party.

Mr. WILBUR H. HAMILTON. In 1937, if my memory serves me correctly, the Democratic party was in control of the Legislature, and the Senate was in control of the Republican party, and at that time we had a Democratic Governor in the State Capitol.

Mr. GUARNIERI. But for a number of years prior to this, the Republicnas had been in control of both Houses. Is that not correct?

Mr. WILBUR H. HAMILTON. It had shifted back and forth prior to that time.

Mr. GUARNIERI. Were not the Republicans in control of this House in 1945?

Mr. WILBUR H. HAMILTON. Yes.

Mr. GUARNIERI. In 1947?

Mr. WILBUR H. HAMILTON. Yes.

Mr. GUARNIERI. Yet at that time, it is true that this special type of legislation was not brought forth by the majority party.

Mr. WILBUR H. HAMILTON. It has been in the last couple of years where we have had so many changes in the membership of the Philadelpiha Housing Authority brought about change in administration which has caused dissension, disunity and turmoil in the Philadelphia Housing Authority and consequently the veterans and the low income families haven't gotten too much action by virtue of those changes and dissension that has existed for a year, or a year and a half.

Mr. GUARNIERI. What guarantee is there under these proposed measures that the members of the Housing Authority appointed by the Governor will not go outside of Philadelphia, that is, appoint architects or others who are non residents of Philadelphia? By the face of the proposed bills there is no written guarantee or prohibition against these newly constituted members appointed by the Governor to appoint members of various capacities to the Authority who are not Philadelphians. That is correct, is it not?

Mr. WILBUR H. HAMILTON. I believe that the seven Philadelphia citizens that the Governor will appoint will absolutely adhere to a strong home rule policy in their Housing Authority.

Mr. GUARNIERI. The gentleman is putting it on belief, but does he not think it would be wiser to write it into the law? If you have such concern about appointments of non-Philadelphians, why do you not write it into the body of the law?

Mr. WILBUR H. HAMILTON. I don't believe that it will be necessary because I think the seven citizens will make sure that home rule is a very important factor in the Housing Authority.

The SPEAKER. Has the gentleman concluded his interrogation?

Mr. GUARNIERI. Yes, Mr. Speaker, but I desire to speak on the bill. Mr. Speaker, we'd like to assume and we want to assume, in fact, we are duty bound to assume, the sincerity of any Member of this House who proposes any piece of legislation. The presumption is one of innocence, to borrow a term which is oftentimes used in the criminal courts. The presumption is one that each Member should be and is motivated by a sincere desire to benefit the public interest. That is the presumption. I have put certain specific questions, factual questions, to the gentleman from Philadelphia, and the answers received have been largely matters of credo—"I believe this," "it would appear to be that," "I ask such and such"—"you believe and I believe." I say in the realm of constitutional government we are not dealing with credo. We aren't dealing with theology; we are dealing with necessary expressed powers and limitations. The credo given by the gentleman from Philadelphia, "I believe this" and "I believe that" is evidence of the basic lack of factual necessity or background for this legislation. No amount of protestation, of words, can eliminate or whitewash the fact that there is no factual background or compelling necessity or urgency for legislation of this type.

Since we don't have the facts, then what do we do? We look for the motive. Where facts are lacking, we draw inferences, and there is one, only one inference to be drawn under the evidence. The inference is that the gentleman from Philadelphia and the Philadelphia Republican organization must remain convicts at this point. For it was motivated, as we must conclude, it was motivated solely by the desire to deprive the local governmental officials of Philadelphia of the power to insure bi-partisan administration of the Housing Authority in Philadelphia.

This is purely ripper legislation, and I say to every gentleman here that I fear it is the harbinger of other types of ripper legislation to come in the future for Philadelphia. It appears that the Republican organization is about to be defeated in the coming election in Philadelphia. Thereby the local Republican organization in Philadelphia is seeking this method of insuring its continued patronage in Philadelphia come the day when their power, political power in Philadelphia shall be ended. I say it is a dangerous precedent. Let us remove the mask, let us remove the cloak, let us pierce the iron curtain, the iron curtain which separates the two bodies here. Let us appeal to reason. Let us see what the true facts are.

In concluding, I want to make this assertion, I think it is criminal, I think it is dastardly, I think it is scandalous that the veterans, those who fought in the last war as I did and many others did, that veterans should be used at this time as a fall boy, as a football for the Republican organization. This is an act and it is about to die, and it uses the name of the veteran and wraps a flag around itself. I think it is criminal when men are dying in Korea, where I would not want to be myself, to think that a dying, corrupt political organization has been using the holy name of a veteran to justify this scandalous legislation.

Mr. SCANLON. Mr. Speaker, I hope this will be the closing statement. I just want to comment that the gentleman from Philadelphia who sponsored the bill, Mr. Wilbur H. Hamilton, made the remark that an achitect was employed by the Philadelphia authority. I don't think Mr. Hamilton gave you the right picture. This gentleman was a specialist in housing; he was hired by the Authority to make a survey of the qualified architectural firms in Philadelphia and then they were appointed by the Authority, and it was a Philadelphia architect.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution the yeas and nays were taken.

A verification of the roll was requested by Messrs Rose, Williams and Rovansek.

The roll was verified and was as follows:

The majority required by the Constitution having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, That the Clerk present the same to the Senate for concurrence.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 340, as follows:

An Act to amend Section 5 of the act approved the twenty-eighth day of May one thousand nine hundred thirty-seven (P. L. 955) entitled as amended "An act to promote public health safety morals and welfare by declaring the necessity of creating public bodies corporate and politic to be known as housing authorities to engage in slum clearance and to undertake projects to provide dwelling accommodations for persons of low income providing for the organization of such housing authorities defining their powers and duties providing for the exercise of such powers including the acquisition of property by purchase gift or eminent domain the renting and selling of property and including borrowing money issuing bonds and other obligations and giving security therefor prescribing the remedies of obligees of housing authorities authorizing housing authorities to enter into agreements including agreements with the United States the Commonwealth and political subdivisions and municipalities thereof defining the application of zoning sanitary and building laws and regulations to projects built or maintained by such housing authorities exempting the property and securities of such housing authorities from taxation and imposing duties and conferring powers upon the State Planning Board and certain other State officers and departments" by increasing the number of members of housing authorities in cities of the first class and vesting the power of appointment of such members in the Governor.

Section 1 Section 5 of the act approved the twenty-eighth day of May one thousand nine hundred thirty-seven (P. L. 955) entitled as amended "An act to promote public health safety morals and welfare by declaring the necessity of creating public bodies corporate and politic to be known as housing authorities to engage in slum clearance and to undertake projects to provide dwelling accommodations for persons of low income providing for the organization of such housing authorities defining their powers and duties for the exercise of such powers including the acquisition of property by purchase gift or eminent domain the renting and selling of property and including borrowing money issuing bonds and other obligations and giving security therefor prescribing the remedies of obligees of housing authorities authorizing authorities to enter into agreements including agreements with the United States the Commonwealth and political subdivisions and municipalities thereof defining the application of zoning sanitary and building laws and regulations to project built or maintained by such housing authorities exempting the property and securities of such housing authorities from taxation and imposing duties and conferring powers up on the State Planning Board and certain other State officers and departments" is hereby amended to read as follows

Section 5 Appointment of Members of an Authority (a) The board of county commissioners for any county commissioners for any county upon issuing a certificate declaring the need for an Authority to operate in such county or upon receiving notice of the issuance of such certificate by the Governor shall appoint five citizens residents of the county to be members of the housing authority which is to operate within such county except that in counties of the third class the governing body of the county shall appoint two members of the housing authority of such county and the Governor shall appoint three members of the housing authority of such county

ANNOUNCEMENTS BY SPEAKER

The SPEAKER. A meeting of First Term Members with the Parliamentarian will be held in the New House Caucus Room on the first floor of this building, immediately following adjournment of the House today.

It is appropriate that the Honorable Robert E. Woodside, Attorney General designate, a former Member and a former Majority and Minority Leader in the House, who has administered the oath of office to so many Members of the House, will take his oath of office in this Hall at 9:50 tomorrow morning.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS HOUSE

Mr. ANDREWS asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the House.

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, yesterday I introduced a resolution. Since the Members of the House probably never read resolutions, and sometimes I have serious doubt whether the Rules Committee ever reads resolutions, I crave the privilege of outlining the purpose of the resolution I introduced yesterday.

It has come to my notice that employes of the Commonwealth engaged in humble duties around this building in some instances have not received an increase in their compensation for the last eight years. Now it is true that these people do not perform a distinguished function, it's true that not all of them are over worked, it is true that in the beginning some of them were undoubtedly placed on the payroll pretty much as pensioners. But in the last eight years pensions even have dwindled in their purchasing power. There are women employed in the capitol getting $14 a week for which at the time they were employed doubtless was adequate compensation. Since they were employed many of them have been called upon to support families. The men who run the elevators have never been in the class where they could qualify for social security; some of them are bachelors, some of them have independent incomes and some are supporting families, so the import of my resolution was to request the Appropriation Committee to make inquiry concerning the salaries paid to the humble employes here on the hill in Harrisburg and find out whether or not the stipend paid them was in line with the tenor of the times.

We have raised compensations at the top and I think that in all fairness we should ascertain whether the largess of the Commonwealth extended in the top brackets should not be permitted to trickle down in some measure to those who are employed in the humblest of all of the salaried brackets.

I certainly want to call that resolution to the attention of the House because I believe that in justice it is an inquiry that should be made. In many instances these people are in no position to speak for themselves; they have no lobby and they have no powerful advocates, unless the distinguished Chairman of the Appropriations Committee would consent to become their advocate, and in that case their cause would indeed be in able hands.

ADJOURNMENT

Mr. BANKER. Mr. Speaker, I move that this House do now adjourn until Wednesday, March 7, 1951 at 10:00 a. m.

The motion was agreed to, and (at 3:11 p. m.) the House adjourned.

COMMONWEALTH OF PENNSYLVANIA

Legislative Journal.

Session 1951. 139th of the General Assembly.

Vol. 32. HARRISBURG, PA., WEDNESDAY, MARCH 7, 1951. No. 19.

SENATE

WEDNESDAY, March 7, 1951.

The Senate met at 9:00 o'clock, a. m., Eastern Standard Time.

The PRESIDENT (Lieutenant-Governor Lloyd H. Wood) in the Chair.

PRAYER

The Chaplain, Rev. LOUIS LYTLE, Pastor of the First Presbyterian Church, Houtzdale, Pennsylvania, offered the following prayer:

We thank Thee, Lord, for a moment in the busyness of our day, when we may pause in humble acknowledgement of Thy power and glory, and consciously commune with Thee in our deliberations. It is so easy to lose sight of the high privilege that is ours, to become so concerned with little things that the greater things are left undone. Forbid it, Lord.

Our wisdom, without Thy counsel and blessing, is impotent. We seek it. May we learn to subordinate our wills to Thine. Bless us and all who are in authority. Preserve this Commonwealth and this Nation. May they increase in strength and favor. May we serve them well.

Hear us, Lord, we pray, Amen.

JOURNAL APPROVED

The PRESIDENT. A quorum of the Senate being present the Clerk will read the Journal of the preceding session.

The Clerk proceeded to read the Journal of the preceding session, when, on motion of Mr. WALKER and Mr. BANE, further reading was dispensed with, and the Journal was approved.

BILLS INTRODUCED AND REFERRED

Messrs. WALKER and DENT read in place and presented to the Chair Senate Bill No. 316, entitled:

An Act designating certain banking institutions as additional loan and transfer agents of the Commonwealth and conferring powers and imposing duties upon the Board of Finance and Revenue, with respect thereto.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS SENATE

Mr. SILVERT asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the Senate.

Mr. SILVERT. Mr. President, I ask for unanimous consent to say a few words in connection with a bill I am about to present.

The PRESIDENT. There being no objection, the gentleman may proceed.

Mr. SILVERT. Mr. President, some six months ago the City of Philadelphia and particularly the residents of Oak Lane were terrorized by a series of shootings by some maniacal individual. Some six persons were shot in their homes in the evening, either in their homes or while they walked out of their doors. It finally terminated in the shooting of a woman while she was washing dishes in her own home by a shot through the window, a young woman, the mother of two young children.

Mr. President, there has been great agitation in the City of Philadelphia and particularly in the Oak Lane section for some amendment to our Firearms Act to minimize the possibility of guns getting into the hands of maniacs. This individual became known as the "Philadelphia Sniper" and was never apprehended. The agitation was not only amongst the people of Philadelphia and Oak Lane, but the press joined in it and the Director of Public Safety of Philadelphia County also clamored for some strengthening of our Firearms Law.

Mr. President, this bill was prepared after consultation with Colonel Wilhelm in an effort to get some practical suggestions from him. He suggested that we first lengthen the period of investigation for any applicant for carrying a gun from two to seven days so as to give the proper authorities sufficient time to make a real investigation. He also suggested that every applicant for a license to carry a gun be fingerprinted. He further stated there would be no sense in complicating this measure in any other way so as not to inconvenience the law-abiding citizens.

Mr. President, his suggestions have been incorporated in this bill.

BILLS INTRODUCED AND REFERRED

Mr. SILVERT. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent to introduce a bill at this time.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

Mr. SILVERT, read in place and presented to the Chair Senate Bill No. 322, entitled:

An Act to further amend Clauses (f) and (h) of Section 628 of the act, approved the twenty-fourth day of June, one thousand nine hundred thirty-nine (P. L. 872), entitled "An act to consolidate, amend and revise the penal laws of the Commonwealth," by requiring the application for a firearms license to contain the fingerprints of the applicant and increasing the waiting period from two days to seven days for investigation of applicants purchasing firearms.

Which was committed to the Committee on Judiciary General.

Mr. WADE. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent to introduce a bill at this time.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

Mr. WADE, read in place and presented to the Chair Senate Bill No. 323, entitled:

An Act to further amend Clause 9 of Section 1 of the act, approved the twenty-seventh day of June, one thousand nine hundred twenty-three (P. L. 858), entitled "An act establishing a State Employes' retirement system, and creating a retirement board for the administration thereof; establishing certain funds from contributions by the Commonwealth and contributing State employes, defining the uses and purposes thereof and the manner of payments therefrom, and providing for the guaranty by the Commonwealth of certain of said funds; imposing powers and duties upon the heads of departments in which State employes serve; excepting annuities, allowances, returns, benefits and rights from taxation and judicial process; and providing penalties," by extending the time within which State employes may become "original members."

Which was committed to the Committee on State Government.

Section 15 Repealer The act approved the nineteenth day of March one thousand nine hundred forty-one (P. L. 6) entitled as amended "An act relating to National and State defense providing for the establishment of a State Council of defense and of local and district councils of defense prescribing the powers and duties thereof and providing penalties" is hereby repealed all other acts and parts of acts are hereby repealed in so far as they are inconsistent with the provisions of this act

Section 16 Effective Date This act shall become effective immediately upon its final enactment

And said bill having been read at length the third time, and agreed to,

And the amendments made thereto having been printed as required by the Constitution,

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. HALUSKA. Mr. President, I would like to interrogate the gentleman from Allegheny, Senator Walker.

The PRESIDENT. Will the gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Walker, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. WALKER. It is always a pleasure, Mr. President.

Mr. HALUSKA. Mr. President, on Page 9 of Senate Bill No. 1, under Section (c), we note where the mobile units and their employees shall be responsible for any damage done to any equipment of a political subdivision. Can the Senator tell me whether or not they are responsible for any damage done to civilian property; in case they are going to a disaster and a mobile unit should crack up with a civilian, are they responsible for the damage done?

Mr. WALKER. Mr. President, the clause referred to by the gentleman from Cambria in no way changes the negligence laws of Pennsylvania with regard to who should be liable in case of an automobile accident. It is only to see to it that political subdivisions that would furnish equipment or material to the mobile units would be reimbursed in case it is dissipated by the emergency situation involved.

Mr. HALUSKA. Thank you, Senator Walker.

Mr. President, I am going to vote for this bill, probably, but with my tongue in my cheek. We are more or less compelled to go along with the bill but I am wondering whether we realize what we are doing. We are setting up the greatest "Frankenstein" ever set up in Pennsylvania and, gentlemen, it is going to haunt us in years to come.

Mr. President, I recall back in 1937 we set up the Earle Emergency Tax Bill. We have it and it will stay with us forever, I am afraid, and these defense programs we are putting through today will be with us for years and years to come. I state right here that eventually we will create a chaos and bankrupt every political subdivision in Pennsylvania.

Mr. President, I am informed that although the bill has not passed, that yesterday morning someone without authority had placed fifteen men on the pay roll. My informant tells me that thirteen of them, if you please, were out of State, two of them Pennsylvanians.

Now, Mr. President, where are we going to? What are we doing? Don't we have sufficient men in this great Commonwealth who are qualified to take these positions? Must we go to Colorado, Arizona and elsewhere? Are we setting up a campaign for 1952 for someone? I am informed that the smallest job pays five thousand dollars. Oh, I know of many a man on this Hill and many girls who are working for eighteen hundred and twenty-one hundred, and here out of a clear sky you set up a salary schedule from five thousand dollars to fifteen thousand dollars for a group of political drones that will stay with us for years to come.

Mr. President, just recently we talked in committee about giving some thought to increasing the salaries of the Members of the General Assembly, and the holler went up, "We must have economy in government. We cannot raise their salaries, we cannot give more expense money, we must preach and practice economy in government." If this is economy in government, it is too bad for the balance of this generation.

Mr. President, this is a bad bill. It is going to haunt us, but to be patriotic we must wave the flag and vote for it.

Mr. WALKER. Mr. President, I want to assure the gentleman from Cambria that if the rumor that his informant brought to him is an actual fact, we certainly would be surprised.

Mr. President, I want to assure the gentleman also, if he will recall, that in House Bill No. 1 there is a procedure set up for the selection of the Council that will have the right to employ all the personnel that this new Council will have.

I would respectfully suggest to the gentlemen of the Senate if you will take a look at the individuality of the various members of this Council, I think that we can all agree within the privacy of this Senate Chamber that not one of them are individuals who are not blessed with sufficient political sagacity to see to it that the people who are employed to defend Pennsylvania will be Pennsylvanians. I want to assure the gentleman from Cambria that under no circumstances would this new Council ever countenance going to Colorado, or California or Missouri for their appointees.

May I say to the gentleman that I, too, always get a little twinge of conscience when I see the salaries that are paid on Capitol Hill, whether Capitol Hill is here or elsewhere, and realize that, in my opinion, fifty of the most gallant energetic and intelligent gentlemen of Pennsylvania sit here and labor far into the night, start early in the morning and repeat that performance day in and day out, for the magnificant sum of fifteen hundred dollars a year—not five thousand, not three thousand, not twenty-five hundred but fifteen hundred dollars a year—I, too, feel that no sacrifice is too great to make in the name of patriotism.

Mr. President, may I say to the gentleman from Cambria, if we catch any Coloradans on the pay roll in Pennsylvania, we are going to see to it that they are eliminated forthwith, because that would just make us as unhappy as Republicans as it would make you as Democrats.

Mr. HALUSKA. Mr. President, I certainly appreciate the kind answer made by the gentleman from Allegheny County, and I have every right to believe that he is sincere in his remarks. I am told that one of the gentlemen is from Brooklyn. I do not know whether that is in Pennsylvania or not. If we do find, as I understand from the gentleman from Allegheny County, that the pay roll is loaded with men from Brooklyn and New York and Colorado and elsewhere, then I am led to believe that the gentleman from Allegheny County will definitely be opposed and as a Member of the Council will do his part, as I understand him to have them removed.

Mr. WALKER. Mr. President, may I say to the gentleman, I am not a Member of the Council. I am depending entirely upon the gentleman from Westmoreland, the Minority Floor Leader, who is a Member of the Council, to take care of me.

Mr. HALUSKA. Mr. President, he will take care of the gentleman from Allegheny, Senator Walker, all right. There is no question about that.

Mr. President, I am serious about this. I was so told by my informant, and I have no reason to disbelieve him, and if we do wake up next Monday morning and find that we have on the pay roll as of yesterday fifteen persons, fifteen new persons on the pay roll, I would like to know who gave them authority to hire them, who hired these fifteen people and if they are out of state people, certainly I think it behooves all of us to get together and determine what right they have on the pay roll of Pennsylvania.

Mr. President, national defense is national defense. If these men are qualified or talented and they come from Colorado or Brooklyn, let them go back. I say again, we have qualified men in Pennsylvania and Senator Walker agrees. We may have a few in Pittsburgh; I doubt it. We have some bright men in Pennsylvania who could take these jobs. Now, while I realize that they may be Republicans, that makes no difference. I still insist that every man who is hired in this program should be a Pennsylvanian.

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, this I hope will not be the last time that we will have a chance to discuss civilian defense during this Session of the Legislature, because I honestly believe that when the Governor has the opportunity to have his staff study this legislation, there will be some changes made.

Mr. President, I said yesterday that I objected to the contents of the bill because of the indeterminate features. Just this week or just last week, rather, there appeared in the Philadelphia Inquirer an editorial and it is headed, "Time to Curb Swollen Civilian Defense Payroll." It deals with the cost, the extreme cost, as they put it, of the defense pay rolls in the Federal Government.

So, I made some inquiries by 'phone and I received some astounding information. A great deal of it was about like the information that Senator Haluska has just transmitted to the Senate. You wake up some morning and you have thirty-five or forty new employees and they have to look for chairs to accommodate them, and after accommodating them they go out and get more employees and then they need more chairs. The problem they are faced with is that they may run out of chairs. That seems to be the identical situation here.

Mr. President, the reason that you have a swollen pay roll in your Federal setup is because this is an indeterminate item. That is exactly what is happening in Pennsylvania. It is an indeterminate item and no matter whom the members of the Council may be if the director who is personally liable and responsible for the administration of this act comes in and says, "We need fifteen employees, we need fifty employes," there is not a thing we can do about it, because the very thing that is now compelling the Senate to pass this legislation, without the process of a public hearing, which I think is necessary, and without a little more consideration to the details that we have discovered are contained in the bill, that fear of criticism of doing something that may be said to stop or interfere with public defense is the same fear that will permeate the Council and the same motivating factors that will allow them to vote willy-nilly, and I say that honestly. I have sat on many boards and the first thing that you know you have a tremendous organization built up, and how are you going to say to the director, "You cannot employ sixty-seven or a hundred and thirty-four or two hundred and sixty-eight? You cannot hire that many persons to be liaison officers when the bill itself says in Section 8,"—these are the things I am trying to get the Senate to be convinced of.

Mr. President, in Section 8 it says and I quote from the bill:

"District councils of civil defense. In cooperation with local officials the council is authorized to establish district councils of civil defense in critical areas of the Commonwealth of special importance in defense activities. Such district councils shall act as coordinating agencies under the supervision and direction of the state council."

Now, Mr. President, let us say that we set up an agency in Podunk Center. It is a civilian defense unit, and then the school board comes along, the school board of Podunk Center. It says we are going to set up a civilian defense unit of our own because the cousin of the chairman of the council, he is the boss of that one, and we are going to pu on the brother-in-law of the chairman of the school board, and he is going to be the boss of ours.

Now, Mr. President, those are practical things that happen in the political administration of government, let alone of an agency with the all powerful control that this has. So, they set up this thing and they get at loggerhead. So, the first thing you have got to do, you have got to name a coordinator, don't you see? Well, the coordinator is based in Harrisburg so you have got to give him a car, and the privilege to drive, and an expense account, and he goes out and he talks to the chairman of civilian defense of council of Podunk Center. Then he talks to the head of civilian defense of the school board of Podunk Center, and they agree then that while he is there they will coordinate their efforts and they cooperate, but in the meantime how many of these coordinators are going to be named? You say, "Well, it is in the hands of the Defense Council."

Now, Mr. President, I am not going to state to this Senate that I am going to be able to come back here, if I am a Member of this Board and I am still the Minority Floor Leader when the Session is over, which is doubtful, but if I am still the Minority Floor Leader when the Session is over, and I am a Member of this Council, I will have one vote out of twelve and I can rave and rant. If I have twenty votes here and I cannot stop an obvious wrong, how can I stop something when I have one out of twelve? It may be that when I make a motion, my good friend Hy Andrews will second it, and that would give us two out of twelve, but don't you see the position in which we are putting ourselves, the members of this Senate? We are putting ourselves in the position where we will not have anything to say over this swollen expense in civilian defense.

Mr. President, I have before me the report submitted by General Mellon and I have also the statement by Governor Duff in which the Governor said, and I want to quote from the Governor's statement in order that you do not get the idea that we are working on the basis of a Minority position. We are working on the basis of the instructions, if you please, left by former Governor Duff, and I quote from his speech made to the Members of the General Assembly:

"The threat of a third world war demands that civilian defense have top priority. Our best efforts must be put into that work. The Military and Civil Defense Commission for this State, established last August, has this program well under way. Utilizing the plans that have been made by the Pennsylvania Commission for Civil Defense, which was appointed in December, 1949, the Commission has pushed forth this vital work in a most satisfactory manner.

"I urge all of you to read General Mellon's report attached hereto . . ."

Now, Mr. President, this is General Mellon's report. I wish the Members of the Senate would take five minutes of their time and read it. If you read that report, I am convinced that you will come up with a reactivation of the civilian defense legislation that is now upon the books, with an amendment to allow the coordination between states and joint compacts. Incidentally, House Bill No. 4 which was passed yesterday takes care of that. That is why we voted "aye" because that is the key to the so-called mobile unit defense which some experts believe is necessary in the type of war that we may be visited with. You will come up with that legislation because that legislation does not allow the thing to happen that John Haluska talked about right now. According to General Mellon's report and according to the plan that was submitted which is herein contained, and which incidentally I have cleared with the Federal Agencies, they say that this will be entirely to their liking.

Mr. President, if we pass the legislation that we passed yesterday allowing state compacts, there is no other restriction or no other recommendation that the Federal Government has made to any of the States.

In this report General Mellon clearly states the activities to date, what has gone on up until now and he urges the continuation of the same, and for the information of the members of the Senate, do not be misled by the opinions of certain persons. We have in Pennsylvania today one of the very best, and I do not hesitate to say the very best defense setup on a state-wide basis in the entire United States. There are some people in Pennsylvania who believe that unless we pass this bill today we will not have civilian defense. The only things we do not have here are the items of coordination or compacts between states and an appropriation and the right to name some high priced men to a lot of jobs. I mean that, and I say to you Members of the Senate on the other side, it is supposed to be your Party's banner flag that talks economy. I am supposed to belong to the Party of spenders, and yet we are trying to cooperate in an effort to see to it that we do not write upon the statute books a monstrosity, and I call it that by its name.

Mr. President, you do not need under any set of circumstances the situation now existing in Pennsylvania. You do not need a fifteen thousand dollar a year head, you do not need a twelve thousand dollar assistant and you do not ned a ten thousand dollar assistant for the simple reason that the field work has been done, the spade work has been done, the seeds have been sown and the hard work has already been accomplished. To prove that, in conjunction with the letter of General Mellon, he makes a statement and I quote:

"Paralleling these primary objectives, active planning programs either have been or are about to be undertaken in the important fields of emergency welfare services, medical and health services and training of service personnel."

Mr. President, right here is a bulletin from your Welfare Department in which it states that the Welfare Department has already set up its civilian defense survey. It takes care of the medical, nursing and the rest of the details that you are now allocating in this Act of the Legislature. It has already been done and after it has been done we come along and we name twenty-seven thousand dollars worth of extra office holders who pick up the papers, have new printings made with a new heading, sign them all over again and send them out to the various agencies all over the State of Pennsylvania. That is exactly what is going to be done.

Mr. President, I know and every man in this Senate knows that is what is going to be done. Someone said to me last night, some fellows that I met after we left here, "How can you afford to vote against that Civilian defense bill," and I gave them an honest answer. I said, "How can I afford to vote for it?"

The indeterminate features are the bugaboo in all legislation. One of the greatest fights that we ever had in Pennsylvania was the fight to get Workmen's Compensation on the basis of known cost. Over the years the one thing that cropped up every time we tried to increase the benefits or benefit periods was the question of interminate features, and if you will take and examine your Workmen's Compensation history in Pennsylvania you will find that the greater part of the premiums paid by industry was paid for indeterminate features.

Now, Mr. President, mind you, it is a set policy established by this Defense Council that is already set up by the Pennsylvania Defense Council, printed in their own pamphlet, that plant protection is of no interest to the State in so far as expense or training is concerned. They say that plant protection, plant defense training and all of the expenses inherent thereto are the expenses to be carried by the owners of the industries themselves, and when you take the industrial protection out of it, you ought to have, from all reasonable thinking, the major portion of the expensive high cost preparation.

The other preparation is, as I have said before and repeat again, a question of mental attitude. If we can get the people of Pennsylvania to believe in their minds that they are reasonably safe, that we have taken reasonable measures to protect their lives and their properties, that is the biggest and greatest civilian defense measure that we can pass. It is a question of mental attitude.

Mr. President, my young daughter had a young child righ before Christmas, and it was right at the moment when the local newspapers, the Allegheny County and the Pittsburgh Urban papers, the metropolitan papers were publishing full pages of the dangers and the devastation that could be visited upon us by an A-bomb. That young girl, who incidentally is not old enough to vote yet, has two children, and with the attendance of the second birth these papers, publishing all these scarehead articles, made here almost a nervous wreck. All she could think about was how can I get these two babies to lie upon the floor, which they said was essential. Why, I have a little grandson whom you couldn't keep down on the floor, to save your life, for not more than five minutes unless you set on him.

So, Mr. President, I talked it over with my wife and I said to her, "Now, there is only one thing we have got to do. We have got to resolve this thing into a matter of mental attitude on the part of our daughter, Patty," and here is what we did. I had a box that I had used for camp equipment, that I used to take to camps when I was strong enough to go to camp, and we took that box over to her basement. We put in it a couple of my camp cots, and camp blankets, and a little gas stove that we used in camp to cook on, and I went down town and spent thirty-seven dollars and I bought canned baby food, some canned milk, some canned corn and all the stuff that would not spoil. We put it in her basement and now that girl does not care if a bomb falls or not. She thinks she is safe. That is the answer. You have got to make people think mentally that they are safe, and you do not have to spend untold millions of dollars to do it.

Mr. President, I know the Majority Floor Leader said that you are going to do it for two hundred fifty thousand dollars a biennium and that is very good. That is very, very good, and I think that you have room in the bill to put a provision that it shall cost two hundred fifty thousand dollars a biennium but mind you, you cannot put on a restriction of two hundred fifty thousand dollars and then put all these indeterminate features in the act nor can you pay seventy-five thousand dollars a biennium for the top three men. You cannot do that, that is out.

Now, Mr. President, we either have too many assistants or too much directorship. You do not need, and I say this emphatically, that if the Governor assumes his position under the law as Commander-in-Chief and does not have to depend for his appointment upon the goodness of the men named to the Commission, but puts it in the act as it should be, and the Governor assumes Commander-in-Chief of the entire defense mobilization, and we pass and give an authority the right to spend any amount of money that is required for the disaster, we limit the number of employees and we name a director, experienced in the field, I say to you that it will not cost any more than what the gentleman thinks it ought to cost, but I am willing to state here and now, that is not more than fifty per cent right and I do not think it is one per cent right if the plans now being formulated are put into effect. You cannot run a patriotic venture with a dollar tag.

Mr. President, I do not want to take time to read it, but I would advise every Member of the Senate to get the Legislative Journal of January 2, 1951, turn to page 83 and read the second paragraph on the left-hand column on page 83 and the third paragraph on the right-hand column, and in there the former Governor of this State calls for a reactivation of that spirit that was developed and was part of America in the early days, that spirit of personal sacrifice and that spirit of a commanding respect for the rights of others and a commanding respect for this Nation of ours and a willingness to give, if necessary, our very lives to protect it. We do not have to, in following the words of Governor Duff, Senator Duff at the moment, and following the dictates of our own conscience, look up to the early pioneers of America; we can stand on the same level with them.

Mr. WALKER. Mr. President, I want to say to the gentleman from Westmoreland, if that grandson of his is hard to handle and has to be sat on occasionally, I know from whom he inherited that.

Mr. President, I also want to say to the gentlemen of the Senate that since the discussion with the gentleman from Cambria, I took occasion, as have others, to call the State Civil Defense Headquarters, and I am advised that there has been one new employe put on the pay roll in the last ten days. That one new employee is a resident and a registered voter in the great County of Lancaster. I was further advised by my informer, Mr. Wymard, who was perhaps the piece de resistance in all of this backstage maneuvering, that several out-of-state workers were there when he went on the pay roll and that there have not been any placed there except this gentleman from Lancaster since he became an employee of the Council.

Mr. President, may I also say this. I have said repeatedly on and off the floor of the Senate that in my opinion the administrative costs of operating this State Council of Defense should be in the neighborhood of two hundred fifty thousand dollars. I hope that would be the ceiling and not the floor. I was predicating it on the appropriations which this General Assembly made during the years of the Second World War for our State Council of Defense and I would like to refresh the memory of the gentlemen of the Senate to the fact that this Council that will have charge and control of the organization, the management, the direction, the planning and expenditures of this Council are all set up in this House Bill No. 1. Of course, if the gentleman from Westmoreland, Senator Dent, and the gentleman from Dauphin, Senator Taylor, go hog-wild and spend a lot of money after we put them on this Council, that is something they will have to answer to us for when we come back in here. We have given them the benefit of our suggestions and we have tried to set the suggestion in their minds of two hundred fifty thousand dollars. Now, of course, if the gentleman from Westmoreland has other ideas, he will have to at least give them to the Council so that they can have the benefit of them.

Mr. President, I do not want to be repetitious. We have gone over this bill inch by inch. I have no hope of getting in the last word in this discussion, but I would like to call the gentleman's attention to the fact, and this is with specific reference to the duplication of local units, that under Section 7 which appears on page 11 of this bill, it is impossible for any of the political subdivisions to set up a local civilian defense project unless it is set up in accordance with the State civil defense plan and program.

If, for example, the borough that was mentioned by the gentleman from Westmoreland has a local civilian defense program which has been approved and established under the plan of the Council of which he will be a member, and along comes a school district and they want to set one up, if that would be within the plan that is set up by this Council then that would be reading into the operation of this Council certainly something never contemplated by the individuals involved or by the Members of the General Assembly.

Finally, Mr. President, there have been repeated statements made on the floor of the Senate that this is a bad bill, and that we vote for it in fear and trembling. At the expense again of being repetitious, I want to say in all seriousness to the gentlemen of the Senate, one of the most sincere, hardest working and honestly intellectual members of this General Assembly is the gentleman from Cambria, Mr. Andrews, who is the Democratic Leader in the House. Mr. Andrews is one of the co-sponsors of this bill. I have known that gentleman for a good many years, Mr. President, and I have never in my life had an experience where he would lend his name, his aid or his support to a bad bill. He has had this bill with his name on it, he has supported it, he voted for it, he talked for it, he has cooperated with the gentlemen of the Senate in trying to get their suggestions for amendments, and when this bill passed the House ,Mr. President, it passed the House unanimously and not once was there ever a statement made by either of the sponsors or by either side of the political aisle that this was a bad bill.

This bill is a good bill, Mr. President, and if the individual Members of this Council are half as sincere in discharging the obligations of this bill, as are the Members of the General Assembly in putting this machinery into operation, we are going to have a good defense program in Pennsylvania.

Mr. LANE. Mr. President, I listened to the remarks of the Majority Floor Leader and they dovetail in with what I am about to say. He stated that any defense unit that is in existence or that is put into existence must comply and meet with the approval of the State Council of Defense.

Now, Mr. President and Members of the Senate, we have had active civilian defense work in Pennsylvania since August of 1950, under the direction of Colonel Miller. I wish I had fifty copies of this program and plan that was sent out by the State Council. Under this program, Mr. President, the chief defense cor-ordinator of the county is appointed by the Governor and the President Judge has original jurisdiction. In the event he fails to take over or is too busy, the next in line is the county superintendent of schools, and if he cannot handle the job then it goes to the Chairman of the Board of Commissioners.

Now, Mr. President, looking at this program which is in existence today in Pennsylvania, there are eight divisions and all this State work that has been done in the past is going out the window unless it meets with the approval of the newly elected State Council of Defense and, incidentally, Mr. President, there is not any great amount of pay roll in connection with this defense setup. This defense setup provides that the local public officials take over those duties, and they are doing it in the counties of the Commonwealth today, and now we have thirty-seven thousand dollars worth of pay roll to start with right here in the Capitol. What is going to happen later on when this new Act goes into effect?

Now, Mr. President, I noticed the weaknesses in this Act. One in particular is this. I do not like the idea that we should go off base and require that the State Council of Defense should require the cooperation and assistance of State and local government agencies and officials. Now, the phraseology used there is very questionable. We do not know what is going to happen in the future, but I say we should have a public hearing on this bill in order to bring in the men who have worked for civilian defense in the State since last August and give us their views because we are wasting all this effort.

Mr. President, I know in my own County of Washington it is highly organized today under this setup, and it may not meet with the approval of the new State Council of Defense so all this work has been in vain.

Mr. President, I still say and I still contend that no matter what happens we should have a public hearing on this bill and bring these experts in and let them give us the benefit of their thoughts and experiences.

I am willing to vote for this bill, yes. I am not going to be tagged as one individual who is going to oppose the enactment of any legislation that is necessary to the people of the Commonwealth, but it is our duty here today regardless of the time to point out what can happen, because in my opinion I do believe that this legislation is the most important legislation that will come upon the floor of this Senate during this Session of the Legislature.

Mr. McMENAMIN. Mr. President, before voting for this bill I would like to make a few remarks just to make my own position clear on the record if the Senate will indulge.

Mr. President, as a Member of the Minority Party here I believe that we must vote for this bill because the people of Pennsylvania must have a civilian defense setup. One of the things that we should have in this discussion here today—whether or not this is a good or bad bill is irrelevant, but what we should have is the best possible bill. This is not the best possible bill, I believe for these reasons.

First of all, Mr. President, the civilian defense in Pennsylvania should be completely apart from politics. This bill does not do to that. Second, there is no chain of command. This is going to be in a sense—the work officially is going to have to be built on military organization and it will not build up or set up a chain of command so that there is a clear definition of the duties and a clear channeling of authority from the Chief Executive, the Governor, down to the air raid wardens in each neighborhood. Thirdly, the financial features of it are such, although I have complete confidence in the thirty-nine municipalities in Lackawanna County and their school boards, their councilmen, burgesses, mayors and so forth, the financial features of this local taxing authority granted under this bill are such that there is a great danger, in my opinion, if we pass it in its present form.

As I say, Mr. President, we must have a civilian defense setup and I feel that I am duty bound to vote for this particular bill, although as somebody has said here, in years to come it may come back to haunt us.

Mr. President, I do believe we should have had some public hearings. If we had the people from Lackawanna County down here, they would have told you, and, incidentally, I do not believe any county has gone further on civilian defense so far than our County. We have thirty-nine municipalities who have had practice air raids in the past few weeks. They have now got their efficiency to the point where they have alerted every single municipality from a central control center on an average of nine seconds. Practically all of this has been done at very little or no cost whatsoever yet to the taxpayers. We have trained in Lackawanna County more than ten thousand people already in Red Cross first aid courses and they expect within the next few months to get that up to thirty thousand people. They have tied in radio ham operators and they have done all kinds of things.

Mr. President, that is the type of testimony we could have had if we would only have a public hearing on this bill, but with these few remarks I only want to say again that I am going to vote for it for the reason that we do need a bill and Pennsylvania does need some civilian defense. I wish it were a little bit better, but I guess this is the one we are going to have.

Mr. BARR. Mr. President, Senator Walker said that we could look to Senator Dent in this new Council of State Defense, but I think we had better look to Senator Taylor because I am afraid that Senator Dent's words will be wasted on this Council like they are on the floor of this Senate, because the vote there will be as usual, twelve to two.

Mr. President, there appeared under the caption "Capitol Penn Poynters," in the Harrisburg paper yesterday, an article in which they said, "United States Senator James H. Duff, who declaimed a short time ago about too much 'fat' in the Truman budget, also warned before he went to Washington against letting State expenditures for defense get out of control." Right before he left for Washington I saw an appointment being made by pounds and not by ability. He is getting twelve thousand dollars a year, and is probably the highest paid office boy in government any place in the Country.

Then, Mr. President, it went on to say, "As Governor, Duff advised chairmen of the various defense units not to countenance unnecessary expenditures."

Mr. President, my thought is that when these local defense councils see what is going on in Harrisburg, naturally they are going to try to get their fingers in the cracker barrel also.

Mr. President, the article continues, "Senator Duff, while Governor, initiated the State defense effort."

Before I quote the next paragraph, I want to say something more about big Jim Duff's speech about "fat" in the budget. Last year, during the last days of the Senate, he needed a job for "Butch" McGovern, who was having some trouble on the Liquor Control Board, and there happened to be a vacancy for a workmen's compensation referee through the death of a colored referee out in Allegheny County. So Duff, being a pretty good politician, appointed McGovern. I was over in the Governor's office during the closing Session of the Legislature and I said, "Don't you think now that it is done"—I wasn't going to tell him before he had done it—"that you have made a political error?" He said, "No, I looked up the bill. I can create workmen's compensation referees at will."

Mr. President, previous to the election last year there was a great feeling among the public, the colored people, about this appointment and he took and appointed two referees, and as you know the appointment of a workmen's compensation referee costs twenty-five thousand dollars a year. It is not just the salary of the referee; it is the salary of the court reporter and the necessary office expense and secretarial help. In other words, Mr. President, for political expediency, during the biennium that costs one hundred thousand dollars a year. So, I think he is a man qualified to talk about "fat" in budgets.

Now, Mr. President, the article went on to say, "Pennsylvania had a costly experience in defense expenditures during World War I. A safety committee was authorized in 1917. It became a political football, with the Republican factions of that period fighting for control of the gravy train. No itemized list of the expenditures was made public, although it was alleged to have built up a considerable payroll." Unfortunately, Mr. President, we have not been able to get the pay roll over from the Auditor General's office of the employees presently in this defense.

Now getting back to the Federal end, I think that probably you gentlemen, namely Mr. Taylor and I think the Lieutenant-Governor is going to serve on the State Council from here, could take a point or two from what is going on down in Washington. They have not made a political football out of the emergency existing in the Nation today. I have noticed the President of the United States has gone out and hired men, and asked men to come down regardless of their political affiliation. I think we are all familiar with the job that Charlie Wilson is doing down there. I think we are all familiar with the job Eric Johnston is doing down there, and by no stretch of the imagination can it be said of the young gentleman who is in the White House from Missouri that they are of the same political faith. Then, on the United Nations there is Dulles, who was the Republican candidate for President last time, to be his Secretary of State and his adviser on international politics and international affairs. There is the new Commander-in-Chief, General Eisenhower, who has been appointed to head our military forces in Europe.

Mr. President, it appears to me that this monstrosity that we are going to have to vote on is nothing but boondoggling and a political football for the boys in the front office on the other side of the Capitol.

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, I just want to state this item. The Members of the Senate on this side are just as anxious to do the right thing as I know the Members of the Senate on the other side are. The only difference is that the Members of the Senate on the other side are convinced that this thing is right and, therefore, in full clear conscience can vote for this legislation. I do not know how many on my side, but I for one am not sure that this is right and I cannot in clear conscience vote for it.

Mr. President, I do not want to be put in the position of voting against it. However, there is just one question. If I could convince the Members of the Senate on the other side on this one particular item, I am wondering whether they would then take time to look into the matter. Is there any Member of the Senate who can tell me at this moment what the expense is at the moment of your administrative cost of this temporary setup of civilian defense? Is there any Member of the Senate who has any idea of who makes up the personnel of this particular setup?

Now, Mr. President, I do not believe every rumor that comes along, but I have been informed from rather unimpeachable sources that there are two newspapermen, one at fifty dollars a day and another one at thirty-five dollars a day, on this defense setup and yet they are in the employment of their daily newspapers.

Now, gentlemen, I know that it is nice to take care of the press. It is just as nice to take care of ward healers and probably just as nice to take care of Senators, but there are things that are morally wrong. Now, if that is true would the Members of the Senate still vote for this legislation without looking into it, if that were true? That is the question that I propound to you Members of the Senate on the other side.

Mr. WALKER. Mr. President, I have no hope at all that this will be the last word and I faithfully promised my guardian angel, Senator Taylor, when I sat down that I would not take this microphone again on this bill.

Now, Mr. President, let me say this bill was prepared by the experts in Washington when they set up the National Defense Council. They can talk all they please about bipartisanism but, Mr .President, I have not heard of the National Defense Council in Washington calling up the Republican State Chairman and asking him if he would like to put a couple people on their pay roll, and I want to say in all seriousness to the gentleman from Westmoreland, there is no more authenticity to the rumors dropped in his lap than there were to the rumors dropped in the lap of the gentleman from Cambria.

Mr. President, the minute this bill is signed by the Governor it becomes law. The minute this bill becomes a law, this quasi-setup that we now have in Pennsylvania, headed by Doctor Distler, will cease to exist and it is up to the new Council created by this bill to decide who they want to hire and for how much.

Now, Mr. President, let us keep this record straight. These things we have been over and over and over; they debated them in the House, we discussed them in committee meetings, talked about them in the cloak room, discussed them in the barrooms. Everybody knows what is in this bill and the attempt to kick it around in the hope that we will eventually come up with something that might be better is absolutely wasted effort.

Mr. President, the people in Washington who are the experts are convinced that this is the best bill that you can have, and so are the gentlemen who lent their names to it when they sponsored it. So were two hundred and seven Members of the House when they were glad to vote for it, and I think it is about time we vote for it and if there are any inequities or any questions about the present setup, they can be corrected later.

Mr. President, I have all the confidence in the world in the Council that is set up here in this bill, and I want to say to the gentleman from Allegheny, do not be worried about the gentleman from Westmoreland. I have served with him in the General State Authority and due to the wording of the Act, the gentleman from Dauphin, Senator Taylor, is also a Member of the General State Authority, and every time a roll is called Senator Taylor always follows Senator Dent and votes the way Senator Dent votes. He has tremendous influence and I know he will exert that same influence in the Council of Defense.

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, I want the gentleman from Allegheny to know one thing. There is no one on this side who doubts his convictions on this legislation. I do not think that it is that at all. I do not think that there is any question that the Members on this side are convinced that the Members of the House thought it right. That is a prerogative of the House, and if we are to definitely follow the House in all measures then we could do away with this type of legislative setup and propose a unicameral legislature and let the House pass everything and forget it, but that was not in the minds of the framers of this legislative setup of ours.

Now, Mr. President, I want to just make another statement. It is not true, and I want the gentleman from Allegheny to know that it is not true, that this is the best bill nor is this the last word nor did it come from Washington, D. C. They did recommend, yes; they had to have a model bill. There are absolutely no strings attached to the model bill, and I am again reliably informed that this legislation was drafted by Charles J. Margiotti, not that that makes any difference because I have a great deal of respect for his ability, and I do not say that because it was drafted by him but just to keep the record straight.

Now, Mr. President, if I am wrong in the statement that I made and if the gentleman from Cambria is wrong in his statement, then it is a very simple matter to find out. I would suggest to the Members of the Senate that we right now recess for a few minutes and send over a request to the Auditor General's office for a copy of this pay roll. This will tell us whether we are right or wrong. There is nothing wrong with that suggestion, and if as I have said they have a couple sneakers and feather-bed riders on the pay roll, the people ought to know. If there is feather-bedding on the pay roll, let us know about it. I do not think there is anything wrong in that. There have been questions of the morals of the Senators here because they represent some concerns as lawyers that may have a piece of legislation. There is no concern in Pennsylvania that is not interested in some legislation, and lawyers are entitled to a living whether they are Members of the Senate or not. I have always defended the right of any Member of the Senate to do business, the banker, and anybody else, even my good friend the hospital superintendent here. We are all entitled to a living but if that is true we ought to know that, Senator Walker.

Mr. President, there is not anything in this argument, I want you to clearly understand, there is not a thought in the minds of any of the Senators on this side that questions the integrity of you or any Member of the Republican Caucus in this matter. I think you are voting your convictions. Mine do not happen to be the same as yours. I cannot conscientiously find any recourse for me except to do what I had started to do yesterday.

Mr. President, I intend to vote "present" and I want to say to the Members of the Senate, I hope for the good of the people of Pennsylvania that you are right and I am wrong.

Mr. WALKER. Mr. President, I would just like to read a letter to the gentlemen of the Senate that was given to me by the Chief Executive of the Commonwealth. It is dated February 20, 1951, addressed to the Honorable John S. Fine, Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, Harrisburg, Pennsylvania.

"Dear Governor Fine:

"Thank you for your prompt notification to me of the appointment of Doctor Theodore A. Distler, President of Franklin and Marshall College at Lancaster, as Chairman and Director of the Civil Defense Commission of Pennsylvania.

"May I express my appreciation of the excellent and effective cooperation which you are giving my office, and congratulate you upon the evident progress you are making in the organization of Civil Defense in Pennsylvania.

"Sincerely,

"Millard Caldwell"

Mr. Caldwell is the former Governor of the State of Florida and the Head, the National Head of the Civil Defense Unit in Washington, appointed by that distinguished son of Missouri who is now the Chief Executive of this great Republic.

Mr. HOLLAND. Mr. President, I would like to interrogate the Majority Floor Leader, Senator Walker.

The PRESIDENT. Will the gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Walker, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. WALKER. I will, Mr. President.

Mr. HOLLAND. Mr. President, I would like to ask the Majority Floor Leader how true is that letter?

Mr. WALKER. Mr. President, may I answer the gentleman and say—

Mr. HOLLAND. Mr. President, the letter is from one ex-governor to a present Governor.

Mr. WALKER. Mr. President, it proves at least there is one Democrat that thinks we are doing all right.

Mr. HOLLAND. Mr. President, I would like to correct the gentleman from Allegheny, Senator Walker. It is a Dixiecrat he is talking about, and if he calls him a Democrat he is mistaken.

Mr. WALKER. Mr. President, we are going to get far afield from civilian defense, but may I say that when the Democratic Party holds their National Convention they are happy to have those Dixiecrats, and the day they do not want them we will take them.

Mr. HOLLAND. Mr. President, you had them and you couldn't get enough.

Mr. WALKER. Mr. President, I would just like to say—

Mr. HOLLAND. Mr. President, there is only one thing that I would like to tell the gentleman from Allegheny, Senator Walker. He is complimenting the Governor on the work that Colonel Miller and General Mellon have done, and on how far they have progressed up to date. He is not complimenting him on the work of Mr. Distler because he was just notified that he was appointed, but he is complimenting him on the work of General Mellon and Colonel Miller and I would like to correct the gentleman from Allegheny. Do not ever read a Dixiecrat letter from a Dixiecrat Governor that has been playing with the Republicans all his life to a good Democrat.

Mr. NEFF. Mr. President and Members of the Senate, I have sat here for two months and have not had occasion to address this Body because, although I did not agree at all times with the position taken by the Majority, I could rest assured that my position would be ably defended by the distinguished Minority Leader or others of my colleagues on this side. However, today I find that I may be in a unique position. I must speak for myself as an individual.

Mr. President, I am not going to vote for this bill. I cannot vote for it with good conscience. I do not believe if this bill is defeated here today that we will not have a civil defense program and in time. As I read it, and I have heard the discussion here on the Floor for a number of days, I find there are a number of inequities present.

Mr. President, as pointed out by Senator Lane yesterday, there is an inequity in the matter of workmen's compensation that could have well been corrected here on the Floor as of yesterday and still have had the bill passed on third reading today. It was an honest omission, I believe, on the part of the Members of the House but it was not corrected because of an arbitrary, arrogant attitude on the part of the Majority, something that had been missing this Session but it was here in force yesterday, and as a result the auxiliary nurses, doctors and policemen in this great State of ours who may volunteer to work on this program will be denied the same workmen's compensation benefits paid those workers in the mobile units.

Mr. President, I think it is unfair, it is unjust. It could have been corrected here. I do not want anyone to suppose that I am in any way considering the action of the gentlemen in the House as inadequate or to suppose that I do not believe that they were sincere to a degree that we would hope them to be here in passing this package of civil defense bills unanimously. But, in the rush and bustle to get a program through and in the ensuing debate, ofttimes portions of measures that should be included in bills such as this are overlooked and I believe they overlooked this.

Furthermore, Mr. President, a point has been raised as to how one can afford to vote against this measure, but I believe I can a:ord to vote against this measure because I do not believe it is a good measure. I do not believe the sincerity that is becoming the Senate of Pennsylvania is written into this package, and I believe it should and can be corrected here.

Mr. President, I do not quarrel about the expense. If one life is lost in the State of Pennsylvania due to enemy action, because we have thought of the monetary obligations on the State, I believe we will have been derelict in our duty to our contitutents and I believe my position is much the same as others here. I have my circle of loved ones, as well as my constituents, and if it costs ten million dollars a year to provide protection and safeguard their lives, I am for spending it but I believe this a political boon-doggle.

Mr. President, we had a defense program enacted by the Legislature of 1942 that served us in an emergency certainly that I believe, at this stage of the game at least, was as grave as the position faced by America today and which certainly served us almost entirely free gratis. But, today we find we are going to write a blank check to someone and to say that it is not going to mean a political boon-doggle, that they are not going to play politics, I think would just not be according to the facts.

Mr. President, already before the measure has been passed we have three people appointed to administrative positions. One of them is an administrative assistant. I do not know his qualifications in a matter of civil defense or the military, and I do not think anyone else in this Senate can speak on his behalf in those matters.

Another thing, Mr. President, that I believe is of prime importance, and which has been deleted from this measure with respect to the defense bill of 1942, is that the Senate had the right to agree and confirm appointees to the top administrative posts.

Now, Mr. President, in the matter of the man who has been appointed director, Mr. Distler, I wonder how many of us here know his qualifications and background. I am wondering if it would not be a good idea for the Senate of Pennsylvania to have an opportunity to review this man's background, the associations and organizations of which he is a member. Under this measure we have been denied that right, but I would like to bring to the attention of the Members of the Senate an article that was handed to me by my distinguished colleague, Senator Holland, from Allegheny, just a few moments ago in regard to Mr. Distler's background and past affiliations.

Just last Friday, Mr. President, Mr. Distler resigned as president of an organization known as Freedoms Foundation. Now, what is Freedoms Foundation? Well, in this note that was handed to me I find a statement by William F .Green, President of the American Federation of Labor, that may shed some light on this organization, its aims and purposes, and on those people who contribute to its financing and the matter of energy and activity.

Mr. President, Mr. Green and his publication, "The American Federationist," a monthly AFL magazine, was awarded a self-styled "Freedoms Foundation Award" of fifteen hundred dollars. It was refused by President Green and here is what he has to say about this organization, and the award and I quote:

"After consultation with my colleagues, I arrived at the conclusion that it would be inadvisable to accept first place Freedoms Foundation award for The American Federationist or sum of $1,500, which you advised would be presented.

"I therefore request," and this wire was sent to Mr. W. C. "Tom" Sawyer, Director of the Awards Program of the Freedoms Foundation.

"I therefore request you to eliminate American Federation of Labor and/or its publication, The American Federationist, from consideration in any way whatsoever in making the awards of Freedoms Foundation at Valley Forge on Feb. 22.

"J Scott Milne, secretary-treasurer International Brotherhood of Electrical Workers, rejected a $300 award for the union publication, 'The Electrical Workers Journal.'

"L. O. Thomas, editor 'The Machinists Journal,' said his organization would also decline the $200 to his publication.

"The 3 publications were included in a list of 9 union publications selected for awards for their Americanism. They occupied one-half of one page among 29 pages of awards.

"Freedoms Foundation is a front for some of the most reactionary, big business interests fighting and opposing every attempt by workers to improve their standards of living by union organization or legislation.

"Labor Press Association reported that it is 'anti-union, anti-labor, anti-liberal, anti-democratic and is the line peddled by the National Association of Manufacturers, U. S. Chamber of Commerce and groups like the Committee for Constitutional Government."

It seems to me as in the appointment of Distler we are starting on a new honeymoon. The Grundy-Fine group seem to be getting along quite well, inasmuch as I understand Distler is a protege and sponsored by Mason Owlett of the Pennsylvania Manufacturers Association.

Now, Mr. President, for those reasons, whatever the price may be, the price of sincerity, the price of courage of your convictions, I am going to vote against this measure today and would request if my colleagues could see fit to pay the price that they vote the same.

Mr. HALUSKA. Mr. President, it appears that my good friend and colleague, Senator Walker, may have been a little peeved with me a little while ago because I said it was a bad bill, and he said it was a good bill and that it had been kicked around. I see no reason why it has been kicked around. He also informed me that after I made my previous talk that I was wrong with regard to making the statement that fifteen persons were hired and most of them out-of-state. He told us that he had called his informant and had been advised that one person had been hired since that time.

Mr. President, my good friend from Westmoreland County, Senator Dent, has made a remark that he has heard that two newspaper men were hired, one receiving fifty dollars a day and the other one thirty-five. So, I wish to concur and go along with the thought of my good friend from Westmoreland County by asking for a recess to determine from the Auditor General's Department just who is on the pay roll. Are we wrong or are we right and are they Pennsylvanians or Brooklynites? He said they were Pennsylvanians; we should know. This is an important measure.

Now, Mr. President, if they wish to be fair on this important measure, they will take a recess and determine for this Body who is hired, who hired them, what they are being paid and where they are from.

And the queston recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

The yeas and nays were taken agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution, and were as follows, viz:

YEAS—34

Berger,	Kessler,	Peelor,	Taylor,
Crowe,	Lane,	Propert,	Wade,
Diehm,	Letzler,	Robinson,	Wagner,
DiSilvestro,	Mahany,	Rosenfeld,	Walker,

NAYS—1

Neff,

PRESENT—10

Bane,	Byrne,	Leader,	Ruth,
Barr,	Dent,	McCreesh,	Silvert,
Barrett,	Holland,

A majority of all the Senators having voted "aye" the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, That the Clerk return said bill to the House of Representatives with information that the Senate has passed the same with amendments in which the concurrence of the House is requested.

REASONS FOR VOTE

Mr. HOLLAND. Mr. President, my reason for voting "present" was the fact that I believe the bill was passed in a hurry for an unknown reason for which I have not been able to find out.

Mr. President, I think that the people of Pennsylvania had a right to send to Harrisburg our volunteers, and to bring the different heads of the civilian defense here to give us their opinions.

Mr. President, I want to correct the statement that we made all through this discussion that it is a nonpartisan bill. It is not a nonpartisan bill. It is true that a Democrat and a Republican were responsible for it, but I am always suspicious when a Republican lets a Democrat get on a bill. It is generally for other motives besides high elevating motives.

Mr. President, I believe that General Mellon, Colonel Miller and especially Mr. Distler should be here to explain the different organizations they have belonged to in the past just the same as people in Washington are asked to explain what organizations they belong to when up for any type of job that requires public trust and I would like to know a little more about his background and the many organizations he has belonged to, and I understand one or two of them are now being investigated by the Buchanan Committee.

BILLS ON FIRST READING

Mr. WALKER. Mr. President, I move that the Senate

do now proceed to the first reading of all bills reported from committees for the first time at today's session.

Mr. STEVENSON. Mr. President, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

Agreeably to order,

The Senate proceeded to the first reading and consideration of House Bill No. 156, entitled:

An Act to amend Section 9 of the act, approved the twenty-first day of April, one thousand nine hundred forty-nine (P. L. 665), entitled "An act to carry into effect section one of article fifteen of the Constitution, giving cities of the first class the right and power to frame, adopt and amend their own charters and to exercise the powers and authority of local self-government, and providing the procedure therefor; imposing certain restrictions, limitations and regulations; imposing duties upon city councils, city officers, county boards of elections, courts and the Secretary of the Commonwealth; and providing for the payment of certain expenses by such cities; and imposing penalties," by changing the requirements for publication in newspapers of charter proposals and amendments.

And said bill having been read at length the first time, Ordered, To be laid aside for second reading.

Agreeably to order,

The Senate proceeded to the first reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 199, entitled:

An Act to further amend Subsection A of Section 201 of the act, approved the fifteenth day of May, one thousand nine hundred thirty-three (P. L. 624), entitled as amended "An act relating to the business of banking, and to the exercise of fiduciary powers by corporations; providing for the organization of corporations with fiduciary powers, and of banking corporations, with or without fiduciary powers, including the conversion of National banks into State banks, and for the licensing of private bankers and employes' mutual banking associations; defining the rights, powers, duties, liabilities, and immunities of such corporations, of existent corporations authorized to engage in a banking business, with or without fiduciary powers, of private bankers and employes' mutual banking associations, and of the officers, directors, trustees, shareholders, attorneys, and other employes of all such corporations, employes' mutual banking associations or private bankers, or of affiliated corporations, associations, or persons restricting the exercise of banking powers by any other corporation, association, or person, and of fiduciary powers by any other corporation; conferring powers and imposing duties upon the courts, prothonotariee, recorders of deeds, and certain State Departments, commissions, and officers; imposing penalties; and repealing certain acts and parts of acts," by further regulating the names of bank and trust companies.

And said bill having been read at length the first time, Ordered, To be laid aside for second reading.

ADJOURNMENT

Mr. WALKER. Mr. President, I move that the Senate do now adjourn until Monday, March 12, 1951, at 3:00 o'clock, p. m., Eastern Standard Time.

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, I second the motion.

The motion was agred to.

The Senate adjourned at 12:37 o'clock p. m., Eastern Standard Time, until Monday, March 12, 1951, at 3:00 o'clock, p. m., Eastern Standard Time.

HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

WEDNESDAY, March 7, 1951

The House met at 10:00 a. m.
The SPEAKER (Herbert P. Sorg) in the Chair.

PRAYER

The Reverend Charles F. Trunk, Jr., Pastor of the Bethlehem Lutheran Church, Harrisburg, offered the following prayer:

Help us, O God, to see in Thee the balance for our smallness and the Light for our ignorance. Keep us ever mindful that nothing is done fully and right until it is pleasing to Thee. Therefore, may Thy will be made clear to us, so that we can please Thee rather than men. Give us convictions that are sound and just first; and then give us the courage to live by them, with the help of Him who alone pleased Thee. Amen.

JOURNAL APPROVED

The SPEAKER. Are there any corrections to the Journal of Tuesday, March 6, 1951? If not, and without objection, the Journal is approved.

Session 1951. 139th of the General Assembly.

Vol. 32. HARRISBURG, PA., MONDAY, MARCH 12, 1951. No. 20.

SENATE

MONDAY, March 12, 1951.

The Senate met at 3:00 o'clock, p. m., Eastern Standard Time.

The PRESIDENT (Lieutenant-Governor Lloyd H. Wood) in the Chair.

PRAYER

The Chaplain, Rev. LOUIS LYTLE, Pastor of the First Presbyterian Church, Houtzdale, Pennsylvania, offered the following prayer:

Give unto us, O Lord, a true sense of proportion and propriety that we may not esteem ourselves greater or more important than we ought, that we may recognize our dependence upon and our need of Thy power and help, that we may work with Thee and Thine.

We know that that nation is great whose God is the Lord. Be Thou our God, our help, our strength. Help us to consider and to be considerate in all we do. May we never forget that we are servants. Grant us the grace to serve well. May we do nothing that will mar our own integrity, or that will bring harm or suffering to anyone. For Thy blessing we commend those who seek to guide the destinies and welfare of this Commonwealth and Nation. May it please Thee to hear our prayer and to grant our request, we humbly pray. Amen.

JOURNAL APPROVED

The PRESIDENT. A quorum of the Senate being present the Clerk will read the Journal of the preceding session.

The Clerk proceeded to read the Journal of the preceding session, when, on motion of Mr. WALKER and Mr. LEADER, further reading was dispensed with, and the Journal was approved.

BIRTHDAY FELICITATIONS EXTENDED TO SENATOR DENT

Mr. WALKER. Mr. President, last Saturday a very special birthday was celebrated by the distinguished gentleman from Wesmoreland and inasmuch as conditions beyond our control prohibited us from participating in the family celebration, I have taken the liberty of having prepared for the gentleman from Westmoreland a slight memento of the deep appreciation which the other forty-nine gentlemen of the Senate have for the distinguished gentelman from Westmoreland. On behalf of the Senate of Pennsylvania, Senator Dent, we would like to wish you a very merry and happy birthday and hope you will be with us for centuries to come.

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, I wish to thank the Members of the Senate for this splendid remembrance of a memorial day in my life. I notice that this beautiful cake represents a book and it seems to me to be pretty well divided down the middle. I was forty-three years of age on Saturday, the year of our Lord nineteen hundred fifty-one, on March 10. I know that it would give me a great deal of consolation if I knew my life was right in the middle just the same as this cake is right now, and I hope that in the next forty-three years I may have the privilege of knowing and meeeting, being friendly to as fine a group of men as I have met in my terms here in the Senate and of all the people I have met, none were greater nor more dear to me than the Members of the Senate at this moment.

RECESS

Mr. WALKER. Mr. President, I move that the Senate do now take a recess for ten minutes, for a meeting of the Committee on Executive Nominations.

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

AFTER RECESS

The PRESIDENT. The time of recess having elapsed the Senate will be in order.

PETITIONS AND REMONSTRANCES

Mr. HOLLAND. Mr. President, I believe the Senate might be interested in the reaction of some of the papers to our passage of the civil defense bills. First, I would like to read an editorial from the Pittsburgh Press:

"CIVIL DEFENSE SQUABBLE

"HARRISBURG seems to be having more trouble over Civil Defense than over any other topic on its agenda.

"This probably won't hold up until the end of the Legislature's session—but it's the situation to date.

"The Governor, for some inexplicable reason, superimposed one Civil Defense boss on top of another.

"Now, the man who built the original plan and who has a reputation as a man who knows how, has gone off to Washington on a temporary assignment.

"He says he'll come back, when he completes his Washington task, 'if the State wants me.' But only if he can have a 'free hand' in developing the Civil Defense program.

"Well, he can't have a 'free hand' very well if there are two or three bosses over him.

"So this is a confused and disheartening situation, not designed to attract volunteers into the Civil Defense setup, or to enspirit those already signed up.

"Then Senate Republicans jammed through the Fine Administration's Civil Defense bills—the measures to make the whole thing legal—over the protests of Democrats who demanded public hearings.

"Why not public hearings? Public hearings are in order on any issue. And on this one they might develop some facts as to just where Civil Defense is going, and why. Also, how much?"

This appeared in the Pittsburgh Press last Friday.

Mr. President, another one appeared in the Pittsburgh Post-Gazette:

"THE CIVIL DEFENSE MUDDLE

"The people of Pennsylvania will learn with more regret than surprise that Colonel Alton C. Miller, assistant to the director of Civil Defense, has taken a 30-day leave of absence that probably means a permanent end to his services.

"Regret stems from the knowledge that of all the many people who have fingers in the State's Civil Defense setup, Colonel Miller is generally conceded to be the best qualified technician. His standing in this field is attested by his mission to Washington to do a special emergency job for the Federal Civil Service Defense Administration.

"The want of surprise can be attributed to the fact that Colonel Miller must have been a most frustrated and unhappy man. Consider the discouraging monkeyshines in which he has been involved in the last few months.

"Last September, Colonel Miller left a Federal job paying $13,000 a year to accept appointment by then Governor Duff as director of Civil Defense at a salary of $10,000. As head man, he directed the preliminary Civil Defense planning and organizational work.

"When the Fine Administration came in, Colonel Miller was kicked downstairs. Dr. Theodore Distler was appointed Civil Defense director at a salary of $15,000. N. L. Wymard was appointed administrative assistant at a salary of $12,000. Colonel Miller was dropped to third place in the heirarchy at his same old salary, giving the whole program a rather complex and costly administrative setup.

"Small wonder, then, that the Colonel has had his fill of political plum picking, which obviously has no place in any program so vital as Civil Defense. Despite the formal statement put out from the Governor's office to the effect that the Colonel might return to the job when his leave is up, competent observers are convinced that he is through.

"That is truly a deplorable situation, not because Colonel Miller is by any stretch of the imagination an indispensable man but because of the political sickness of which his departure is a symptom. It means that patronage has been put above professional qualification. Unless we are badly mistaken—and we earnestly hope that we are—this will do much to shake faith in the whole Civil Defense program."

This was out of the Pittsburgh Post-Gazette of last Friday.

REPORT FROM COMMITTEE ON EXECUTIVE NOMINATIONS

RESOLUTION

REQUESTING THE GOVERNOR TO ISSUE PROCLAMATION, URGING THE PEOPLE OF PENNSYLVANIA TO OBSERVE GOOD FRIDAY

Mr. McCREESH offered the following resolution which was twice read, considered and agreed to:

In the Senate, March 12, 1951.

Good Friday is a meaningful day in the Christian Calendar. Nearly two thousand years ago Christ, resigned to the cruelties of his fellowmen, painfully journeyed the Via Dolorosa to His martydom at Calvary. For Him the burgeoning of Spring with its re-animation of life on earth brought not a renewed hope and strength for His ministry, but marked, instead, the agony of a humilating death.

From this supreme sacrifice of the Son of God at a time when nature and man mingle their moods of gayety after a winter of somber inaction, we should derive an earnest inspiration to express in thought and performance on behalf of a world of doubt and disension, the irresistible beauty and appeal of the Christian concept; therefore be it

Resolved, That the Senate of Pennsylvania pause to contemplate the profound significance of Good Friday and its spiritual message of hope to anyone caught in the toils of despair, that a glorious triumph can transcend the bitterness of frustration and death; and be it further

Resolved, That the Senate of Pennsylvania respectfully request the Governor to issue a Proclamation, urging the people of Pennsylvania to observe Good Friday by participating in the services of the churches of their own selection, and to deport themselves otherwise with the reverence and the dignity that become a deeply religious occasion.

SENATE CONCURRENT RESOLUTION

TIME OF NEXT MEETING

Mr. WATKINS, offered the following resolution, which was twice read, considered and agreed to:

In the Senate, March 12, 1951.

Resolved (if the House of Representatives concur) That when the Senate adjourns this week it reconvene on Monday, March 19, 1951, at three o'clock, p. m., E.S.T.; and when the House of Representatives adjourns this week it reconvene on Monday, March 19, 1951, at four-thirty o'clock p. m., E.S.T.

Ordered, That the Clerk present the same to the House of Representatixes for concurrence.

CONSIDERATION OF EXECUTIVE NOMINATIONS

Mr. WATSON, asked and obtained unanimous consent for immediate consideration of fthe nominations reported at today's Session.

John J. McMurray (Republican), Altoona, from September 1, 1950, until December 31, 1952, and until his successor is duly appointed and qualified.

JOHN S. FINE.

A motion was made by Mr. WATSON and Mr. MALLERY,

That the Senate do advise and consent to said nominations.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

Mr. HALUSKA. Mr. President, I would like to ask that the nomination of D. Thomas Evans, as Recorder of Deeds in and for the county of Cambria, be laid upon the table at this time.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

BILL ON SECOND READING AMENDED

Agreeably to order.

The rule requiring bills to be considered in Committee of the Whole being in this case dispensed with,

The Senate proceeded to the second reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 209, entitled:

An Act to further amend Section 1 of the act approved the eleventh day of June one thousand eight hundred seventy-nine (P. L. 147) entitled "An act fixing the compensation of persons called to serve as coroner's jurors in this Commonwealth" by increasing the compensation of coroner's jurors and authorizing the payment of mileage

The first section was read.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the section?

Mr. WALKER. Mr. President, I desire to offer the following amendments to the title of the bill, and I would like to call the attention of the gentlemen of the Senate to the fact that when the committee reported the bill out of committee, they struck out "payment of mileage" in the bill but inadvertently forgot to strike the same subject matter out of the title. These amendments merely strike out the "payment of mileage" from the title in order to make it conform with the body of the bill.

Mr. WALKER offered the following amendment:

Amend Section 1 (Sec. 1) page 2, line 14 by striking out the word "shall."

It was agreed to.

The section was agreed to as amended.

The title was read.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the title?

Mr. WALKER offered the following amendment:

Amend Title Page 1, lines 5 and 6 by striking out the words "and authorizing the payment of mileage."

It was agreed to.

The title was agreed to as amended.

And said bill having been read at length the second time, and agreed to as amended,

Ordered, To be transcribed for a third reading.

BILLS ON SECOND READING

Agreeably to order.

The rule requiring bills to be considered in Committee of the Whole being in this case dispensed with,

The Senate proceeded to the second reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 239, entitled:

An Act to further amend Section 412 of the act, approved the second day of May, one thousand nine hundred twenty-nine (P. L. 1278), entitled "An act relating to counties of the second, third, fourth, fifth, sixth, seventh and eighth classes; and revising, amending and consolidating the laws relating thereto," by providing for audits of accounts of expenditures of organizations of the National Guard by auditors of counties.

And said bill having been read at length the second time and agreed to,

Ordered, To be transcribed for a third reading.

Agreeably to order.

The rule requiring bills to be considered in Committee of the Whole being in this case dispensed with,

The Senate proceeded to the second reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 240, entitled:

An Act to further amend clause 35 of Section 2403 of the act, approved the twenty-third day of June, one thousand nine hundred thirty-one (P. L. 932), entitled "An act relating to cities of the third class; and amending, revising, and consolidating the law relating thereto," by providing for audit of accounts of expenditures of organizations of the National Guard by auditors of cities of the third class.

And said bill having been read at length the second time and agreed to,

Ordered, To be transcribed for a third reading.

Agreeably to order.

The rule requiring bills to be considered in Committee of the Whole being in this case dispensed with,

The Senate proceeded to the second reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 241, entitled:

An Act to amend Section 2 of the act, approved the tenth day of March, one thousand nine hundred thirty-seven (P. L. 39), entitled "An act authorizing cities of the first class, second class, and second class A to make appropriations for the support, maintenance, discipline, and training of units of the National Guard; providing for the paying over expenditure and accounting for of such appropriations; and repealing existing laws," by providing for audit of accounts of expenditures of organizations of the National Guard by auditors of cities of the first class, second class and second class A.

And said bill having been read at length the second time and agreed to,

Ordered, To be transcribed for a third reading.

BILL ON SECOND READING AMENDED

Agreeably to order.

The rule requiring bills to be considered in Committee of the Whole being in this case dispensed with,

The Senate proceeded to the second reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 243, entitled:

An Act validating certain deeds bonds and mortgages and trust indentures executed and delivered by nonprofit corporations unless the validity thereof is raised by legal proceedings within a prescribed period of time

The first section was read.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the section?

Mr. WALKER. Mr. President, I desire to offer the following amendment to the bill and for the information of the Senate this amendment merely puts an effective date in the act.

Mr. WALKER offered the following amendment:

Amend Bill Page 2, by inserting after line 12 the following: "Section 2. The provisions of this Act shall become effective immediately upon final enactment."

It was agreed to.

The section was agreed to as amended.

The title was read and agreed to.

And said bill having been read at length and agreed to, as amended,

Ordered, To be transcribed for a third reading.

BILLS OVER IN ORDER

Mr. WALKER. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent that Senate Bill No. 244, on second reading, entitled:

HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

MONDAY, March 12, 1951

The House met at 4:30 p. m.
The SPEAKER (Herbert P. Sorg) in the Chair.

PRAYER

The Reverend Dr. Robert M. Tignor, Pastor of the Yeadon Presbyterian Church, Yeadon, Pennsylvania, guest and pastor of the gentleman from Delaware, Mr. William C. Leonard, offered the following prayer:

O God, bless the men and women gathered here today as representatives of the people. In this hour of severe testing may each one of us be conscious of the importance and value of the individual. May we never permit pressure, no matter how strong, to make us violate what is our clear duty to Thee and all the people. Help all of us, whether in local movement or state government or national government, to keep bright and alive the truth that government of the people, by the people and for the people shall not perish from the earth.

We thank Thee, O God, for this hour when free government, is on trial. We have taken for granted, O Lord, those elements of our nation which have been our common heritage. It is only in great strain and tension that we are able to see wherein they belong to our good. We seek now the sacrifice which would enable us to take up again the good of our fathers, the discipline to cast off those weaknesses which have hindered us, and the humility to se that we have not always been right.

May we truly place Thee first as we begin this day, as we make our plans for the future. We need Thee as our invocation and our benediction. This prayer we ask in the name of Christ our Saviour. Amen.

JOURNAL APPROVED

The SPEAKER. Are there any corrections to the Journal of Wednesday, March 7, 1951? If not, and without objection, the Journal is approved.

Ordered, To be transcribed for third reading.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the second reading and consideration of House Bill No. 148, entitled:

An Act to consolidate amend and revise the penal laws of the Commonwealth

The I article was read.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the article?

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, I call the attention of the House to the omission of two very essential words in Section 602, Page 60. If it is the intention to make this Act operative as far as slot machines are concerned, the language the Act carries is simply a gesture. Without the words "repairs and possession" in the Act, the matter of its enforcement is problematical, and enforcement is practically removed from the province of the local law enforcement authorities. I simply wanted to inquire whether it was the purpose of those who are sponsoring this bill to enact a measure which is in this particular simply a gesture.

Mr. TOMPKINS. Mr. Speaker, I wish to concur in the remarks of the gentleman from Cambria, Mr. Andrews, and to make this explanation. Due to the size of the bill and the printing cost that would be involved, we have had a gentlemen's agreement that substantial amendment or amendments would not be made in the House, but that amendments to the bill would be made in the Senate, passed finally, and then the amendments to the bill itself will be amendments to the 1951 Code for the purpose of trying to clarify certain matters, concerning which there was confusion.

I wish to assure the gentleman that I will cooperate with him, and get all of his suggestions incorporated into the bill in the Senate and do everything I can to carry it along with those words inserted.

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, would there be, in the opinion of the gentleman from Cameron, an outside chance that in the event the Senate does not incorporate in the bill the views that he has just expressed, that later perhaps a new bill amending this bill might, perchance, be introduced into the House?

Mr. TOMPKINS. Mr. Speaker, I should be very glad to co-sponsor such a bill with the gentleman from Cambria.

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the article?

It was agreed to.

The II to XII articles inclusive and title were separately read and agreed to.

And said bill having been read at length the second time and agreed to,

Ordered, To be transcribed for third reading.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the second reading and consideration of House Bill No. 228, entitled:

And said bill having been read at length the second time and agreed to,

Ordered, To be transcribed for third reading.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the second reading and consideration of House Bill No. 262, entitled:

An Act to further amend clause (b) of Section 4 of the act approved the twenty-fourth day of June one thousand nine hundred thirty-seven (P. L. 2051) entitled "An act relating to public assistance providing for and regulating assistance to certain classes of persons designated and defined as dependent children aged persons blind persons and other persons requiring relief providing for the administration of this act by the Department of Public Assistance and county boards of assistance hereby created for this purpose authorizing the Department of Public Assistance to cooperate with and to accept and disburse moneys received from the United States Government for assistance to such persons providing for the liquidation of the State Emergency Relief Board Boards of Trustees of the Mothers' Assistance Fund and Boards of Trustees of Pension Fund for the Blind and repealing laws relating to mothers' assistance pensions for the blind old age assistance and the State Emergency Relief Board" by permitting earnings or other income to supplement public assistance in certain cases

NOT VOTING—3

Bomberger,	Headlee,	Lafore,

The majority required by the Constitution having voted in the arffirmative, the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, That the Clerk return the same to the Senate with information that the House of Representatives has passed the same without amendment.

SENATE MESSAGE

AMENDED HOUSE BILL RETURNED FOR CONCURRENCE

HOUSE BILL No. 1.

An Act relating to the civil defense of this State and its coordination with national defense providing for the establishment of a State Council of Civil Defense local and district councils of civil defense Mobile Support Units prescribing the powers duties and immunities thereof and of their personnel authorizing mutual aid compacts and providing penalties

With the information that the Senate has passed the same with amendments, in which the concurrence of the House of Representatives is requested.

The SPEAKER. The Clerk will read the amendments.

The Clerk read the amendments as follows:

Amend Section 7, page 12, line 5, by inserting after the word "authorized" the following: "in the event of an extreme emergency as proclaimed by the Governor for the entire state or one or more political subdivisions"; page 12, line 15, by inserting after the word "funds" the following: "the proclamation or proclamations herein referred to shall be in addition to the proclamation mentioned in section two of this act."

On the question,

Will the House concur in the amendments made by the Senate?

Mr. SMITH. Mr. Speaker, I ask that the House do concur in the amendments made by the Senate.

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, I wonder whether the Sergeant-at-arms could draw the drapes on that particular window. The sun shines exactly in my eyes, and since I am reading from manuscript at this time—

The SPEAKER. The Chair will assure the gentleman that it is not a frameup. The Sergeant-at-arms has been so instructed.

The Chair will also observe that it has very much the appearance of a halo.

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, I am quite sure that some of the sentiments that I have expressed concerning House Bill No. 1 have certainly not earned me a halo throughout the entire General Assembly. I desire to speak concerning the amendments; I desire to speak somewhat concerning the history of House Bill No. 1 and to make some references to criticisms that have been made concerning this amendment.

In one sense I speak on the question of personal privilege. In a broader sense, I desire to reorient our thinking regarding House Bill No. 1. Senate amendments to this measure are now pending.

House Bill No. 1 has been kicked around quite a lot. Most of those who have been doing the kicking have been discussing a measure that simply does not exist.

In the course of debate concerning House Bill No. 1 that measure has been termed a blank check. It has been denounced as a monstrosity, and has been termed a Frankenstein, that will return to haunt us.

I find myself in a unique position. It happens I cosponsored House Bill No. 1. I would be very much perturbed, indeed, if I felt that directly or indirectly I had helped spawn a legislative monstrosity, had helped concoct a legislative Frankenstein, or had unknowingly handed any group of free-spenders a blank check.

It is my impression that House Bill No. 1 has been accorded only superficial consideration in some quarters. In matters of legislation, it sometimes happens that a little knowledge is a dangerous thing. There are occasions when it is better to be ignorant to the end that one may be the more positive.

Over the weekend one Dr. Ralph C. Hutchinson has emerged with a blast in which he terms civil defense legislation now pending and civil defense legislation already enacted "sheer folly."

Dr. Hutchinson is evidently a member of the school which termed House Bill No. 1 a Frankenstein, a monstrosity, a blank check, and as an attempt to create a patronage mill.

Dr. Hutchinson either speaks because of malice, or because he has taken his stand upon sketchy misinformation.

Let's face the blank check allegation. I do not find any check, blank or otherwise, in the bill. As a matter of fact, House Bill No. 1 does not appropriate even one thin dime for civil defense.

House Bill No. 1 creates a State Council of Civil Defense. How much can that State Council spend? It can spend whatever amount the General Assembly appropriates for its use—that much and no more.

Neither does House Bill No. 1 place any mandatory burdens, financial burdens that is, upon local communities. The fact is that the more vocal critics of House Bills 1, 2, 3, and 4 have gotten off on the wrong foot, have become inebriated by the exhuberance of their own verbosity, and have found it difficult to regain their own mental equilibrium.

It is perhaps not to be wondered at that civil defense legislation should cause a stir. There are jittery members of my party who profess to see a deep, dark political plot back of every measure which the present administration supports.

The Fine administration will indeed be committed to a program of folly if it directly or indirectly attempts to play politics with civil defense.

I expect the present administration to do, or attempt to do, many things which, from my point of view, are plain "dumb," but as for playing politics with civil defense—I actually do not expect that the administration will be that "dumb."

The very fact that there has been occasion for suspicion should cause administration leaders to become increasingly circumspect insofar as civil defense is concerned.

While there are jittery members of my party when civil defense legislation is pending, it is also true there are various Republican statesmen, some of them perhaps Members of this House, whose fears can detect a Russian bomb-carrying plane back of every cloud and who profess to imagine it is possible to combat atomic bombs by means of a stuffed civil defense payroll.

However, House Bills Nos. 1, 2, 3, and 4 are actually designed to calm the fears of jittery Democrats and curb the activities of patronage-minded, free-spending Republicans.

Now it is true that we have a civil defense organization in being, an organization formed under the provisions of legislation enacted some ten years ago. The Act of 1941, as amended, is still in full force and effect. It will remain in effect until Governor Fine signs House Bill No. 1, which repeals the 1941 Act—which wipes the slate clean and permits a modern approach to whatever civil defense problems may arise.

The Act of 1941 created a State Council of Defense and provided for the creation of local and district Councils of Defense. That is exactly what House Bill No. 1 does.

The 1941 legislation empowered the Governor to create his State Council, to dissolve it, or to reactivate it. If you will recall, Governor Duff, in his final message to the General Assembly, said that in his opinion Pennsylvania had a civil defense program and that the program was a going concern.

Governor Fine could have operated under the 1941-42 Act as far as Pennsylvania was concerned. Why didn't he do just that? There are a number of reasons.

First of all, the Pennsylvania statute didn't fit into the Federal picture. It wasn't geared to what has come to be known as the atomic age. There is an overall Federal civil defense plan.

Incidentally, the Federal civil defense group has been handed an appropriation by the Congress of some $3 billion. Just what it will do with the money remains to be seen.

If all of the communities that want underground bomb shelters constructed at federal expense were to get them, the Federal Civil Defense executives would need $300 billion, not just $3 billion.

The Civil Defense organization at Washington quite correctly recognized the fact that an enemy air raid which resulted in the atomic bombing of an American city could not be treated as a purely local problem.

In the event of an air raid it would be necessary that the Federal government cooperate with the various states and that the states cooperate with each other, and that within a given state communities be geared to render mutual aid.

Legislation was needed which would enable the various states to enter into mutual aid compacts. In order that there might be the greatest possible degree of uniformity in civil defense legislation, the Civil Defense organization at Washington drew up a series of model bills which the states were at liberty to enact as drawn, or to amend to suit their peculiar needs.

The Pennsylvania bills provide for the largest possible amount of uncompensated volunteer service.

There have been newspaper stories to the effect that the General Assembly would be required to appropriate at least $25 million for civil defense. The appropriation for the administration, the administration mind you, of the civil defense program in Pennsylvania should not exceed $300,000.

Big money will not be needed for civil defense unless Pennsylvania communities, or communities in neighboring states are actually bombed.

So much for the blank check charge!

House Bill No. 1 authorizes the Governor to create a State Council of Civil Defense. The State Council is authorized, in turn, to create local civil defense councils, whose business it would be to operate locally and also to create Mobile Defense Units.

It is these Mobile Defense units which would be rushed to the assistance of any stricken community in Pennsylvania, or in any state with which Pennsylvania had a mutual aid compact.

It is to be presmued that the new State Council of Civil Defense, members of which should possess at least ordinary intelligence, will not scrap the local civil defense organizations which are already functioning, but will include them in the general operating plan.

Pennsylvania and its political subdivisions are already rich in potential civil defense personnel. There is the Highway Department personnel, the Health Department personnel, the Public Assistance Department personnel, the Department of Forests and Waters personnel, State Police personnel.

House Bill No. 1 authorizes their use in Pennsylvania or in any other state with which we have a mutual aid compact.

Political payrollers are already on a payroll and they would continue on that payroll if ordered into action as members either of defense units or as members of a local civil defense group.

The townships, boroughs, cities and counties have payroll personnel. House Bill No. 1 authorizes these local political subdivisions to use their employes for civil defense purposes while continuing them on their respective payroll,—and, of course, there would be volunteers who would not be on any political payroll.

Of course, the state, under the terms of House No. 1 pays the travel and subsistence costs of Mobile Defense Units while they are on active service.

House Bills Nos. 1, 2, 3 and 4 do not provide any state salaries for local defense organizations. If such executives are paid it is because the local communities want to pay them.

House Bills Nos. 1, 2, 3 and 4 must stand or fall on the theory it is not fitting that the Commonwealth should pay communities for taking steps to defend themselves.

It is true that House Bill No. 1 invests communities with emergency powers. If there were an air raid on any city and that city wanted to buy cots, medicines, or food it would be foolish to advertise for bids, or confront it with the City Charter and say the city couldn't buy food or medicine for its citizens.

The Federal Government, the Commonwealth, and the local communities, if they are to deal with emergencies, must have emergency powers.

You just cannot operate anything on the theory that all our public officials are crooks. And so, when Governor Fine organizes his civil defense council, how much money can it spend? It can spend all the money the General Assembly appropriates and no more.

Now, it so happens that Governor Fine is under fire, perhaps properly so, because he permitted the civil defense organization now functioning—and which will become a part of the new set-up when House Bill No. 1 becomes a law—to accumulate an unnecessary payroll at the top executive level.

Much has been made of the fact that Governor Fine placed one of his former Attorney General's proteges on the civil defense payroll, and that he hired a college president as a civil defense director.

The Board to be created under the terms of House Bill No. 1 is charged with the responsibility of selecting a Civil Defense Director and Governor Fine would be in error if he confronted the Board with a fact accomplished in that particular.

Be that as it may, and speaking with reference to the general situation, as far as House Bills Nos. 1, 2, 3 and 4 are concerned, the text of the measures furnishes the evidence that they are not monstrosities, that they are not Frankensteins, that they are not blank checks, but are, instead, bills which have been soberly devised for the purpose of meeting a sobering situation.

If civil defense becomes in any sense a nesting place for decrepit politicians it will either be because the General Assembly or the local political subdivisions vote the money.

I believe the General Assembly can be relied upon to see to it that civil defense does not develop a state-wide political payroll.

As for the members of civil defense councils, the local governing bodies select them and the Governor commissions them.

House Bills Nos. 1, 2, 3 and 4 represent local autonomy coordinated on a state-wide basis.

It was my privilege to help rewrite Pennsylvania's present civil defense program and it is a program which up to this time I am prepared to defend.

We have tried to take the profit and the patronage out of civil defense.

If the governing bodies in the local communities voluntarily create political civil defense organizations, and hire local executives at high salaries, there isn't much the Commonwealth can do about it.

I favor the approval of the amendments which the Senate has made to House Bill No. 1 which are simply clarifying amendments. I thank the House for its attention.

On the question recurring,

Will the House concur in the amendments made by the Senate?
